Looking ahead

- o We have met our charge, but the work does not end here!
 - ❖ Anti-Human Trafficking (AHT) Advisory Council will launch in 2018
 - ❖ Chaired by Dr. Joy Ippolito with coordinated support from DOJ, other state agencies, and community stakeholders
 - ❖ Membership will be by invitation; meetings will remain open to the public
 - ❖ Will include some current members but also invite new voices to the table
 - ❖ Focus will remain on child sex trafficking and exploitation and advising state agencies on implementation

Looking ahead

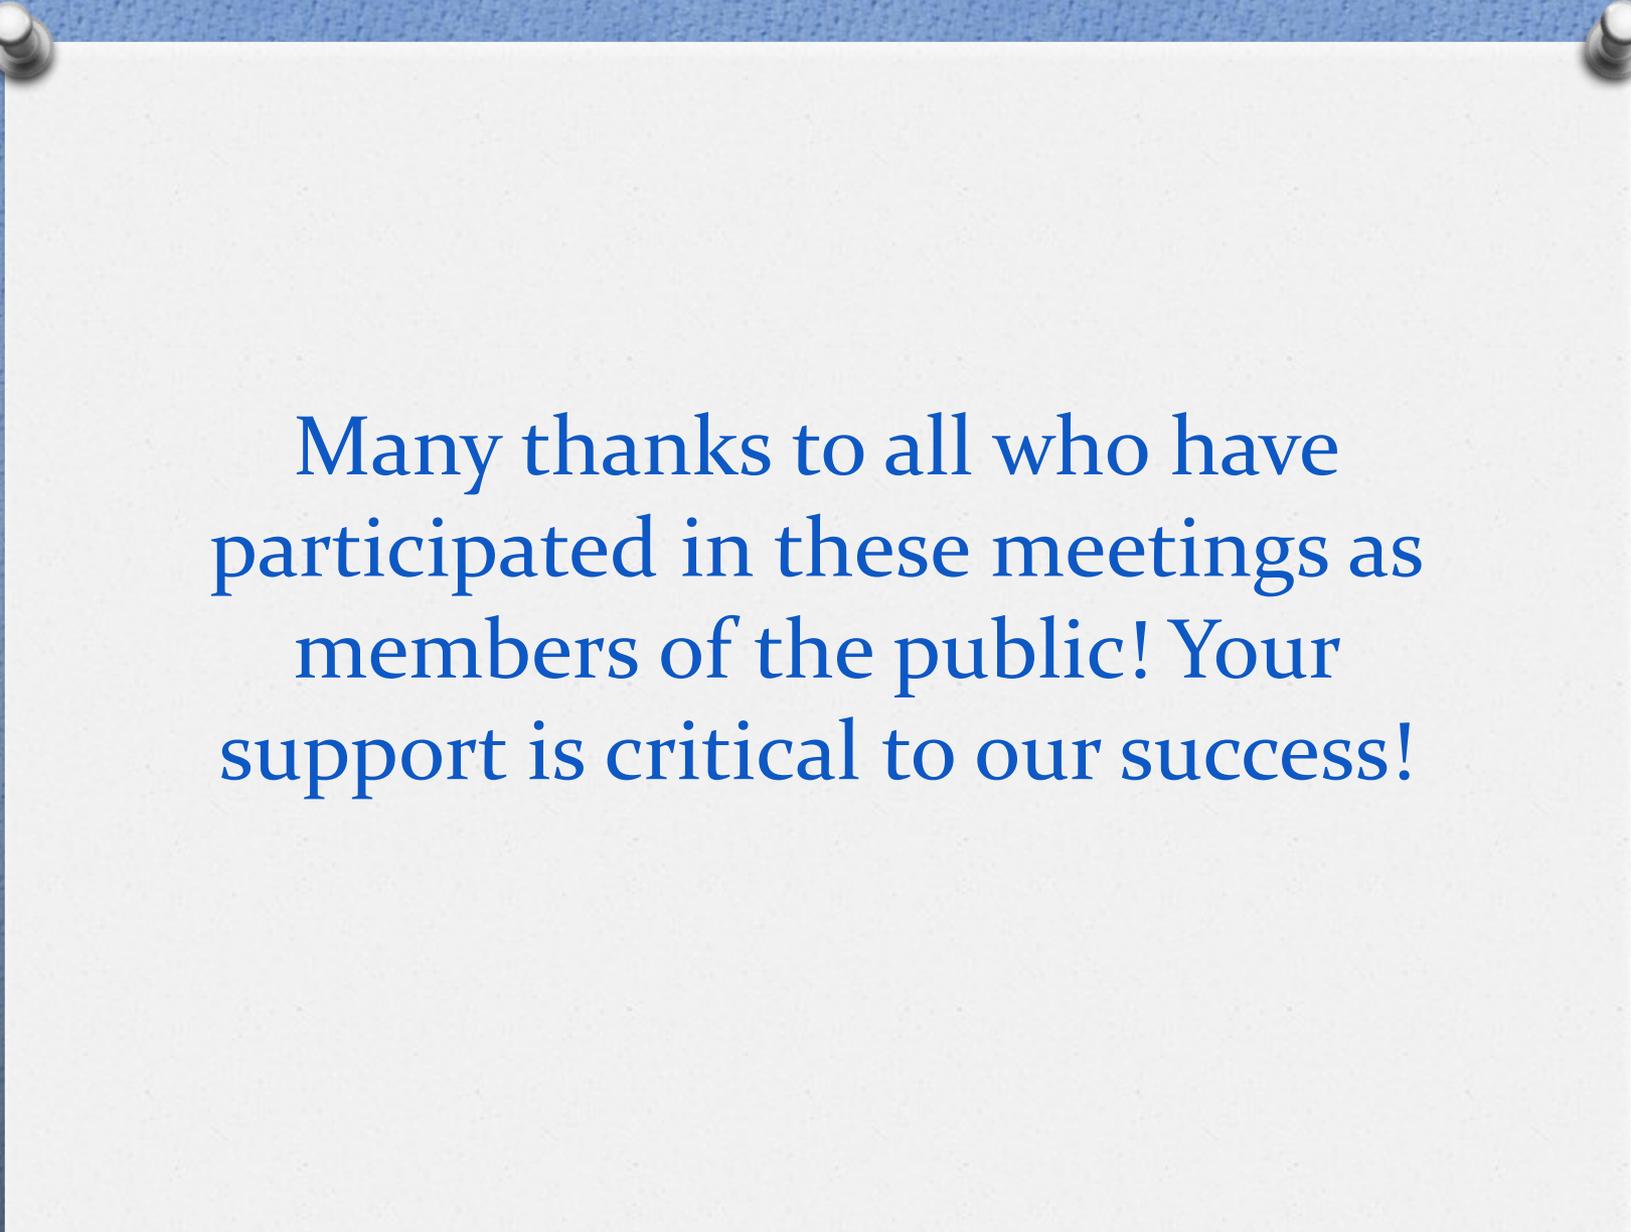

- o Email lists created for Task Force meeting notices will continue to be used for state level updates and announcements
- o Individual state agencies will continue anti-human trafficking efforts
- o Coordination among state agencies will continue as well, particularly as we roll out additional materials

The need for additional support

- Certain efforts, such as regional hubs, are focused on a specific discipline (child welfare and youth justice)
 - ✓ Need other stakeholders to promote these efforts, and the use of existing deliverables, within their own disciplines
- Many service providers already have knowledge of trauma-informed care, the domestic violence cycle, and individualized treatment approaches
 - ✓ Need to spread the message to these providers that they may already be equipped to serve this population
- Many of the issues for 2018 will require leadership and/or participation by stakeholders other than the Advisory Council
 - ✓ Need champions to commit to working on these issues in other state agencies, regions, and local communities

Reflection and a call to action

1. What are your own individual reflections on the work we have completed as a Task Force?
2. In what ways can you help us carry this work forward?

Many thanks to all who have participated in these meetings as members of the public! Your support is critical to our success!
