Description of the incident, including the suspected cause of death, injury or egregious abuse or neglect:

On April 20, 2013, the agency received a report regarding a five-month-old infant admitted to the hospital due to suspected neglect. The mother brought the infant to the emergency room reporting a three-day history of cough, congestion, and trouble breathing. She also indicated the infant was born drug-affected. The infant displayed a fever and breathing difficulty during the emergency room visit. A chest x-ray showed the infant's left lung was collapsed so a chest tube was immediately placed for drainage. The infant was noted to be very thin appearing with severe eczema. Pediatric records showed the infant had only two visits with his primary physician, first when the infant was nine days old then again on the date of his hospital admission. The mother admitted she feeds the infant whole milk and table food, despite medical professionals directing against this numerous times. Hospital staff diagnosed the infant with pneumonia, MRSA (Methicillin-resistant Staphylococcus aureus), RSV (respiratory syncytial virus) and failure to thrive. Due to the infant's condition, he was admitted to Pediatric Intensive Care for critical care services and monitoring.

Findings by agency, including maltreatment determination and material circumstances leading to incident:

The agency collaborated with medical personnel and other collaterals to complete the assessment. Neglect to the infant by the mother was substantiated. Neglect was also substantiated to the infant's five older half-siblings by the mother. Upon making contact with the family at home, the agency found the children residing in hazardous and unsanitary conditions. The home's electricity was turned off and there was no food in the residence. There were no infant supplies or clothing observed and no safe bed for the infant. The agency determined the children unsafe and placed them in out-of-home care. The agency filed Child in Need of Protection or Services petitions in juvenile court and is providing ongoing case management services.
