

Month of Giving

The Wisconsin Department of Children and Families and the Wisconsin Child Support Enforcement Association (WCSEA) are hosting a Month of Giving in Wisconsin this August in honor of Child Support Awareness Month.

Each day, for 49 years, Wisconsin child support professionals and our employment partners have worked to provide whole-family services to meet the needs of kids throughout our state. We support the involvement of parents in their kids' lives, and promote the parents and caregivers in employment programs, fatherhood initiatives, and other family-centered services.

County child support agencies and our tribal program partners help locate custodial and noncustodial parents, establish legal fatherhood (paternity), and establish and enforce child support orders. Yet, we are more than child support professionals, we are also active and engaged members of our communities. We support the communities we serve and recognize the importance of addressing needs in our communities.

During the month of August, in honor of Child Support Awareness Month, child support professionals across Wisconsin are giving of their time, talents and dollars to the nonprofit of their choice.

Furthermore, we understand that one month of giving does not fully represent the charitable efforts made by agencies and tribal program partners throughout the year. Their efforts are valued and do not go unnoticed by the communities they reside in.

The Wisconsin Child Support Program is committed to the equitable delivery of services to all kids and families across our state and strives to always impart dignity and respect to the families' receiving services. Working together, state, county, and tribal child support professionals help ensure economic security for children and families. The child support program reduces childhood poverty and promotes the involvement of both parents in the lives of their children.

Together, we are leading the way forward toward a stronger Wisconsin.
