Putting the responsibility for child care payments in families’ hands

Here’s how it works:

Wisconsin Shares child care subsidy is available on parents’ MyWIChildCare EBT cards on a monthly basis. Parents use these funds to make payments to their child care provider. MyWIChildCare EBT cards can only be used at the child care provider that has the Wisconsin Shares authorization to receive the payment. Parents can make payments in person if you have a Point of Sale device, online through EBT Edge, or by phone.

Best of all, MyWIChildCare cards mean a lot less paperwork for your business – just a simplified billing process that encourages parents and providers to work together. And that’s a good thing. Because it gives you more time to focus on providing a safe, healthy place for children to learn and grow.

Best Practices Before Families Pay
As a conscientious business owner and provider who accepts Wisconsin Shares, it’s your job to:
• Provide the Wisconsin Department of Children and Families (DCF) with your current child care rates.
• Inform families of your program’s rates, fees, deadlines, and financial penalties.
• Collect payments fairly and consistently.
• Help families create a payment plan for any out-of-pocket costs families may owe you after their state subsidies are applied.
• Share your written payment agreement and policy handbook with each family.
• Stay up-to-date with Wisconsin Shares program rules and regulations.

Follow The Rules
As a successful provider, you already know the importance of adhering to the rules:
• Never provide cash, goods or any service besides child care to MyWIChildCare card holders in return for a MyWIChildCare payment.
• Never directly refund MyWIChildCare card payments, in whole or in part, to Wisconsin Shares families.
• Never ask for or keep a family’s card or card information, like their Personal Identification Number (PIN).
• Never initiate a MyWIChildCare card transaction on a family’s behalf.

Solve Payment Problems
Dealing with a payment error or dispute? Work with families to solve disagreements one-on-one, and ask MyWIChildCare customer service to help you track down any transaction or payment history information you need. As you solve payment problems, don’t forget to issue a receipt for every related transaction.

DCF and your local child care agency will not resolve payment disagreements between families and providers. However, you should contact your local child care agency if a refund is required. Providers should never directly refund MyWIChildCare payments.

Best Practices
Follow these tips to make receiving and managing child care payments simple:

Before Families Pay
Start with a Written Payment Agreement, so they understand their responsibilities—and the value of quality child care.

Make sure everyone understands your payment policies, payment schedules, deadlines, grace periods, and late fees.

Explain the payment methods you accept, like paying online, with a Point of Sale device, or over the phone.

When Families Pay
Provide and keep a record of every payment, and encourage families to keep receipts for their own records.

Use the Provider Portal to keep track of each transaction and the period of care it pays for to help you answer any questions later.

After Families Pay
Contact your local agency if a family overpays. Wisconsin Shares is intended for care provided.

Continue to keep accurate attendance records. Using a Sign In/Sign Out sheet to track children’s attendance is still required.
