01 Wisconsin Works (W-2) Introduction

1.1 W-2 Overview and Basic Assumptions

1.1.1 W-2 Overview

The W-2 program is one of Wisconsin's TANF programs. The program provides employment preparation services, case management and cash assistance to eligible families. W-2 has the following paid placements: CSJ, W-2 T, TEMP, CMC, and ARP. In addition, several unpaid placements provide case management and employment retention services.

Statutory provisions for W-2 are included in Wisconsin Statutes under Chapter 49, Public Assistance and Children and Family Services. W-2 Administrative Rules are found in DCF 101, DCF 102, DCF 103, and DCF 120 of the Wisconsin Administrative Rules.

Contact and location information for each W-2 agency is available on the W-2 Agency Locator website.

History: Release 12-06.

1.1.2 W-2 Basic Assumptions

W-2 agencies must provide services that are strengths-based, family-centered and consistent with the W-2 applicant's or participant's interests and goals. Agencies must work cooperatively with applicants and participants to identify needed resources and to assign appropriate activities. The goal is to build on the strengths and skills of parents and families. The W-2 agency must provide all services in a culturally and linguistically competent manner and be accessible for qualified refugees, former refugees and others with limited English proficiency.

W-2 policies are guided by the consistent application of the following Basic Assumptions:

1. Work is the best way for parents to support their families. Getting a job is the first step in the process of achieving economic stability. W-2 assists parents with preparing for, finding and maintaining consistent employment. W-2 also works with parents who are unable to work due to a disability by assisting these parents with navigating the SSI and SSDI application process.
2. Family income should improve when parents work. W-2's goal is to have parents get the best possible job. W-2 also helps parents access work supports (e.g. EITC, FS, BC, CS and Wisconsin Shares Child Care) that will support keeping them employed.
3. Consistent work is essential for parents to achieve economic stability. W-2 commits to working with parents before and after they find a job. W-2 supports job retention and advancement in a variety of ways because individual progress toward independence and prosperity is a process. W-2 connects interested parents to needed education and training either before or after gaining employment, in order to help them move forward to better employment.
4. W-2* participants are parents as well as job seekers. Working parents have multiple family and work obligations. W-2 works with parents to identify strategies to enable them to balance work and family. W-2 also assists parents who are connected to other programs or supports integrate those activities with the family's service plans.
5. Eligible parents must be willing to participate in exchange for W-2 benefits. Parents across the state have access to individualized quality services. Parents, for their part, must participate to the best of their abilities.
6. Families benefit from participating in W-2. W-2 assists parents with identifying their goals and locating needed resources. During each interaction, W-2 works to ensure parents understand their choices and the resulting consequences. This approach empowers parents to make informed decisions that strengthen their family. W-2 works with both custodial parents in a two-parent household and extends services to noncustodial parents when appropriate.

7. W-2 matches the needs of working parents with the needs of local employers. W-2 agencies operate cooperatively within the larger community. W-2 objectives are best achieved by understanding the needs of local employers and matching that need with the skills and interests of W-2 participants.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

1.2 Roles Performed by W-2 Agency

1.2.1 Receptionist

All W-2 agencies must have a staff person who performs the role of a Receptionist. That staff person may perform other functions within the agency as well. The role of the Receptionist is to meet with individuals as they enter the W-2 agency. The Receptionist must inform individuals of all programs and services available through the agency. If the individual wishes to apply for or indicates an interest in learning more about the W-2 program, the Receptionist must initiate the application process by generating the Application Registration form. (See 1.4.2.1)

The Receptionist must schedule an appointment with a RS the same day or no later than the following working day using Client Scheduling in CWW.

History: Release 17-01; Release 13-03.

1.2.2 Resource Specialist

All W-2 agencies must have a staff person who performs the role of a RS. That staff person may perform other functions within the agency as well. The role of the RS is to understand the applicant's needs and assist applicants in determining which programs or services are likely to support their efforts to find and maintain employment.

In fulfilling this role, the RS will perform these primary functions:

1. Understand the applicant's situation and perform the initial review of need for employment-related services. The RS will:
 - a. Ask the applicant what brought them into the office today.
 - b. Ask the applicant what they need to find and/or keep a job.
 - c. Gather information through the WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow about the applicant's recent job search efforts, employment skills, work history, education, and potential barriers to employment or participation in work activities.
 - d. Determine how the household composition and circumstances affect the applicant's ability to work or participate in work activities.
 - e. Identify whether the applicant is in a crisis situation (e.g., homeless, victim of domestic violence, no food in the house, etc.) and the potential need for an Emergency Payment. (See 19.1) Give the applicant a copy of the Domestic Violence Brochure (2614-P). (See 1.4.6)
 - f. Identify the need for any necessary accommodations to help the applicant complete the application process.
 - g. Assess current child support case status and inform the applicant of the child support pass through policy for individuals in a W-2 Paid Employment Position placement. (See 15.1.1)
2. Inform each applicant about the services available and assist the applicant in determining what programs and services are likely to support the efforts at employment. The RS will:
 - a. Explain the services that are available through the W-2 program including W-2 Employment Position placements, individualized case management services, and supportive services. The RS must tell the applicant about the W-2 eligibility criteria and that eligible parents must be willing to participate in exchange for W-2 payments. The RS must also explain the W-2 24-month placement time limits and 48-month state lifetime limit. (See 2.10)

- b. Explain the Job Center Partner programs/other workforce development programs such as DVR, UI, FSET, WIOA, and other employment programs and resources available through the Job Center of Wisconsin and within the community.
- c. Explain the supportive service programs such as FS, Wisconsin Medicaid and BadgerCare Plus, Wisconsin Shares Child Care Subsidy Program, EA, WIC, WHEAP, and local housing assistance programs.
- d. Explain the services available through the local CAP agency.

The RS must refer the applicant to any programs in which the applicant has indicated an interest.

3. The RS may initiate the CWW interactive interview to record non-financial and financial information such as income, assets and family composition.
4. As a condition of W-2 eligibility, the RS may:
 - a. Assign up-front job search activities to applicants. (See 2.9.2)
 - b. Require the applicant to apply for other appropriate public assistance programs or resources. (See 2.6.1)

At no point does the RS determine final eligibility or placement in a W-2 employment position. These are the responsibilities of the FEP based, in part, on the information collected by the RS.

CWW may refer applicants to the Child Support program via the CWW/KIDS automated interface, based on information the RS enters on the CWW Absent Parent page.

Basic skill sets required of a RS include:

- Verbal and written communication;
- Active listening;
- Conflict resolution;
- Ability to be non-judgemental;
- Time management;
- Adaptability;
- Sensitivity;
- Problem solving;
- Crises response;
- Interviewing skills;

- Discussion facilitation;
- Customer service; and
- Job matching.

History: Release 21-09; Release 19-02; Release 17-02; Release 13-02.

1.2.3 Financial and Employment Planner (FEP)

State statute requires that each W-2 agency have at least one FEP.

The FEP must provide individualized case management services and supportive services for participants in W-2 Employment Positions. Although a FEP may have other staff assistance, the FEP is the primary case manager and has the ultimate responsibility for the case, including correct eligibility determination for W-2. The FEP must also coordinate with other agencies to facilitate needed services such as treatment, education, training, educational needs assessment, career assessment, vocational evaluation/assessment, and other formal assessments.

The FEP must meet with the applicant within five working days after the date the W-2 agency receives a signed Application Registration form. (See 1.4.2.1) The FEP has up to seven working days after this first meeting to make a placement determination. The FEP uses the information gathered to determine eligibility and placement.

The main functions of the FEP are:

- Eligibility determination;
- Assessment;
- Employability planning;
- Service referral; and
- Ongoing case management.

Responsibilities that are part of these functions include:

1. Determining eligibility for W-2 and JALs, including verifying information necessary to process the W-2 application, scanning verification timely into ECF, ensuring that all data is entered into CWW, CARES, and WWP accurately and timely, and ensuring that correct payments are issued in a timely manner.
2. Providing information on basic money management, personal work habits, and life skills needed to succeed in the working world.
3. Completing an informal assessment (see 5.2.1), assessing for both strengths and barriers, including reviewing and updating information gathered by the RS using the WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow.
4. Using the WWP Informal Assessment information, educational needs assessment, career assessment, and other information provided by the participant to determine whether a formal assessment by a qualified assessing agency is needed. (See 5.5.2) Considering barriers to employment in determining the level of employability, making placement decisions, and referrals to other services. Providing accommodations and modifications as needed to support full engagement in work activities or employment. (See 1.3.1)

5. Assigning reasonable job search activities prior to and after the determination of W-2 eligibility.
6. Determining placement in a W-2 employment position and the need for an Emergency Payment. (See 19.1)
7. Working with participants to develop a W-2 EP based on participants' goals and assessment results, including an educational needs assessment, and career assessment. Designing a plan to move the participant to unsubsidized employment as quickly as possible and within the time limits of the W-2 program. Documenting requirements for assigned W-2 activities and incorporating Learnfare activity requirements as necessary. (See Chapter 6)
8. Ensuring that applicants and participants have the necessary supportive services, accommodations, auxiliary aids, and communication assistance required to participate to the fullest extent possible upon program entry.
9. Assessing participants' progress in their assigned activities and determining whether participants are developing the hard and soft skills they need to obtain and retain unsubsidized employment as quickly as possible after application. Working with the participants to update the EP as needed based on the assessment progress and number of months of eligibility remaining.
10. Identifying nonparticipation, determining good cause, and recording participation, good cause, and make-up hours in WWP..
11. Interpreting and explaining policies governing eligibility, including explaining the responsibilities and requirements outlined in the PA and securing the applicant's signature on the PA prior to beginning a W-2 Employment Position. These policies include, but are not limited to: a) explaining that failure to cooperate during the application phase may result in ineligibility; b) providing information on the Fact Finding Process; c) emphasizing that W-2 is a time-limited program (see 2.10); and d) explaining the W-2 agency's discrimination complaint process (see 1.4.6).
12. Referring applicants who supply questionable information for front-end verification. (See 13.2.3)
13. Referring participants suspected of fraudulent activity for fraud investigation. (See 13.3.2)
14. When necessary, referring applicants and participants to other community services such as food pantries, domestic abuse services, homeless shelters, literacy councils, child welfare agencies, DVR, and AODA / mental health services.

15. Assuring that final eligibility information for W-2 is transmitted to the child support agency, and assuring that participants cooperate with their child support agency. During eligibility reviews, the FEP must also review with the participant his or her child support assignment.
16. Explaining Learnfare, assessing Learnfare status for Dependent Child(ren) in a W-2 Group, and providing or arranging for Learnfare case management. Ensuring enrollment and attendance for dependent child(ren) subject to Learnfare requirements. (See Chapter 16)
17. Providing follow-up case management services for 12 months to participants who progress from a W-2 employment position to an unsubsidized position to encourage and support job retention and advancement. At local agency discretion, the participant may continue to receive the follow-up case management services of the FEP beyond the 12-month follow-up period. (See 7.2.3)
18. Maintaining an effective working relationship with the Job Center partners and other agencies that provide workforce development programs.
19. Explaining the W-2 lifetime limit and placement time limit policies. (See 2.10) Positioning participants to achieve the best outcomes possible within the time limits of the program by providing early access to barrier remediation and employment supports. Communicating the importance of full engagement in activities and careful transition planning to promote independence.
20. Ensuring participants with long-term barriers to work are referred to alternative programming for services that will meet their individual needs.

All FEPs must be trained in accordance with state law and administrative rule. (See Wisconsin Administrative Rules, Chapter DCF 103) Basic skill sets required of a FEP include:

- Verbal and written communication;
- Active listening;
- Conflict resolution;
- Ability to be non-judgemental;

Public assistance workers, including financial and employment planners, are required by Wis. Stat. ss. 48.981(2)(a) and 48.981(2)(a)13 to report suspected child abuse and neglect. Suspected child abuse and neglect includes suspicion of child abuse of an unborn child and includes the belief that abuse or neglect will occur. To report suspected child abuse or neglect, the public assistance worker must contact either by phone or personally the local child welfare agency, the local sheriff, or local police department and provide the facts and circumstances contributing to the suspicion. Additional information regarding how to make a report of suspected child abuse or neglect can be found in Wis. Stat. s. 48.981(3).

1.2.4 Coordinating with Partner Agencies

1.2.4.1 Public Workforce System

1.2.4.2 Wisconsin Job Centers

1.2.4.3 Public and Community Based Supportive Services

1.2.4.4 Child Welfare

W-2 applicants and participants are often connected to other services within their community. The W-2 Agency is responsible for ensuring that those services are coordinated with the W-2 services. To do this, the W-2 Agency must establish and maintain effective relationships with the following partner agencies serving families in common:

1. Public Workforce System;
2. Wisconsin Job Centers;
3. Public and Community Based Supportive Services;
4. Child Welfare; and
5. Income Maintenance (IM)

1.2.4.1 Public Workforce System

W-2 agencies must establish and maintain effective relationships with other workforce programs serving families in common. Integration of services across programs and providers reduces duplication of effort across agency roles and result in improved employment outcomes.

W-2 agencies must coordinate with the following workforce providers and programs in order to maximize employment outcomes:

1. Job Service programs;
2. FSET programs;
3. Refugee Employment and Training providers, and other services provided by VOLAG and MAA;
4. Workforce Development Boards and services provided through WIOA programs, including Youth, Adult and Dislocated Worker programs;

5. Adult literacy providers;
6. Adult job training administered by the Wisconsin Technical Colleges;
7. RISE Partnership for Wisconsin;
8. DVR;
9. Veteran's Employment Relations Teams;
10. CAP Agencies; and
11. Other local regional business associations, community based organizations, and economic development programs.

1.2.4.2 Wisconsin Job Centers

The Wisconsin Job Center system delivers services through locations in 57 communities throughout the state. The centers are part of the workforce system led by Wisconsin's 11 independently operated, regional Workforce Development Boards. Job Center partners include Job Service, DVR, technical colleges, county human service agencies and other community organizations. To find the closest Job Center or talk with a customer service representative, please visit the JobCenterOfWisconsin.com contact page.

JobCenterOfWisconsin.com, operated by the Wisconsin Department of Workforce Development and the Wisconsin Job Center system, is an online Wisconsin-centered employment exchange, linking employers in all parts of the state and in communities that border Wisconsin with anyone looking for a job. JobCenterOfWisconsin.com is available at no-cost to both employers and job seekers and is available 24-hours a day.

1.2.4.3 Public and Community Based Supportive Services

W-2 participants are often connected to other local supportive services. Many of these supportive services continue to be available after a participant has moved into unsubsidized employment and may support that individual's continued employment. The W-2 agency is responsible for ensuring that these services are coordinated with W-2 services.

W-2 must coordinate with the following public and community-based supportive services in order to maximize employment outcomes:

1. County and tribal programs, including FS, BadgerCare Plus, Medicaid, CS, and child care administration. (See 1.4.1)

2. Community-based supportive services including:
 - CAP agencies;
 - Transportation services;
 - Housing services;
 - Domestic violence services;
 - Mental health services;
 - AODA services;
 - Emergency services; and
 - Other services including volunteer organizations.

1.2.4.4 Child Welfare

W-2 agencies must have a process for identifying families currently receiving services from both W-2 and child welfare programs in order to coordinate services across programs. When a participant is currently involved in a Child Welfare family case plan, the W-2 EP should take those activities into consideration and ensure that there is no conflict or overlap of services or assigned activities. When the child(ren) in the W-2 Group are temporarily absent due to child welfare issues, W-2 agencies must meet specific coordination requirements with the Child Welfare agency. (See 2.8.2.2)

History: Release 20-05.

1.3 Reasonable Accommodations

1.3.1 Introduction

W-2 agencies must follow the guidelines set forth by the ADA. If an applicant or participant discloses a disability, reasonable accommodations must be offered. The FEP must incorporate into the participant's EP all disability-related services and accommodations that are recommended through a formal assessment. (See 5.5.1.2)

All staff must be familiar with the civil rights standards in service delivery and resources available to ensure the W-2 program is accessible to and accommodates persons with disabilities. (See Appendix, W-2 Agency Civil Rights Obligations)

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

1.3.2 Reasonable Accommodations for Applicants

Reasonable accommodations must be offered to applicants who have a disability. Such accommodations may include reading materials aloud to applicants who have learning disabilities, and going to the individual's home or other mutually-agreeable location to complete the W-2 application in-person. Other examples of accommodations are listed in 1.3.3.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

1.3.3 Reasonable Accommodations for Participants

1.3.3.1 Reasonable Accommodations and Good Cause

W-2 agencies must:

1. Ensure participants have the necessary services, reasonable modifications, and accommodations to successfully engage in assigned W-2 activities; and
2. Work with employers to put needed accommodations into place for participants who are making the transition to unsubsidized employment.

The W-2 agency is responsible for identifying the need for the accommodation, identifying the accommodation itself and making sure that the accommodation is provided. This includes ensuring that the accommodation is provided at all assigned activities such as a basic education lab or a work experience site. The Job Accommodation Network (JAN) is an online resource that provides guidance on workplace accommodations and disability employment issues. Case managers may find JAN helpful when identifying and arranging accommodations for an individual.

JAN offers several ways to obtain confidential, personalized assistance, including:

- By Phone: From 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. ET, customers can call JAN toll-free to speak with a workplace accommodation expert. (800) 526-7234 or (877) 781-9403 (TTY)
- Via the Web: AskJAN.org offers more than 300 disability-specific publications, as well as the Searchable Online Accommodation Resource (SOAR), which enables users to explore accommodation options for different disabilities and workplace settings.
- On Demand: JAN's online service provides customers with individualized e-mail responses to questions about accommodations and the ADA.

The following table provides examples of accommodations that agencies may need to arrange on behalf of participants with disabilities. This is not an exhaustive list. The FEP must work closely with the applicant or participant and that person's medical providers to identify the necessary accommodations.

1.3.3.1 Reasonable Accommodations and Good Cause

There are times when good cause must be accepted without requiring further documentation from the participant. When a formal assessment indicates that an individual's impairments may become acute at times, resulting in the need for the individual to be absent from assigned activities, good cause must be accepted without requiring further written documentation from the individual.

For individuals with chronic conditions that are affected by environmental factors (e.g., respiratory problems, Multiple Sclerosis, severe allergies, Lupus, Raynaud's Syndrome and other conditions), the individual must be given good cause for nonparticipation when certain conditions exist, such as air temperatures below a certain degree or air quality alert. For example, when an individual relies on public transportation to get to assignments, and prolonged exposure to cold will exacerbate a condition, the individual must be given good cause for nonparticipation at times when air temperature would affect the individual's condition.

(See 11.2.2 for more information on good cause.)

History: Release 19-02; Release 16-01.

1.4 W-2 Application Process

1.4.1 Where to Apply for W-2

1.4.1.1 Applying for W-2 and Income Maintenance Programs

1.4.1.2 Using an Authorized Representative

Any individual may apply for W-2 by contacting their local W-2 agency or by applying online in ACCESS. If an applicant is unable to complete an application in ACCESS, they may contact their local W-2 agency to complete the application process. All applicants must complete the W-2 application for W-2 services. Applicants must apply at the W-2 agency that serves the geographical area in which they reside. The following exceptions apply:

- An applicant who resides in an area served by a W-2 agency that serves more than one geographical area may apply at any of that agency's W-2 offices, even if the office is located outside of the applicant's geographical area.
- An applicant who is a victim of domestic abuse may apply at any W-2 agency.
- An applicant who resides in a treatment facility and who does not have a primary residence to which they intend to return must apply at the W-2 agency that serves the geographical area where the treatment center is located. If the applicant maintains a primary residence and plans to return to that primary residence, the applicant must apply at the agency that serves the geographical area in which the primary residence is located.
- An applicant who is homeless may apply in any geographical area. Agencies should, however, encourage homeless applicants to apply in the geographical area in which they anticipate finding permanent housing.

1.4.1.1 Applying for W-2 and Income Maintenance Programs

W-2 agencies must coordinate with the agencies providing the Income Maintenance (IM) programs [FoodShare (FS) and Medicaid/BadgerCare Plus] to:

1. Ensure that services delivered under W-2, FS, and Medicaid/ BadgerCare Plus programs are coordinated in a way that effectively serve the recipients of those services (Wis. Stat. s. 49.143(2)(d)); and

2. Ensure that procedures are in place to protect the application filing date for FS.

IM Consortia and Tribal IM agencies are encouraged to co-locate staff at the W-2 agency to meet caseload needs and provide access to eligibility determination services for FS and Medicaid/BadgerCare Plus. If IM Consortia and Tribal IM agencies are not co-located, W-2 agencies must provide individuals who request FS with:

- A computer and the ACCESS web site (access.wi.gov) if the individual wants to apply online;
- The correct agency phone number if the individual wants to apply by phone. IM agency phone number can be found at <http://www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/forwardhealth/imagency/index.htm>; or;
- The paper form FoodShare Wisconsin Registration (F-16019A) if the individual does not want to apply online or by phone. If the individual opts for the paper FS application, the W-2 agency must fax the completed form to the Milwaukee Document Processing Unit if the individual lives in Milwaukee County or to the Central Document Processing Unit if the individual lives outside of Milwaukee County. Use <http://www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/forwardhealth/imagency/index.htm> to get the appropriate document processing unit fax number.

1.4.1.2 Using an Authorized Representative

There are times when an applicant may not be able to complete the application forms personally. W-2 agencies must accept all forms including the Application Registration form and online ACCESS application from an applicant's legally responsible relative or guardian. For example:

- A spouse can submit the Application Registration form or ACCESS application for his or her wife or husband.
- A parent can submit the Application Registration form or ACCESS application for his or her dependent child.
- A legal guardian can submit an Application Registration form or ACCESS application for his or her ward.
- When the applicant is incompetent or incapacitated, someone acting responsibly for an applicant can submit the Application Registration form or ACCESS application on that individual's behalf. This person would be considered the applicant's authorized representative.

When an applicant chooses to use an authorized representative, both the applicant and the authorized representative must sign the form Authorization of Participant Representative (2375). The agency must not refuse an authorized representative unless the authorization itself appears to be fraudulent. The authorized representative is responsible for submitting the signed Application Registration form or ACCESS application, and any required documents.

History: Release 20-05; Release 20-03; Release 13-02; Release 12-06.

1.4.2 Applying For W-2

1.4.2.1 How to Initiate a W-2 Request

1.4.2.2 Applicant or Participant Signatures

1.4.2.3 Interview and Meeting Options

An applicant may request a W-2 application by contacting their local W-2 agency or by submitting a W-2 application in ACCESS.

The W-2 application process begins on the date the applicant gives the agency the signed Application Registration form* generated from the CWW Print Application Registration page, or when the applicant submits an online application in ACCESS. Once the Receptionist begins the application process for applications that are not submitted in ACCESS, then the agency must schedule an appointment for the applicant with the RS the same day or the following working day using Client Scheduling in CWW. See section 1.2.2 for more detail on the role of the RS.

Applicants who submit an ACCESS application do not need to meet with an RS and may schedule the appointment with a FEP in ACCESS. Agencies must maintain their client scheduling availability in CWW for at least 10 working days into the future. Before submitting a W-2 application in ACCESS, applicants will be given the option of selecting from available appointment times to meet with a FEP over the next 5 working days. The FEP must meet with the applicant during their scheduled appointment time. If an applicant does not schedule an appointment in ACCESS, it is the applicant's responsibility to contact their local W-2 agency to schedule an appointment. Agencies may contact an applicant to schedule interview appointments if the applicant does not schedule an appointment in ACCESS or does not attend their appointment scheduled in ACCESS.

Applicants applying in ACCESS are responsible for scheduling an interview appointment with a FEP in ACCESS or by contacting their local W-2 agency. If an applicant does not schedule an appointment in ACCESS or does not attend their appointment scheduled in ACCESS, the W-2 agency may contact the applicant to schedule an appointment. If an applicant does not schedule an appointment in ACCESS or contact their local W-2 agency, the W-2 agency may deny the application after 30 days.

The W-2 agency must create an RFA in CWW for all application types, including applications through ACCESS. For ACCESS applications, the application date is the date the ACCESS application was submitted.

The applicant may choose to take the Application Registration form home to review, but it is important for the Receptionist to explain that the application process cannot begin and the application date cannot be set until the agency receives the signed form.

Agencies must only use the paper form Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Programs Registration (14880) when:

1. CWW is unavailable and the applicant cannot wait for availability to resume; or
2. There is not sufficient time to generate the CWW Application Registration form before the W-2 agency closes to the public.

The W-2 agency must scan into the ECF the signed copy of the CWW-generated Application Registration form, or the paper registration form used if CWW was unavailable.

Note: The Application Registration form is also referred to as the Request for Assistance (RFA).

1.4.2.1 How to Initiate a W-2 Request

The W-2 agency initiates a W-2 request to generate the CWW Application Registration form by entering the W-2 request via the CWW Record New Group Level Program Request on the Case Summary page.

For detailed instructions on how to process W-2 requests, please see the Request for Assistance (RFA)/Case Processes for W-2 desk aid.

1.4.2.1 How to Initiate a W-2 Request

Signatures for documents that are reviewed by external parties such as a release of information and Fact Finding documents must be obtained either with a written signature or an electronic signature. Unless specified otherwise, all other signatures for documents submitted to the W-2 agency can be obtained in one of four ways below. W-2 agencies must provide the option to sign all documents in whichever acceptable signature method the applicant or participant prefers.

1. Written signature: The applicant physically signs the document.
2. Electronic signature: The applicant electronically signs the document via an electronic signature software.
3. Telephonic signature: The applicant telephonically signs the document during a recorded call using Genesys.

Only documents with the language “or Telephonic Signature Interaction ID” in the signature box are able to be signed telephonically.

For telephonic signatures for anything other than an eligibility review, FEPs must read whatever document is being telephonically signed, e.g., W-2 application, W-2

Participation Agreement, Employability Plan, etc., in order to record the agreement being made between the FEP and the participant. Additionally, the FEP must read the language that is in the telephonic signature display in Genesys. The Telephonic Signature Interaction ID generated in Genesys must be documented on the signature line and case comments.

4. ACCESS signature: Where specified in policy, certain signatures can be obtained as part of the application process in ACCESS.

Regardless of signature type, the FEP must provide a signed copy of the document to the applicant or participant.

1.4.2.3 Interview and Meeting Options

All interviews and meetings with an applicant or participant can be conducted in one of three ways below. W-2 agencies must provide the option to meet in whichever acceptable meeting format the applicant or participant prefers.

1. In-person: The applicant or participant meets physically in-person with a W-2 agency worker.
2. Video call: The applicant or participant and a FEP use a video platform to meet where each person can see and hear one another.
3. Telephonically: The applicant or participant and a FEP use a telephone to meet.

W-2 agency workers must document in comments which meeting format was used.

Note: This meeting format flexibility does not apply to the Refugee Cash Assistance (RCA) Program

1.4.3 Completing the W-2 Application

No later than five working days after the applicant submits the signed Application Registration form or an online ACCESS application, the FEP must hold the intake interview with the applicant.

All applicants requesting W-2 services, including JALs, must sign the Application Summary at the end of the interview. All adults in the W-2 Group must sign the Application Summary.

An application for W-2 is complete when both of the following have occurred:

- The FEP conducted the intake interview during which the FEP entered all eligibility information into CWW; and
- The FEP collected the applicant or authorized representative's signature (see 1.4.2.2) on the CWW Application Summary that prints from the CWW Generate Summary page. W-2 applicants applying in ACCESS will sign the application summary in ACCESS.

In order to secure an applicant's signature on either the Application Registration form or the Application Summary, the FEP may conduct a home visit as a reasonable accommodation. (See 1.3.2) When a home visit is required, the FEP must document the date of the home visit in case comments.

If CWW is unavailable for the intake interview, the applicant must complete and sign the Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Application (2471). Signing this form is the equivalent of signing the Signature page of the Application Summary.

By signing the Application Summary, the applicant:

- Attests that all information provided in the application is correct and complete; and
- Attests to understanding and agreeing to some basic policies of the W-2 program, such as authorizing the W-2 agency to request and receive information from other sources and understanding the fraud rules.

If hardware issues make it impossible for the FEP to print the Application Summary, the FEP may choose the Mail Summary option on the CWW, Generate Summary page. Under this rare circumstance the FEP must have the applicant sign the Back-up Applicant/Participant Signature (11154) form while in the office for the intake interview. The FEP must attach this signed form to the signed Application Summary Signature page when the participant returns the mailed Signature page.

The agency must scan the signed copy of the Application Summary's Signature page into ECF. If the agency used the Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Application (2471) because CWW was unavailable, then the agency must scan the entire form into ECF.

*Job Access Loan applicants must also complete the Job Access Loan Application (2482).

1.4.4 Determining Eligibility and Making a W-2 Placement

No later than seven working days after the first meeting with the applicant, the FEP must determine W-2 eligibility using all financial and nonfinancial eligibility criteria. (See Chapter 2 and Chapter 3) In extenuating circumstances, when the applicant needs additional time to gather verification, the agency can extend the eligibility process for up to 30 days from the date the agency receives the signed Application Registration form. (See 4.1.3)

Included in the nonfinancial eligibility criteria are two activities that the RS or the FEP may assign:

- Up-front job search activities, (see 2.9.2) and
- Requirement to apply for other appropriate public assistance programs (see 2.6.1).

During this same seven-day time frame, the FEP must also work with the applicant to determine the most appropriate W-2 placement.

To make the most appropriate placement decision, the FEP discusses and reviews with the applicant the:

- Results of the informal assessment (see 5.2);
- Results of the Educational Needs Assessment (see 5.3);
- Results of any Career Assessments (see 5.4);
- Progress made in up-front job search, if assigned (see 2.9.2); and
- Results of any other Vocational Evaluation/Assessment or formal assessment obtained during the application process (see 5.1.1).

The FEP must make a placement determination no later than 12 working days after the date the agency receives the signed Application Registration form. The W-2 agency must not extend the timeframe past the 12 working days (five days to meet with the FEP and seven days for the FEP to make an eligibility determination and placement) to accommodate a lengthier job search. W-2 agencies must not use the up-front job search requirement to delay eligibility determination or placement. (See 2.9.2.2)

History: Release 19-07; Release 19-02; Release 17-01; Release 13-02.

1.4.5 Application Processing Timeframe

Below are the application processing time frames that all W-2 agencies must adhere to:

1. The same day or the following working day after an individual applies for W-2 by submitting the signed Application Registration form, (see 1.4.2), a W-2 agency representative must schedule and hold an appointment between the applicant and a RS. If this initial meeting is with a FEP, then no later than seven working days after this meeting, the FEP must determine W-2 eligibility and make the most appropriate W-2 placement for the applicant.
2. No later than five working days after an individual applies for W-2 by submitting the signed Application Registration form or completing the application in ACCESS, the W-2 agency must hold an interview between the FEP and the applicant. If the applicant applies using the signed Application Registration form, the agency must schedule this interview. If the applicant applies in ACCESS, the applicant must either schedule this interview in ACCESS or by contacting their local W-2 agency. Agencies may contact applicants to schedule interview appointments. W-2 agencies must provide availability in ACCESS for appointment scheduling within five days of the application being submitted. Agencies must maintain available intake appointments in CWW Client Scheduling for a minimum of the next 10 working days to avoid delays in appointment scheduling and application processing.
3. No later than seven working days after the first meeting with the FEP, the FEP must determine W-2 eligibility and make the most appropriate W-2 placement for the applicant.

The W-2 agency representative must schedule all appointments through Client Scheduling in CWW. If the agency extends the application timeframe, agency staff must document the reason in case comments. The agency may extend the application timeframe for up to 30 calendar days from the application date for the following:

- The applicant asks to reschedule the RS or FEP appointment; or
- The applicant asks for more time to submit verification.

EXAMPLE 1: Mariah arrives at the W-2 office on Thursday, March 10, 2016, at 4:00 p.m. She wants to apply for W-2 services, but says that she cannot stay as she has to pick up her children from child care. By the time she can return, the office will be closed.

Mariah has several options.

1. She can return to the W-2 agency at a later date to apply.
2. She can wait a few minutes for the agency staff to generate the Application Registration form for her to sign and submit. If Mariah chooses to do this, the W-2 agency must schedule a meeting with the RS the following day, March 11, and a meeting with the FEP no later than March 17 (five working days after the date the W-2 agency received the signed Application Registration form).
3. She can take the paper Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Programs Registration form (14880) with her and return it at her convenience. However, the W-2 agency must explain to her that the application process cannot begin until the agency receives the signed form.

If Mariah chooses to return the paper form on Friday, March 11, the RS must meet with her that day or no later than Monday, March 14 (the following working day after her application date of Friday, March 11). The agency must schedule her appointment with the FEP no later than Friday, March 18 (five working days after the date the W-2 agency received the signed Application Registration form).

Mariah calls the agency Friday, March 18, the day of her FEP appointment, because her daughter is sick and she needs to reschedule. The agency gives Mariah a new FEP appointment date and documents the reason for the application timeframe extension in case comments.

EXAMPLE 2: Tequita comes to the W-2 office and applies for W-2 Thursday, March 10, 2016. The next day (Friday, March 11), she meets with a FEP who completes the CWW intake interview and pends Tequita for asset verification. On Friday, March 18, the agency receives a copy of Tequita's most recent bank statement. The FEP must determine W-2 eligibility and make the most appropriate W-2 placement as soon as possible but no later than Tuesday, March 22 (seven working days after the meeting with the FEP).

1.4.6 Required W-2 Forms and Publications During the Application Process

There are some other forms and publications that agencies are required to distribute at specific times during the W-2 application process, and there are some forms that are available in the event that CWW is not functioning. Below is a list of these forms, a description of each form, and guidance as to when the form or publication must be distributed to applicants.

W-2 Benefits and Services Offered at Wisconsin Works Agencies (11890-P)

This brochure provides a one-page description of the benefits and services available at the W-2 agency. All W-2 agencies are required to provide this brochure to every individual who requests assistance of any kind from the W-2 agency. W-2 agencies must have a supply of the brochure available in all of the public locations within their offices. In addition, at a minimum, it is suggested that the W-2 agencies ensure a supply of the publication is available for Greeters, Receptionists, and Resource Specialists to give to people with whom they speak.

What to Bring With You (2372-P)

The What to Bring With You publication describes the types of documentation an applicant may need to provide in order to verify specific information needed to determine W-2 eligibility. This publication must be given to the applicant at the time he or she inquires about the W-2 program. Similar information is provided in ACCESS for online applicants. This publication is also used for various Medicaid/BadgerCare Plus programs as well as the FS, Child Care, and CTS programs.

W-2 Rights and Responsibilities (398-P)

The W-2 Rights and Responsibilities brochure outlines a participant's rights and responsibilities when participating in W-2 and RCA programs. This form must be provided to participants and reviewed during the application process. Applicants must initial the signature page of the CWW Application Summary acknowledging that they received the brochure.

Wisconsin Works (W-2) Participation Agreement (10755)

The W-2 Participation Agreement (PA) outlines the basic participation requirements for a W-2 participant. During the application process, the FEP must provide this form to the applicant and thoroughly review it. After the agreement has been discussed, the worker, applicant, and all adults in the W-2 Group must sign it. The agency must give the participant a signed copy of the PA and scan the original into ECF.

The PA is important throughout the individual's time in W-2 because it outlines the requirements of W-2 participation. W-2 agencies may review the PA at EP updates, W-2 reviews, and as necessary. W-2 agencies may refer back to the PA if the participant claims not to have known or understood a specific W-2 provision that was explained in the PA.

Good Cause Notice (2023)

The W-2 agency must provide the Good Cause Notice publication to all W-2 applicants and participants. The notice shall be provided to applicants when they apply for W-2 and to participants when a child is added to the W-2 Group, when a parent leaves the W-2 Group, at reapplication for continued benefits, and if a participant discloses to his or her FEP that the participant is experiencing circumstances that may meet the CS good cause criteria. The content of the Good Cause Notice is also available in ACCESS for applicants to read and indicate their understanding. For applicants who applied in ACCESS, the W-2 agency does not have to provide the publication in person. The Good Cause Notice must still be given to participants for all other circumstances specified in section 15.6.1. FEPs must enter a PIN comment in WWP when they provide the Good Cause Notice to the participant. For more information on the good cause notice language in ACCESS, see section 15.6.1. For other relevant CS-related forms and publications, see Chapter 15.

Notice of Assignment: Child Support, Family Support, Maintenance, And Medical Support (2477)

W-2 agencies are required to give all W-2 applicants the Notice of Assignment: Child Support, Family Support, Maintenance, And Medical Support form. Those applicants being referred to the local CSA, or applicants already receiving services from the local CSA, must sign the Notice of Assignment form acknowledging the assignment of child support or at least an understanding of how child support payments are assigned if they begin receiving child support payments while receiving W-2 services. (See 15.1.3) A signed copy of this notice must be scanned into ECF.

Domestic Violence Brochure (2614-P)

W-2 agencies are required to provide a copy of the Domestic Violence Brochure at the appointment with the RS or when an applicant who submitted an ACCESS application interviews with the FEP. If the appointment with the FEP is telephonic, the FEP must provide an electronic copy of the brochure during the intake appointment. For safety reasons, it is important that W-2 agency staff point out the brochure so that the applicant can decide if it is safe to keep. Including the brochure in a stack of other papers may put the applicant or participant at risk if he or is unaware of its presence.

TANF Electronic Benefit Transfer Transaction Restrictions Flyer (2947-P)

W-2 agencies must provide the TANF EBT Restrictions Flyer to all W-2 applicants during the application process and at eligibility reviews. The flyer identifies specific merchant locations where TANF funded assistance cannot be accessed and specifies types of electronic benefit transfer transactions that are prohibited. This discussion provides an opportunity to educate participants about responsible spending to provide for basic needs.

1.5.1 W-2 Eligibility Reviews

1.5.1.1 Conducting W-2 Eligibility Reviews by Telephone

1.5.1.2 Discussing Confidentiality Situations

The W-2 agency is required to meet (see 1.4.2.3) with participants to conduct a W-2 eligibility review at least every six (6) months.

1.5.1.1 Conducting W-2 Eligibility Reviews by Telephone

When conducting a W-2 eligibility review by phone or video call, the FEP must review the participant's eligibility information and advise the participant of the verification items and required forms that he or she must submit following the review.

After conducting the W-2 eligibility review by telephone, the FEP must:

1. Summarize the information collected during the interview;
2. Collect a signature from the participant;
3. Generate a current Case Summary; and
4. Send the Case Summary and other required forms to the participant unless they prefer to pick them up at the W-2 agency

1.5.1.2 Discussing Confidentiality Situations

The FEP should discuss a participant's confidentiality situation when necessary to assist the participant with safety concerns. At a minimum, the FEP must discuss the participant's confidentiality situation during every eligibility review to address any concerns the participant may have. Confidentiality situation refers to the situation that prompted the individual's case to be made confidential. (See 4.5.2)

History: Release 18-04; Release 18-02.

02 Nonfinancial Eligibility

2.1 Introduction

2.1 Introduction

Applicants must meet nonfinancial and financial eligibility criteria in order to be considered eligible for W-2 services or a JAL. See 3.1 for information on financial eligibility.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

2.2 General Nonfinancial Eligibility Criteria

2.2.1 List of Criteria

In order to be non-financially eligible for W-2 services and JALs for any month, an applicant or participant must meet the following criteria. For eligibility information regarding minor parents, noncustodial parents, pregnant women, and pregnant women with at-risk pregnancies, see 7.5.2, 7.5.1, 7.5.3, and 7.4.6 respectively. For information on verifying the following criteria, see Chapter 4.

1. Be a Custodial Parent (CP). (See 2.3.1)
2. Be 18 years of age or older.
3. Be a U.S. citizen or qualified non-citizen. (See 2.4.1)
4. Be a resident of Wisconsin and unless the applicant is a migrant worker, demonstrate an intent to continue living in the state.
5. Cooperate, unless good cause or other exceptions exist, with efforts to establish paternity of the Dependent Child or children and secure and enforce child support orders. This cooperation requirement extends to any W-2 Group member who is a custodial parent of a child whose paternity has not been established or who has a noncustodial parent. The requirements for custodial parents and noncustodial parents to cooperate with child support are outlined in 15.3.1.
6. Assign the rights to any support or maintenance (child or family support) to the state. (See 15.1.1)
7. Provide all requested documentation within seven working days after receiving the request for information from the W-2 agency. (See 4.1.3)
8. Have made a good faith effort, as determined by the W-2 agency on a case-by-case basis, to obtain employment and have not refused any bona fide offer of employment, including a job quit, within 180 calendar days immediately preceding application. This policy only applies to applicants and the W-2 agency has the discretion to define when a bona fide offer of employment has been made and what demonstrates a good faith effort. In addition, this applies specifically to individuals applying for one of the two W-2 Paid Employment Positions and does not apply to ARP and CMC.
9. Have cooperated with the W-2 agency's assistance with finding employment if the current application is within 180 calendar days of a previous application for W-2 services by the individual. This policy applies only to applicants and it only applies to noncooperation with the efforts of the W-2 agency to assist the individual in obtaining employment and does not pertain to every aspect of the application such as providing income verification. In addition, this applies specifically to individuals applying for one of the two W-2 Paid Employment Positions and does not apply to CMC and ARP.

10. Not receive SSI or state supplemental payments. If an individual has been determined eligible for SSI, he or she remains eligible for W-2 until he or she actually receives a SSI payment.
11. Not receive SSDI. If an individual has been determined eligible for SSDI, he or she remains eligible for W-2 until he or she actually receives a SSDI payment.

An adult disabled before age 22 may be eligible for child's disability benefits if a parent is deceased or starts receiving retirement or disability benefits. The adult disabled before age 22 receives the benefit based on a parent's Social Security earnings record. The adult must be unmarried, age 18 or older, and have a disability that started before age 22. FEPs must code this disability income as 'SSDC' in CARES Worker Web. For more information, see <https://www.ssa.gov/planners/disability/qualify.html#anchor8>

12. Not participate in a strike on the last day of the month. If eligibility is determined prior to the last day of the month and the applicant is on strike, they are ineligible. If a participant in a W-2 employment position goes on strike, that participant becomes ineligible for W-2.
13. Cooperate in applying for other public assistance programs or resources that the FEP believes may be available to the individual. (See 2.6.1)
14. Apply for or provide a SSN for all W-2 Group members, unless exempt. (See 2.7.1)
15. Report changes in circumstances that may affect eligibility within 10 calendar days after the change, except for temporary absence of a child which must be reported within five working days. (See 2.8.1)
16. Cooperate in providing information needed to verify school enrollment status or good cause for the Learnfare program for children age 6-17 in a W-2 Group whose parent is placed in a TMP, CSJ, or W-2 T placement. (See Chapter 16) Cooperate in providing school enrollment status and expected graduation date for a Dependent 18-year-old when the parent's W-2 eligibility is being determined based on that child as a Dependent 18-year-old.
17. Cooperate in the requirement to search for unsubsidized employment throughout his or her participation in a W-2 employment position. This requirement does not apply to CMCs, ARPs, or AmeriCorps VISTA Volunteers. (See 2.9.1)
18. Cooperate with providing eligibility information for other W-2 Group member(s).
19. Cooperate with providing information for quality assurance reviews.

20. Not be a fugitive felon. (See 42 U.S.C. 608(a)(9)(A)(i))
21. Not be violating a condition of probation or parole imposed under federal or state law.
22. State in writing whether he or she has been convicted in any state or federal court of a felony that has an element of possession, use or distribution of a controlled substance. (See 11.7.1)
23. Have no other W-2 Group member participating in a W-2 employment position. This requirement does not apply to an individual applying for a JAL only.
24. Beginning on the date the individual has attained the age of 18, the total number of months in which the individual has actively participated does not exceed the 48-month state lifetime limit. (See 2.10.1)
25. Verify pregnancy for pregnant women with no other dependent children. (See 7.5.3 and 7.4.6)

History: Release 21-09; Release 18-02; Release 16-01; Release 13-03; Release 13-02; Release 13-01.

2.3 Custodial Parent

2.3.1 Determining Who is a Custodial Parent

Only one W-2 Group may receive a W-2 payment for a Dependent Child. When there is no legal custody or placement order, the Parent with whom the dependent child resides is the Custodial Parent (CP). Dependent children must be included in the household where they reside.

There may be situations when the primary residence of a dependent child is not easily determined. If the primary residence of a dependent child is questionable, court documents can be used to determine if there is a primary caretaker designated.

If there is joint legal custody of a child and the custody is split equally in half, the parents can be asked to decide which parent is considered the primary caretaker. If the parents cannot or will not decide, the FEP should compare the parents' activities and responsibilities against the following list and determine which one is exercising more control than the other:

1. If the parents reside in different school districts, where does the child attend school? Who selected the school?
2. Who assists the child with homework or school-related tasks?
3. Are there tuition costs for the child's education? If so, who pays those costs?
4. If the child is enrolled in day care, who arranges for and pays these costs?
5. Who is responsible for taking the child to and from school and/or day care?
6. Which parent is listed as the contact for emergencies at the child's school or day care provider?
7. Who arranges medical and dental care for the child? Who selects the physician and dentist?
8. Who maintains the child's medical records?
9. Who initiates decisions regarding the child's future?
10. Who responds to medical or law enforcement emergencies involving the child?
11. Who spends money on food or clothing for the child when the child visits the absent parent?
12. Who disciplines the child?
13. Who plays with the child and arranges for entertainment?
14. Are more of the child's toys, clothing, etc. kept at one parent's home than the other's?

FEPs must use the best information available to make a decision, and document in case comments the basis of the determination.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

2.4 U.S. Citizenship / Qualified Non-Citizens Immigration Status

2.4.1 Verifying U.S. Citizenship or Qualified Non-Citizen Status

2.4.1.1 SAVE

When applying for W-2, all individuals in the W-2 Group must verify U.S. citizenship or qualified non-citizen status.

See 4.1.2 for examples of allowable documentation verifying U.S. citizenship. Citizenship needs to be verified only once.

If the applicant is not a U.S. citizen or national he or she must present immigration documentation that the W-2 agency will verify through SAVE. The documents found in the Non-Citizen Eligibility Documentation appendix can be used to show that an individual is in qualifying status. The W-2 agency cannot specify which type of document an applicant must present to show their immigration status.

Once an applicant has provided documentation identifying his or her status as a qualified non-citizen, he or she is presumptively eligible until the FEP verifies the status through SAVE. The FEP should not delay or deny the applicant's eligibility for W-2 on the basis of the applicant's immigration status while seeking verification.

If a non-citizen applicant's immigration status has already been verified through the FDSH, this is considered valid verification for W-2 and the FEP does not need to request documentation from the non-citizen and verify it through SAVE.

All documents issued by United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) containing a photo serve as verification of identity and immigration status.

Over time, a non-citizen's immigration status may change. If this occurs and the individual's new immigration status has been verified through the FDSH, this is considered valid verification for W-2 and the FEP does not need to request documentation from the non-citizen and verify it through SAVE. If the new status has not been verified through the FDSH, the individual must present immigration documentation of the new status that the FEP will verify through SAVE.

FEPs should not update the immigration status code of individuals who were previously verified as a refugee, asylee, Cuban/Haitian Entrant, individual granted withholding of deportation or removal, victim of trafficking, or Iraqi or Afghan special immigrant. Individuals in these statuses are exempt from the five year ban on certain public benefits even if their immigration status later changes, and updating the immigration status code could cause the individual to incorrectly lose eligibility for the benefits. For example, a refugee whose immigration status changes to Lawful Permanent Resident should remain coded as a refugee.

If the applicant does not present documentation and his or her status has not been verified through the FDSH, the FEP must presume that the person is in the status he or she claims until he or she has been provided an opportunity to present the appropriate documentation. This is also the case if the applicant presents a document that:

- Does not appear to be genuine;
- Does not apply to the person presenting it; or
- Is expired.

If the applicant does not have documentation of their immigration status, the FEP should refer the individual to the local USCIS office to obtain it. In cases involving participants who are hospitalized or medically disabled, or who can otherwise show good cause for their inability to present documentation and for whom securing such documentation would constitute undue hardship, the FEP must make every effort to assist the individual in obtaining the required documentation.

Children of adult non-citizens are provided their own USCIS documentation. However, this documentation does not verify relationship to family members. When verifying custodial parent relationships of non-citizens, the FEP should follow the same procedures as used with U.S. citizens. (See 2.3.1)

2.4.1.1 SAVE

SAVE is the system used to verify an applicant's immigration status. To acquire access to the SAVE system, W-2 workers must submit the CARES Automated Systems Access Request (F-00476) form to the CARES Security staff. Not all FEPs are allowed access to the SAVE system.

Users can access SAVE via the Immigrant/Refugee Information page in CWW or the following website: <https://save.uscis.gov/Web/vislogin.aspx?JS=YES>. The manual for using this system and for verifying alien status is located at: https://prd.cares.wisconsin.gov/help/ph/process_help/h82/82.htm.

History: Release 19-03; Release 18-04; Release 14-03.

2.4.2 Qualified Non-Citizens

The following qualified non-citizens (formerly referred to as “Qualified Aliens”) may be eligible for W-2:

1. An alien lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence under the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA);
2. An alien who is granted asylum under section 208 of the Immigration and Nationality Act;
3. A refugee who is admitted to the United States under section 207 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, including Special Visa Immigrants from Iraq and Afghanistan under section 1059 of H.R. 1815;
4. An alien who has been certified as a victim of trafficking;
5. An alien who is paroled into the United States under section 212(d)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act for a period of at least one year;
6. An alien whose deportation is being withheld under section 243(h) or 241(b)(3) of the Immigration and Nationality Act;
7. Cuban and Haitian aliens, as defined in section 501(e) of the Refugee Education Assistance Act of 1980;
8. An American Indian born in Canada who is at least 50% American Indian by blood, or an American Indian born outside of the United States who is a member of a federally recognized Indian tribe;
9. An alien who has been battered or whose child has been battered, who is no longer residing in the same household with the batterer, and who meets the requirements of 8 U.S.C. s. 1641(c);
10. An alien who is granted conditional entry pursuant to section 203(a)(7) of the Immigration and Nationality Act as in effect prior to April 1, 1980;
11. Amerasian Immigrants, as defined in section 584 of the Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Appropriations Act of 1988;
12. An alien who is lawfully residing and is one of the following:
 - a. An armed forces veteran who received an honorable discharge that was not on account of alienage and who completed either 24 months of continuous active duty or the full period for which the individual was called, unless the individual received a hardship discharge under 10 U.S.C. s. 1173, early discharge under 10 U.S.C. s. 1171, or a discharge due to a disability incurred or aggravated in the line of duty.
 - b. On active duty in the armed forces of the United States, other than active duty for training.

- c. The spouse of an individual described in subdivision a. or b., or the unremarried surviving spouse of an individual described in subdivision a. or b. if the marriage was for one year or more or the individual had a child in common.
13. An alien who is lawfully residing in the United States and authorized to work by United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS).

W-2 for qualified non-citizens is not paid with federal funds, so they are exempt from the 60-month federal lifetime limit. Qualified non-citizens are subject to the 48-month state lifetime limit and 24-month placement time limits. If an individual is in one of the qualified non-citizen groups listed above, and is coded as such on the Immigrant/Refugee Information page in CWW, CARES will automatically disregard federal months for qualified non-citizens. W-2 Agencies must not manually enter a federal month of TANF assistance for any month a qualified non-citizen participates in W-2. (See 2.10.9) In a two-parent case where one parent is a qualified non-citizen and the other is a U.S. citizen, the U.S. citizen will only use months of federal TANF assistance when the U.S. citizen is in a paid placement.

History: Release 21-09; Release 20-03; Release 16-01.

2.4.3 U.S. Citizenship for Foreign-Born Children

Some foreign-born children, including adopted children, residing permanently in the United States acquire citizenship automatically if at least one custodial parent is a citizen. To be eligible, a child must meet the following requirements:

1. Have at least one U.S. citizen parent (by birth or naturalization);
2. Be under 18 years of age;
3. Be currently residing permanently in the U.S. in the legal and physical custody of the U.S. citizen parent;
4. Be a lawful permanent resident; and
5. If the child is the adoptive child of the U.S. citizen parent, the child must also meet the requirements applicable to adopted children under the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), Section 101(b)(1).

Proof of citizenship verification is not automatically issued to children who acquire derivative citizenship. A parent may apply for a United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) certificate of citizenship for the child or a passport for their child. If the parent does not present one of these documents for a child, the FEP can make a determination of derivative citizenship by verifying at least three requirements listed above if there is no documentation issued by the USCIS proving citizenship status. However, FEPs should encourage parents to obtain official documentation to avoid future citizen verification problems for the child.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy

2.4.4 Reviewing Immigration Status

Over time, many non-citizens acquire citizenship. Therefore, the FEP should review non-citizen status at each eligibility review. However, citizenship only needs to be verified once. (See 4.1.2)

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

2.5 Child Support

2.5.1 Cooperation with Child Support

Each Custodial Parent (CP) in the W-2 Group must cooperate in good faith with the efforts directed at all of the following for any minor child of that parent:

1. Identifying and locating an absent parent;
2. Establishing the paternity of any child of the custodial parent;
3. Obtaining support payments or any other payments or property to which that parent and any minor child of that parent may have rights.

Each noncustodial parent in the W-2 Group must cooperate in good faith with the efforts directed at all of the following for any minor child of that parent:

1. Establishing the paternity of an alleged child of that parent; and
2. Obtaining any support payments or any other payments or property for which that parent may be responsible.

For more information on child support cooperation, see 15.3.1.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

2.6 Other Public Assistance Programs/Resources

2.6.1 Accessing Other Public Assistance Programs/Resources

A W-2 applicant or participant may be required, as determined by the FEP, to apply for and accept other public assistance programs or resources that may be available, prior to being determined eligible for W-2 services or during W-2 participation. Other sources of public assistance or resources may include, but are not limited to:

- Unemployment Insurance;
- Worker's Compensation;
- Child Support;
- Social Security Survivor Benefits; and
- Veterans benefits.

The requirement to apply for these other public assistance programs or resources must be provided to the applicant or participant in writing. The written notification must include a due date by which the individual must apply for the program or resource. The written notification must also state that the individual may be ineligible for W-2 or a JAL if they refuse to apply for or refuse to accept other public assistance programs or resources.

The W-2 agency may also encourage the applicant or participant to access, on a voluntary basis, other services which may help the applicant find employment. Examples of these services include WIOA programs and or DVR programs.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

2.7 Social Security Numbers

2.7.1 Providing Social Security Numbers

Every member of the W-2 Group, including newborns, must provide a Social Security Number (SSN), or provide proof that any W-2 Group member without an SSN has applied for one, unless the individual is initially exempt. An individual is initially exempt if he or she does not have an SSN, does not have a work authorization, and is a member of one of the following qualified non-citizen groups:

1. Cuban/Haitian entrants, as defined in section 501(e) of the Refugee Education Assistance Act of 1980; or
2. Certified, foreign-born victims of trafficking; or
3. Parolees (alien paroled into the U.S. for at least one year under section 212(d)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA));
4. Certain battered aliens who meet the requirements of 8 U.S.C. s. 1641(c); or
5. Any qualified non-citizen (see 2.4.2) who cannot apply for an SSN until his or her immigration status paperwork has been revised.

An individual who is initially exempt must continue to complete the necessary steps for obtaining an SSN in order to remain eligible for W-2. W-2 agencies must assist the individual with these steps if the individual requires assistance. (See 4.1.3)

See 4.1.2 for suggested sources of allowable verification.

Once an SSN application date is verified, the individual has at least 6 full calendar months from the SSN application date to provide the SSN. The SSN must be provided by the end of the 13th full calendar month after the month of the SSN application date.

The FEP may collect the SSN at any point beginning in the 7th full calendar month and ending in the 13th full calendar month. This policy aligns with Health Care and FoodShare policy. To support the policy of all three programs, CWW will prompt the FEP or IM worker to collect the SSN anytime the FEP or IM worker completes an Intake, Review/Renewal, or Program Add beginning in the 7th full calendar month and ending in the 13th full calendar month.

Note: The timeframe described above also applies to individuals who are initially exempt. For initially exempt individuals, the individual has at least 6 full calendar months from the W-2 Initial Exemption Date in CWW to provide the SSN. The SSN must be provided by the end of the 13th full calendar month after the month of the W-2 Initial Exemption Date in CWW.

EXAMPLE 1: Moira applies for W-2 in January 2019. The IM worker previously verified that her son Johnny's SSN application date is February 10, 2018. Because the SSN application date is more than 6 full calendar months in the past at the time of the W-2 Intake, CWW will prompt the FEP to pend for or enter Johnny's SSN.

EXAMPLE 2: Moira applies for W-2 in January 2019. The IM worker previously verified that her son Johnny's SSN application date is August 10, 2018. Because the SSN application date is less than 6 full calendar months in the past at the time of the W-2 Intake, CWW will not prompt the FEP to pend for or enter Johnny's SSN.

At the June 2019 W-2 review, the SSN application date will be more than 6 full calendar months in the past. Therefore, CWW will prompt the FEP to pend for or enter Johnny's SSN.

EXAMPLE 3: Moira applies for W-2 in January 2019. The IM worker previously verified that her son Johnny's SSN application date is August 10, 2018. Because the SSN application date is less than 6 full calendar months in the past at the time of the W-2 Intake, CWW will not prompt the FEP to pend for or enter Johnny's SSN.

In March 2019, the IM worker completes an IM renewal. Because Johnny's SSN application date is more than 6 full calendar months in the past at the time of the IM renewal, CWW will prompt the IM worker to pend for or enter Johnny's SSN.

EXAMPLE 4: Moira applies for W-2 in January 2019. The IM worker previously verified that her son Johnny's SSN application date is August 10, 2018. Because the SSN application date is less than 6 full calendar months in the past at the time of the W-2 Intake, CWW will not prompt the FEP to pend for or enter Johnny's SSN.

However, Moira informs the FEP that Johnny received his SSN. The FEP enters Johnny's SSN into CWW and the SOLQ-I data exchange verifies Johnny's SSN. The requirement that all individuals in the W-2 Group must provide a SSN has been met.

EXAMPLE 5: Moira applies for W-2 in January 2019. The IM worker previously verified that her son Johnny's SSN application date is November 10, 2018. Because the SSN application date is less than 6 full calendar months in the past at the time of the W-2 Intake, CWW will not prompt the FEP to pend for or enter Johnny's SSN.

Moira loses W-2 eligibility in April 2019. In June 2019, Moira reapplies for W-2. Because Johnny's SSN application date is now more than 6 full calendar months in the past, CWW will prompt the FEP to pend for or enter Johnny's SSN.

Note: Because a W-2 eligibility review is required every 6 months, the latest that CWW would prompt the FEP to pend for or enter the SSN is the 12th calendar month after the SSN application date or the W-2 Initial Exemption Date in CWW. Therefore, the latest possible verification deadline would occur in the 13th calendar month after the SSN application date or the W-2 Initial Exemption Date in CWW. Because any driver flow initiated by any worker will prompt the worker to pend for or enter the SSN when the SSN application date is more than 6 full calendar months in the past, it will be rare that the 13 month duration is reached.

If the W-2 agency determines that a W-2 Group member has refused to provide or apply for an SSN, the entire W-2 Group is ineligible for W-2.

W-2 agencies must only use SSNs and personally identifiable information for the direct administration of the program. Each time a FEP requests an SSN, the FEP must inform the individual that disclosure is mandatory for eligibility determination, how the agency will use the number, and under what statutory or other authority the agency is requesting the number. A sample statement follows:

Provision of your SSN or cooperation in applying for a SSN is required to determine eligibility for Wisconsin Works (W-2). The number you provide to the agency will be verified through a computer matching program to monitor compliance with program regulations and for program management. Wisconsin Statutes 49.145 (2)(k).

History: Release 19-03; Release 16-01; Release 13-01.

2.8 Reporting Changes Including Temporary Absence

2.8.1 When to Report Changes

In order to remain eligible for W-2, participants must notify the W-2 agency of a change in circumstance that may affect eligibility, e.g., a change in Wisconsin residency, increased income or assets, etc., within 10 calendar days of its occurrence, except for reporting the absence of a child which must be reported within five working days. (See 2.8.2) The agency must respond to reports in a timely manner and keep case data up to date.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

2.8.2 Temporary Absence of a Child

2.8.2.1 Child Welfare Case-by-Case Exception

2.8.2.2 Coordinating Services with the Child Welfare Agency

Applicants and participants who meet all financial and nonfinancial eligibility requirements are eligible for all W-2 services even if the Dependent Child(ren) is temporarily absent from the home provided these four conditions are all met:

1. The child will not be or has not been continuously absent for more than three months; and is expected to return to the parent's household.
2. The child's absence is not the result of removing the child under a dispositional order which places custody of the child outside the home, indefinitely or for three or more months.
3. The custodial parent continues to exercise responsibility for the care and control of the child meaning the parent is responsible for decisions about the child's education, health-care, and any treatment, hospitalization, and long-distance travel while the child is out-of-home.
4. The applicant or participant must report the absence of a child within five working days regardless of the number of children in the home.

The parent's requirement to report the child's absence to the W-2 agency within five working days begins on the day when the parent knows the child is absent from the home.

NOTE: The five day notification period is a federal TANF requirement and the time frame differs from the W-2 10-day notice of change requirement.

The temporary absence of a child policy is not applicable if there is at least one dependent child remaining in the home because then the dependent child requirement is met for W-2 nonfinancial eligibility.

2.8.2.1 Child Welfare Case-by-Case Exception

A case-by-case exception to the "up-to-three month" temporary absence time period may apply when the absence is due to child welfare issues. Under the following circumstances, the temporary absence time period may be extended to up to six months if all of the following conditions are met:

1. The applicant or participant must report the child's temporary absence due to child welfare issues to the W-2 agency within five working days of the child's temporary absence due to child welfare issues.

The parent's requirement to report the child's absence due to child welfare issues to the W-2 agency within five working days begins on the day when the parent knows the child is absent from the home due to child welfare issues.

The W-2 agency will accept a report of a child's temporary absence from the Child Welfare agency as a report from the parent. The W-2 agency must inform a parent of any temporary absence report made by the Child Welfare agency on behalf of the parent.

When the Child Welfare agency is involved with the family, the W-2 agency must work with the Child Welfare agency to develop and implement procedures to meet the reporting requirement.

2. The Child Welfare agency confirms the child was removed from the home due to child welfare issues (e.g. when juvenile justice issues are involved, only child welfare issues are considered for meeting this policy requirement).
3. The parent maintains an appropriate home for the child based on determinations by the W-2 and Child Welfare agencies (e.g. the parent is not in a treatment center or other out-of-home placement). Because the Child Welfare agency has expertise in making determinations regarding safe and appropriate housing for the reunification of parents with their children, the W-2 agency should base their determination of an appropriate home for the child on the Child Welfare agency's decision.

If the W-2 agency has any concerns about the safety and/or appropriateness of the home, the W-2 agency should contact the Child Welfare agency.

Note: The parent's participation in out-of-home care for mental health, AODA and/or medical care for no longer than one month during the child's absence from the home does not preclude eligibility based on temporary absence provided the parent meets the requirement to maintain an appropriate home for the child based on determinations by the W-2 and Child Welfare agencies.

4. The permanency plan and any other Child Welfare agency plan state that the child is expected to be reunified with the parent in the parent's household within six months and the child is not expected to "age out" of child status while in the out-of-home placement.
5. The child's out-of-home placement type is consistent with reuniting the child with the parent in the parent's household within six months of the child's temporary absence from the home (e.g. child is not in a pre-adoptive placement).

6. The custodial parent is cooperating, following through and satisfactorily completing Child Welfare agency appointments and all activities required for reunification with the child.
7. The custodial parent is cooperating in, participating in, and satisfactorily completing the W-2 agency's assigned activities.

For each month the child welfare exception is applied, the W-2 agency must contact the Child Welfare agency to determine whether requirements 1 - 6 above are met. The W-2 agency must also determine whether requirement 7 is met on a monthly basis.

2.8.2.2 Coordinating Services with the Child Welfare Agency

The temporary absence policies for child welfare situations require significant communication and collaboration between the W-2 agency and Child Welfare agency. To ensure communication and coordination between the two agencies, the W-2 agency is required to develop and implement procedures for the following:

1. Identification of families receiving services from both agencies;
2. At a minimum contact every other week with the Child Welfare agency's primary worker for the family, and more frequent contact as appropriate when there are relevant changes, to discuss W-2 participation and to determine the family's progress in meeting goals including reunification with their child(ren) (e.g. participation in joint staffing meetings between both agencies with the family or family members).
3. Sharing assessments and other relevant information between both agencies about the family, including confidential information in accordance with federal and state confidentiality laws.
4. Clarification about the impact of any out-of-home placement or other legal orders on the custodial parent's ongoing care and control of the child(ren).
5. Coordination of referrals to other resources, including AODA, mental health, etc., to ensure that services are not duplicated.
6. When activities that may be required by the Child Welfare agency for the parent's reunification with the child(ren), such as parenting classes, are approvable W-2 activities, then the W-2 agency must coordinate with the Child Welfare agency so that these activities are included in the parent's W-2 EP.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

2.8.3 Temporary Absence and Kinship Care

An individual is not eligible for W-2 services under the temporary absence policy when an out-of-home child is in Kinship Care. However, when at least one out-of-home child is not in Kinship Care (e.g. foster care), then the individual may be eligible for W-2 under the temporary absence policy provided all policy requirements are met.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

2.8.4 Temporary Absence and Incarceration

W-2 participants whose incarceration renders them temporarily unable to participate in work activities or retain care and control of their children will remain eligible for W-2 payments for up to 30 days, provided they remain otherwise financially and nonfinancially eligible. Incarcerated W-2 participants who are unable to participate in work activities or retain care and control of their child(ren) for more than 30 consecutive calendar days are not eligible for W-2 payments. The 30-day timeframe allows for short-term incarceration without having to disenroll and then re-enroll the participant that would disrupt the activities, payments and child care.

For more information on incarceration of W-2 participants, see 11.5.1.

History: Release 20-01.

2.9 Search For Unsubsidized Employment

2.9.1 Introduction

When appropriate, W-2 applicants may be assigned to search for unsubsidized employment as a condition of eligibility. This is commonly referred to as “up-front job search.” If an applicant fails to participate in up-front job search requirements without good cause, the W-2 agency may deny the individual’s application.

In addition, W-2 participants may be required to look for employment. If a W-2 participant fails to cooperate with employment search requirements without good cause, the W-2 agency may close the participant’s case. (See 11.4.1)

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

2.9.2 Up-front Job Search Activities as a Condition of Eligibility

2.9.2.1 Allowable Up-front Job Search Activities

2.9.2.2 Up-front Job Search Time Frames

2.9.2.3 Results of the Up-front Job Search

2.9.2.4 Employment During Up-front Job Search

The goal of up-front job search activities is to rapidly connect the applicant to sustainable employment.

Not all applicants are appropriate for up-front job search. When deciding whether to assign up-front job search activities as a condition of eligibility, the RS and the FEP must use the best information available. This includes information gathered through the informal assessment process, the educational needs assessment, career assessment, and any additional vocational evaluation/assessments or formal assessments obtained to date. (See Chapter 5)

Assignment of up-front job search activities must be made on a case-by-case basis. W-2 agencies are prohibited from assigning up-front job search to all W-2 applicants without regard to each individual's circumstances. In two-parent households, either or both parent(s) applying for W-2 assistance may be assigned to up-front job search activities, depending on their individual circumstances.

Below are some characteristics of an applicant who is likely to be appropriate for up-front job search:

- Has a recent employment history;
- Possesses skills marketable in current labor market;
- Has or can have child care in place;
- Has stable housing;
- Has access to reliable transportation.

Below are some characteristics of an applicant who is unlikely to be appropriate for up-front job search:

- Meets the characteristics of a W-2 T placement, e.g., has a personal medical condition, e.g., physical or mental health conditions including cognitive limitations, that makes the applicant unable to work or is caring for a disabled family member;

- Has not ever been employed or has not been employed recently or has had a string of failed employment;
- Is in a domestic abuse situation;
- Is homeless and is not ready to find immediate work (some homeless parents are able and eager to find employment);
- Does not have and does not have ready access to child care and/or reliable transportation;
- Is 18- or 19-years-old with no HSD or GED; and
- Is otherwise unprepared to begin work in the next 12 working days.

2.9.2.1 Allowable Up-front Job Search Activities

The up-front job search activities include:

1. UE – Up-front Employment Search
2. UC – Up-front Career Planning
3. UR – Up-front Job Readiness / Motivation

(See the Activity Codes Appendix for definition of these activity codes)

The W-2 agency must record the assignment of up-front job search activities on the W-2 Up-Front Requirements CWW page. In addition, the W-2 agency must develop an individualized EP for all applicants assigned to up-front job search activities.

The W-2 agency must assist the applicant in their up-front job search activities. Some examples include:

- Conducting career assessment and career exploration activities that will help match individuals with appropriate job leads;
- Conducting job development activities that concentrate on soliciting job openings, marketing individuals to employers and securing job interviews;
- Providing assistance with development of resumes and completion of job applications;

- Assigning employment search that is structured to meet the needs of the individual. This may include independent job search and job club activities that give job seekers an opportunity to discuss successes and difficulties encountered during daily job search, share job leads and provide group support;
- Providing job leads to businesses that are hiring individuals with skills possessed by the applicant;
- Staying in communication with the individual throughout the job search to review progress and offer support.

Simply assigning an applicant to fill out a job log without any assistance is not an appropriate assignment of up-front job search activities.

2.9.2.2 Up-front Job Search Time Frames

For individuals who are determined ready for unsubsidized employment, assignment to up-front job search and job readiness activities may be appropriate under any of the following conditions:

1. An individual has filed a W-2 application with a W-2 agency and has no open W-2 case in that W-2 agency or any other W-2 agency;
2. A participant has a W-2 case that is pending closed in CARES due to eligibility reasons and his or her W-2 placement has been end-dated and he or she subsequently contacts the same W-2 agency or a different W-2 agency to request assistance from W-2;

EXAMPLE: Laura's CMC placement ended on June 5th and she returns to work. Her FEP notifies her that case management follow-up services are available, but Laura declines. The FEP enters Laura's earned income and changes the request for W-2 to No in CWW and ends the W-2 placement on screen WPWW. W-2 eligibility is pending closed for June 30th. On June 25th, Laura notifies the W-2 agency that she lost her job and submits a new request for W-2. Based on its assessment of Laura's work history, education and employment skills, the agency determines that it is appropriate to assign Laura to up-front job search before making a new placement determination.

3. A participant relocates into or out of Milwaukee County or between balance of state W-2 agencies.

The assignment of up-front job search activities may take place while the applicant is waiting to meet with the FEP and while the FEP is making the eligibility and placement decisions. The FEP must not extend the application process past the 12 working days

(five days to meet with the FEP and seven days for the FEP to make an eligibility determination and placement) to accommodate a lengthier job search. (See 1.4.4)

W-2 agencies must not assign up-front job search activities under any of the following conditions:

1. A participant has continued ongoing W-2 eligibility in one agency. This includes circumstances where a participant's CMC placement is ending, she is unemployed and she meets eligibility criteria for a different cash assistance placement.
2. A CMF or CMF+ participant contacts the FEP to request a paid W-2 placement because his or her employment has ended.
3. An individual is pregnant and applying for a CMC placement or an ARP placement.
4. An individual is an AmeriCorps VISTA volunteer.
5. A participant moves from one Milwaukee W-2 geographical area to another Milwaukee W-2 geographical area and neither W-2 eligibility nor the W-2 placement has ended.
6. A participant moves from one county to another county where both counties operate under one W-2 agency.

2.9.2.3 Results of the Up-front Job Search

The FEP determines, on a case-by-case basis, whether the applicant has made a good faith effort to obtain employment by completing assigned up-front job search activities.

Throughout the application period, the FEP should be checking in with the applicant to determine how the up-front job search activities are going. If the applicant is not completing the assigned activities, the FEP must make attempts to discuss the situation with the applicant and determine if any barriers exist. If barriers are identified that make the applicant unable to find employment in the application time frame, the FEP must end up-front job search activities.

If no barriers are identified and the applicant does not provide good cause for failing to meet the up-front job search requirements, the FEP may deny the application. (See 11.2.2)

2.9.2.4 Employment During Up-front Job Search

If an applicant finds unsubsidized employment during up-front job search, the FEP must place the applicant in the CMF placement or the prorated CSJ placement. The FEP cannot place the applicant in CMF+ because only participants in a CSJ, W-2 T, or TMP placement may be placed in CMF+.

If the applicant is working in unsubsidized employment for a total of 30 hours or more per week, the FEP must offer to place the applicant in CMF. If the applicant cannot obtain employment verification immediately, a FEP may use a participant's verbal statement to make the CMF placement, develop the EP, and assign case management activities. (See 7.2.3.1) In order to be placed in a CMF placement, the applicant must meet nonfinancial eligibility requirements. The FEP may exclude income and assets when determining CMF placement eligibility. (See 3.1 and 7.2.3.4)

If the applicant is working in unsubsidized employment less than 30 hours per week with limitations to increasing his or her work hours, the FEP must offer to place the individual in a prorated CSJ. The FEP must first verify that the applicant has actually begun work and verify the wages and the number of expected hours worked per week prior to making a prorated CSJ placement. (See 4.1.3) In order to be placed in a prorated CSJ placement, the applicant must meet other W-2 nonfinancial and financial eligibility requirements. (See Chapters 2 and 3 and 7.4.1.4)

Note: Case closure policies in Section 11.4.1 for failing to verify eligibility information do not apply to W-2 applicants. The case closure policies only apply to W-2 participants in open and ongoing W-2 cases.

EXAMPLE 1: Joseph has a history of employment as a marble finisher; however, his employer of five (5) years went out of business. Joseph has a high school diploma, a valid driver's license, and owns a vehicle. He meets with the FEP on the fourth working day of up-front job search and informs the FEP that he had an interview with a local manufacturing company and was offered a full-time position starting the following business day. Joseph informs the FEP of his employment and the employment start date, and the FEP proceeds with an informal assessment resulting in few to no known barriers to employment identified. After running eligibility, the FEP determines that Joseph is appropriate for CMF because Joseph meets all of the nonfinancial eligibility requirements.

History: Release 19-02; Release 18-02; Release 17-01; Release 16-01; Release 13-01; Release 12-05.

2.9.3 Employment Search as an Ongoing Eligibility Requirement

Work is the best way for parents to support their families. Unless the participant is unable to work due to a disability and is applying for SSI/SSDI, the activities assigned on the EP should be focused on helping that participant gain the skills and experience needed to get and keep a job. As such, most W-2 participants will be assigned to one of the following employment search activities:

1. ES – Employment Search
2. CE – Career Planning & Counseling
3. MO – Job Readiness / Motivation
4. LF – Life Skills

(See the Activity Codes Appendix for definition of these activity codes)

Unlike other activities, however, failure to comply with these activities may result in case closure for noncooperation with program requirements. (See 11.4.1 and 11.4.2) This requirement applies to individuals in TEMP, W-2 T, and CSJ. It does not apply to individuals in a CMC, ARP, or to individuals who are AmeriCorps VISTA Volunteers.

History: Release 19-02; Release 12-05.

2.10 W-2 Time Limits

2.10.1 Introduction to Time Limits

Time limits stress mutual responsibility: the W-2 program provides services designed to promote employment while participants are expected to prepare for and enter employment. The purpose of the time limits and case management practices is to encourage participants to make consistent progress towards their employment goals. W-2 eligibility has a state lifetime limit 48 months. Participation in a W-2 employment position (TEMP, CSJ, and W-2 T) is limited to 24-months. The goal of W-2 participation is to help participants reach their employment and earnings goals and support economic self-sufficiency.

History: Release 21-09; Release 17-02 ;Release 11-06.

2.10.2 State 48-Month Lifetime Limit

2.10.2.1 W-2 Group Limit

2.10.2.2 Native American Exemptions

2.10.2.3 TANF Received in Another State

2.10.2.3.1 TANF Received in Another State and Time Limit Extensions

The 48-month state lifetime limit is the cumulative total of the number of months the individual or any adult member of the individual's W-2 Group has participated in, or has received benefits under, any of the following or any combination of the following:

1. A W-2 Employment Position at any time during a month, including TEMP, CSJ, or W-2 T, even if the payment was reduced to $0.
2. Any TANF funded program in this state or any other state for which the participant received TANF cash assistance while in that program. (See 2.10.2.3) This includes Tribal TANF funds and some months in a CMC placement. (See 2.10.8)
3. The AFDC JOBS program from October 1, 1996, to W-2 implementation in September 1997. See Appendix - AFDC Overview for specific guidelines.

Months of participation in the CMF+ placement where a monthly $50 supplemental payment is received do not count towards the state 48-month lifetime limit.

2.10.2.1 W-2 Group Limit

The 48-month state lifetime limit applies to all adults in the W-2 Group. Any month during which any adult in the W-2 Group participates in a W-2 Employment Position counts towards the individual's 48-month state lifetime limit for both the parent in the placement and the non-placed parent. This includes second parents, stepparents, adult SSI/SSDI recipients, and Non-marital Co-parents. Some of these parents are exempt from counting towards the 60-month federal lifetime limit. (See 2.10.9) In W-2 Groups with more than one adult member, the adult member with the greatest number of months accumulated counts toward the W-2 Group's 48-month state lifetime limit.

Individuals entering a W-2 Group raise the W-2 Group's cumulative number of months, if the new member has accumulated more months than the primary individual.

Individuals leaving a W-2 Group take with them the number of months accumulated prior to entering the W-2 Group as well as the number of months accumulated while a part of the W-2 Group.

EXAMPLE 1: Mary is in a W-2 Group consisting of herself and her 4-year-old daughter. She has accumulated 30 months towards her 48-month state lifetime limit. Because she is the only adult in the W-2 Group, the W-2 Group is credited with 30 months toward the 48-month state lifetime limit. John, Mary's estranged husband, joins the W-2 Group. John has accumulated 35 months toward his 48-month state lifetime limit prior to moving back in with Mary. Because John has the greater number of months accumulated towards the state lifetime limit, the W-2 Group is now credited with 35 months towards the state lifetime limit.

EXAMPLE 2: After ten months, John moves out of the home and the W-2 Group once again consists of Mary and her daughter. At the time John left the W-2 Group, he and Mary had used an additional 10 months toward the 48-month state lifetime limit reaching a total of 45 months (35 + 10). Because Mary had 30 months accumulated toward the 48-month state lifetime limit when John moved in and she accumulated ten more months during the time she and John lived together, the W-2 Group of Mary and her daughter is credited with 40 months towards the state lifetime limit. John has accumulated 45 months towards the state lifetime limit.

Dependent 18-year-olds are considered to be children in the W-2 Group and are not subject to time limits. Once a dependent 18-year-old turns 19 or graduates from school, the individual becomes an Excluded Adult and is no longer included in the W-2 Group. If the dependent 18-year-old has a Dependent Child and applies for services independent of his or her parents, he or she would then be eligible for W-2 with the dependent child as their own W-2 Group and subject to the 48-month state lifetime limit.

2.10.2.2 Native American Exemptions

Any adult in the W-2 Group is exempt from the 48-month state lifetime limit while living in a federally recognized American Indian reservation, an Alaskan Native village, or an Indian country occupied by an Indian tribe for a month, if during that month the following applied:

1. At least 1,000 individuals were living on the reservation or in the village or Indian country; and
2. At least 50 percent of the adults were unemployed.

2.10.2.3 TANF Received in Another State

In Wisconsin, TANF months accumulated in other states also count toward the 48-month state lifetime limit.

When there is evidence that an applicant has received TANF cash assistance in another state, the FEP must:

1. Determine the number of months TANF cash assistance was received in the other state by contacting the appropriate persons. Only months of TANF cash assistance received after September 1, 1996 can be counted. If the contact cannot confirm that the assistance received in the other state was TANF, do not use the information. The months of TANF cash assistance received in the other state does not have to be verified in writing.
2. Enter the month and years that TANF was received in the other state in the Time Limit Tracking application as OTF-Benefits from Another State. In the details field, the FEP must indicate the date verified and any other relevant information.

EXAMPLE: Annabelle moves to Wisconsin from Illinois and applies for W-2. When the FEP contacts Illinois, the case worker confirms that Annabelle received TANF benefits for 24 months in Illinois. If Annabelle is found eligible for W-2, Annabelle will start in W-2 with 24 months accumulated toward her Wisconsin 48-month state lifetime limit.

2.10.2.3.1 TANF Received in Another State and Time Limit Extensions

If an individual who has received more than 48 months of TANF assistance in another state is eligible for W-2, but has used 48-months on his or her state lifetime limit, the FEP must determine eligibility for a state lifetime limit extension based on the time limit extension criteria at application.

When applying the time limit extension criteria, the FEP must use information obtained during the W-2 informal assessment. In addition, the FEP must attempt to contact the other state for more specific information about the applicant. If the FEP is unable to obtain additional information, the information gathered through the informal assessment must be used to determine eligibility for a time limit extension.

(See 2.10.6 for more information on time limit extensions.)

2.10.3 24-Month Employment Position Time Limits

2.10.3.1 Restoring 24-Month Time Limits

Participation in a TEMP, CSJ, or W-2 T employment position is limited to 24 cumulative months. Each employment position has its own 24-month placement time limit and, therefore, a participant has 24 months in each of the placement types. If the individual's payment is reduced, even to $0, the month in the placement still counts toward the 24-month placement time limit. There are also times when a participant is in a CMC placement and the month(s) counts toward a 24-month placement time limit. (See 2.10.8)

The 24-month placement time limit is determined by the employment position placement on the last business day of the month. If the W-2 placement on the last business day of the month is not a TEMP, CSJ, or W-2 T, the most recent employment position placement will determine the 24-month placement time limit. The month will still count toward the appropriate 24-month placement time limit if the individual participated even one day during that month in a TEMP, CSJ or W-2 T.

EXAMPLE 1: John is placed in a CSJ on January 1. On January 28, John is placed in a W-2 T placement and remains in the placement through the end of the month. The month of January will count toward John's W-2 T 24-month placement time limit because that was John's last placement in the month that is subject to a 24-month placement time limit. January will not count toward John's CSJ 24-month placement time limit.

EXAMPLE 2: Rebecca is placed in a CSJ placement on April 1. On April 4, Rebecca finds unsubsidized employment, is placed in a CMF placement, and remains in that placement through the end of the month. The month of April will count toward Rebecca's CSJ 24-month placement time limit because Rebecca participated at least one day in April in a placement that is subject to a 24-month placement time limit.

EXAMPLE 3: Lucy is placed in a CSJ on June 2. On June 29, Lucy loses W-2 eligibility and her case closes. The month of June will count toward Lucy's CSJ 24-month placement time limit because Lucy participated at least one day in June in a placement that is subject to a 24-month placement time limit.

2.10.3.1 Restoring 24-Month Time Limits

The 2009-2011 Biennial Budget (2009 Wisconsin Act 28) eliminated the 24-month placement time limit for Trial Jobs, CSJ, and W-2 T employment positions, and, in some instances, CMC placements effective October 30, 2009.

The 2011-2013 Biennial Budget (2011 Wisconsin Act 32) restored the 24-month placement time limit for Trial Jobs, CSJ, W-2 T, and, in some instances, CMC placements effective January 1, 2012. The restored language is the same language that was eliminated under 2009 Wisconsin Act 28.

For a 26-month time period (November 2009 through December 2011), there were no 24-month employment position placement time limits. However, while the 24-month placement time limit was eliminated during this time period, the Department of Children and Families continued to count months that participants accumulated in these W-2 employment positions for both federal and state time limits (as applicable) in WWP and displays this count in the Time Limit Tracking module.

History: Release 21-09; Release 17-02; Release 11-06.

2.10.4 Time Limit Notifications to Participants

W-2 applicants and participants must be made aware that W-2 Employment Position payments are time-limited. Conversations with individuals in paid placements must promote full engagement to increase participants' employability and support the participant to develop skills that will allow them to enter the local labor market.

FEPs can reinforce the necessity of meeting employment goals within the time limits of the W-2 program by ensuring frequent communication about time limit status. At a minimum, the FEP must go over the participant's time limit status at every eligibility review, employability plan review, and when assigning participants to a new paid placement. Discussions about time limits can vary on a case-by case basis according to the participant's needs and whether the individual is in a paid placement.

For individuals in the CMD (case management denied) placement, policy requires that the FEP reassess monthly to see if the individual is appropriate for a time limit extension (see 2.10.6.5.1).

Time limit information is also included on Notices of Eligibility when eligibility reviews are completed.

History: Release 21-09; Release 17-02; Release 11-06.

2.10.5 Subtracting Months of Eligibility

The FEP must adjust an individual's time limit by subtracting the entire month of participation in the Time Limit Tracking application in the following situations:

1. If a participant voluntarily returns the full amount of a CSJ or W-2 T payment within 1 year of the payment issuance date. The refund can be made in cash, by personal check, money order, or by returning the issued payment. If the voluntarily returned payment is from a W-2 Paid Employment Position participant who is sanctioned, see 2.10.9.1 for changing the Federal Indicator in the Time Limit Tracking Application.
2. If a W-2 payment is returned to the agency due to an undeliverable address and the participant does not pick up the check within 30 days.
3. If a participant repays in full payments received from an overpayment caused by agency error or inadvertent participant error. When the entire overpayment is repaid, those months of eligibility must be restored. See 2.10.9 for cases of IPV, sanctioned participation, or fraud.
4. If a TEMP employer does not request a TEMP subsidy for a month of employment.

There are times when a month of participation will count toward an individual's 48-month state lifetime limit and 24-month placement time limit, but the FEP must adjust the Federal Indicator so the month does not count toward the federal lifetime limit. (See 2.10.9.1 for changing the Federal Indicator in the Time Limit Tracking application)

See 2.10.2.3 for adding month of eligibility when TANF is received from another state.

2.10.6.5 Time Limit Extension Decisions and Assessment

2.10.6.5.1 CMD Placements

2.10.6.5.2 Case Management Practices and Time Limit Extension Approvals

There may be opportunities for time limit extensions of the 24-month placement time limits and 48-month state lifetime limits for TEMP, CSJ, W-2 T, and CMC participants. The W-2 agencies must work intensively with participants prior to and during time limit extension periods to help the participant overcome barriers or challenges.

For information on time limit extensions for CMC participants, see 2.10.8.2.

For the purposes of this section:

"Reasonable unsubsidized employment opportunity" means a job the participant could get that pays at least minimum wage, and conforms to all applicable federal and state laws.

Making "all appropriate efforts to find unsubsidized employment" means that the participant has participated in all assigned activities.

2.10.6.1 24-Month Time Limit Extension Criteria

All time limit extension decisions must be made on a case-by-case basis. In determining whether to extend the 24-month placement time limit, the W-2 agency must determine whether the participant meets the appropriate 24-month placement time limit extension criteria:

TEMP participants: A TEMP participant may be granted a 24-month placement time limit extension if he or she:

- Has made all appropriate efforts to find unsubsidized employment; and

- Has been unable to do so because the local labor market conditions preclude a reasonable unsubsidized employment opportunity for that participant.

Note: Since subsidized employment positions in TEMP specifically target high quality, high wage opportunities, the likelihood of extending a TEMP placement should be extremely rare.

CSJ participants: A CSJ participant may be granted a 24-month placement time limit extension if he or she:

- Has made all appropriate efforts to find unsubsidized employment; and
- Has been unable to do so because the local labor market conditions preclude a reasonable unsubsidized employment opportunity for that participant and, for the same reason, there are no TEMP opportunities available.

See 2.10.6.3 for documentation required to approve a 24-month placement time limit extension for local labor market conditions.

W-2 T participants: A W-2 T participant may be granted a 24-month placement time limit extension if he or she:

- Has made all appropriate efforts to find unsubsidized employment; and
- Significant barriers prevent advancement to a higher W-2 employment position or unsubsidized employment.

To be considered for a 24-month placement time limit extension, the W-2 T participant must have completed a valid formal assessment. (See 5.5 for more information on valid formal assessments.)

2.10.6.2 State 48-Month Time Limit Extension Criteria

All time limit extension decisions must be made on a case-by-case basis. In determining whether to extend the 48-month state lifetime limit, the W-2 agency must determine whether the participant meets at least one of the following 48-month state lifetime limit extension criteria:

1. The participant has made all appropriate efforts to find unsubsidized employment and has been unable to do so because the local labor market conditions preclude a reasonable unsubsidized employment opportunity for that participant. In order to approve a time limit extension based on local labor market conditions, the agency must demonstrate or document any one of the following circumstances:

- a. The inability of W-2 participants with similar skills or engaged in job searches in similar geographic and occupational areas, to find unsubsidized jobs.
 - b. The unavailability of jobs in labor market sectors that match the individual's skills, as supported by specific examples of layoffs in these labor market sectors or by labor market data published by the Department of Workforce Development or the United States Department of Labor.
 - c. The unavailability of jobs in the labor market within a reasonable distance and travel time of the individual's home, as supported by specific examples of layoffs in this labor market or by labor market data published by the Department of Workforce Development or the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics.
2. The participant is unable to work because of a personal disability or incapacitation.
Examples include: physical, mental health, and cognitive limitations, learning disabilities, domestic abuse, and substance abuse.
 3. The participant is unable to work because of a need to remain at home to care for a member of the W-2 Group whose incapacity is so severe that without in-home care provided by the W-2 participant, the health and well-being of the W-2 group member would be significantly affected.
 4. The participant has significant limitations to employment such as low achievement ability, learning disability, or emotional problems of such severity that they prevent the individual from obtaining or retaining unsubsidized employment, but are not sufficient to meet SSDI or SSI requirements.
 5. The participant has significant limitations to employment such as family problems that affect one of the members of the W-2 Group.
Examples include: legal problems, family crises, homelessness, or children's school or medical activities.
 6. The individual is unable to work to due to current participation in a substance abuse treatment program certified to provide treatment for substance abuse under ss. DHS 75.10 to 75.15 or psychosocial rehabilitation services as approved by the department.
 7. The individual's W-2 group includes a member who has been battered or subjected to extreme cruelty based on the fact that the member has been subjected to any of the following:
 - Physical acts that resulted in, or threatened to result in, physical injury to the individual.

- Sexual abuse.
- Sexual activity involving a dependent child.
- Being forced as the caretaker relative of a dependent child to engage in nonconsensual sexual acts or as activities.
- Threats of, or attempts at, physical or sexual abuse.
- Mental abuse.
- Neglect or deprivation medical.

See 2.10.6.3 for documentation required to approve a 48-month state lifetime limit extension for criteria 1. A valid formal assessment must have been completed to approve a 48-month state lifetime limit extension for criteria 2, 3, and 4 above. In order to approve a 48-month state lifetime limit extension for criteria 5, the agency must have valid documentation.

Valid documentation for criteria 5 must reflect current circumstances. This includes:

- Court, medical, criminal, child protective services, social services, psychological, school social worker, school guidance counselor or law enforcement records regarding legal problems, family crisis, homelessness, children's school or medical activities, or domestic abuse or physical or emotional harm to the parent or child;
- Voluntary disclosure or identification by the Domestic Abuse Screen that the applicant or participant or group member has been a victim of domestic abuse or is at further risk of domestic abuse;
- Written and signed statements from others with knowledge of the circumstances on which the family problems hardship claim is based, including, but not limited to, statements from public or private social services agencies providing services to the W-2 group, school counselors, domestic violence or homeless shelter service providers, attorneys, etc.;
- Written statement by the applicant or participant; or
- Any other supporting or corroborative documentation, including formal assessments. (See 5.5 for more information on valid formal assessments.)

If the individual does not have a verified barrier, limitation, or family problem as required above or is not participating in all assigned activities, the FEP may deny a 48-month state lifetime limit extension.

2.10.6.3 Local Labor Market Conditions Criteria

A W-2 agency may provide a 24-month placement time limit extension or a 48-month state lifetime limit extension on a case-by-case basis if that agency determines that a participant's appropriate efforts to find unsubsidized employment have been unsuccessful because local labor market conditions preclude such employment for that participant.

Local Labor Market Time Limit Extension Approvals

In order to approve a time limit extension based on local labor market conditions, the agency must demonstrate or document any one of the following circumstances:

- As supported by specific examples, the inability of other W-2 participants with similar skills, or engaged in job searches in similar geographic and occupational areas, to find unsubsidized jobs;
- As supported by published labor market data or by specific examples of closures or cutbacks, a local downturn or continuing unavailability of jobs in the labor market sectors matching participant skills; or
- As supported by published labor market data or by specific examples of closures or cutbacks, a local downturn or continuing unavailability of jobs in the labor market within reasonable participant travel time (no more than 60 minutes travel time one-way, using available transportation, from the participant's home to the employer, including travel time related to any necessary child care).

This documentation may include case histories of other comparable participants (with any personally identifiable information removed), press coverage regarding the local job market or local business conditions, agency correspondence with historical or potential placement sites, current labor market data obtained from public or private sources, or products of current locally relevant labor market studies or research.

If the agency approves an extension based on local labor market conditions, FEPs should conduct assessments, including Career Assessments, with the participant and create an EP with assigned activities that focuses on training to build skills demanded by the local labor market.

2.10.6.4 Time Limit Extension Decision Process

W-2 agencies have decision-making authority for all time limit extension approvals and denials.

2.10.6.4.1 Processing Initial Time Limit Extensions

A discussion between the FEP and the participant regarding a time limit extension must take place no later than the month WWP displays 18 for the 24-month placement time limit and the month WWP displays 42 for the 48-month state lifetime limit. If a person applies for W-2 with more than 18 months on a 24-month placement time limit or 42 months on the 48-month state lifetime limit, the discussion must take place at application. When determining eligibility for an initial time limit extension, the FEP must complete the W-2 Agency Time Limit Extension Approval Record (5214) or the W-2 Agency Time Limit Extension Denial Record (5215) form that corresponds with the decision. One copy of the form must be scanned into ECF and one copy given to the participant.

The FEP must enter the time limit extension decision in the Time Limit Tracking module no later than the end of the month WWP displays 20 for the 24-month placement time limit and the end of the month WWP displays 44 for the 48-month state lifetime limit, unless the application is received after WWP displays 20 or 44 months used, respectively. A time limit extension may be granted for 6 months from the first day following the participant's 24th month and 6 months from the first day following the participant's 48th month.

For those participants who have been denied or who have declined a time limit extension, the FEP must continue to work with the participant in the period of time before his or her W-2 case closes to determine if circumstances have changed that would result in the need for a time limit extension.

2.10.6.4.2 Processing Subsequent Time Limit Extensions

After an initial 24-month placement time limit or 48-month state lifetime limit extension approval is granted, the W-2 agency can determine that a subsequent time limit extension period is necessary. There is no limit to the number of subsequent time limit extensions a participant may receive. A discussion regarding subsequent extensions must occur no later than the third month of the extension. When determining eligibility for a subsequent time limit extension, the FEP must complete the W-2 Agency Time Limit Extension Approval Record (5214) or the W-2 Agency Time Limit Extension Denial Record (5215) form that corresponds with the decision. One copy of the form must be scanned into ECF and one copy given to the participant. The subsequent time limit extension decision must also be entered in the Time Limit Tracking application no later than the month prior to the current time limit extension end month.

If the agency approves a subsequent extension, activity assignment should reflect assessment results, local labor market information, and anticipated time to work readiness or referral to other programs.

2.10.6.4.3 Reaching 24-month and 48-month Time Limits Concurrently

If a participant is going to reach their 24th month in a TEMP, CSJ, or W-2 T, or the end of a 24-month placement time limit extension, 6 months prior to reaching the 48-month state lifetime limit, the FEP must determine eligibility for a 48-month state lifetime limit extension rather than a 24-month placement time limit extension. The FEP must then enter the 48-month state lifetime limit extension information into the Time Limit Tracking application prior to the end of the participant's 24th month or the end of a 24-month placement time limit extension.

EXAMPLE: Mary will reach her 24th month in a CSJ on July 29. Upon reviewing the participant's time limit history in preparation for the time limit discussion with the participant, the FEP sees that the participant will reach her 48th month on her state lifetime limit on October 31. Because the participant will reach 48 months 3 months after reaching her 24th month, the FEP determines eligibility for a 48-month state lifetime limit extension and enters the 48-month state lifetime limit extension approval by July 29. This extends both the 24-month placement time limit as well as the 48-month state lifetime limit. Any subsequent time limit extensions will be made to the 48-month state lifetime limit.

2.10.6.5 Time Limit Extension Decisions and Assessment

The FEP must complete and submit the WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow if an initial 24-month placement time limit or 48-month state lifetime limit extension is going to be denied and the WWP Informal Assessment Driver flow has not been completed within 12 calendar months prior to the participant's 24th or 48th month. The FEP cannot deny a time limit extension until the WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow is completed and submitted.

If the WWP Informal Assessment indicates the need for a formal assessment, a time limit extension cannot be denied until the formal assessment is complete.

2.10.6.5.1 CMD Placements

When a participant is denied a time limit extension or the participant declines a time limit extension for either the 24-month placement time limit or 48-month state lifetime limit, the FEP must offer the CMD placement. The CMD placement is a case management placement for individuals who have reached their time limit and are no longer eligible for a paid placement.

The goals of the CMD placement are to:

- Help connect the individual to employment;
- Connect the individual and family to services in the community; and
- Reassess on a monthly basis whether the individual should receive a time limit extension.

To be eligible for the CMD placement, the participant must meet W-2 financial and nonfinancial eligibility criteria, with the exception of exceeding the 24-month placement time limit or 48-month state lifetime limit.

Services provided to a CMD participant will depend largely upon the reason for the time limit extension denial or the reason the participant declined a time limit extension and the placement the individual was in at the time of the denial or the time the participant declined a time limit extension. Participants who were denied a time limit extension due to nonparticipation would likely be reassessed to determine activity assignments that best match the participant's needs and encourage increased participation, which may be similar to what was assigned while in the W-2 employment position placement.

FEPs must meet with CMD participants weekly. Every 30 days, the FEP must review the CMD placement in a meeting with the participant (see 1.4.2.3). At this meeting, the FEP must reassess the case. If the individual has consistently participated, the FEP must reassess whether barriers to employment exist. The FEP must also reconsider whether the individual is appropriate for a time limit extension.

The FEP must thoroughly document in PIN comments the details of the weekly meetings and the reassessment process as well as the reason(s) the participant is going to remain in the CMD placement, if that is the FEP's decision.

2.10.6.5.2 Case Management Practices and Time Limit Extension Approvals

When a participant is approved for a 24-month placement time limit or 48-month state lifetime limit extension, the FEP must continue to review the participant's goals as part of ongoing case management and reinforce the necessity of meeting employment goals within the time limits of the W-2 program. This includes:

- Reviewing the EP with the participant frequently to ensure activities are meaningful to the participant's goals and the participant is making progress in assigned activities;
- Reviewing relevant labor market data to confirm that employment goals are in line with the job opportunities available in the local labor market;

- Continuing to conduct informal assessment to determine whether potential barriers to employment exist and referring to formal assessment as appropriate (see 5.2.1);
- Reviewing whether the participant needs accommodations and has the tools and resources needed to complete activities (see 1.3.3); and
- Reviewing the Supportive Service Plan to ensure the participant has access to other benefits and services that will support them as they work towards their employment goals and also provide a plan for addressing needs following program exit (see 7.6.2).

2.10.7 Reapplying for W-2 Services after Reaching the Time Limit

The W-2 agency must process a W-2 application for anyone that requests W-2 services. This includes individuals who have previously reached their 24-month placement time limit or 48-month state lifetime limit.

If the applicant meets W-2 financial and nonfinancial eligibility criteria and needs as determined by the informal assessment, but has reached the 24-month placement time limit or 48-month state lifetime limit, the FEP must determine eligibility for a time limit extension based on the time limit extension criteria at reapplication. When applying the time limit extension criteria, the FEP must consider the applicant's prior W-2 participation and current circumstances. If the FEP determines that the applicant does not meet the time limit extension criteria and plans to deny a time limit extension, the FEP must ensure that during previous W-2 participation the individual was properly screened and assessed. Also, the FEP must make sure that accommodations and services necessary to address the participant's barriers were provided.

For applicants who have reached either a 24-month placement time limit or 48-month state lifetime limit and no relevant formal assessment information is available, the FEP must determine the best placement type to assign and offer a time limit extension that allows for completion of any necessary formal assessments needed to support the time limit extension decision.

2.10.8 CMC Time Limits

2.10.8.1 CMC Participant Time Limit Extensions

The CMC placement is for eligible parents with newborns. (See 7.4.5) Whether an individual's time in a CMC placement counts against a 24-month placement time limit or the 48-month state lifetime limit is determined by when the individual was first determined eligible for AFDC or a TEMP, CSJ, or W-2 T placement. The 60-month federal lifetime limit is determined by whether the payment received while in the CMC placement is considered ongoing cash assistance.

60-Month Federal Lifetime Limit

CMC placement months count toward the 60-month federal lifetime limit ONLY when the payment is considered ongoing cash assistance. The CMC payment is considered ongoing cash assistance when there is a W-2 T or CSJ placement immediately preceding the CMC placement.

CMC placement months do NOT count toward the federal lifetime limit when:

- There is a gap after any previous W-2 Paid Employment Position (CSJ or W-2 T) or there is no previous W-2 T or CSJ placement.
- The individual moves to the CMC placement directly from a W-2 case management, TEMP, or ARP placement.

EXAMPLE 1: Lanye was in a W-2 T placement for nine months and had a baby. She is moved directly into the CMC placement. Because she moved directly from a W-2 T placement to a CMC placement, the CMC months will count against the 60-month federal lifetime limit. Since Lanye had the baby less than 10 months after she was first determined eligible for the W-2 T placement, the CMC months will not count towards her 48-month state lifetime limit.

EXAMPLE 2: Renee has never received W-2 or AFDC in the past. Renee applied for W-2 and was placed in an ARP placement. When Renee had her baby, she moved to a CMC placement. Because Renee has never been determined eligible for AFDC or a TEMP, CSJ, or W-2 T placement, the CMC months will not count toward the 60-month federal lifetime limit.

For more information on the 60-month Federal Lifetime Limit see 2.10.9.

48-Month State Lifetime Limit

CMC placement months count toward the 48-month state lifetime limit ONLY if the child is born more than 10 months (304 days) after the date the individual is first determined eligible for AFDC or a TEMP, CSJ, or W-2 T placement. The 304 day period must be counted from the first W-2 Employment Position placement begin date.

CMC placement months do NOT count toward the 48-month state lifetime limit when:

- The CMC participant's child is born less than 10 months from the date the individual was first determined eligible for AFDC or a TEMP, CSJ, or W-2 T placement;
- Eligibility was determined prior to October 1, 1996; or
- The birth was the result of sexual assault or incest and the incest or sexual assault has been reported to a physician and law enforcement authorities.

EXAMPLE 1: Rochelle has been in a W-2 T placement for the past 24 months and had a baby. She is moved directly into the CMC placement. Because it has been more than 10 months since she was first found eligible for the W-2 T placement, the CMC months will count against the 48-month state lifetime limit.

EXAMPLE 2: Julie, a former W-2 participant, has a child, applies for W-2, and is found eligible for CMC. She was first determined eligible for a CSJ in March 2008. Therefore, the months in CMC will count against the 60-month state lifetime limit because her baby was born more than 10 months after she was determined eligible for a CSJ.

24-Month Placement Time Limit

CMC placement months count toward a 24-month placement time limit ONLY if the child is born more than 10 months (304 days) after the date the individual is first determined eligible for AFDC or a TEMP, CSJ, or W-2 T placement AND the participant moved directly into a CMC from a TEMP, W-2 T, or CSJ placement. The 304 day period must be counted from the first employment position placement begin date.

Months will count against the 24-month placement time limit of the employment position placement from which he or she moved. The participant will be in a CMC placement, but the 24-month placement time limit months used will reflect their previous employment position.

EXAMPLE 1: Matilda has been in a CSJ placement for the past 24 months and had a baby. She is moved directly from the CSJ placement to the CMC placement. Because she moved directly from a paid employment position placement to a CMC placement, the CMC months will count toward the CSJ 24-month placement time limit.

EXAMPLE 2: Latashia was in a CSJ placement from April 2013 to December 2015, when she left the W-2 program. She applies for W-2 in March 2017 and is placed directly in a CMC placement. Because she did not move from a TEMP, W-2 T, or CSJ placement to the CMC placement, the CMC months will not count toward a 24-month placement time limit.

2.10.8.1 CMC Participant Time Limit Extensions

CMC participants are automatically eligible for 24-month placement time limit and 48-month state lifetime limit extensions. The FEP must enter a time limit extension covering the time until the child turns 8 weeks of age. The FEP must then review the CMC case prior to the end of the 8 week CMC time period to determine if the CMC participant wants and is eligible for continued W-2 services. If the person wants cash assistance or other W-2 services beyond when the child turns 8 weeks of age, the FEP would have to follow normal eligibility determination policies, including time limit extension eligibility, if necessary.

2.10.9 Federal 60-Month Lifetime Limit

2.10.9.1 Changing the Federal Indicator

Per federal law, states cannot provide federal TANF cash assistance to most families for more than 60 months. Federal law does not require a state to provide assistance for any period of time, which gives states the flexibility to establish lifetime limits of less than 60 months. Wisconsin has established a 48-month lifetime limit. Each state has established a TANF lifetime limit. The lifetime limit varies, for example, in some states the limit is 24 months, in other states it is 60 months. Regardless of which state federal TANF assistance is received, it is counted as part of the 60-month federal lifetime limit and Wisconsin's 48-month lifetime limit.

In Wisconsin there are differences in how state lifetime limit months and federal months of assistance are counted. Months that count towards the 48-month state lifetime limit do not always count toward the 60-month federal lifetime limit. It is also possible for a month to count toward the federal lifetime limit, but not the state lifetime limit because of the requirements for months in a CMC placement. (See 2.10.8)

Only months of assistance that are paid for with Federal TANF funds (in whole or in part) count toward the federal lifetime limit. (See 19.2.3) A month counts towards the 60-month federal lifetime limit if:

1. The individual receives an actual payment of $1 or more through participation in a CSJ or W-2 T placement. (See 2.10.2.1)
 - Months where the full payment was sanctioned to $0 prior to W-2 pulldown do not count towards the federal lifetime limit.

Note: If the placement on the last business day of the month is a TEMP placement (TMP or TNP), and there was a payment of $1 or more for a CSJ or W-2 T placement in the same calendar month, the month will also count toward the individual's 60-month federal lifetime limit due to receipt of federally funded TANF cash assistance

 - Months where a delayed payment is received count towards the month for which there was participation.
2. The individual receives a CMC payment and a W-2 T or CSJ placement immediately preceded the CMC placement. (See 2.10.8 for more information on time limits for CMC placements)
3. The individual receives transportation assistance while in an unpaid, case management only placement and certain conditions are met. (See 19.2.3)
4. The individual received TANF cash assistance in any other state. (See 2.10.2.3.1)

5. The individual is the other parent in the W-2 Group and is married to the placed parent who receives an actual CSJ or W-2 T payment of $1 or more.
 - Months do not count toward the 60-month federal lifetime limit if the individual is a Non-marital Co-parent and is not the placed parent during a month.

The individual is exempt from having months count towards the federal lifetime limit if:

1. The individual is a qualified non-citizen or the placed parent in the W-2 Group is a qualified non-citizen. (See 2.4.2) W-2 payments made to qualified non-citizens are paid through state funds, not federal TANF funds, therefore those months do not count towards the federal lifetime limit.
2. The individual is living/lived on a federally recognized American Indian reservation, an Alaskan Native village, or an Indian country occupied by an Indian tribe during a month where at least 50% of the adults were not employed. (See 2.10.2.2)
3. The individual receives a $50 supplemental payment through participation in a CMF+ placement. Supplemental payments made to CMF+ participants are paid through state funds, not federal TANF funds; therefore, those months do not count towards the federal lifetime limit.

EXAMPLE 1: Judy and Joan are married and have adopted a child, Beth. Judy is participating in a CSJ placement. For every month that Judy receives a payment for her CSJ participation, Joan uses an 'other parent' month that counts toward both the federal 60-month limit and state 48-month lifetime limits.

EXAMPLE 2: Melissa and Keith are living together and have a child, Lenny. Melissa is in a W-2 T placement. For each month that Melissa receives a payment for her W-2 T participation, Keith will use an 'other parent' month that only counts toward the state 48-month lifetime limit. Because Keith is not married to Melissa, his 'other parent' months do not count towards his federal 60-month lifetime limit.

EXAMPLE 3: Ahmed and Julienne are married and have a child, Omar. Ahmed is a qualified non-citizen and is participating in a CSJ placement. Julienne is a U.S. citizen. For each month Ahmed participates in a CSJ placement, Julienne uses an ‘other parent’ month which only counts toward the state 48-month lifetime limit. Because Ahmed is a qualified non-citizen and his CSJ payment is paid through state funds and not TANF funds, these months do not count towards Ahmed or Julienne’s federal time limits. If Julienne became the placed parent, those months would count towards her federal time limit, but they would not count towards Ahmed’s time limit because he is a qualified non-citizen.

EXAMPLE 4: Hilda applies for W-2 on May 22. Her FEP places her in a W-2 T starting May 25. Hilda will receive a delayed payment in June for her May participation. In the Time Limit Tracking module, Hilda will use a W-2 T month for May and the month used will count toward both the state 48-month lifetime limit and federal 60-month lifetime limits based on her participation from May 25 to May 31.

2.10.9.1 Changing the Federal Indicator

The number of months for which an individual receives a TANF payment must equal the number of federal months used. When there is a discrepancy between payments received and federal lifetime months, the FEP (or the FEP’s supervisor) must adjust the individual’s 60-month federal time limit by changing the Federal Indicator for the month of participation in the Time Limit Tracking application. In the Edit Month dialogue box within the Time Limit Tracking application, the Federal Indicator should be changed from “Yes” to “No” in the following situations:

1. A W-2 employment position participant voluntarily returns in full a payment which was sanctioned due to nonparticipation.
2. A participant repays in full an overpayment for W-2 payments he or she should not have received due to IPV, sanctioned participation that was not entered timely by the W-2 agency, or fraud.
3. A system error in the Time Limit Tracking application causes an individual who meets the exemptions listed above to incorrectly use a month of their 60-month federal lifetime limit.

By changing the Federal Indicator, the month will still count towards an individual’s state and placement limit as necessary, but will not count towards the federal 60-month lifetime limit. For information on subtracting entire months of eligibility, see 2.10.5

History: Release 21-09; Release 18-02.

2.11 Residential Substance Use Disorder

2.11 Residential Substance Use Disorder Treatment

A W-2 participant who is receiving RSUD treatment may remain eligible for W-2 if the participant is able to participate in activities and retain care and control of their children, provided they remain otherwise financially and nonfinancially eligible.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

03 Financial Eligibility

3.1 General Financial Eligibility

3.1 General Financial Eligibility

In addition to meeting the nonfinancial eligibility criteria, applicants must also meet financial eligibility criteria to be considered eligible for W-2 services or a JAL.

There are two exceptions to this:

- A Minor Parent is eligible for case management services without regard to income or assets.
- Participants in a CMF or CMF+ placement do not have to meet the financial eligibility requirements. CMF or CMF+ participants must meet nonfinancial eligibility requirements in order to be eligible for ongoing case management services.

W-2 financial eligibility is determined by both a gross income and an asset test. When testing prospectively for income and assets, months of asset ineligibility or months of income ineligibility must not be combined to create two consecutive calendar months of financial ineligibility.

EXAMPLE: Judy receives $5,000 as a lawsuit settlement on February 11, 2016, while participating in a CSJ. Judy reports this to her FEP on February 12. Judy's

FEP enters the initial settlement as income in February, and uses the bank statement Judy provides as verification. Although Judy is over the income limit, she remains eligible because this is only the first month that she is over the income limit. At Judy's next appointment on March 15, Judy's FEP asks if Judy has any settlement money remaining. Judy indicates that she spent $2,200 of the settlement in February, and plans to spend the remainder this month. Judy's FEP enters the remaining $2,700 as an asset in March. Although Judy is over the asset limit, she remains eligible because this is the first month that she is over the asset limit. Judy's FEP calls Judy on April 6 to see if Judy has any settlement money remaining. Judy confirms that she spent the remainder and provides another bank statement as verification that she is again under the income and assets limits for W-2. Even though Judy was over the income limit and over the asset limit in two consecutive months, she remained eligible because being over the income limit one month and over the asset limit the next month cannot be combined to create two calendar months of ineligibility. Therefore, as Judy neither exceeded the income limit for two consecutive calendar months nor exceeded the asset limit for two consecutive calendar months, there is no impact on Judy's eligibility for a CSJ placement.

History: Release 16-01.

3.2 Income

3.2.1 115% Gross Income Test

If the total countable income (see 3.2.8) of the W-2 Group at application is less than or equal to 115% of the FPL for the size of the W-2 Group, the group may be considered for all W-2 services or a JAL.

The FPL changes in February of each year. These figures were effective February 6, 2023.

W-2 Group Size	Annual 115% FPL	Monthly 115% FPL
1	$16,764	$1,397
2	$22,680	$1,890
3	$28,584	$2,382
4	$34,500	$2,875
5	$40,416	$3,368
6	$46,320	$3,860
7	$52,236	$4,353
8	$58,140	$4,845
9	$64,056	$5,338
10	$69,972	$5,831
11	$75,876	$6,323
12	$81,792	$6,816
13	$87,696	$7,308
14	$93,612	$7,801
15	$99,516	$8,293
16	$105,432	$8,786
17	$111,348	$9,279
18	$117,252	$9,771
Each Additional Person Add		$493

EXAMPLE: Jonathan applies for W-2 on May 5. Jonathan has a family size of three. The monthly 115% gross income limit for his family size is $2,382. At the time of application, his total income equals $2,200 per month. Jonathan tells his worker that his $250 UI will end effective June 30. In this example, Jonathan is financially ineligible for W-2 for both May and June and, unless Jonathan's income drops for some other reason, he would not be eligible for W-2 until July.

3.2.2 Prospective Income Eligibility

Available earned and unearned income is tested prospectively for W-2 eligibility. The FEP makes a best estimate to determine what income will be received by the participant each month.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

3.2.3 Estimating Income

To get the best estimate of monthly earned income for employees paid an hourly rate, a FEP must use:

- (hourly rate) x (average hours per week) x (4.3 weeks per month) if paid on a weekly basis;
- (hourly rate) x (average hours biweekly) x (2.15 weeks per month) if paid on a biweekly basis;
- Monthly amount if paid on a monthly basis (this includes self-employment and other averaged income); or
- (Amount) x (2) if paid twice a month

To get the best estimate of monthly unearned income for the W-2 Group, a FEP must use:

- (weekly amount) x (4.3 weeks per month) if received on a weekly basis;
- (biweekly amount) x (2.15 weeks per month) if received on a biweekly basis;
- Monthly amount if paid on a monthly basis; or
- (amount) x (2) if paid twice a month.

The prospective income estimate must not be changed due to missed work or irregular spikes in work hours. A W-2 Group must be prospectively ineligible for two consecutive months before the case closes.

The W-2 Group's income only affects eligibility and does not affect the amount of the W-2 payment. The payment amount is a flat grant determined solely by the employment position in which the adult is participating.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

3.2.4 Income Availability

Only income that is actually available for use may be counted. Income is available when the individual has a legal interest in it and has the legal ability to make it available for support and maintenance. Income is considered unavailable when the individual can reasonably document that it cannot be accessed for 31 or more days. Unavailability is usually documented by a letter from an agency or the source stating when the person will receive the income. Income is counted beginning in the first month it is received and thereafter. Until the amount and the payment date are known, the income must not be counted.

EXAMPLE: Kate has won a lawsuit filed on her behalf due to a car accident. Under the terms of the settlement, Kate will receive monthly payments for up to ten years. Kate has not yet received the first payment of the insurance settlement and she is not sure at this time when she will because the settlement has been appealed by the insurance company. This income must not be counted until Kate knows when she will begin receiving the insurance settlement or when she actually begins to receive it, whichever is first.

A payment received must not be counted as an asset (see 3.3.1) and income in the same month. Current payments must be counted as income in the month received. Any amount remaining becomes an asset in the following month.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

3.2.5 Fluctuating Income

If the amount of regularly-received income varies, the W-2 agency must use an average. Income that is received on an irregular basis must also be averaged over the period between payments. If neither the amount nor the frequency is consistent or predictable, the income may only be counted for the month in which it is received.

EXAMPLE: Bob applied for W-2 services and reports that he works for a local garage between 5 and 20 hours per month. In January, he received a paycheck for $169, in February he received $200, and in March he received $80. To create an average income amount, add together the three months of income ($169 + 200 + 80 = 449$), then divide the total income by the number of months ($449/3 = $149.66$). Compare the averaged income amount of $149.66 plus other sources of income against the 115 percent gross income test to determine financial eligibility.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

3.2.6 Prorating Income

3.2.6.1 Lump Sum Payments

3.2.6.1.1 Annual Lump Sum Payments

3.2.6.1.2 Other Lump Sum Payments

3.2.6.2 Contractual Income

3.2.6.1 Lump Sum Payments

Lump sum payments are one-time payments of either earned or unearned income. Some lump sum payments are intended to cover a specific period of time that extends to a future month, such as settlement income related to a specific injury. Some lump sum payments are intended to cover a specific period of time in the past, such as an Unemployment Insurance benefit back payment. Unless it is disregarded income (see 3.2.9), lump sum income must be counted as follows.

3.2.6.1.1 Annual Lump Sum Payments

Income received on a yearly basis or less often may be converted to a monthly amount. The agency may count only income that is predictable in amount and frequency, such as land contract income or income from a trust fund. Count the prorated income beginning in the month it is received.

EXAMPLE: Joan receives $900 every six months on a land contract. To create an average monthly amount, divide $900 by six months ($900/6 = \150). Compare the averaged monthly amount of $150 plus other sources of income against the 115 percent gross income test to determine financial eligibility.

3.2.6.1.2 Other Lump Sum Payments

If the lump sum payment is not intended to cover a specific period of time in the future or is intended to cover a period of time in the past, the income may only be counted as income for the month in which it is received and an asset for any month remaining. (See 3.2.4) If the lump sum payment is intended to cover a specific period of time that extends to a future month, the income must be prorated over the period the income is intended to cover beginning in the month it is received.

EXAMPLE 1: Ariana inherits $5,000 from her grandmother on February 16, 2016. Ariana receives a one-time check for the inheritance. Ariana's FEP should count this as income for February, and as an asset for any month thereafter that Ariana keeps the inheritance balance in her account greater than $2,500.

EXAMPLE 2: While participating in a W-2 T placement, John wins a lawsuit settlement of $6,000 on November 18, 2016. The settlement states that the payment is intended to support John's medical costs over the next six months in order to help him recover from an injury incurred while shopping at a local store. John's FEP should average the $6,000 over six months, starting when John receives the payment in November.

EXAMPLE 3: While participating in a CSJ placement, Leslie received a retroactive $3,000 lump sum unemployment insurance payment on December 11, 2020. This lump sum provides payments retroactive for the week ending July 18, 2020 through the week ending November 7, 2020. Leslie's FEP should count the lump sum as income for December, and as an asset for any month thereafter. The agency must not prorate this retroactive payment, because it is intended to cover a time period in the past and was not available to Leslie during the claimed months.

3.2.6.2 Contractual Income

Contractual income that is annual income (intended to provide support for the entire year), and is not paid on an hourly basis, must be prorated over 12 months. Contractual income that is not annual income (intended to provide support for the household for only a portion of the year), and is not paid on an hourly basis, must be prorated over the period the income is intended to cover. Contractual income that is paid on an hourly basis should be estimated in accordance with 3.2.3.

EXAMPLE 1: Shanice works full-time as a public school as a Teacher's Aide. She has worked in this position for the last 3 years and receives a 12 month contract every August. She earns $15,480 annually and has elected to receive her income over 12 months, even though she is only working September through June. She does not supplement her income during the summer. Shanice's FEP should average her income over 12 months: $$15,480/12 = $1,290$.

EXAMPLE 2: Betty has worked for 5 years at a public school as a part-time nurse. She receives a contract for 12 months every August and has elected to receive her income from September through June. She earns $19,500 per school year. In the summer, she supplements her income with a job at the Girl Scout campgrounds in the first aid tent. Betty's school income is not her annual income. Betty's FEP should average Betty's school income over the 10 months she has elected to receive it: $$19,500/10 = $1,950$.

EXAMPLE 3: Tamika has been employed as a school bus driver for 3 years. She is paid by the hour. This employment stops at the end of the school year and resumes at the beginning of the next school year. Since Tamika is paid on an hourly basis, the income from her bus driving job must not be treated as contractual income.

History: Release 21-06; Release 16-01.

3.2.7 Changing Estimated Income

Once determined eligible for W-2, if the W-2 Group has income and it is expected to exceed the 115 percent gross income limit (see 3.2.1) for at least two consecutive months, the group becomes ineligible for W-2. Participants must report any change in earned or unearned income within 10 calendar days of the occurrence. The FEP must redetermine the best estimate (see 3.2.3) for all income at each review, or when any change in the income's source, rate of pay, or payment schedule has been reported.

Overpayment claims must be established only for untimely reports of changes.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

3.2.8 Counting Income

- 3.2.8.1 Qualified Alien Deeming
- 3.2.8.2 Farm & Self-Employment Income
- 3.2.8.3 Child Support Income
- 3.2.8.4 Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and Caretaker Supplement (CTS) Income
- 3.2.8.5 Census Employment and Other Temporary Employment Income

All earned and unearned income of all the W-2 Group members is counted in determining the 115 percent gross income test (see 3.2.1) unless specifically disregarded. See 3.2.9.1 for disregarded income.

3.2.8.1 Qualified Alien Deeming

United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) may require certain qualified aliens who are admitted as a permanent resident alien to have a sponsor sign an affidavit of support to ensure the immigrant does not become a public charge. For some sponsored qualified aliens, if the sponsor makes income available to the alien, the sponsor's income can be counted or "deemed" to be available to the sponsored alien when determining W-2 financial eligibility for that alien.

Certain groups of aliens typically have both an agency sponsor and an individual sponsor such as a church or family member. However, these individuals and agency "sponsors" do not meet the USCIS definition of a sponsor because neither the agency nor individual sponsor have a legal obligation to provide financial support beyond the first month in the United States and they do not have to ensure that the alien does not become a public charge.

Do not deem a sponsor's income for the following groups:

1. Aliens granted asylum (asylees) under section 208 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA);
2. Refugees who are admitted to the United States under section 207 of the INA;
3. Aliens paroled into the United States (parolees) under section 212(d)(5) the INA for a period of at least one year;
4. Aliens whose deportation is being withheld under section 243(h) of the INA;
5. Amerasian Immigrants, as defined in section 584 of the Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Appropriations Act of 1988; and

6. Cuban-Haitian entrants.

3.2.8.2 Farm & Self-Employment Income

Self-employment income is earned directly from one's own business rather than as an employee with a specified salary from an employer. Self-employment income is reported to the IRS as farm, self-employment, rental, or royalty income. All self-employment income is earned income, except royalty income and rental income where the individual does not actively manage the property 20 or more hours a week.

The FEP must identify a self-employment business using the following criteria:

- 1) By IRS Tax Forms
- 2) By Organization

Self-employment income can come from a business organized in one of three ways:

- a. A sole proprietorship is an unincorporated business owned by one person.
- b. A partnership exists when two or more persons conduct business. Each contributes money, property, labor, or skills, and expects to share in the profits and losses. Partnerships are unincorporated.
- c. An S corporation is a business that elects to pass corporate income, losses, and deductions through its shareholders. Shareholders report income and losses on their personal tax returns and are taxed at individual income tax rates.

3. By Employee Status

A self-employed person earns income directly from his or her own business, and:

- a. Does not have federal income tax and FICA payments withheld from a paycheck.
- b. Does not complete a W-4 for an employer.
- c. Is not covered by employer liability insurance or worker's compensation.
- d. Is responsible for his or her own work schedule.

Any wages or salary that an individual receives from a corporation owned by a W-2 group member shall be considered wages from employment and not self-employment income.

The W-2 agency must count the gross receipts from farm and self-employment businesses. Gross receipts must not be adjusted based on expenses. Monthly farm and self-employment income must be calculated using IRS tax forms completed for the previous year or average monthly anticipated earnings using the Self-Employment Income Report \(DHS 00107\).

Calculate self-employment income based on anticipated gross earnings using the Self-Employment Income Report Form (SEIRF) when:

1. The business was not in operation for at least one full month in the prior tax year;
2. The business has not been in operation for six or more months at the time of the application; or
3. There was a significant change in circumstances and the taxes no longer represent the current earnings.

FEPs must ensure the change is actually a significant change, and not just a normal fluctuation in the business, seasonal employment, or a circumstance that does not affect income over time. Examples of a significant change in circumstances include, but are not limited to:

1. The start of a business.
2. The owner sold a part or all of his or her business.
3. The owner is ill or injured and will be unable to operate the business.
4. There's a substantial cost increase causing less profit for each unit sold.
5. Sales are consistently below previous levels beyond normal sales fluctuations.
6. The business is consistently earning above previous levels beyond normal fluctuations.

3.2.8.3 Child Support Income

Count non-regular collections of arrears as an asset. (See 3.3.1)

3.2.8.4 Supplemental Security Income and Caretaker Supplement Income

In addition to any adult's SSI payments, CTS payments must also be counted as the SSI parent's income. Children's SSI payments must not be counted in the W-2 Group's income. (See 3.2.9.1) Treat retroactive CTS payments as income in the month received and any amount remaining becomes an asset in the following month.

3.2.8.5 Census Employment and Other Temporary Employment Income

Income from temporary employment, including employment as a census enumerator, is counted in determining W-2 financial eligibility.

History: Release 22-10; Release 19-06; Release 16-01; Release 14-03; Release 10-02; Release 10-01.

3.2.9 Disregarded Income

3.2.9.1 Disregarded Income

3.2.9.2 Income with Limited Disregards

All earned and unearned income of all the W-2 Group members is counted in determining the 115 percent gross income test (see 3.2.1) with the exception of the income listed in this section. Income listed in this section is disregarded either in whole or under limited circumstances.

3.2.9.1 Disregarded Income

The agency must disregard the following income in determining the 115 percent gross income test:

1. Child Support Income: Regular collections of current child support, maintenance payments, family support (combination of child support and maintenance) or regular collections of child support arrears.
2. Tax Refunds: The agency must disregard as income the entire amount of any federal income tax refund in the month received. This includes federal tax refunds that result from federal over-withholding and from tax credits. Agencies must also disregard as income the portion of a state tax refund resulting from the state EITC in the month received. (See 3.3.4)
3. Loans and JALs: Any loans unless available for current living expenses. If available for current living expenses, loans must be counted as assets even if there is a repayment schedule. JALs must be disregarded.

Reverse Mortgage Loan Proceeds (1993 Wisconsin Act 88): Payments made to a borrower must be treated as proceeds from a loan and not as income. Undisbursed funds must be treated as equity in a borrower's residence and not as proceeds from a loan.

4. W-2 Employment Positions : Earnings from a W-2 TEMP position (TMP, TNP), and CMF+, TSP, CSJ, and W-2 T payments.
5. Jail or Prison Income: Income earned while incarcerated from a Jail or Prison job. Note: this does not include income earned while participating in the Huber Program.

6. In-Kind Income: Any gain or benefit that is not in the form of money paid directly to the household such as, meals, clothing, housing and garden produce.
7. Vendor Payments: Vendor Payments, such as rent paid by a community organization on the household's behalf.
8. Kinship Care: Kinship Care payment for the needs of a non-legally responsible relative child who is not included in the W-2 Group.
9. Foster Care: Foster Care payments for the needs of a foster child who is not included in the W-2 Group.
10. Earned Income and SSI payments of a Dependent Child: Income earned by a Dependent Child in a W-2 Group, and any SSI payments the dependent child receives.

3.2.9.2 Income with Limited Disregards

Some income may be disregarded under limited circumstances:

1. Americorp VISTA: Disregard AmeriCorps VISTA income unless the VISTA agency director verifies that volunteers are receiving the equivalent of minimum wage. If the VISTA volunteer is receiving minimum wage or more, count the VISTA income in determining gross income.
2. Operation Fresh Start: Disregard Operation Fresh Start income unless the agency director verifies that participants are receiving the equivalent of minimum wage. If the Operation Fresh Start participant is receiving minimum wage or more, count the income in determining gross income.
3. Indian Tribal Judgment Funds Use or Distribution Act (PL 93-134): Disregard per capita shares and income of $2,000 per year or less.
4. Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (PL 93-112): Disregard wages, allowances or reimbursements for transportation or personal assistance services costs paid to reasonably accommodate an employee, such as a vehicle modification made to accommodate a disability or a payment by DVR to support a rehabilitation plan.

3.3 Assets

3.3.1 $2,500 Gross Asset Test

If the total countable assets of the W-2 Group at application are equal to or less than $2,500 in combined Equity Value the group may be considered for all W-2 services or a JAL.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

3.3.2 Asset Availability

3.3.2.1 Joint Accounts and Property

Only assets that are actually available for use may be counted. An asset is available if the person has a legal interest in it and has the legal ability to make it available for support and maintenance. An asset is unavailable when the individual can reasonably document that it cannot be accessed for 31 or more days. A payment may not be counted as an asset and income in the same month. Count income in the month received and any amount remaining as an asset in the following month.

Crowdfunding payments must be counted as an asset in CARES Worker Web (CWW) as soon as funds are generated and available in the crowdfunding account, unless the individual can reasonably document that it cannot be accessed for 31 or more days.

3.3.2.1 Joint Accounts and Property

Equal shares of jointly held accounts and property should be deemed available to each person whose name is listed as an owner.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

3.3.3 Changing Estimated Assets

Once eligible for W-2, if the W-2 Group's assets are expected to exceed $2,500 for at least two consecutive months, the group becomes ineligible for W-2. Participants must report any change in assets within 10 calendar days of the occurrence. However, the FEP must enter only changes in assets over $100 when notified. At review, the FEP must incorporate all changes in assets.

EXAMPLE 1: Maya's father dies and he leaves her his car. The Equity Value of the car is $13,000. Maya intends to keep the car as it has sentimental value for her. While $10,000 of the equity value is disregarded, the remaining $3,000 equity value puts Maya $500 over the $2,500 asset limit. Maya reports taking possession of the car on February 10th. When Maya's worker runs eligibility on February 10th, Maya fails the W-2 asset test for the months of March and April and Maya's case will close effective February 28th.

EXAMPLE 2: Carolyn received her tax refund of $2,505 on April 16th. She expects to use most of the money for past bills and other living expenses. She may continue in her CMU placement as it is not expected that her assets will remain over the $2,500 limit for two consecutive months. The agency may ask Carolyn to send in her bank statement both months to check if she is over the asset limit for two consecutive months.

EXAMPLE 3: Amy is participating in a (CSJ) placement. As part of her work activities, she is taking classes to become a childcare provider. She wants to start a childcare program in her neighborhood, but does not have the start-up money. She starts a crowdfunding campaign to raise funds. Her goal is to raise at least $4,000. She informs her FEP on January 6, 2017 that she has started a crowdfunding account, and calls her FEP each week the account gains $100 or more to report the amount. By February 1, she raises $1,836. Amy's FEP counts the $1,836 as a liquid asset in CWW for February, and Amy remains under the asset limit. The crowdfunding account continues to grow and generates $2,743 by March 1. This puts Amy over the asset limit for March. Amy's FEP must continue to review her financial eligibility to determine if she remains under the income and asset limits. If Amy's crowdfunding account has the same amount or more by April 1, Amy would be ineligible for W-2 in May because she would be over the asset limit for two consecutive calendar months (March and April). If the FEP determines that she is over the asset limit, Amy's case would close on April 30.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

3.3.4 Counting Assets

- 3.3.4.1 Homestead
- 3.3.4.2 Vehicles
- 3.3.4.3 Other Assets
- 3.3.4.4 Individual Development Accounts
- 3.3.4.5 Federal Income Tax Refunds

The equity value of all assets not specifically disregarded by these instructions must be counted.

EXAMPLE: Susan purchased a rare coin collection valued at $5,000. But she has a legal debt against the collection in the amount of $3,000, so the value of $2,000 may be counted for the asset test.

3.3.4.1 Homestead

The value of one home that serves as homestead for the W-2 Group shall be excluded as an asset if the home is valued at no more than 200% of the statewide median value for homes, excluding the value of agricultural land owned by the W-2 group.

FEPs shall count any home valued at more than 200% of the statewide median home value against the asset test only when none of the following hardship criteria are met:

- No member of the W-2 group has the legal right to sell the home, including for reasons such as the home is subject to pending litigation and the home is jointly owned with a person who is not in the Wisconsin Works group and who refuses to consent to the individual in the Wisconsin Works group selling his or her share;
- The individual had a recent sudden loss of income due to death, divorce, separation, or non-payment of support;
- The Wisconsin Works group includes an incapacitated group member; or
- The individual is or has been a victim of domestic abuse or is at risk of further domestic abuse, or the home is jointly owned with the abuser, and the abuser is not a member of the Wisconsin Works group.

FEPs may use a range of sources to verify an individual's home value, including:

- Home value produced from an appraisal, realtor, or a recent final sale value; and
- Online valuation tools, such as Zillow, or Real Estate Maximums, RE/MAX.

FEPs shall use the previous year's median value, as reported by the Wisconsin Realtor Association's (WRA) Wisconsin Housing Statistics median price data and multiply it by two to determine if the individual's home is valued at more than 200% the statewide median home value.

In urban situations, the homestead usually consists of a house and lot. A home can consist of a house and more than one lot, as long as the lots adjoin one another.

In farm situations, the home consists of the house and buildings together with the total acreage property upon which they are located and which is considered part of the farm. In situations where the land is on both sides of a road, it is still considered a part of the home.

EXAMPLE 1: Carmon is applying to W-2 in August of 2022 and reports being a homeowner. Their FEP finds that Carmon does not meet any of the home value hardship criteria and enters Carmon's home address into Zillow which reports the home is valued at $350,000. Carmon's FEP cross references the Wisconsin Realtor Association's data for median home price using the 2021 year-to-date data, which is $240,000. 200% of the 2021 median home value is $$240,000 \times 2 = $480,000$. Since Carmon's home is valued at less than 200% of the statewide median home value, their home is disregarded from the asset test.

EXAMPLE 2: Alex is applying to W-2 in August of 2022 and reports being a homeowner. During application, Alex self-reports escaping a domestic violence situation to their FEP. Regardless of the value of Alex's home, the home is disregarded from the asset test due to meeting hardship criteria.

EXAMPLE 3: Zara is applying to W-2 in August of 2022 and reports being a homeowner. Their FEP determines Zara does not meet any of the home value hardship criteria. Zara provides documents from an appraisal she had done a year ago reporting her home is valued at $500,000. Using the year-to-date data for 2021 median home price, 200% of the 2021 median home value is $$240,000 \times 2 = $480,000$. Zara is ineligible for W-2 because her home's value is greater than 200% the statewide median home value and does not meet any hardship exemption criteria.

3.3.4.2 Vehicles

FEPs must disregard the first $10,000 of combined equity value of the W-2 Group's vehicles. FEPs must count any equity value amount over $10,000 as an asset to be tested against the $2,500 asset limit.

FEPs must not increase a vehicle's equity value by adding value for low mileage or items such as optional equipment or apparatus for the disabled. FEPs may use either of the following sources to verify vehicle value:

- Kelly Blue Book; or
- New and Used Car Prices NADA Guide

EXAMPLE: Chrystal's FEP checks the Kelly Blue Book to verify that Chrystal's car has a market value of $6,700. However, Chrystal verifies that there is a lien recorded on the title for an outstanding amount of $4,000. The equity value of the vehicle is $2,700 ($6,700 - 4,000 = 2,700$).

The vehicles listed below with a "No" must not be counted in the asset test. (See 3.3.1)

Common Vehicles	Asset
Non-motorized Camping Trailer	No
Trailer Home	No
Moped	Yes
Motorized Golf Cart	Yes
Motorized Boat	Yes
Non-motorized Boat	No
Non-motorized, Nonfarm Livestock Trailer	No
Junk Car	Yes
Airplane	Yes
Snowmobile	Yes
Motorcycle - any number of wheels	Yes
Motorized Riding Garden Mower	No
Log-skidder	No
Farm Truck, Tractor, or Other Farm Vehicle used directly to produce income	No
Farm Tractor - Nonfarm Use	Yes

3.3.4.3 Other Assets

Household and personal effects are exempt unless they are of unusual value.

3.3.4.4 Individual Development Accounts

IDAs are designed to help low-income people accumulate assets which will help them avoid long-term poverty. In an IDA program, an eligible individual signs a savings agreement with a participating agency to save earned income for a specified purpose. The participant's savings are put in a segregated bank account and matched with program funds. The savings and match can only be withdrawn and used for purposes specified in the program.

IDAs are funded by the Office of Community Services under the Assets for Independence Act (AFIA).

The match funds reserved for a participant in an IDA account, and the accrued interest for the participant's savings and the match, are not available to the participant and, therefore, are disregarded as assets for W-2 eligibility.

If a W-2 agency uses AFIA funds to establish IDAs, the participant's savings in those IDAs are disregarded as an asset for W-2 eligibility.

3.3.4.5 Federal Income Tax Refunds

The agency must disregard as an asset the entire amount of any federal tax refund for a period of 12 months from the date of receipt. The federal tax refund is considered disregarded income in the month received. (See 3.2.9.1)

When an individual is failing for exceeding the countable asset limit, the W-2 agency must ask the individual if he or she has received a federal tax return in the previous 12 months. If the individual reports a federal tax return, the W-2 agency must take the following steps:

1. Subtract the federal tax return amount from the amount of the individual's existing countable assets, enter the corrected amount into CWW, and run eligibility;
2. Enter a case comment explaining the adjustment to countable assets;
3. Verify the tax return amount (see 4.1.3); and
4. Scan any relevant documents into ECF.

If the W-2 agency subtracts the federal tax refund from multiple countable assets, W-2 agencies must specify in case comments the amount of the federal tax refund that was disregarded from each countable asset.

EXAMPLE 1 - APPLICANT

On April 2, 2011 Jackie applies for W-2. She provides a bank statement indicating she has a checking account with a $3,000 balance.

The FEP must take the following actions:

- Enter the $3,000 checking account into CWW;
- Complete the driver flow; and
- Run eligibility.

The CWW “Eligibility Run Results” page indicates that Jackie failed W-2 eligibility with a 024 reason code (countable assets are over program limits). Because Jackie failed W-2 eligibility for exceeding the asset limit, the FEP must ask Jackie if she received any state or federal income tax refunds in the past 12 months. Jackie tells the FEP that in February she received both a $1,000 state income tax refund and a $2,000 federal income tax refund, but she doesn’t have verification with her.

The FEP must take the following actions:

- Subtract the $2000 federal tax refund from the CWW checking account entry;
- Change the verification for the asset “Type” and “Asset Amount” to “?–Not Yet Verified”;
- Request Jackie to verify her federal tax refund amount, and the date she received it;
- Enter a case comment indicating the amount and reason for the subtraction; and
- Run eligibility.

Note: the FEP does not need to take any action on the state refund because Jackie received it 2 months ago and state EITC payments are only disregarded as income and assets the month they are received.

A few days later, Jackie returns with verification that she received a $2,000 federal tax refund on February 15, 2011.

The FEP must take the following actions:

- Change the verification for the asset “Type” and “Asset Amount” to indicate the type of verification Jackie provided; and
- Run eligibility.

EXAMPLE 2 - ONGOING CASE

On April 10, 2011, Laticia calls to report she just received a $1,000 federal income tax refund and a $430 state income tax refund. The state income tax refund is the result of the state EITC. Both the full federal income tax refund and the state income tax return that is the result of the EITC are disregarded as income in the month received.

The FEP must take the following actions:

- Enter a case comment in CWW identifying the amount of the tax refunds, the dates Laticia received them, and information on why the tax refunds were disregarded; and
- Follow the appropriate income tax disregard policy if Laticia fails W-2 eligibility for exceeding the asset limit in subsequent months.

History: Release 22-07; Release 20-03; Release 13-02; Release 11-02.

04 Case Processing Requirements

4.1 W-2 Eligibility Verification Requirements

4.1.1 Introduction

The W-2 agency must verify nonfinancial and financial information provided by the W-2 applicant or participant to determine whether an applicant qualifies for, or a participant remains eligible for, W-2 services or a Job Access Loan.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

4.1.2 Information Requiring Eligibility Verification

The chart below provides a list of eligibility criteria along with suggested sources of allowable verification. The list of sources to verify an eligibility item is not exhaustive, but provides a sampling of the possible sources.

FEPs must verify identity, Social Security number, birth date, and citizenship only once per lifetime of the case. (See 4.1.4) FEPs must verify other eligibility criteria at every eligibility review and when new information is reported or received through a data exchange. FEPs must conduct eligibility reviews at least every 6 months. If valid verification documentation already exists via data exchange or in the Electronic Case File (ECF), do not request additional verification. For example, if a legible copy of the applicant's current lease is in the ECF, rather than pend the case for additional verification of Wisconsin residency, FEPs must use this existing documentation to verify Wisconsin residency.

4.1.3 Requesting Verification from W-2 Participants

Whenever possible, the FEP should attempt to verify eligibility information via CARES, data exchange and ECF. If that is not possible, the applicant or participant is responsible for obtaining verification of information that is necessary and appropriate in order for the W-2 agency to make a correct eligibility decision. The applicant or participant has seven working days from the date the verification request is made to provide the needed verification. W-2 agencies must inform the applicant or participant in writing of the verification items required, including due date.

If extenuating circumstances exist that make the verification requirements unduly burdensome or the verification submitted by the individual is questionable or contradictory, the W-2 agency may extend the verification due date. For applicants, the verification due date may be extended up to 30 days from the date the agency receives a signed Application Registration form. (See 1.4.2 and 1.4.4) For participants, the verification due date may be extended up to 30 days from the date of the initial request for verification.

If the individual has made a reasonable effort and cannot obtain required verification, does not have the power to produce verification, or requires assistance to do so, the W-2 agency must assist the individual. If the agency is unable to assist, the FEP must not deny an application or close a case based on the information that could not be obtained. The agency must use the available information to process the case and then reassess the case when the agency receives the requested information.

W-2 agencies have seven working days from the date they receive it to process verification.

If the applicant or participant is able to produce the information, but refuses or fails to do so, he or she is not eligible and the W-2 agency must deny the application or close the case.

Agencies must refer questionable verification or reporting supplied by applicants or participants for fraud investigation. (See 13.3.1)

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

4.1.4 Frequency of Verification

There are a number of items that must only be verified once per lifetime, such as:

- Identity;
- Social Security Number;
- Birth Date; and
- Citizenship.

To assure that these items are only verified once, the FEP must scan copies of the documents used to verify these items into the ECF in the appropriate folder based upon the document type. When an applicant approaches an agency for services and if these items are known to CWW, the worker will need only to view these documents in the ECF and enter case comments documenting that these items were viewed in the ECF and previously known to CWW.

Other eligibility criteria should be reviewed at every eligibility review and when new information is reported or received through a data exchange. (See 4.1.5)

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

4.1.5 Using Data Exchanges to Verify Eligibility

4.1.5.1 Income and Eligibility Verification System Data Exchanges

4.1.5.1.1 Unemployment Insurance Benefits Data Exchange Process

4.1.5.1.2 State Wage Information Collection Agency Process

4.1.5.1.3 State Online Query Internet Process

4.1.5.2 Discrepancies and Alerts

4.1.5.3 Data Exchange Monitoring Reports

CWW exchanges data with federal and state databases as well as databases maintained by private agencies in order to verify information provided by applicants and participants. This CWW process is called data exchange, or DX, because it is a two-way flow of information in which a request is sent to another state or federal agency and the requested information is returned to CWW. Information exchanged through CWW DX includes:

- Unemployment insurance benefits;
- Earned income through wages;
- SSNs;
- SSI payments;
- Other SS income;
- Incarceration status (see 11.5.1.1); and
- Citizenship or Qualified Non-Citizen Status (see 2.4.1.1).

4.1.5.1 Income and Eligibility Verification System Data Exchanges

IEVS is a system that collects and exchanges income and resource data electronically between CWW and state and federal agencies.

The following are included in the IEVS data exchanges:

- Unemployment insurance benefits;
- Earned income through wages;

- SSNs;
- SSI payments; and
- Other SS income.

Discrepancies identified through the IEVS-related data exchanges must be reviewed by W-2 agency staff. (See 4.1.5.2)

4.1.5.1.1 Unemployment Insurance Benefits Data Exchange Process

Under the UIB data exchange process, UIB DX automatically enters UI information received from state UI databases during intake, review, person add, and program add driver flows. The UIB DX requests UI information for all W-2 Group members over age 14 as long as there is a valid SSN (Verification Code V, C, or W) on the CWW Household Members page. If the DX returns UI income information, CWW automatically updates the Unearned Income Gatepost and the Unearned Income pages.

CWW also completes the UIB DX via a monthly batch process on the 2nd Saturday of the month and will automatically update the UI income for individuals who have had changes in their UI benefits. The monthly process also automatically end-dates UI benefits if no UI extension has been granted. Whenever UI income is updated via the monthly batch process, CWW enters a system-generated case comment.

There are limited situations in which CWW cannot automatically update the UI income information. In these situations, a discrepancy occurs. The FEP must resolve the discrepancy before running eligibility and confirming W-2. (See 4.1.5.2)

4.1.5.1.2 State Wage Information Collection Agency Process

The quarterly SWICA DX compares wage and income information provided by Wisconsin employers with information entered on the CWW Earned Income page. A discrepancy occurs if the monthly SWICA income plus other income budgeted for that month exceeds 115% of FPL for two consecutive months in a quarter. The FEP must update the earned income information on the Employment Queries page necessary to complete case processing before running eligibility and confirming W-2. (See 4.1.5.2)

Because SWICA matches may not happen until participants have been open for several months, FEPs should use the CWW Employment Queries page when processing intakes, reviews, program adds, and person adds to determine if applicants and participants are correctly reporting income and employment.

4.1.5.1.3 State Online Query Internet Process

The SOLQ-I DX is a web service that is initiated during intake, review, person add, and program add driver flows from the CWW General Case Information page. The SOLQ-I DX requests SSN, SS income, and SSI income information from the Social Security Administration. The SOLQ-I requests information for all W-2 Group members who have a valid SSN (Verification Code V, C, or W) on the CWW Household Members page. If an individual's SSN is verified and Social Security income or SSI income exists, CWW automatically updates the information on the CWW pages before the FEP gets to the page in the driver flow, unless there is a discrepancy.

Similar to the UIB data exchange process, if the SOLQ-I data exchange cannot update the SSN, Social Security, or SSI information, a discrepancy occurs. The FEP must resolve the discrepancy before running eligibility and confirming W-2. (See 4.1.5.2) If there is a discrepancy, the Benefits Received page displays a message notifying the FEP that SOLQ-I was either successful or unavailable.

4.1.5.2 Discrepancies and Alerts

Federal law requires FEPs to follow-up on all IEVS DX discrepancies identified during the DX process. FEPs must take action on IEVS DX discrepancies within 45 days for 80 percent of all discrepancies, including taking action to correct the case. The remaining 20 percent may exceed 45 days only if Third-Party Verification is outstanding. The FEP must take action on the remaining 20 percent no later than 90 days after the discrepancy was identified.

FEPs must take the following steps to process DX matches and follow-up on discrepancies:

1. Identify discrepancies. Once a discrepancy is set on a case, it displays in the information bar at the top of the page in CWW (next to Action Items and Documents).

The primary worker on the case will also see the discrepancy under the My Tasks section of the worker's CARES Worker Web Home page. Because in mixed cases, CWW considers IM workers the primary workers and FEPs secondary workers, FEPs cannot see their discrepancies on their CARES Worker Web Home pages. CWW notifies secondary workers of discrepancies by sending an alert. FEPs can then see their discrepancies by:

- a. Checking the Discrepancies list on the participant's Case Summary page;
 - b. Searching for discrepancies using the Caseload Management Search Criteria page; or
 - c. Using existing Webl reports to identify discrepancies.
2. Review the information returned via the DX and compare it to information entered in CWW.
 3. Contact the participant or a third-party source to resolve the discrepancy and request verification, if necessary. The FEP must use the best available information to complete the data exchange process. The discrepancy must be resolved through the FEP's action within 45 days of the match date, unless third-party collateral evidence is outstanding.
 4. Update the appropriate CWW pages with the new information received. If the income was from employment, the FEP must also review and, if needed, update employment information on the WWP Work History page. The FEP may also need to re-evaluate the individual's W-2 placement based on newly verified employment information.
 5. Run eligibility and confirm W-2 benefits. If possible, FEPs must resolve discrepancies before running eligibility and confirming benefits. Re-running eligibility may result in a case closure. If this is the case, the FEP must also determine if an overpayment occurred and, if it has, calculate the amount and establish a benefit recovery claim.
 6. Update the status of the discrepancy. If the FEP is the secondary worker, the FEP must provide a written update to the discrepancy in case comments. If the FEP is the primary worker, the primary worker updates the status of the discrepancy by choosing one of the drop-down options.

Important Note: The secondary worker must not update the status of the discrepancy. If the secondary worker updates the status of the discrepancy, CWW will remove it from the information bar and from the primary worker's My Task discrepancy count total. If this occurs, the primary worker may not ever know that the discrepancy existed. However, if the primary worker updates the status of the discrepancy before the secondary worker has an opportunity to follow-up on it, the alert will remain for the secondary worker as a reminder. For that reason, in cases with both a primary and a secondary worker, the secondary worker must provide updates to discrepancies in case comments.

The FEP should not verify information that has already been verified. (See 4.1.2) Information such as identity, SSN, birth date, or citizenship, must be verified only once per lifetime. (See 4.1.4) However, the FEP must verify employment and income at every eligibility review and when DX reports new information that changes frequently, such as earned and unearned income.

For more information on Data Exchange and IEVS, see Process Help 44 Data Exchange.

4.1.5.3 Data Exchange Monitoring Reports

In addition to the Caseload Management Search Criteria page, FEPs can access the DX reports in WebI to view listings of all individuals who have outstanding data match discrepancies, and to monitor their progress in meeting the 45 and 90-day IEVS requirements for completing discrepancy reviews.

The following reports are in the Data Exchange folder in WebI Employment Programs, Report Monitoring subfolder.

DX Reports 1 and 2

Data exchange Report 1 provides a county summary. Report 2 provides a detailed report by county of all matches with incomplete dispositions/discrepancies due for 45 days or more.

DX Reports 3 and 4

Data exchange Report 3 provides a county summary. Report 4 provides a detailed report by county of the overdue dispositions/discrepancies completed during a specific month.

DX Reports 5 and 6

Data exchange Report 5 provides a W-2 agency summary. Report 6 provides a detailed report by agency of all matches that are due within 45 days and incomplete dispositions/discrepancies.

DX Report 7

Data exchange Report 7 provides a Worker ID summary and gives W-2 agency staff another tool to use to manage their dispositions/discrepancies.

DX Report 8

Data exchange Report 8 provides a statewide summary.

4.2 Requesting and Protecting W-2 Participant Information

4.2.1 Requesting Information from Third Party Sources

4.2.1.1 Requesting Confidential Information

While an applicant or participant has primary responsibility for obtaining verification, a W-2 agency has statutory authority [s. 49.143(5)] to request information from any person it deems appropriate and necessary for the administration of W-2. By signing the Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Programs Application (2471) form, the individual is acknowledging that the agency may request information from a third party unless the information is considered confidential.

Cooperation of the third party is expected within 7 working days of the agency's request. The W-2 agency may extend the 7 working day time limit if it is unduly burdensome. The statute does not provide for compensation for the third party.

Applicants and participants must not be penalized when a third party fails to cooperate with a verification request. The FEP must not delay eligibility determination while waiting for information from a third party. Instead, the FEP must use the best available information, including consulting with appropriate agencies at the time of application. Eligibility must be reassessed when information from third party sources is received.

During the application process, the FEP may refer the applicant for screenings or assessments, some of which require information from a third party source. However, referrals for screenings and assessments are not eligibility requirements and are therefore not subject to verification time lines discussed here. (See 5.1.1.2)

4.2.1.1 Requesting Confidential Information

When requesting confidential information, the FEP must use the Authorization for Disclosure of Confidential Information form (10779). This form meets federal and state requirements for the confidential release of information from treatment providers, including AODA treatment, mental health treatment, domestic violence counseling, HIV/AIDS, and medical conditions.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

4.2.2 Protecting W-2 Participant Information

4.2.2.1 Protecting Confidential Information about W-2 Participants

Information concerning W-2 applicants and participants generally must not be disclosed for any reason except when it is necessary for the administration of the W-2 program or, under certain circumstances, unless requested by law enforcement officers. (See 4.2.3)

If the information requested is not directly related to program administration, it must not be provided.

4.2.2.1 Protecting Confidential Information about W-2 Participants

To provide effective services to W-2 participants, it is often necessary to obtain highly sensitive, confidential information.

Information related to the following conditions is considered confidential for purposes of the W-2 program:

1. Physical health, including HIV/AIDS
2. Mental health
3. Disabilities and impairments, including physical disabilities, learning disabilities, cognitive impairments, and developmental disabilities
4. Alcohol and substance abuse
5. Domestic abuse

Records related to these conditions may include but are not limited to:

1. Assessments, including vocational and functional evaluations
2. Screening and test results
3. Treatment notes
4. Diagnoses
5. Services and accommodations

See 4.4.2 for information on scanning confidential information into the Electronic Case File. See 4.4.6 for information on accessing and referencing confidential information about W-2 participants.

The laws governing protection of confidential information are stricter than general information about the W-2 participant. In general, the laws narrowly restrict the disclosure and use of this information to staff members only when their assigned duties require that they have access to the information. An individual or program in possession of such information (for example, a federally-assisted substance abuse program) may not release it except as authorized by the individual. Anyone who receives such information from a substance abuse program (for example, a W-2 agency) may not again disclose it without the individual's consent and cannot retain this information unless confidentiality can be maintained.

W-2 agencies may disclose this information in the following circumstances without a release of information:

1. To other staff within the W-2 agency when their assigned duties require that they have access to the information;
2. To another W-2 agency if the individual changes agencies; and
3. To staff from the DCF, which has direct administrative control over the W-2 program.

EXAMPLE 1: Juanita is a W-2 T participant. Her FEP referred her to a mental health specialist for a formal mental health assessment. Based on the results of the assessment and a diagnosis of depression and situational anxiety disorder, the FEP assigned Juanita to weekly mental health counseling appointments and limited hours at a work experience site. After six months, Juanita was ready to begin employment search. Juanita's FEP shared with the employment readiness workshop facilitator Juanita's mental health diagnosis and the necessary accommodations she would need to successfully participate in the job readiness workshop. The sharing of this information was based on the workshop facilitators assigned duties requiring access to the information because with this information the facilitator would be able to direct Juanita towards employment that would not cause anxiety as well as provide the accommodations Juanita needs in order to maintain employment.

EXAMPLE 2: Roberta is a new W-2 T participant who has transferred from another W-2 agency from another part of the state. Roberta has been diagnosed with post traumatic stress disorder due to abuse she suffered earlier in her life. Roberta confided this in her FEP and shared some counseling records that she had been given by her former doctor. When Roberta's FEP saw her co-worker later in the day, she asked for some advice on finding Roberta a new doctor and shared with her the details of Roberta's past. The sharing of Roberta's past was not based on the co-workers assigned duties requiring access to the information because the FEP could have kept the details confidential while still seeking advice on referring Roberta to a local mental health professional.

History: Release 19-02; Release 18-04.

4.2.3 Releasing Information to Law Enforcement

If a law enforcement officer believes, on reasonable grounds, that a warrant has been issued and is outstanding for the arrest of a W-2 participant, the W-2 worker, at the request of the law enforcement office, may notify a law enforcement officer when the participant appears to obtain his or her W-2 payment.

A W-2 agency may release the current address of W-2 participants to a law enforcement officer who meets all of the following conditions:

1. The officer provides, in writing the name of the recipient; and
2. The officer demonstrates, in writing the following:
 - a. The recipient
 - 1) Is a fugitive felon under 42 U.S.C. s. 608(a)(9);
 - 2) Is violating probation or parole imposed under state or federal law; or
 - 3) Has information that is necessary for the officer to conduct his or her official duties;
 - b. That the location or apprehension of the participant is within the official duties of the officer; and
 - c. The officer is making the request in the proper exercise of his or her duties.

W-2 agencies are not required to report an applicant or participant to police simply because it knows that the person has an outstanding warrant. If there is any concern that an applicant or participant may cause harm to him or herself or others, whether there is a warrant involved, the agency should take the initiative to contact the police.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

4.3 Documenting W-2 Participant Information

4.3.1 Record of Verification

W-2 eligibility information requiring verification must be either “validated” or “documented.”

- Validation means placing original items of verification evidence (or a copy thereof) in the case file.

Validation may be done by:

1. Making a photocopy of an original document and then scanning it into ECF;
2. Using an IEVS match report;
3. Using a query response from SAVE; or
4. Using a CARES birth query result.

Photocopies of verification items should be marked with the date the document was obtained along with the initials of the staff person who obtained the document and scanned into ECF. (See 4.4.2) If the validation occurred through a CARES DX (2 through 4 above), the verification code will automatically populate in CARES. When validating eligibility information, the worker is not required to enter case comments documenting how the eligibility criteria were verified.

- Documentation for the purposes of verifying W-2 eligibility information means describing the relevant verification evidence that is either entered as a case comment in CWW or a case note scanned into ECF based on a conversation with the individual or an observation, inspection, conversation, or collateral contacts by the W-2 worker.

The worker must enter comments as a formal record of case action or eligibility-related information for an individual within 24 hours after the action or contact with a participant. Such timely entering of case comments ensures a sequential history.

History: Release 20-03.

4.3.2 Marking Vital Records, “Administrative Use Only”

Vital records are maintained by the Wisconsin Department of Health Services and are official records of births, deaths, marriages, and divorces. These documents are referred to as Birth Certificates, Death Certificates, Marriage Certificates, and Divorce and Annulment Certificates and any data related to the above documents, e.g., printed birth query information from CARES.

A certified birth certificate has a registrar's raised, embossed, impressed or multicolored seal, registrar's signature, and the date the certificate was filed with the registrar's office, which must be within 1 year of the stated birth.

Prior to scanning these documents, the FEP must photocopy the original document, stamp it with “Administrative Use Only” and then scan it into ECF. Originals must not be scanned into ECF, but must be returned to the W-2 applicant. Following this process will ensure that W-2 agencies are in compliance with Wis. Stat. s 69.30 (2) which requires that vital records be marked, “Administrative Use Only.”

Although Certificates of Naturalization and Certificates of Citizenship are not considered vital records, W-2 agencies must also use the vital records process for these documents.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

4.3.3 Comments

Comments for W-2 must be entered by workers using CWW and WWP. Workers must record comments within 24 hours after the action or contact with a participant to ensure a sequential history. When a FEP makes a change to a W-2 case that leaves eligibility unconfirmed for other programs, the FEP must notify the Income Maintenance (IM)/Child Care (CC) worker to confirm eligibility for the other programs. In addition to comments, whenever the FEP or IM/CC worker makes a change in a case, the worker must also notify the other worker via e-mail, fax, or phone contact to ensure timely processing of the W-2, CC, and IM cases.

There are two types of comment entries:

The first type, case comments, are entered into CWW. Case comments should be entered when the interaction is describing a case level event that impacts eligibility issues, such as case reviews, verification, adding or deleting household members, etc.

The second type is PIN comments. PIN comments are entered in WWP. PIN comments should be entered when the interaction is describing an individual level event, such as good cause, informal assessment summary, general notes recording individual contact as it relates to work program participation, etc. PIN comments are required as a formal record of all Work Programs-related information for an individual.

W-2 agencies may not disclose confidential information in comments and must note that further details are in ECF and/or the WWP Participant Barrier page. Below are examples of appropriate language that can be used when cross-referencing this information:

1. "Participant has been referred for a formal assessment. See WWP Participant Barrier page for further details."
2. "Participant is currently restricted per completed medical capacity form to no more than 30 minutes of continuous sitting or standing. ECF contains complete medical information and diagnosis provided by the doctor."

See 4.2.2.1 for a listing of confidential information that must never be entered in comments.

History: Release 20-03; Release 18-04; Release 14-03.

4.4 Storing W-2 Participant Information

4.4.1 Electronic Case File (ECF)

As a means of providing for consistent retention of and access to case file materials, an ECF system was created. This paperless case file system uses document imaging (scanning) to store case file materials in an electronic format. To ensure the effectiveness of ECF in maintaining comprehensive documentation, it is important that W-2 agencies understand and follow program policy with respect to the maintenance of case file information.

One area of particular importance is the maintenance of information used to verify participant program eligibility.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

4.4.2 Scanning Requirements

The following scanning guidelines must be followed by all W-2 agencies:

1. All ongoing case scanning must be completed within 30 calendar days of the reported/required case action having been performed in CARES, CWW, or WWP, or within 30 calendar days of being received in the W-2 agency. It includes the scanning of documents turned in at intake, review and those dropped off or mailed into the agency.
2. All confidential information except attendance documentation that contains confidential information must be scanned into ECF under the appropriate document codes. (See 4.4.6) The ECF Handbook lists the appropriate document codes for W-2 confidential information.
3. Case Review Monitoring: Files requested for review by the DCF must be scanned into the ECF, in their entirety, within 10 working days of receiving the request. This may include cases requested for monitoring purposes, ad hoc queries or any other monitoring purpose.
4. Transfer Cases: When transferring a case, agencies must scan all relevant material prior to transferring the case.

If an agency is unable to meet these requirements, agency staff must notify the appropriate DCF regional staff.

History: Release 21-07; Release 18-04.

4.4.3 Record Retention Requirements

W-2 agencies must retain W-2, JAL, and EA case-related paper documents for three years after a case closes if the agency has not scanned the documents into the ECF. This three-year retention requirement also applies to audio tapes of Fact Finding Reviews. After the case has been closed for three years, the W-2 agency can destroy the paper documents and audio tapes.

W-2 agencies must retain paper documents for longer than three years if any litigation, claim, or audit involving the case is unresolved. In these situations, the W-2 agency must not destroy the documents until three years from the date the issue was resolved. The terms "litigation," "claim," and "audit" include lawsuits, Fact Finding Reviews, Departmental Reviews, Intentional Program Violation claims, federal or state audits, Legislative Audit Bureau audits, etc.

W-2 agencies are required to scan all paper documents except attendance documentation that contains confidential information into ECF within 30 days after receipt. Agencies may destroy paper documents that they have scanned and stored in the ECF at any time. It is recommended that agencies retain paper documents that it has scanned into ECF for at least a week in the event they discover scanner operator error. This includes copies of birth certificates, Social Security cards, marriage certificates, etc. Agencies must return original documents to the owner. (See 4.4.1) Confidential documents retained in case of scanner operator error must be stored in a sealed envelope in the paper file under lock and key. If an agency determines that a paper copy of a confidential document must be kept long-term, the document must be stored in a sealed envelope in the paper file under lock and key.

W-2 agencies must not delete any documents from ECF unless the document is scanned under the wrong case. In this situation, the agency must either re-index the document to the correct case or delete and rescan the document. See ECF Handbook sections 1.4 and 5.1.3 for more information.

History: Release 18-04; Release 13-01.

4.4.4 Access to ECF by an Authorized Representative of the Applicant or Participant

An applicant or participant and representative may request to view and copy any records pertaining to the applicant's or participant's case file, including documents stored in ECF. Due to the nature of ECF, at no time may a third party be given unsupervised access to ECF. If a representative requests review of a participant's file, the W-2 agency must:

1. Have an agency representative sit with the representative to review the case file documentation in ECF; or
2. Print out the appropriate documentation for the representative.

The agency may charge for this service. (See 12.2.6)

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

4.4.5 Scanning Consistency within an Agency

There will always be a level of subjectivity when deciding upon where in ECF to store a document. In order to minimize the subjectivity within a W-2 agency, agencies should develop written, internal guidelines on document storage. Because the documentation matrix is available in spreadsheet format via a link from the ECF Manual, one option would be to download the spreadsheet and add your agency's internal forms and documents to it as a guide for all agency staff. A word of caution, however, if your agency uses the documentation matrix, the matrix may change when a new ECF Handbook version is released. Therefore, an agency would have to make sure that it incorporated any new release changes into its agency specific documentation.

To further ensure consistency across agencies, all supporting documents for applications must be stored in the appropriate category, if one exists. For example, for Job Access Loan applications, positive or negative notices would go in Sub-folder Correspondence under Document Type NOD and rental agreements would go in Sub-folder Expenses under Document Type SUE. When doing so, agencies should put a notation at the top of the document prior to scanning referencing "JAL verification." This would be true of any type of application that contained supporting documentation, such as EA. If there is not an existing document type in which the document most appropriately belongs, it would be considered a part of the application and should be included with the application in Sub-folder Case Information under Document Type APP.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

4.4.6 Storing Confidential Information

The FEP must store all confidential information in ECF except attendance documentation that contains confidential information. Attendance documentation that contains confidential information must be stored in a sealed envelope in the paper file under lock and key.

Only the FEP assigned to the case and the FEP's assigned supervisor may access a case's confidential information in ECF. Other staff within the W-2 agency can access confidential information only when their assigned duties require that they have access to the confidential information. In this situation, staff must work with the FEP assigned to the case or the FEP's supervisor to obtain the needed information. See 4.2.2.1 for information that is considered confidential for purposes of the W-2 program.

History: Release 18-04.

4.5 Working with Confidential Cases in W-2

4.5.1 Introduction

W-2 applicants and participants may request to have their cases made confidential in CARES Worker Web (CWW) to restrict access to the case and the information the case contains. When a case is made confidential in CWW, the corresponding participant data in WWP and the CARES Work Programs screens are also made confidential.

History: Release 19-02.

4.5.2 Making a W-2 Case Confidential

The FEP must make an individual's case confidential in CWW in the following situations:

1. When the individual requests the case be made confidential;
2. When the individual is enrolled in the Safe at Home program;
3. When the individual is a victim of or is under the threat of domestic violence or other physical harm;
4. When the individual is an employee of a W-2 agency;
5. When the individual is included in another CWW case that is confidential; or
6. Any situation in which the FEP believes restricting access to an individual's case information is necessary for the individual's protection and well-being.

If the individual was included in another CWW case that closed within the last three years and was confidential at the time of closing, the FEP must discuss with the individual whether the W-2 case should be made confidential.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

4.5.3 Accessing Confidential Cases in W-2

Only the FEP assigned to the confidential case and the FEP's assigned supervisor can access the case in CWW, access the corresponding participant data in WWP and the CARES Work Programs screens, and access the case's documents in ECF. If the participant is enrolled in another assistance program, the Income Maintenance (IM) worker assigned to the individual's case and the IM worker's immediate supervisor can also access information from the individual's case.

Other staff within the W-2 agency can access information from a confidential case only when their duties require that they have access to the information. If such access is required, staff must work with the FEP assigned to the confidential case or the FEP's supervisor to obtain the needed information.

If the applicant or participant is enrolled in CWW for another assistance program (i.e., FoodShare, BadgerCare, or Wisconsin Shares) and the case is confidential, the FEP must contact the appropriate agency and work with the appropriate worker to gain access to the case. After the FEP obtains access to the case, the FEP must return the case to confidential status immediately.

If the applicant or participant is enrolled only in W-2 in CWW and requests assistance from another assistance program, the FEP must work with the appropriate worker from the other assistance program to allow access to the confidential case. After the other worker obtains access to the case, the other worker must return the case to confidential status immediately.

History: Release 19-02.

4.6 Participant Relocation

4.6.1 Relocation into or out of Milwaukee County or Between Balance of State W-2 Agencies

4.6.1.1 Relocation within a BOS W-2 Agency's Boundaries

W-2 participants who relocate into Milwaukee from the BOS must reapply at the W-2 agency serving the address to which they have relocated.

W-2 participants who relocate out of Milwaukee into the BOS or between BOS W-2 agencies must reapply at the W-2 agency that serves the county into which the individual has relocated. The individual may reapply at any of that agency's office locations. However, the agency must enroll the applicant in the W-2 Eligibility and Work Program offices for the county in which the applicant now resides.

Any time a participant relocates and will be served by a new W-2 agency, the outgoing W-2 agency must determine when to end-date the employment position according to the needs of the participant, W-2 employer/work training provider, and agency.

If a participant in a CMF or CMF+ placement relocates into or out of Milwaukee or between BOS W-2 agencies, the participant cannot be enrolled into the incoming agency, nor may the participant remain in an open placement with the current W-2 agency. The CMF or CMF+ placement may not transfer and must be closed at the originating agency when the participant leaves the county. The FEP at the originating agency must close the CMF or CMF+ placement and end the W-2 episode. If the individual loses the employment that led to the CMF or CMF+ placement while enrolled in W-2, the individual may reapply for W-2 in the county where the individual has relocated.

To end the employment position, the outgoing agency must end-date the placement on the CWW W-2 Placements page so that CARES will generate the final payment for activities completed during the last participation period. The outgoing agency must also end the EP and disenroll the case in WWP.

The incoming agency must treat the individual as an applicant. (See 1.4.4) When deciding on services for the individual, the incoming agency should consider the individual's past W-2 experience, including prior placements.

4.6.1.1 Relocation within a BOS W-2 Agency's Boundaries

W-2 participants in the BOS who relocate to a different county but remain with the same W-2 agency do not have to reapply. These participants may continue to receive services at any of the agency's office locations. However, the agency must transfer the case to the W-2 Eligibility and WP offices for the county in which the participant now resides.

History: Release 21-07; Release 19-02; Release 16-01; Release 13-01.

4.6.2 Transfers Between W-2 Agencies in Milwaukee County

For W-2 participants who relocate from one Milwaukee W-2 geographical area to another, the outgoing W-2 agency must transfer the case to the incoming W-2 agency.

When a Milwaukee W-2 agency initiates a case transfer, it must use the Inter-Regional W-2 Participant Transfer Notice form notifying participants to continue with assigned activities until they have met with a FEP in the new geographical area. For more detailed information on the Milwaukee transfer process, workers must refer to the Inter-Regional Transfer Procedure for Milwaukee W-2 Agencies.

In order to complete the transfer to the new W-2 agency, the outgoing agency must transfer the case to the incoming agency's W-2 Eligibility and WP offices.

The incoming W-2 agency must meet with the participant within 10 working days from the date of transfer as reflected in the transaction list in WWP to conduct an Informal Assessment. The participant must remain in their existing W-2 placement and assigned activities until meeting with the new W-2 agency. Once the new FEP completes an informal assessment, he or she can determine if any changes should be made to the participant's placement, activities, supportive services, or accommodations. All results must be documented on the appropriate WWP pages, in PIN comments, and any necessary changes must be made on the new EP. For more information on transferring assessment information, see W-2 Manual, 4.6.3.

History: Release 21-07; Release 20-03; Release 19-02; Release 13-01.

4.6.3 Transferring Formal Assessments

When an individual applies for W-2, the W-2 agency should confirm if the individual received W-2 in the past. If the individual received W-2 in the past, the W-2 agency must check the WWP Participant Barriers page to see if any formal assessments were completed during a prior W-2 episode. If so, the W-2 agency must obtain the following information from the previously assigned W-2 agency:

1. All copies of formal assessments and treatment notes from the past 12 calendar months; and
2. Any copies of additional information and assessments greater than 1 year that were used to determine how the participant was last served by the previously assigned W-2 agency.

If the information is scanned into ECF, the W-2 agency must obtain the information from ECF.

If the information is not scanned into ECF, the W-2 agency must contact the previously assigned W-2 agency and request formal assessments and treatment notes from the prior W-2 Agency.

The previously assigned W-2 agency is required to provide all copies of requested documentation to the W-2 agency so that it is received within 7 working days. The requested documentation must be scanned into ECF using the WPM code or sent by US mail or other delivery services with tracking or through a courier. Copies of confidential documents cannot be faxed or emailed.

Any case that is transferred within Milwaukee or reapplies for W-2 in the balance of state may only satisfy the formal assessment requirement for a W-2 T placement if the formal assessment for the stated barrier/disability was completed in the 12 months prior to the agency transfer or new application. If it was not within the 12 months prior, the new W-2 agency will need to request that a new formal assessment be completed within 30 days of making a new W-2 T placement. See 5.5.1.1.

History: Release 19-02; Release 18-04.

05 Assessment

5.1 Introduction

5.1 Introduction

Under W-2, assessment is the process of gathering the needed information to develop an Employability Plan customized for the participant that will result in either a successful employment outcome which starts the individual on a career path; or, if appropriate, a path to eligibility for SSI and/or SSDI benefits.

Certain types of assessments are required for all W-2 applicants and participants, including:

- Informal Assessment (see 5.2);
- Educational Needs Assessment (see 5.3); and
- Career Assessment (see 5.4).

The information gathered through these required processes will assist the FEP in identifying whether additional Formal Assessments are needed to develop the participant's EP.

Under W-2, the assessment process is conducted in collaboration with the applicant or participant. The results of each assessment must be discussed with the participant and the participant must be given the opportunity to provide input on his or her W-2 placement and the activities that are assigned as part of the EP.

History: Release 19-07; Release 19-02.

5.1.1 Assessment at Application

5.1.1.1 Assessment with Former W-2 Participants at Application

5.1.1.2 Referral for Formal Assessment at Application

During the application process and prior to placing the individual in a W-2 placement, the W-2 agency:

- Must work with the applicant to complete an informal assessment (see 5.2);
- Must work with the applicant to complete an Educational Needs Assessment (see 5.3);
- Must work with the applicant to start the process of career assessment (see 5.4);
and
- Must obtain the results of any career assessments, vocational evaluation/assessments or formal assessments if available from prior W-2 episodes (see 4.6.3).

Using the assessment information gathered at the application, the worker may require the applicant to participate in up-front job search activities as a condition of eligibility (see 2.9.2).

To make the initial W-2 placement and to develop the EP, the FEP must use the best information available during the application timeframe:

- Results of the informal assessment;
- Results from the educational needs assessment;
- Career assessment results, if available;
- Progress made during assignment to up-front job search activities, if assigned;
and
- Results of any other vocational evaluation/assessments or formal assessments, if available.

5.1.1.1 Assessment with Former W-2 Participants at Application

When an individual applies for W-2, the W-2 agency must determine if the individual received W-2 in the past and obtain prior assessment information. If prior assessment information is current and relevant to the individual's current situation, this information may be used to aid in decision-making for the initial placement and EP.

If the individual received W-2 in the past, the W-2 agency must check the WWP Participant Barriers page to see if any formal assessments were completed previously. If so, the applicant's W-2 agency must obtain all copies of formal assessments, treatment notes, and additional information from ECF.

If the formal assessment is not available in ECF and the individual was previously assigned to a different agency, the current W-2 agency must contact the previously assigned agency. The previously assigned W-2 agency is required to provide all copies of requested documentation to the current W-2 agency so that it is received within 7 working days. (See 4.6.3)

The FEP should consider a formal assessment acceptable if completed within one year prior to W-2 T placement. Results from a prior formal assessment may only be used if the assessment contains the necessary elements and is relevant to the employment barrier in question. If the prior formal assessment results have an expiration date that indicates the results are no longer valid or there is reason to believe the formal assessment information does not reflect the participant's current circumstances, then a new formal assessment must be completed. (See 5.5.1.1)

5.1.1.2 Referral for Formal Assessment at Application

During the application process, the FEP may also refer the applicant for vocational evaluation/assessment and/or formal assessment of employment barriers. (See 5.5.1) However, completing referrals for vocational evaluation/assessments or formal assessments are not eligibility requirements.

Because career assessments, job readiness assessments, additional vocational evaluation/assessments, educational needs assessments using a standardized educational needs assessment tool, and formal assessments are not eligibility requirements, the FEP must never delay eligibility determination and initial placement because one of these assessments is pending. The placement decision must be made using the best available information during the application timeframe. (See 1.4.4) The W-2 placement may be adjusted later, if needed, when the additional assessment information is received.

To gather assessment results, W-2 agencies are also encouraged to consult with other employment and training resources, and accept previous assessments done by other agencies if appropriate.

History: Release 20-03; Release 19-07; Release 19-02; Release 17-01; Release 11-01.

5.1.2 Assessment as Part of Ongoing Case Management

Prior to making a change in W-2 placement, the W-2 agency:

- Must work with the participant to complete and submit the WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow (see 5.2); and
- Must work with the participant to complete an educational needs assessment (see 5.3).

The following assessments are considered an ongoing activity and are part of general W-2 case management:

1. Educational Needs Assessment: Educational needs assessment can be completed throughout ongoing case management as the participant's education and training needs may change.

Standardized educational needs assessment tools should be used to determine a participant's educational levels. Educational needs assessment tools, like the TABE or BEST, test skills and aptitudes in reading, language, math computation, and applied math in order to identify current math and reading comprehension levels and any literacy or numeracy deficiencies. (See 5.3.1)

2. Career Assessment: Career assessments can be administered throughout ongoing case management as the participant's skill levels and work-readiness may change.

The Career Assessment page in WWP is a stand-alone page that is designed to identify work styles, skills, and interests. Completing the Career Assessment page will ensure that workers have sufficient detail to develop EPs and assign meaningful activities that allow participants to reach their goals.

- Work styles – Refers to the participant's patterns of action or conduct, such as attendance, punctuality, appropriate appearance, ability to work with others, obeying rules, following directions, and completing tasks. Work style-focused career assessments can demonstrate the participant's attitudes and job readiness.
- Skills – Refers to the participant's skills or understanding of specific tasks related to employment, like cooking or computer programming. Skills-focused career assessments can include knowledge, aptitude, and ability. Skills can relate to a particular occupation, as typically listed in a job announcement to describe the tasks of a position.

- Interests – Refers to the participant's likes of particular objects, activities, and personalities using the theory that individuals with the same career tend to have the same interests. Interest-focused career assessments help participants identify work-related interests and find the types of careers that match. The results can be used to help participants learn which careers they are most likely to enjoy, including careers they may not have had knowledge of.

Do not use educational needs assessment tools in place of career assessment tools. Use educational needs assessment tools in tandem with career assessment tools to identify the education and training needed to allow individuals to obtain employment that fits their work styles, skills, and interests. The results of both assessments complement each other and inform the EP development and assignment of meaningful activities.

3. Job Readiness Assessment: Job readiness assessments can be administered throughout ongoing case management as the participant's skill levels and work readiness may change.

The Job Readiness page in WWP is a stand-alone page with questions that are designed to guide conversation to complete a thorough job readiness assessment. Completing the Job Readiness page will ensure that workers have sufficient detail on work preferences, history, applications, interviews, and contacts to develop EPs and assign meaningful activities that allow participants to reach their goals.

4. WWP Informal Assessment: The FEP may also choose to complete or edit the WWP Informal Assessment when there is reason to believe that reviewing the WWP Informal Assessment questions or specific pages may help initiate conversation about a potential barrier that is affecting the participant's ability to work or participate in assigned activities.
5. Additional Approaches to Informal Assessment: The W-2 agency may also use alternative approaches to supplement the information gathered through the WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow. (See 5.2.1)

History: Release 20-03; Release 19-07; Release 19-02; Release 17-01.

5.2 Informal Assessment

5.2.1 Informal Assessment

Informal assessment is an ongoing case management practice, which starts during the W-2 application period and continues until the individual no longer receives W-2 services. A comprehensive informal assessment via the WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow must be completed and submitted prior to initial W-2 placement and at each placement change.

The purpose of the informal assessment process under W-2 is to gather information about an individual and his or her family to determine the:

- Individual's ability to become employed and remain employed;
- Services and activities necessary for the individual to become employed and remain employed;
- Appropriate placement of a participant;
- Need for further career assessment and planning;
- Need for vocational evaluation/assessment;
- Existence of potential disabilities or other specific limitations; and
- Need for a formal assessment of any disabilities or other employment barriers by a qualified assessing agency or individual.

Multiple approaches to informal assessment are generally used based on individual needs. Additional approaches to conducting informal assessment may include:

- Paper and pencil tools designed by the W-2 agency;
- Automated screening and assessment tools available within the W-2 agency;
- Information gathered through case management meetings;
- Worksite performance evaluations;
- Goal setting exercises/tools (e.g., where do you want to be in six months? Two years?, etc.); and
- Experience with following through on job search and other assigned activities.

History: Release 22-05; Release 19-02.

5.2.2 Informal Assessment Inventory

The WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow covers the following assessment categories related to an individual's ability to become employed and remain employed:

- Languages
- Work History
- Participation in Other Work Programs
- Education History
- Post-Secondary Education
- Military Service
- Housing
- Transportation
- Legal Issues
- Participant Barriers
- Child and Youth Supports
- Family Barriers

The WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow also includes a Non-Custodial Parents page that provides an opportunity for applicants and participants who are noncustodial parents (NCP) to discuss their role as a mother or father, and share basic information about the custodial parent and their child(ren) . In addition, the NCP Referral page is intended to help the W-2 worker determine if the agency could offer services to help the NCP of the applicant or participant's child(ren).

While moving through the WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow, the W-2 worker must gather information about the applicant or participant's personal strengths, work styles, interests, and skills that may help the individual in their search for employment or that may be further developed through activities assigned in the EP. The W-2 worker must work with the applicant or participant to identify resources that will address any unmet needs identified during the informal assessment process.

In addition to the information gathered through completion of the WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow, the following inventory must be covered as part of the informal assessment process and reviewed with each W-2 applicant or participant at application and as a part of ongoing case management.

- Personal strengths, interests and goals;
- Job skills (including transferable skills);
- Job readiness (including work preferences, history, applications, interviews, and contacts);
- Recent job search efforts;
- Results from Career Assessment that evaluate work styles, skills, and interests;
- Current neighborhood environment and schools;
- Household budgeting/money management strategies;
- Access to social supports (e.g., family members, church, friends);
- Other needs or barriers identified by the participant that impedes his or her ability to participate in W-2 activities or find and retain a job.

Because these additional informal assessment inventory items are not eligibility requirements, the FEP must never delay eligibility determination and initial placement because one of these items is pending. The placement decision must be made using the best available information during the application timeframe. (See 1.4.4)

If an applicant is new to W-2 or is re-applying and does not have the Job Readiness page completed in WWP, the job readiness assessment must be scheduled within 30 days of application and completed within 30 days of placement. If a current participant does not have the Job Readiness page completed in WWP, the job readiness assessment must be scheduled within 30 days of an EP review and completed before the next EP review.

If an applicant is new to W-2 or is re-applying and does not have the Career Assessment page completed in WWP, the career assessment must be scheduled within 30 days of application and completed within 30 days of placement. If a current participant does not have the Career Assessment page completed in WWP, the career assessment must be scheduled within 30 days of an EP review and completed before the next EP review.

Informal assessment must also include observations by the worker about the individual's ability to follow through on assigned activities and/or perform job search. When an applicant or participant is having difficulty completing assigned activities, this may be an indication of underlying barriers to employment and should result in further conversations with the individual about the appropriateness of the activities being assigned and the need for additional supportive services.

History: Release 20-03; Release 19-02, Release 17-01.

5.2.3 WWP Informal Assessment

5.2.3.1 Participant Barriers Questions

5.2.3.2 Required Timing for WWP Informal Assessment

5.2.3.3 WWP Informal Assessment with Two-Parent Households

5.2.3.4 WWP Informal Assessment with Children Present

5.2.3.5 WWP Informal Assessment Notes and Details

5.2.3.5.1 Documenting Confidential Information in WWP Informal Assessment Notes and Details

The WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow is intended to provide a framework to guide the interactive conversation needed to complete a comprehensive Informal Assessment. The W-2 worker is required to ask all questions that appear in the WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow, including additional questions that appear based on the W-2 Applicant or Participant's answers. The W-2 worker must also ask follow-up questions and engage the applicant or participant in further conversation beyond the prescribed questions to obtain information needed to determine how the life area affects employability. This process is also intended to ensure that the W-2 worker has sufficient detail on the W-2 applicant or participant's skills, abilities, interests, and goals to inform Case Management decision-making.

5.2.3.1 Participant Barriers Questions

The WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow includes a Participant Barriers page with questions to collect information about the applicant or participant's health and personal life that may affect the individual's ability to obtain and maintain employment. The WWP Informal Assessment - Participant Barriers page consists of five sections:

1. Physical Health
2. Mental Health
3. Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse (AODA)
4. Cognitive and Learning Needs
5. Domestic Abuse Screen

The responses to the WWP Informal Assessment Participant Barriers questions provided by each applicant or participant will assist the FEP in determining whether the individual could benefit from a Formal Assessment by a qualified professional or assessing agency. (See 5.5.2) The responses will also provide basic information to inform case management decision-making until the formal assessment information is received.

When administering the Participant Barriers questions as part of the WWP Informal Assessment, the W-2 worker must explain to the applicant or participant the purpose of the Participant Barriers questions and the type of follow-up services that may result from providing answers to the questions. It is critical that the W-2 worker explain the Participant Barriers questions using positive language that reinforces how the applicant or participant may benefit from answering the questions.

The W-2 worker must ask each of the Participant Barriers questions; however, the applicant or participant may decline to answer the questions on this page without risk of sanction or case closure. If the applicant or participant declines to answer a Participant Barriers question, the W-2 worker must indicate this in WWP by checking the corresponding refused box and move on to the next question.

If the applicant or participant indicates that any of the issues identified on the Participant Barriers page may impact his or her ability to participate in W-2, the FEP must document the barrier in WWP and refer the individual for formal assessment. The FEP must document the formal assessment referral date on the corresponding WWP Barrier Details page. If the individual declines the offer for formal assessment, the FEP must indicate that the referral was declined on the corresponding WWP Barrier Details page.

Due to the potential for safety risks, there are several exceptions to the instructions for the Participant Barriers questions and formal assessment referral specific to the Domestic Abuse Screen questions. The FEP must follow all instructions for administering the Domestic Abuse Screen in Section 5.6.1.

5.2.3.2 Required Timing for WWP Informal Assessment

The WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow is required to be completed and submitted prior to initial W-2 placement and each placement change. The WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow must always reflect the most recent and up-to-date information the W-2 worker has about the participant and his or her family. The FEP must revisit the informal assessment inventory as needed and edit the appropriate WWP Informal Assessment pages to document any reported changes as part of the ongoing case management process.

The FEP must also complete and submit the WWP Informal Assessment to aid in identifying potential barriers to gaining or maintaining employment or additional service needs:

- When the individual requests to have the WWP Informal Assessment questions reviewed;
- When the FEP is considering denying an initial extension for a 24-month placement time limit or the 48-month state lifetime limit and the WWP Informal Assessment has not been completed or updated within 12 calendar months prior to the participant's 24th or 48th month in an ongoing case. (See 2.10.6.5)

The FEP may also choose to complete the WWP Informal Assessment when there is reason to believe that reviewing the WWP Informal Assessment questions may help initiate conversation about a potential barrier that is affecting the participant's ability to work or participate in assigned activities.

5.2.3.3 WWP Informal Assessment with Two-Parent Households

If the W-2 group is a W-2 Two-Parent Household, the WWP Informal Assessment must be completed with each parent separately, unless both parents request the WWP Informal Assessment be completed with the other parent present. (See 14.2.1) An applicant or participant must never be asked to complete the Domestic Abuse Screen while his or her partner or any other individual is present. (See 5.6.1)

5.2.3.4 WWP Informal Assessment with Children Present

The WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow touches on sensitive topics that applicants and participants may not feel comfortable discussing in front of their children. When completing the WWP Informal Assessment, the W-2 agency must make the individual aware of child care options that may be used while completing the driver flow. If requested, the W-2 agency should assist with connecting the participant to these child care options before completing the informal assessment questions.

5.2.3.5 WWP Informal Assessment Notes and Details

The WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow also includes Notes and Details fields for the W-2 worker to document additional information on any entry or response that is not fully explained, or captures additional information gathered during the conversation that is pertinent to the case management process.

5.2.3.5.1 Documenting Confidential Information in WWP Informal Assessment Notes and Details

The W-2 worker must never enter confidential information in the WWP Notes and Details fields, with the exception of the Participant Barriers and Family Barriers pages. The Participant Barriers and Family Barriers pages prompt workers to ask questions about conditions that are considered confidential for purposes of the W-2 program and have security features to restrict access to these pages. See 4.2.2.1 for a listing of confidential information that must never be entered on WWP pages without the additional security protections.

History: Release 21-09.

5.3 Educational Needs Assessment

5.3.1 Educational Needs Assessment

The purpose of the educational needs assessment is to determine if the W-2 applicant or participant needs, or would benefit from, education and training activities:

1. A course of study meeting the standards established under Wis. Stat. s. 115.29 (4), for the granting of a declaration of equivalency of high school graduation;
2. Technical college courses;
3. Educational courses that provide an employment skill;
4. English as a second language (ESL) courses that the Wisconsin works agency determines would facilitate an individual's efforts to obtain employment;
5. Adult basic education courses, including literacy skills and remedial math and reading courses; and
6. Employer-sponsored training.

The W-2 agency is required to conduct an educational needs assessment with all new W-2 applicants and must reassess the participant for education and training needs before making a change in W-2 placement. The assessment must:

1. Identify the applicant or participant's current educational levels.
Agencies must use a standardized educational assessment tool to determine educational levels if the FEP determines an educational needs assessment is needed. TABE, BEST, and TABE/CLAS-E are standardized educational assessment tools supported in WWP.

The FEP must never delay eligibility determination and placement because completion of a standardized educational needs assessment tool is pending. If necessary to ensure timely placement, the FEP must use the best information available from the WWP Education History and Post-Secondary Education pages to fulfill the educational needs assessment requirement at application and inform the initial placement decision and EP.

For some applicants and participants, the self-reported information gathered through the WWP Informal Assessment Driver Flow may not accurately reflect current educational levels. When completion of a standardized educational needs assessment tool is necessary to determine or confirm the applicant or participant's current educational levels, the tool must be scheduled and documented in WWP within 30 days of placement. See 6.4 for information on assignment of activities in WWP.

For an individual who has demonstrated their reading and math skills through attainment of post-secondary education, a standardized educational assessment tool is not necessary. Postsecondary education includes completion of any coursework or education beyond high school such as a continuing education certificate, associate degree, or baccalaureate degree.

If a standardized assessment tool, such as TABE or BEST has been completed within the prior six months, the agency may use the results of that assessment to determine the applicant or participant's current educational level. It is not necessary to administer a new standardized educational assessment to the individual.

2. Determine the applicant or participant's education and training needs. In making this determination, the FEP must consider the following:

- a. The information gathered on the applicant or participant's current educational levels. The FEP must document this information on the appropriate WWP Informal Assessment pages (Education History, Post-Secondary Education), the WWP Test Scores Application, and in PIN comments.
- b. The level of education and training necessary to obtain full-time employment in the local labor market. The Department of Workforce Development maintains a website with Wisconsin labor market information at <https://jobcenterofwisconsin.com/wisconomy/>. From this website you can link to many useful resources, such as:
 - LMI – for Workforce Development Areas (WDA) at <https://jobcenterofwisconsin.com/wisconomy/>. This site covers the occupations in demand for each region and county in the state.
 - The Occupational Information Network (O*NET), at <http://online.onetcenter.org/>. This site provides comprehensive information on job requirements and worker competencies for employment sectors and occupations.
 - SkillExplorer at <http://skillexplorer.wisconsin.gov>. This site provides information on jobs that share similar skills, including typical education level required for entry, required training, and current openings searchable by location.
- c. The applicant or participant's program employment goals.

Program employment goals are shorter-term employment goals that can be achieved through participation in the W-2 program and are part of the EP. (See 6.1.1)

If the FEP determines that the individual is eligible for W-2 and he or she needs or would benefit from education or training activities, including a course of study meeting the standards established for the granting of a declaration of high school graduation, the education and training activities must be included in the individual's EP. See 8.3 for additional information on education and training activities.

EXAMPLE: Holly is found nonfinancially and financially eligible for W-2. During the WWP Informal Assessment, Holly reported that she has not completed high school and 11th grade is her last grade completed. Holly also tells the FEP she has had several brief job spells as a short-order cook and her long-term employment goal is to become a manager of a restaurant. However, all of her past employment has resulted in job terminations due to disputes with her supervisors. The FEP determines that Holly would be appropriate for a CSJ. Holly's initial EP includes activity hours for completing TABE testing. The TABE results indicate that Holly has a 10th grade reading comprehension level and an 8th grade math level. After completing the first week, she is assigned to 30 hours per week at a work experience site that combines food preparation experience with culinary skills training, which is expected to last about six weeks. In addition, Holly is assigned to eight hours per week of tutoring to prepare her for her GED.

If the applicant or participant refuses to complete an educational needs assessment, such as the TABE, and there is no other information available as to the individual's current math and reading comprehension level, the W-2 agency may proceed to work with the individual as though there are no literacy or numeracy barriers.

5.4 Career Assessment

5.4.1 Career Assessment Overview

Career assessment is a broad spectrum of assessment tools that W-2 agencies, applicants, and participants use to obtain greater awareness about an individual's work styles, skills, and interests. Results can be used to define a career path, assign meaningful activities, highlight strengths, identify training needs, and match the individual to employment opportunities.

More than one tool may be required to capture the three required elements:

- Work styles – Refers to an individual's patterns of action or conduct, such as attendance, punctuality, appropriate appearance, ability to work with others, obeying rules, following directions, and completing tasks. Work style-focused career assessments can demonstrate the individual's attitudes and job readiness.
- Skills – Refers to an individual's skills or understanding of specific tasks related to employment, like cooking or computer programming. Skills-focused career assessments can include knowledge, aptitude, and ability. Skills can relate to a particular occupation, as typically listed in a job announcement to describe the tasks of a position.
- Interests – Refers to an individual's likes of particular objects, activities, and values using the theory that people with the same career tend to have the same interests. Interest-focused career assessments help individuals identify work-related interests and find the types of careers that match. The results can be used to help individuals learn which careers they are most likely to enjoy.

Do not use educational needs assessment tools in place of career assessment tools. Use educational needs assessment tools in tandem with career assessment tools to identify the education and training needed to allow individuals to obtain employment that fits their work styles, skills, and interests. The results of both assessments complement each other and inform the EP development and assignment of meaningful activities. (See 5.1.2)

History: Release 19-07; Release 19-02; Release 11-06; Release 11-01.

5.4.2 Career Assessment at Application

FEPs must use informal assessment information when determining the initial placement for W-2 applicants. (See 7.1) While career assessment is a component of the informal assessment, FEPs are required to develop career goals with all W-2 participants using the information available at initial placement.

Career assessment must be offered to all applicants and assigned as an activity on the initial EP. If an applicant is new to W-2 or is re-applying and does not have a career assessment documented in WWP, a career assessment must be scheduled within 30 days of application and completed within 30 days of placement. If an applicant is not ready to identify a specific career field when the EP is initially developed, the focus of the program employment goal may be broadened to a field of interest or an industry sector. (See 6.1.1)

Because career assessment is not an eligibility requirement, the FEP must never delay eligibility determination and initial placement pending completion of a career assessment tool. The placement decision must be made using the best available information during the application timeframe. (See 1.4.4) The EP and W-2 placement may be adjusted later, if needed, when the career assessment results are received.

If an applicant has completed a career assessment that identifies work styles, skills, and interests, and wants to remain on the career path indicated by that assessment, or is already working in a career field available in the local labor market, another career assessment does not need to be done.

History: Release 20-03.

5.4.3 Using and Documenting Career Assessment Results

Career assessments and career exploration tools are used to help identify sectors, career pathways, training needs, and family-sustaining employment goals that match the results of the assessed work styles, skills, and interests. Career assessment tools can be administered throughout ongoing case management as an individual's skills, goals, and work readiness may change.

As an EP is developed, it is important to consider how the program employment goals fit into the applicant's or participant's longer-term career plan. Many industries have career pathways that enable employees to start in lower-skilled jobs and progress into increasingly higher paying jobs through training. The EP should identify any goals that are part of the individual's longer-term career plan. (See 6.1.1)

If a current participant does not have a career assessment documented in WWP, the career assessment must be scheduled within 30 days of an EP review and completed before the next EP review.

Assign Career Assessment as an activity on the EP. (See 6.4.1)

- Assign Activity Code UC (Up-front Career Planning) for applicants who receive up-front career planning services geared toward assessment of their career interests and guidance in the career planning process. This activity must be ended at time of W-2 placement.
- Assign Activity Code CE (Career Planning & Counseling) for participants who receive career planning and counseling services geared towards assessment of their career interests and guidance in the career planning process.
- Assign Activity Code OC (Occupational Testing) for participants engaged in occupational testing related to employment. For example, some employers may require a typing test for a clerical position.

Post career assessment results on the Career Assessment page in WWP, including related occupations and how the career assessment results are being applied to the EP and activities. The FEP must discuss career assessment results with the individual and give them the opportunity to provide input on their W-2 placement and the activities that are assigned as part of the EP.

Scan assessment results into the participant's Electronic Case File (ECF) using code WVAS.

5.5 Formal Assessment

5.5.1 Formal Assessment

5.5.1.1 When to Use a Formal Assessment

5.5.1.2 How to Use a Formal Assessment

A formal assessment is the process of establishing:

- The extent and severity of any disabilities or other conditions (e.g., domestic violence, learning needs, need to care for disabled child) that may interfere with normal functioning in an employment setting or with a persons' ability to meet W-2 program requirements;
- The effect of a disability or other potential Barrier on the person's capacity to obtain and maintain Unsubsidized Employment, participate in employment-related activities (e.g., work training activities or education) or otherwise meet W-2 program requirements;
- The need for supportive services, accommodations, auxiliary aids or communication assistance;
- The conditions under which the person is capable of employment or employment related activities;
- The need to make reasonable modifications to policies, practices and procedures when necessary to ensure equal opportunity for people with disabilities; and
- The appropriateness of specific assignments in the W-2 program.

The formal assessment process may include gathering information about the participant from one or more qualified assessment agencies or individuals.

5.5.1.1 When to Use a Formal Assessment

A FEP can determine the need for a formal assessment at any point; however, a formal assessment must be offered within thirty (30) calendar days of any of the following situations:

1. When an applicant or participant presents medical or other information, including the applicant's or participant's own statements that indicate they have a disability or other barrier to participation in the W-2 program or employment; or

2. When W-2 agency staff or contractors observe behavior that indicates the need for a formal assessment.

The FEP must offer a referral for a formal assessment in any of the following situations:

1. When a participant is placed in a W-2 T position. Participants placed in W-2 T must have a formal assessment scheduled and documented on the EP within 30 calendar days of placement into W-2 T; and
2. When the results of the WWP Informal Assessment indicates a need for further evaluation for identification of a disability or other barrier to participation in the W-2 program or employment.

Note: When a participant is referred for a formal assessment based on the information discussed during the WWP Informal Assessment, any relevant information must be shared with the assessing agency if the participant agrees to sign a release of information.

When offering a formal assessment, the FEP must:

1. Document the formal assessment referral date on the WWP Participant Barrier Details or in the Family Barriers page;
2. Open a FA -- Formal Assessment Pending status for participants who agree to a formal assessment (see 6.4.1); and
3. Have a formal assessment activity scheduled and documented on the EP within 30 calendar days of the referral date indicated on the corresponding WWP Participant Barrier Details or Family Barriers page.

The FEP can document the results on the Participant Barrier Details page without having to add an activity on the EP when:

- The individual has an acceptable previously completed assessment; or
- The individual obtains the assessment without informing the FEP that they scheduled the appointment.

FEPs should consider a formal assessment acceptable if completed within one year prior to the WWP Informal Assessment or W-2 T placement. It may be necessary for the W-2 agency to follow-up with the agency or individual who completed the assessment to interpret the assessment results and determine if any new treatment is being explored. If the prior formal assessment results have an expiration date that indicates the results are no longer valid or there is reason to believe the formal assessment information does not reflect the participant's current circumstances, then a new formal assessment must be completed.

Results from a prior formal assessment may only be used if the assessment contains the necessary elements and is relevant to the employment barrier in question. For example, if a formal assessment completed eight months ago evaluated the need for AODA services, but the potential employment barrier indicated in the WWP Informal Assessment relates to learning needs, then a new formal assessment must be completed.

5.5.1.2 How to Use a Formal Assessment

The FEP must use the W-2 Formal Assessment Agreement (2565) to help explain to the applicant or participant the purpose of the formal assessment and the type of follow-up services and activities that may result from completing it. It is critical that the FEP explain the formal assessment process using positive language that reinforces how the applicant or participant may benefit from completing it. Through the discussion, the applicant or participant must be made aware that assessment results will enable the individual and his or her FEP to make informed decisions about:

- his or her W-2 placement;
- his or her employment goals and the activities that will help reach those goals;
- his or her ability to engage in training and education; and
- any special services and work site accommodations that he or she may need.

The applicant or participant must indicate at the bottom of the agreement his or her decision to complete or decline a formal assessment.

The FEP must use the best information available from an informal assessment to initially place an individual in an employment position when a formal assessment is pending. Participating in a formal assessment may be counted as participation in an employment position. The FEP must document all formal assessment information in WWP utilizing the WWP Participant Barriers and Family Barriers pages, the FA Status, and the EP, including PIN comments, as appropriate.

Within 30 days after receiving the results of the formal assessment, the FEP must make necessary adjustments to the participant's placement and revise the EP based on the formal assessment. The services and accommodations that are recommended in the formal assessment to help a participant succeed in a work setting must be incorporated into the participant's EP.

This may include:

- Obtaining needed medical treatment or counseling;

- Receiving needed services from other providers in the community;
- Ensuring participants have the necessary services, reasonable modifications and accommodations to successfully engage in assigned W-2 activities; and
- Working with employers to put needed accommodations into place for participants making the transition to unsubsidized employment.

As part of the process of revising the EP, the FEP must:

1. Provide the participant with a written description of any needed services, activities, and reasonable modifications or accommodations using the form, Services and Accommodations To Help You Do Your W-2 Activities (2564). If the FEP does not incorporate all of the recommended accommodations or modifications into the participant's EP, the FEP must document on the corresponding WWP Participant Barrier page the reason(s) the recommendation(s) were not incorporated. Any placement change based on a formal assessment must also be discussed with the participant and the participant's EP must be updated accordingly.
2. Advise the W-2 education, training or work site providers of any needed reasonable modifications or accommodations to the W-2 education, training or worksite. The W-2 agency must monitor the participant's performance at the W-2 education, training or work site to ensure that previously specified services, modifications, or accommodations identified in the EP are provided.

History: Release 22-05; Release 21-07; Release 20-03; Release 19-02.

5.5.2 Qualified Assessing Agency

Formal assessments must be completed by one or more qualified assessing agencies or individuals. A professional qualified to perform a formal assessment may include: a medical or mental health professional, social worker, psychologist, neuro-psychologist, Division of Vocational Rehabilitation counselor or similar qualified assessing agency or individual. Characteristics required of the assessing agency or individual include:

- Demonstrates a competency or successful completion of training in the appropriate field and is certified by an appropriate accreditation organization.
- Demonstrates an understanding of the objectives of the assessment based on W-2 referral information, referral questions, the initial interview and stated purpose of the evaluation.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

5.5.3 Necessary Elements

The qualified assessing agency must provide an individualized written assessment that enables the FEP to adapt W-2 activities to accommodate the needs of the participant. The assessment must include at a minimum, the following elements:

1. Personal conditions/diagnosis that impact ability to function in activities of daily living and the ability to perform work;
2. Functional abilities
3. Functional limitations related to employment and employability, and implications of those limitations on finding and maintaining employment;
4. General aptitude/cognitive level (applicable for formal assessments related to learning needs and traumatic brain injury);
5. Areas of deficit;
6. Range of recommended reasonable modifications and accommodations /assistive technology for the participant's EP (i.e., both work training under W-2 and in unsubsidized employment);
7. The ability to engage in training and education;
8. Recommended reassessment date; and
9. Summary of findings, including rationale for any disability determinations/diagnosis; prognosis; and recommendations for additional services, as appropriate.

The FEP must offer assistance to the participant when requesting a formal assessment. Selecting the appropriate assessing agency or individual is critical to the success of the participant. In some instances, a participant may need to be referred for multiple assessments if he or she is identified as being at-risk for two or more disabilities or conditions.

Those participants whose WWP Informal Assessment results indicate the potential for a particular disability or condition must be referred to an appropriate provider for formal assessment. Once completed, all formal assessment information must be documented on the WWP Barrier Details page.

History: Release 19-02.

5.5.4 Obtaining a Complete Assessment

The process for gathering formal assessment information will vary depending on the medical condition or employment barrier being addressed:

1. For a learning or cognitive disability the case worker may need to specify in writing to the assessing agency what type of information is needed. This may include:
 - A specific diagnosis;
 - Test findings that document both the nature and severity of the disability;
 - Any limitations to learning or other major life activities resulting from the disability and the degree to which it impacts the individual in the context of learning;
 - The impact the diagnosed learning or cognitive disability has on a specific major life activity;
 - Specific recommendations for accommodations as well as an explanation as to why each accommodation is recommended.
2. For a mental health condition and/or AODA, assessment information may be gathered using the Mental Health Report (126) form. If the assessment information is collected through other methods such as a written evaluation developed by the assessing agency, it is important that the document covers the same content as the Mental Health Report to ensure that the caseworker is receiving adequate information to make case management decisions with the participant.
3. For other types of medical conditions, assessment information may be gathered using the Medical Examination & Capacity (2012) form. Conditions that could be appropriately documented with the Medical Examination & Capacity form may include, but are not limited to:
 - Short-term medical conditions and injuries that may require surgery, medical treatment and/or physical rehabilitation;
 - Pregnancies;
 - Long-term medical conditions which may be disabling, such as multiple sclerosis, fibromyalgia, arthritis; and
 - When a participant presents him or herself as unable to participate due to a medical problem(s), but the individual is unable or unwilling to articulate the medical condition.

4. When the barrier is related to the care for another household member, the Need to Care for Disabled Family Member (10786) form must be used to gather the needed information. (See 7.4.2) Although the information gathered with this form does not contain all of the required elements of a formal assessment, it will serve as documentation of the need for the individual to be the sole provider of care when the individual is placed in a W-2 T and assigned to care for another member of the W-2 Group who is ill or incapacitated. Record family barriers, including caretaking responsibilities, on the Family Barriers page in the WWP Informal Assessment. Document non-confidential information in PIN comments.

When a participant has both a mental health condition and another type of medical condition and both conditions are potential barriers to employment that require formal assessment, the agency may need to request that the Mental Health Report (126) and the Medical Examination & Capacity (2012) are both completed by the appropriate service providers.

History: Release 20-04; Release 19-02.

5.5.5 Inadequate or Conflicting Formal Assessment Information

When obtaining formal assessment information for a participant with a medical or mental health condition, the W-2 agency should consult initially with the provider who is treating the participant for the condition. If the documentation provided does not contain information needed to determine an appropriate placement or necessary accommodations for the participant, the W-2 agency may refer the participant to another service provider for an independent assessment. (See 5.5.3)

If assessment information is gathered from multiple sources, and there is conflicting information about the medical condition or what services or accommodations are needed to address the condition, the agency should use the information from the provider who has provided an independent assessment.

If multiple service providers are each treating the participant for different medical conditions, e.g., one is treating for a back problem and the other is treating for a mental health condition, and they provide different opinions about the accommodations that are needed, the FEP must assign activities and provide needed accommodations based on both assessments.

History: Release 14-03.

5.5.6 Paying for Formal Assessment

When the cost of a needed assessment is not covered by a third-party source, such as Medicaid, the W-2 agency is responsible for paying for the participant's assessment.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

5.5.7 Payment Reductions

Under the ADA, an individual cannot be required to disclose that he or she has a disability or be required to participate in a separate program for disabled individuals. W-2 agencies must comply with this federal law when assigning activities to W-2 participants. A participant must be given the opportunity to disclose a disability or other barrier to participate in the W-2 program or employment before payment reductions are imposed. The following W-2 policies provide these assurances to participants:

1. W-2 payment reduction cannot be imposed on a participant for declining to complete a formal assessment.
2. A participant placed in W-2 T or CSJ who has agreed to and is referred for a formal assessment may not receive a payment reduction for any assigned activity until:
 - a. The formal assessment results are received by the W-2 agency and the formal assessment activity has been ended on the EP; or
 - b. The W-2 agency has determined that the participant will not comply with the formal assessment referral (see 5.5.8.2) and the status and/or activity has been ended.

After the formal assessment activity has been completed on the EP and the FEP, in consultation with the participant, has made necessary adjustments to the participant's EP, the individual may receive a payment reduction for failing to participate in assigned W-2 activities without good cause. This may include an activity recommended by the qualified assessing agency such as mental health counseling or physical therapy.

History: Release 22-05; Release 21-07; Release 19-02.

5.5.8 When Formal Assessment is Not Completed

5.5.8.1 When a Formal Assessment is Declined

5.5.8.2 When a Formal Assessment is Not Completed for W-2 T Participants

The participant's self-report of a barrier, or a service provider's statement as to the inability to participate which does not meet the definition of a formal assessment, is not sufficient by itself to confirm the existence of a barrier. However, this information must be considered as part of the process of assessing for barriers to participation in W-2 or employment. The agency must use this information in conjunction with a formal assessment and other substantiating information (e.g., behavioral cues, low TABE score, pattern of nonparticipation without good cause) to make a factual determination of a barrier.

EXAMPLE: Jean submits an application for W-2. During the initial informal assessment meeting, Jean states that she cannot engage in any type of W-2 activities because she has severe back pain. She gives the FEP a note from her physician written on a prescription sheet. The note states that Jean cannot participate in any W-2 activities. The FEP explains to Jean that a formal assessment is needed in order to fully understand how Jean's medical condition affects her ability to participate in W-2.

Together, the FEP and Jean review the W-2 Formal Assessment Agreement and Jean indicates at the bottom of the agreement that she will obtain a formal assessment. Jean is given the Medical Examination & Capacity form to bring to her physician. The FEP follows up with a phone call to Jean's physician to explain what the Medical Examination & Capacity form is and why a full formal assessment is needed.

Meanwhile, the FEP has all of the needed documentation and verification to determine eligibility for W-2 and places Jean in a W-2 T While waiting for the results of the formal assessment.

5.5.8.1 When a Formal Assessment is Declined

If the participant declines a formal assessment and there are unresolved factual issues as to the participant's barrier, the W-2 agency should proceed to work with the individual as though they do not have a barrier to participation in the W-2 program or employment.

If the participant declines a formal assessment, the FEP must continue to informally assess and revisit the importance of cooperating with assessment at each review of the participant's EP.

EXAMPLE: Naomi is applying for W-2. While completing the initial informal assessment, she tells her FEP that she has chronic migraine headaches and she will have to miss her work activities whenever the headaches flair up. The FEP explains to Naomi that a formal assessment completed by her physician will help determine what services and accommodations will help Naomi with W-2 participation.

Together, the FEP and Naomi review the W-2 Formal Assessment Agreement. After reviewing the agreement, Naomi states that she does not want to obtain a formal assessment and she indicates on the agreement that she is declining to complete a formal assessment. As a result, the FEP has no substantiating information about Naomi's migraines to determine the extent to which Naomi's medical condition will impact her ability to participate and no information regarding the types of services and accommodations that Naomi needs.

Unless other information comes to light the FEP must proceed to work with Naomi as though she does not have a barrier to participation in the W-2 program or employment.

The FEP should continue to watch Naomi's case closely for a pattern of nonparticipation without good cause and re-offer a formal assessment when appropriate.

5.5.8.2 When a Formal Assessment is Not Completed for W-2 T Participants

Completion of a formal assessment for W-2 T participants is necessary to make the determination that the individual is not ready for unsubsidized employment and unable to successfully participate in one of the other W-2 employment positions. (See 7.4.2) FEPs must offer assistance in obtaining the formal assessment throughout the entire process including:

1. Referring to the appropriate assessing agency(s);
2. Requesting a formal assessment;
3. Attending or rescheduling an appointment with the assessing agency if an individual is having difficulty; or
4. Obtaining a formal assessment from the assessing agency if an individual is having difficulty.

FEPs must document in PIN comments any assistance offered or provided in obtaining the formal assessment.

If the individual is making attempts to complete the assessment and has been unsuccessful due to reasons outside of their control, they are cooperating with the assessment referral process and FEPs should continue to offer assistance as needed. If the W-2 agency has determined that the participant is not complying with the formal assessment referral, the W-2 agency should work with the individual as though they do not have a barrier to participation in the W-2 program or employment and determine an alternate placement.

History: Release 22-05.

5.6 Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault

5.6.1 Domestic Abuse Screening

The Domestic Abuse Screen section of the WWP Participant Barriers page helps the W-2 worker and Applicant or Participant determine if referrals for a domestic abuse assessment and services are needed. The W-2 agency must also allow an individual to voluntarily and confidentially disclose that he or she is or has been a victim of domestic abuse or is at risk of further domestic abuse.

The W-2 worker must only ask the Domestic Abuse Screen questions if it is safe to ask. An applicant or participant must never be asked to complete the Domestic Abuse Screen while his or her partner is present, or if there are any other individuals present, including children. In addition, if an applicant or participant voluntarily discloses that he or she is or has been a victim of domestic abuse or is at further risk of domestic abuse, he or she is not required to be screened.

If the W-2 worker determines that it is safe to ask the Domestic Abuse Screen questions, the W-2 worker must first read the initial statement to the applicant or participant as it is written. The W-2 worker must also read each screening question to the participant exactly as it is written in WWP.

The applicant or participant may decline to answer any or all of the Domestic Abuse Screen questions without risk of sanction or case closure. If the applicant or participant declines to answer a screening question, the W-2 worker must indicate the refusal in WWP. The applicant or participant may also decline to complete the remaining questions at any time during the screening. If this happens, the W-2 worker must leave the remaining questions blank.

The applicant or participant may request to revisit the screening questions at any time. The W-2 agency may also administer the Domestic Abuse Screen at any time that the W-2 worker has reason to believe that the participant may need domestic abuse services.

One or more “yes” answers in response to the Domestic Abuse Screen questions may indicate the need to refer the applicant or participant to local domestic abuse and/or sexual assault services for safety planning, counseling or housing needs. (See 5.6.2)

History: Release 19-01.

Release 23-05

5.6.2 Domestic Abuse and Sexual Assault Services Information and Referral

A referral to a local domestic abuse and/or sexual assault agency may be made as a result of how the applicant or participant responded to the Domestic Abuse Screen or as a result of the W-2 worker's informal observations and discussions with the applicant or participant. (See 5.6.1)

If a FEP or other W-2 agency employee identifies a participant, or a participant self-identifies, as a past or present victim of sexual assault or domestic abuse or as being at risk of domestic abuse, the FEP or other W-2 agency employee must provide information on community-based sexual assault and domestic abuse services.

Information must be provided on shelter and other programs for battered individuals, sexual assault provider services, medical services, sexual assault nurse examiners services, domestic abuse and sexual assault hotlines, legal and medical counseling and advocacy, mental health care, counseling and support groups.

The FEP must talk to the participant about these services and offer a resource list in writing that the participant may take with them. If a participant wishes to receive a referral to counseling or to a supportive service provider, the FEP or other W-2 agency employee must also make a referral to the appropriate local agency. The participant may choose to decline the referral. The participant may not be penalized for declining or opting out of the referral.

The FEP must also make the individual's case confidential in CWW when the individual is a victim of or is under the threat of domestic violence or other physical harm. (See 4.5.2)

History: Release 19-02.

5.6.3 Work Place Safety for Domestic Abuse Victims

When developing or modifying the EP, the FEP must take into consideration the results of the Domestic Abuse Screen and any follow-up assessment information to ensure the participant is not at-risk of violence by a partner while the participant is engaging in assigned W-2 activities. Consideration should be given to time of day, location and on-sight supervision for each activity.

History: Release 19-02.

5.7 Sharing Information with SSA

5.7.1 Sharing Information with SSA

The Mental Health Report (126) and the Medical Examination & Capacity (2012) may be used as a communication tool between SSA and the W-2 agency on SSI or SSDI applications. The form can be shared with SSA at any point in the application or appeal process as long as the FEP obtains a written release of information from the participant.

The participant can complete a release of information form from the W-2 agency or hand write a note that grants permission for the FEP to contact SSA. A release of information allows the FEP to obtain information but it does not give the FEP authority to automatically get appointment letters or decision notices regarding a W-2 participant's case.

If information contained on either the Mental Health Report (126) or the Medical Examination & Capacity (2012) conflicts with SSA's decision, the FEP may need to follow up with both SSA and the provider to obtain correct information. Conflicting decisions can be detrimental to participants who are seen as completely restricted from activity by the provider and deemed able to work by the SSA.

For more information on assisting a participant with the SSI application process. (See 7.4.3)

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

06 Employability Plan

6.1 Employability Plan Overview

6.1 Employability Plan Overview

An Employability Plan (EP) is a written agreement developed jointly by the FEP and the applicant or participant. However, the RS may write the initial EP during the W-2 application period if the applicant is assigned up-front job search.

The EP is a single written document outlining how an applicant or participant will achieve a specific employment goal or, if appropriate, a goal to obtain SSI and/or SSDI benefits. The EP details what the individual will do through their participation in the program to achieve that goal and how the W-2 agency will assist.

The EP must be developed using the information gathered through the assessment process. (See 5.1.1 and 5.1.2) The worker uses information from the assessment process to build the plan around the applicant's or participant's:

- Strengths, interests and aptitudes, and needs;
- Prior education and work history;
- Strategies to overcome barriers to employment identified through informal and formal assessment;
- Assignment of work and training activities to achieve the employment goal; and
- Length of time remaining in the W-2 program. (See 6.1.1)

Each time an EP is developed or changed, it must be filled out in WWP, the applicant or participant must be given the opportunity to sign the EP, and provided a copy of the completed EP. If the applicant or participant refuses to sign the EP, the agreement is still considered binding because the individual committed themselves to W-2 participation when signing the W-2 Participation Agreement.

The EP must be developed with all applicants assigned to Up-Front Job Search (see 2.9.2) and with all participants who are assigned to any of the following:

- A TEMP, TSP, CSJ, or W-2 T placement;
- A CMU, CMF, CMF+, CMD, CMJ, or CMN placement;
- A CMC, CMP, ARP, or CMM placement only in circumstances where the participant has volunteered to participate in activities as part of the W-2 program; and
- A second parent in a two-parent household who participates in W-2 activities. (See Chapter 14)

Learnfare Case Management plans, which are similar to EPs, are developed for children age 6 to 17 whose parent is placed in a W-2 employment position and who are required or volunteer to participate in case management for Learnfare. (Children not enrolled in school, minor parents, dropouts, returning dropouts, habitual truants, and a child whose W-2 group includes a participant who has been unable to participate in required assigned activities due to the child's school-related problems are required to participate in case management.) (See 16.3.4)

6.1.1 Parts of the Employability Plan

6.1.1.1 Goals

6.1.1.2 Employments

6.1.1.3 Activities

6.1.1.4 Supportive Services

The EP consists of four parts:

1. Goals (see 6.1.1.1);
2. Employments (see 6.1.1.2);
3. Activities (see 6.1.1.3); and
4. Supportive Services (see 6.1.1.4).

6.1.1.1 Goals

This section of the EP lists goals developed jointly between the FEP and the applicant or participant using assessment results. For each goal added to the EP, goal steps document smaller, specific actions the applicant or participant can take to reach the goal.

The types of goals available on the EP are:

1. Primary and Secondary Employment Goals:

Shorter term employment goals that can be achieved through participation in the W-2 program. The Primary and Secondary Employment Goals should be based on:

- a. The applicant's or participant's strengths, skills, work styles, interests, and needs. Consideration should be given to the individuals' prior work experience, prior education and training, and assessments (e.g., educational needs assessment, career assessments, vocational evaluation/assessments, or other formal assessments).
- b. What can realistically be achieved through participation in the W-2 program. Consideration must be given to all types of activities that may enable the applicant or participant to achieve his or her goal including, but not limited to, job search/job readiness activities, work experience, educational activities, job skills training and technical college participation. (See W-2 Manual Appendix - Activity Codes)

- c. Industry and employment opportunities in the local labor market. The FEP must review relevant labor market data to determine if employment goals are in line with the local labor market. Wisconsin's WisConomy and the Job Centers of Wisconsin are excellent resources for labor market information. Skill Explorer may be used to align participants' skills, interests, and needs with occupations.
- d. Length of time remaining in the W-2 program. Immediate engagement in meaningful activities positions participants to achieve the best outcomes possible within the time limits of the W-2 program. If the applicant or participant is nearing a time limit, types of activities must reflect an increased focus on transitioning from the W-2 program.

If the applicant or participant is not ready to identify a specific occupation when the goals are initially developed, the focus of the goal may be broadened to a field of interest or an industry sector. Career assessments and career exploration tools should be used to help identify sectors, career pathways, training needs, and family-sustaining employment goals that may match the results of the assessed work styles, skills, and interests.

2. Other Program Goal:

Concrete short-term goals or outcomes the applicant or participant must achieve through W-2 participation in order to move in the direction of his or her employment goal. This may involve completing education or training courses or acquiring work experience in his or her field of interest. It may also involve overcoming a barrier to employment through assigned activities such as physical rehabilitation, treatment or counseling.

3. Long-Term Career Goal:

Goals that are part of the individual's longer-term career plan. As the EP is developed, it is important to consider how the program employment goals and Other Program Goals fit into the applicant's or participant's longer-term career plan. Many industries have career pathways that enable employees to start in lower-skilled jobs and progress into increasingly higher paying jobs through training.

4. Personal Goals

The applicant's or participant's personal goals are additional goals that are not required for W-2 program participation. They are goals set by the individual that will strengthen the family and empower the individual to achieve their employment goals. Examples of personal goals include:

- Addressing child and family relationship problems;
- Involvement in support groups;
- Moving to a safer neighborhood;
- Weight-loss and exercise regimens; and
- Purchasing a home.

6.1.1.2 Employments

This section of the EP lists the applicant or participant's current employment(s) added from the Work History page in WWP, including average weekly hours. Average weekly hours and an individual's work schedule must be considered when scheduling other activities to include in the EP.

For Federal Work Participation, hours count as "Core."

6.1.1.3 Activities

The applicant's or participant's program activity plan portion of the EP includes the specific program activities the individual will undertake to achieve the primary employment goal. The full list of activities that may be assigned under W-2 are found in the W-2 Manual Appendix - Activity Codes.

The activity portion of the EP, must include the following detail for each assigned activity:

1. The activity to be completed.
2. An activity description to ensure that the applicant or participant fully understands what the activity involves.
3. The provider of service and activity location.
4. The activity schedule(s). This includes a planned begin and end date, the specific days of the week, and the specific number of hours on each day that the activity is assigned.
5. Any additional remarks to assist the applicant or participant.

6.1.1.4 Supportive Services

This section of the EP includes the supportive services the W-2 agency will provide the applicant or participant to assist in completing the W-2 activities included in the EP.

Examples of supportive services include:

- Onsite Child Care;
- Education/Training Funding;
- Transportation Funding;
- Work-Related Clothing;
- Work-Related Equipment; and
- Gift Cards
- Other

6.1.2 How Formal Assessment Impacts the Employability Plan

The FEP must make necessary adjustments to the participant's placement and revise the EP based on the formal assessment within 30 days after receiving the results of the formal assessment. The participant's EP must be modified to include the services and accommodations that are recommended in the formal assessment to help a participant succeed in a work setting. (See 5.5.1.2)

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

6.2 Employability Plan Development and Review

6.2.1 Developing the Employability Plan

The EP is developed through a collaborative process between the FEP and the applicant or participant taking into consideration the individual's personal strengths and barriers identified through assessment. It details what the individual will do to reach his or her employment goal (or goal to obtain SSI/SSDI) and what the W-2 program will do to assist in that effort. When the applicant or participant has a role in developing the EP, he or she will be more committed to completing the plan and working towards the employment (or SSI/SSDI) outcome.

When appropriate, the applicant's or participant's family members may also provide input. In a two-parent household, a meeting with each parent must be conducted to assess total family strengths and determine which parent is more appropriate for W-2 placement. (See Chapter 14)

Before placing a W-2 participant into an employment position or case management placement (see 6.1), an EP must be developed during a meeting between the FEP and the participant (see 1.4.2.3).

When the meeting occurs via phone or video call, the FEP must send a signed copy of the final EP to the participant.

If the agency has attempted but is unable to connect with a participant transitioning from a paid placement to a CMF or CMF+ by phone, the agency may change the placement to CMF or CMF+ prior to the EP appointment. (See 7.2.3.5.3).

When this occurs, the agency must send an updated EP to ensure that the individual has in his or her possession an EP that aligns with the changes in activities. The EP end date must be 30 days after the date the CMF or CMF+ placement started on the new EP. This will give the participant the option to complete an EP appointment within 30 days or allow W-2 to close for noncooperation with program requirements.

The EP must be developed for a duration of no more than 6 months. The EP may be updated during that timeframe to reflect any changes in assignment of activities, however, under no circumstances can the FEP change the activities in the EP without first discussing the change(s) with the participant.

Each time an EP is developed or changed, it must be filled out in WWP, and the applicant or participant must be given the opportunity to sign the EP, and provided a copy of the completed EP. If the applicant or participant refuses to sign the EP, the agreement is still considered binding because the individual made a commitment to participate in assigned activities when signing the W-2 Participation Agreement.

History: Release 22-05; Release 21-07; Release 18-02; Release 11-05.

6.2.2 Employability Plan Review

An EP review must occur at a minimum once every six months and be scheduled to occur before the date the EP ends. EP reviews may occur more frequently as needed, particularly if the participant is nearing a time limit.

The purpose of an EP review is to discuss with the participant their goals and currently assigned activities and determine if adjustments are needed to help move the individual towards their employment goal.

The EP review must be completed during a meeting (see 1.4.2.3) between the FEP and the participant so the participant has the opportunity to provide input into the development of the EP and understands what is expected of them.

When an EP review is conducted by phone or video call, the EP must be sent to the participant. The worker must document in PIN comments how the EP was distributed and the date it was distributed.

If an EP review does not occur before the date the EP is set to expire because the participant fails to keep an EP review appointment without good cause, the W-2 agency may close the case for noncooperation with program requirements. (See 11.4)

History: Release 22-05; Release 21-07; Release 20-03; Release 17-02; Release 11-05.

6.2.3 Coordination with Other Programs

6.2.3.1 DVR Collaboration in Employability Plan Development

When developing the EP, the FEP and applicant or participant should consider and incorporate input from other programs the individual is connected with such as the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) program, the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR), the Wisconsin Technical College System (WTCS), the Refugee Assistance Employment and Training Program, mental health, child welfare safety services, housing, domestic violence and AODA programs.

EXAMPLE: Monica is working with a domestic violence victim program. Her advocate there is helping her find housing. Monica also attends weekly group counseling sessions and brings her daughter to individual counseling sessions every other week. Monica has signed the form Authorization for Disclosure of Confidential Information (10779) allowing her FEP to consult with her DV advocate and counseling professionals as needed. In developing her EP, Monica's FEP incorporates her housing search and domestic violence activities.

W-2 agencies are required to work with local Job Center partner agencies to jointly serve persons under the Job Center network delivery model. Applicants or participants should be encouraged to seek out opportunities for dual enrollment in other Job Center programs such as Job Service/Labor Exchange Services, WIOA and DVR and take advantage of all resources available through the Job Center system. Any activities included in the W-2 applicant's or participant's EP must conform with W-2 policy.

Working cooperatively with local partner agencies on EP development reduces duplication of effort across work programs and maximizes the resources available to the applicant or participant. Therefore, the FEP should consult with other Job Center agencies as appropriate when developing the W-2 EP. However, W-2 agency staff must ensure that a W-2 EP is attached to any jointly developed EP since this is the primary EP document for W-2 applicants or participants.

6.2.3.1 DVR Collaboration in Employability Plan Development

Through a collaborative effort with DVR, a DVR counselor may provide employment planning consultation for a W-2 participant with a disability. W-2 participants are not required to be enrolled in the DVR program to receive this service. For these W-2 participants, DVR may provide technical assistance in the development of the W-2 employability plan using the recommendations from a disability or vocational assessment. This technical assistance may include:

- Recommending work and/or training activities to help move the participant towards employment in the local labor market; or
- Identifying specific disability accommodations and/or assistive technology to make work and/or training accessible to a participant.

When an individual is co-enrolled in the W-2 and DVR programs, the W-2 case manager and the DVR counselor should coordinate the W-2 Employability Plan and the DVR Individual Plan for Employment (IPE). (See W-2 Manual Appendix - W-2/DVR Technical Assistance Guide)

History: Release 21-07.

6.3 Special Policies For Assignment of Activities

6.3.1 Travel Time

Workers must use the following guidance to determine when travel time should be included as part of the assignment of hours.

1. When two or more activities are assigned for the same day, the travel time (if any) between the two activities may be counted toward hours of participation. Travel time to the first activity and the time spent returning home after the last activity cannot be counted towards hours of participation.
2. When Employment Search (ES) is assigned, the travel time between interviews may be counted toward hours of participation. Travel time to the first job interview and the time spent returning home after the last one cannot be counted.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

6.3.2 W-2 Work Participation Documentation, Verification and Supervision

The Federal TANF Regulations require states to have work verification procedures for all individuals receiving cash assistance through the TANF program. These procedures apply to:

- All W-2 participants who are in a CSJ or W-2 T placement;
- Individuals in the CMC and ARP placements who are voluntarily participating in activities; and
- W-2 participants in the CMF+ placement who are working in unsubsidized employment and must meet federal work participation requirements to be eligible for supplemental payment.

The TANF Regulations are explicit in requiring that all hours of work participation be supervised, documented and verified. (See W-2 Manual Appendix - TANF Work Participation Requirements)

History: Release 18-02.

6.3.3 Making Up Missed Hours of Participation

There may be times, when the participant's work schedule fluctuates due to the need to make up work hours missed earlier in the week. When the participant makes up the missed hours in the same week they were scheduled (Sunday – Saturday), FEPs must record in WWP by entering the Make-Up hours. If the participant misses hours of participation for a day, and does not make up those missed hours at some point during the week in which they were assigned, all remaining missed hours will be calculated as nonparticipation and the good cause policy must be applied when appropriate. (See 11.2)

History: Release 21-07.

6.4 Assignment of Activities

6.4.1 Participation Statuses

Participation Statuses represent factors that may impact an individual's EP activity assignments in W-2. FEPs must take these factors into consideration when developing the EP. While not part of the EP, they are displayed in WWP on the left side navigation menu when creating and reviewing current EPs. Participation Statuses do not have scheduled hours associated with them and do not require participation tracking.

The following are available statuses to report for W-2 participants:

1. CD – Caring for Disabled Child (Valid for W-2)
 Report this status when an individual is providing care to a dependent child with a disability or incapacitation. Documentation of the need for the participant to be the sole provider of care must be provided by using the form Need to Care for Disabled Family Member (10786) or an agency-developed form that, at a minimum, has the same elements. (See 7.4.2.1 #2)
 Reporting this status will exclude the participant from Federal Work Participation calculations.
2. CF– Caring for Other Family Member (Valid for W-2)
 Report this status when an individual is providing care to an adult W-2 Group member with a disability or incapacitation. Documentation of the need for the participant to be the sole provider of care must be provided by using the form Need to Care for Disabled Family Member (10786) or an agency-developed form that, at a minimum, has the same elements. (See 7.4.2.1 #2)
 Reporting this status will exclude the participant from Federal Work Participation calculations.
3. EC – Child Care for Employment Skills Training (2 year) (Valid for W-2)
 Report this status when a W-2 participant is receiving up to two years of FEP authorized child care to enable the participant to engage in voluntary educational and training activities.
4. EI – Employer Intervention Services (Valid for W-2 and Learnfare)
 Report this status when services are it is directed at the employer to facilitate the resolution of job retention barriers faced by the participant. These services could include:
 - Enhancing communication channels between the employer and participant,

- Employer counseling,
- Suggesting acceptable work-site accommodations, and
- Other on-site interventions with the employer.

Note: This status is used to record employer intervention services provided by the W-2 agency. To record employment retention activities required by the participant, use the Job Retention Services (JR) activity code on the individual's EP.

5. FA – Formal Assessment Pending

Report this status when an individual placed in a W-2 T or CSJ who has agreed to and is referred for a formal assessment but has not yet completed the assessment. Participants will not receive any payment reduction for nonparticipation that is recorded for any assigned activities on days with this status open. (See 5.5.7)

6. SD– SS(D)I Advocacy/Application

Report this status when the W-2 participant is in the process of applying for SSI or SSDI and the W-2 agency or another provider is providing related services. Examples include meeting with an SSI advocate or attorney, working with the FEP on filling out the SSI forms, attending hearings, etc.

History: Release 21-07.

07 Placements

7.1 Introduction

7.1 Introduction

When determining the initial placement for W-2 applicants, FEPs must use all of the information gathered from the:

- Informal assessment (see 5.2);
- Educational Needs Assessment (see 5.3);

- Any Career Assessment results that identify work styles, skills, and interests (see 5.4);
- Progress made in up-front job search, if assigned (see 2.9.2); and
- Results of any other Vocational Evaluation/Assessment or formal assessments (see 5.1.1).

When making initial placements, FEP must also:

- Discuss and review the factors impacting the placement decision with the applicant;
- Never delay placement because a formal assessment is pending (see 5.1.1.2), and
- Document the reasons for the placement decision in PIN comments.

FEPs are required to provide ongoing case management which includes periodic reassessment of the current placement. Depending on circumstances at the time, the individual's appropriateness for a particular placement may change. Participants must always be placed at the highest level of participation possible.

The W-2 program has the placement options described in this chapter. Some placements are specifically for applicants and others are specifically for ongoing participants.

History: Release 20-03; Release 19-07; Release 19-02; Release 17-01.

7.2 Unpaid Placements

7.2.1 Unpaid Placements

Employment is the primary goal of the W-2 program. Ideally, all W-2 participants end up in a placement related to unsubsidized employment.

The following three placements are related to unsubsidized employment:

- CMU is for employed applicants,
- CMF or CMF+ is for participants who obtain unsubsidized employment while in W-2, and
- CMJ is for individuals who are unemployed but are ready for unsubsidized employment.

Participants placed in case management positions are not subject to the 48-month federal TANF lifetime limit or the 60-month state W-2 lifetime limit.

Participants placed in case management positions are required to cooperate with Child Support. (See 15.3.1) However, participants in case management positions do not have to assign a portion of the Child Support payments to the state. (See 15.1.1)

History: Release 21-09; Release 18-02.

7.2.2 Case Management Underemployed (CMU)

The CMU placement is for applicants entering the W-2 program who are working full-time or who are working part-time and who do not have any barriers to full-time employment. The goal of CMU is to give participants the assistance they need to stay employed and advance in their careers. FEPs may place applicants with farming and self-employment income in a CMU.

Participants may stay in CMU as long as they are working, do not have barriers to full-time employment, and meet financial and nonfinancial eligibility requirements. FEPs must not place marginally employed applicants in a CMU. Depending on the individual's specific circumstances, the agency may place a marginally employed applicant in a W-2 T, CSJ, or pro-rated CSJ placement.

CMU is not for ongoing W-2 participants who find employment. The appropriate placements for these individuals are CMF or CMF+. (See 7.2.3)

History: Release 22-05; Release 16-01; Release 12-06.

7.2.3 Case Management Follow-Up (CMF)

7.2.3.1 General CMF Participant Description Characteristics

7.2.3.2 Case Management Services for CMF and CMF+ Participants

7.2.3.3 Job Loss and Reduction in Hours in CMF and CMF+

7.2.3.4 CMF and CMF+ Eligibility Requirements

7.2.3.5 Case Management Follow-up Plus (CMF+)

7.2.3.5.1 Supplemental Payments

7.2.3.5.2 Minimum Work Requirements

7.2.3.5.3 Documentation, Verification, and Eligibility Reviews

7.2.3.5.4 Participation Limits

7.2.3.5.5 State and Federal Lifetime Limits

7.2.3.5.6 Child Support

Participants who find unsubsidized employment while in W-2 who were previously in a paid placement are eligible for case management follow-up services; this includes TEMP, CSJ, W-2 T, and CMC. The goal of case management follow-up services is to give participants the assistance they need to stay employed and advance in their career. W-2 agencies must provide up to 12 consecutive months of follow-up services to participants who find employment while in W-2. W-2 case management follow-up services can be provided even after the participant loses financial eligibility. (See 7.2.3.4)

CARES will close CMF or CMF+ cases at the end of 12 months. If a CMF or CMF+ placement lasts less than 12 months, the FEP must document the reason(s) in PIN comments. If a participant wishes to receive case management follow-up services beyond the 12 consecutive months allowable in a CMF and CMF+ placement, the FEP may change the participant's placement to CMU if the participant meets financial and nonfinancial eligibility requirements.

7.2.3.1 General CMF Participant Description Characteristics

Participants who were previously placed in a paid placement are eligible for CMF services; this includes TEMP, CSJ, W-2 T, and CMC. In addition, W-2 applicants in up-front job search and the CMJ placement who find unsubsidized employment are eligible for CMF services.

When a participant reports starting a new job, a FEP can use a participant's verbal statement to change the placement to CMF, revise the EP, and assign case management activities. While waiting for the verification, the FEP must gather as much information as possible from the participant, including the name and address of the employer, the expected begin date of employment, the hourly wage, and number of expected hours of work per week. The FEP must enter the new verified or unverified employment information on the WWP Work History page and the CWW Employment Page. If the information is unverified, the FEP must return to the WWP Work History page and the Employment Page to update the employment information when the verification is received.

Participants who are working in unsubsidized employment for 30 hours or more per week are typically appropriate for CMF. Participants who work in unsubsidized employment and meet minimum work hours for their family types are appropriate for CMF+. (See 7.2.3.5.2) Participants who are working in unsubsidized employment for less than 30 hours per week and who have limitations to increasing their work hours must be placed in prorated CSJ. (See 7.4.1.4)

EXAMPLE: Christina and her husband Jordan receive Wisconsin Shares. Christina is in a CSJ placement and Jordan is attending classes to complete his general education diploma. Christina has a history of employment; however, she has been out of the workforce in the last year to due complications with her third pregnancy. Christina has a high school diploma and valid driver's license with access to a vehicle. Christina is interested in employment in the nursing field and the FEP refers Christina for CNA job skills training. Christina successfully obtains her CNA license and secures a position as a CNA working 35 hours per week at $9.50 per hour. The FEP completes an informal assessment and determines that Christina is appropriate for a CMF placement. Christina is not eligible for the CMF+ placement because working 35 hours per week does not meet the minimum work hours of 55 hours per week for her family type. Through supportive services provided by the FEP, Christina and Jordan will be able to increase her hours or connect with ongoing education and career advancement.

7.2.3.2 Case Management Services for CMF and CMF+ Participants

The W-2 agency must offer case management follow-up services for up to 12 consecutive months. During the 12-month period, the FEP must provide appropriate services and maintain regular contact; most CMF and CMF+ participants should receive biweekly or no less than monthly contact.

Activities provided through case management services may include:

- Job Retention Services (JR);
- Literacy Skills (LS);
- Vocational Literacy Skills (VL);
- Vocational Adult Basic Education (VA);

- English as a Second Language (EL);
- Vocational English-as-a-Second-Language (VE);
- Adult Basic Education (BE);
- General Educational Development (GE);
- High School Equivalency Diploma (HE);

7.2.3.3 Job Loss and Reduction in Hours in CMF and CMF+

If a CMF or CMF+ participant loses his or her job or experiences a reduction in work hours, the FEP must reassess the individual to determine if there are possible unidentified barriers.

TEMP, CSJ or W-2 T: For a job loss, if the FEP suspects that there are additional barriers, the FEP must place the individual in the appropriate paid placement (TEMP, CSJ, or W-2 T) if the participant meets financial and nonfinancial eligibility criteria, and offer a formal assessment and other appropriate services.

CMJ: If the FEP does not suspect that there are additional barriers and the FEP determines that the individual is capable of obtaining additional employment, a CMJ placement may be appropriate. (See 7.2.4)

Prorated CSJ: If a reduction in hours results in less than 30 hours per week and the individual has limitations to increasing his or her work hours, the FEP must place the individual in a prorated CSJ. The FEP must assign activities specifically designed to assist the participant to increase his or her work hours or to obtain full-time employment. If the FEP does not suspect that there are additional barriers, the FEP must keep the participant in the CMF placement.

CMF: If a reduction in hours results in the individual being unable to meet the minimum work hours for the family type and the individual does not have limitations to increasing his or her work hours, the FEP must place the individual in a CMF placement.

NOTE: In order for a participant to move from a CMF or CMF+ placement to a TEMP, CSJ, prorated CSJ, W-2 T, or CMJ placement, the participant must meet all financial and nonfinancial eligibility requirements.

EXAMPLE 1: Barbara is in a CMF placement and has been working full-time for 90 days as a cashier. Barbara informs her FEP that her work hours have been reduced to part-time. The FEP reviews Barbara's paystubs for the last 30 days showing an average of 15 hours worked per week. The FEP verifies with the employer that Barbara's hours have been reduced to part-time due to the end of the holiday season and the employer does not expect that her hours will increase to full-time until the next holiday season. The FEP meets with Barbara, completes an informal assessment, and determines that she meets nonfinancial and financial eligibility in order to move from a CMF placement to a prorated paid placement. Barbara enjoys working with customers. Barbara does not have a resume and prefers to complete paper applications as she has minimal computer skills. The FEP places Barbara in a 1/2 CSJ and assigns activities that will help Barbara find other full-time employment, including a workshop on resume writing and successful employment search. The FEP also arranges for Barbara to attend the on-site computer lab on her off hours to work on her typing skills. The FEP provides Barbara with information on an upcoming job fair hiring for various entry-level positions and supplies Barbara with blank applications for greeter positions with two local retail stores. The FEP maintains biweekly contact with Barbara to monitor her progress.

EXAMPLE 2: Monique is in CMF and began a new job as a CNA. Monique was placed on second shift and will work every other weekend. After 30 days, Monique contacts her FEP and explains that her hours have reduced from 40 hours per week to 24 hours per week. The FEP schedules Monique for an appointment and requests that she bring her paystubs. Monique attends her appointment and submits paystubs showing an average of 28 hours worked per week. The FEP discusses the situation with Monique who discloses that she did not want to work second-shift on the weekends and her supervisor took her off the weekend rotation. After completing an informal assessment, the FEP determines that Monique is appropriate to remain in the CMF placement.

7.2.3.4 CMF and CMF+ Eligibility Requirements

W-2 participants that have obtained unsubsidized employment may transition from a paid placement to a CMF or CMF+ placement and are eligible for case management follow-up services only if they continue to meet all nonfinancial eligibility requirements. When determining CMF and CMF+ eligibility, the FEP must exclude income and assets.

EXAMPLE 1: Caitlyn has one child and was in a CSJ placement for four months. She began a new job that pays $10 an hour for 40 hours per week. At the EP appointment, the FEP verifies her employment and wages and changes her placement to CMF. Based on her W-2 group size and income level, Caitlyn no longer meets the financial eligibility requirement for most W-2 services; however, CMF placements exclude income and assets when determining eligibility. Caitlyn continues to meet all of the nonfinancial eligibility requirements listed in Section 2.2.1. Therefore, she is eligible for case management follow-up services.

EXAMPLE 2: Ben has custody of his two minor children and has been working as a mechanic for six months. The FEP changed his W-2 placement to CMF when Ben originally reported his employment when he started working. The FEP completes a six-month eligibility review over the phone with Ben. During the review, Ben tells the FEP that his former spouse regained custody of both children last month. The FEP will end Ben's CMF placement because he no longer meets the W-2 nonfinancial eligibility requirements. The FEP will close Ben's W-2 case, disenroll from Work Programs, and enter in PIN comments the reason why Ben's CMF placement is less than 12 months.

7.2.3.5 Case Management Follow-Up Plus (CMF+)

The CMF+ placement is for participants who find employment while in W-2 who were previously in a W-2 employment position: TMP, CSJ, or W-2 T and meet the minimum work requirements (see 7.2.3.5.2).

Participants who were previously in CMC, CMJ, or CMU and find employment are not eligible for CMF+, but may be eligible for CMF. Participants who are in CMF and increase their work hours to meet the minimum work requirements may be eligible for CMF+ if the placement preceding CMF is TMP, CSJ, or W-2 T.

EXAMPLE: Sally and Lisa are both in the CMF placement and do not have any barriers to full-time employment. Sally was previously in a CMC placement and Lisa was previously in a prorated CSJ placement. Both Sally and Lisa increased their work hours to meet the minimum work requirements for CMF+. Although Sally increased her work hours to meet the minimum work requirements, she is not eligible for CMF+ because her placement preceding CMF is CMC. Lisa is eligible for CMF+ because her placement preceding CMF is CSJ.

A participant placed in CMF+ receives follow-up services and a monthly $50 supplemental payment. (See 7.2.3.5.1)

7.2.3.5.1 Supplemental Payments

Supplemental payments are worker supplements provided as a monthly payment to W-2 participants who are working in unsubsidized employment for a minimum number of work hours. (See 7.2.3.5.2)

A participant must be in the CMF+ placement for one full W-2 participation period from the 16th of a month to the 15th of the next month in order to be eligible for a monthly supplemental payment. A participant in CMF+ may receive up to 12 supplemental payments.

The supplemental payment is a flat $50 monthly payment, and it is not prorated when a placement change occurs in the middle of a W-2 participation period. Similarly, a supplemental payment is not deducted for recoupments, hourly sanctions, Learnfare sanctions, or Drug Felon sanctions.

CARES issues supplemental payments in the form of a paper check or by EFT. After one full participation period in CMF+, CARES will generate a $50 supplemental payment following the W-2 payment cycles. (See 10.2.1)

Like W-2 payments, a participant may request that the W-2 agency hold supplemental payments. In addition, the W-2 agency may intercept a supplemental payment in emergency situations.

7.2.3.5.2 Minimum Work Requirements

The CMF+ placement is for W-2 participants who are working in unsubsidized employment and meet the following family types and minimum work requirements:

Family Type	Minimum Work Requirement
Single parent family with a child under the age of 6	At least 20 hours per week of unsubsidized employment.
Single parent family whose youngest child is age 6 or older	At least 30 hours per week of unsubsidized employment.
Two-parent family not receiving federally-funded child care	At least 35 combined hours per week of unsubsidized employment.
Two-parent family receiving federally-funded child care	At least 55 combined hours per week of unsubsidized employment.

Participants working less than 30 hours per week in unsubsidized employment may be eligible for prorated-CSJ (see 7.4.1.4), CMF, or CMF+. In determining the most appropriate placement, the FEP must assess the participant's work hours, abilities to increase his or her work hours, and the family type.

7.2.3.5.3 Documentation, Verification, and Eligibility Reviews

For initial verification, the FEP must follow procedures in Section 7.2.3.1 for documenting and verifying employment.

The FEP must not change the participant's placement to CMF+ until the FEP verifies hours of unsubsidized employment. The FEP may change the placement to CMF until verification is received. When verification is received, the FEP must update employment information and reassess the participant for CMF+. The participant must meet minimum work requirements to be placed in CMF+. (See 7.2.3.5.2)

Ongoing, the FEP must meet (see 1.4.2.3) with CMF+ participants to conduct a W-2 eligibility review at least every six (6) months and collect at least two (2) consecutive weeks of pay stubs.

7.2.3.5.4 Participation Limits

Months of participation in CMF+ count towards the 12-consecutive month participation limit for case management follow-up services. (See 7.2.3) Each time a participant is placed in CMF or CMF+, the 12-consecutive month participation limit resets to zero. Uninterrupted months of participation in CMF and CMF+ are counted towards the 12-consecutive month participation limit for follow-up services.

The CMF and CMF+ participation limit is not to be confused with state and federal time limits for assistance. (See 7.2.3.5.5) The 12-consecutive month participation limit is the amount of time that a participant may receive CMF and CMF+ case management services.

EXAMPLE 1: Raleigh and Jules have two children ages 2 and 3. Raleigh is in a TMP placement and was hired on permanently by the employer, working 40 hours per week. Jules stays at home with the children and the family is not receiving Wisconsin Shares. The FEP places Raleigh in CMF+ because he is working above the minimum work hours for his family type. Raleigh is eligible for up to 12 consecutive months of CMF+ services because he is starting a new participation in CMF+.

EXAMPLE 2: Amara is a single parent with a child age 10. She is in a W-2 T placement and recovering from knee surgery. Amara gets a job working 25 hours per week that can accommodate her physical therapy sessions. The FEP and Amara discuss her work hours, and Amara states that she does not have any barriers to increasing her work hours and that her employer will provide full-time work after she completes physical therapy. Amara does not want to use up her W-2 time limit and participate in W-2 activities. The FEP places her in CMF because she is not working the minimum work hours for her family type to be eligible for CMF+, and she does not have any barriers to increasing her work hours to be eligible for a prorated CSJ. After three months, Amara reports that she completed physical therapy and is working 32 hours per week. The FEP places Amara in CMF+ because she is now working more than the minimum work hours for her family type. Amara is only eligible for up to 9 more months of CMF+ services because her participation in CMF and CMF+ was uninterrupted.

EXAMPLE 3: Mako is a single parent with two children ages 4 and 6. She is in a CSJ placement and gets a job working 30 hours per week. The FEP places Mako in CMF+ because she is working the minimum work hours for her family type. After two months, Mako reports that she is no longer working because the employer went out of business. The FEP places Mako in CSJ. After three months, Mako gets a job working 40 hours per week. The FEP places Mako back in CMF+. Mako is eligible for up to 12 consecutive months of CMF and CMF+ services because the prior CMF+ participation was interrupted and the participation limit reset to zero when the FEP placed her back in CMF+.

7.2.3.5.5 State and Federal Lifetime Limits

Receipt of a supplemental payment will not count towards the state 48-month lifetime limit (see 2.10.2) or the federal 60-month lifetime limit (see 2.10.9).

7.2.3.5.6 Child Support

Participants in CMF+ are exempt from the requirement to assign child support payments to the state as a condition of eligibility (see 15.1.1); however, all parents in the W-2 Group must cooperate with child support in order to be eligible for CMF+ (see 15.3.1).

7.2.4 Case Management for Job Ready Individuals (CMJ)

- 7.2.4.1 CMJ at Application
- 7.2.4.2 Moving from Other W-2 Placements to CMJ
- 7.2.4.3 General CMJ Participant Description Characteristics
- 7.2.4.4 CMJ Activities
- 7.2.4.5 Case Management Services in CMJ
 - 7.2.4.5.1 Supportive Services in CMJ
- 7.2.4.6 Job Development in CMJ
- 7.2.4.7 30-Day Review
- 7.2.4.8 Ending CMJ Placements

The Case Management for Job Ready Individuals (CMJ) placement is for unemployed individuals who are able to find and keep employment. The goal of the CMJ placement is to rapidly connect the individuals who are job ready to employment. CMJ is only available to W-2 applicants, and in limited situations, to case management follow-up (CMF) participants, case management follow-up plus (CMF+) participants, case management underemployed (CMU) participants, and Custodial Parent of an Infant (CMC) participants.

7.2.4.1 CMJ at Application

Prior to placing an unemployed W-2 applicant in CMJ, the FEP must conduct a thorough informal assessment and educational needs assessment. (See 5.1 - 5.3) In most instances, potential CMJ participants will be assigned to up-front job search activities. (See 2.9.2) Applicants who made a good faith effort to obtain employment by completing assigned up-front job search activities are appropriate for a CMJ.

There may be limited circumstances in which applicants who are not assigned to up-front job search are appropriate for the CMJ placement. For example, up-front job search may not be assigned because child care has not been authorized. In addition, up-front job search may not be assigned if the applicant has a family issue that needs to be resolved, for example homelessness. If these issues can be resolved quickly, but not necessarily within the 12 days prior to placement, then these individuals may not have been assigned up-front job search, but still may be appropriate for the CMJ placement.

In addition, not all applicants assigned to up-front job search are appropriate for a CMJ. For example, through the up-front job search, the W-2 agency may discover that the applicant has significant barriers that make it difficult for the applicant to obtain employment within the next 30 days. The W-2 agency may also discover that the applicant is not job-ready because there may not be jobs available that meet the applicant's skill set. These individuals must be placed in a W-2 paid placement.

W-2 participants who move between balance of state geographical areas or in or out of Milwaukee County must re-apply at the W-2 agency providing services in the geographical area in which they live (new residence) and are considered applicants. An applicant who was recently in a paid placement is unlikely to be appropriate for a CMJ.

7.2.4.2 Moving from Other W-2 Placements to CMJ

CMJ is only available to W-2 applicants, and, in limited situations, to CMC and other case management participants. The chart below shows when a participant in a specific W-2 placement can and cannot move into the CMJ placement. In each instance in which a W-2 participant can move into the CMJ placement, the individual must meet CMJ eligibility requirements outlined in Section 7.2.4.3.

W-2 Placement	Move to CMJ?
Community Service Job (CSJ, CS1, CS2, CS3)	No
W-2 Transitions (W-2 T)	No
Custodial Parent Trial Employment Match Program (TMP) Noncustodial Parent Trial Employment Match Program (TNP)	No

Custodial Parent of an Infant (CMC)	Sometimes If the CMC participant was not in an At Risk Pregnancy (ARP), CSJ (including partial CSJ) or W-2 T placement prior to going into CMC, the individual may be considered for a CMJ placement.
At-Risk Pregnancy (ARP)	No If the woman in an ARP placement gives birth, she is eligible for a CMC placement. See CMC above.
Case Management Follow-up (CMF) Case Management Follow-up Plus (CMF+) Case Management Underemployed (CMU)	Yes Individuals in a CMF, CMF+, or a CMU may be considered for a CMJ placement. However, moving from CMU, CMF+, or CMF to CMJ is only appropriate for individuals who are able to find and keep full-time employment. This includes individuals who may be able to work full-time, but choose to only pursue part-time work. The W-2 agency must individually assess each CMF, CMF+, and CMU participant who loses employment to determine the reason for that employment loss. Loss of employment may indicate a hidden barrier that is making it difficult for the individual to maintain employment. The W-2 agency must pay particular attention to CMU, CMF+, and CMF participants who lose their jobs after only a short time.
Case Management Minor Parents (CMM)	Sometimes If the minor parent turns 18, already has a high school diploma or equivalent and a work history, that minor parent may be considered for a CMJ.
Case Management Pregnant Woman (CMP)	No The CMP placement is for women who are pregnant and have no other custodial children. CMJ placement is only for custodial parents. If the woman in an CMP placement gives birth, she is eligible for a CMC placement. See CMC above.
Case Management Noncustodial Parents (CMN) Stipends for Noncustodial Parents (TSP)	Sometimes If the NCP becomes a custodial parent, he or she may be considered for a CMJ placement.

Case Management Denied (CMD)	Sometimes If the extension denial reason was that the local labor market has jobs the participant could have gotten, the individual may be considered appropriate for CMJ
------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

7.2.4.3 General CMJ Participant Description Characteristics

For the W-2 agency to determine that an individual is appropriate for a CMJ placement, all of the following must apply:

1. The individual is willing to work. Because W-2 is a work program, individuals who apply for the program are assumed to be willing to work.
2. The individual has no barriers to work that cannot be addressed with W-2 services so that the individual is ready for immediate employment within 30 days.

Below are examples of barriers that the W-2 agency can address through services:

- Child care subsidies through Wisconsin Shares and help locating child care;
- Housing assistance through Emergency Assistance, W-2 supportive services funds, and/or referrals to other local housing programs;
- Transportation assistance through W-2 supportive services funds, a Job Access Loan and/or referrals to other local transportation assistance programs;
- Help paying for work related expenses through W-2 supportive services funds, a Job Access Loan and/or referrals to other local assistance programs; and
- Help completing a resume, providing targeted job leads, job coaching, job development, etc.

Individuals who have more significant barriers, e.g., physical or mental impairments, family issues, legal problems, etc., that take longer than 30 days to resolve are not appropriate for CMJ.

If the FEP identifies barriers that can be addressed through W-2 services so that the individual is ready for immediate employment, the barriers and the services that will address those barriers must be documented on appropriate WWP pages including:

- WWP Participant Barriers page;
 - WWP Family Barriers page;
 - Employability Plan; and
 - Additional details must be documented in PIN comments. (See 4.3.3)
3. The individual has a recent or steady employment history. When considering recent or steady employment, the FEP must consider the types of work performed, the duration of any job, and the reasons for leaving the job. If the applicant's employment history is solid with some long-term employment, a CMJ placement is appropriate. However, an employment history with many short-term jobs may be an indication that the applicant is capable of getting a job, but not keeping a job. Through the informal assessment process, the FEP must determine whether the barriers to maintaining employment can be addressed with W-2 services and resolved within 30 days.

EXAMPLE 1: Maria applied for W-2 and met with the Resource Specialist. She did not have child care available when she applied, so she was not assigned up-front activities. The FEP meets with her and determines that she is eligible for W-2. She reports during the interview that she now has child care in place for her two children, ages 3 and 4. Ongoing issues with relatives who provided child care in the past was a major reason that she lost her last job as a beginner pet groomer at a local pet supply store. She is now using a certified provider. An informal assessment indicates that she has a high school diploma, her recent work history gives her skills necessary for entry level employment in the local labor market, and she reports no barriers to employment. Based on the results of the informal assessment, the FEP places Maria in a CMJ placement.

EXAMPLE 2: Pat has applied for W-2. The informal assessment indicates that he is job ready. Up until a year ago, he worked for a machine company for 5 years. He has a high school diploma and a welding certificate from a local technical college. However, Pat tells his FEP that last year he injured both of his knees while working in a warehouse. The employer did cover some of the physical therapy he participated in, but that coverage has been exhausted and Pat says he "still feels it like an ice pick to the knees when the weather changes." He expects that although he can walk around decently enough, he is not sure he can withstand the rigors of returning to a similar job that he left after the injury. He is willing to complete a formal vocational assessment. Based on the results of the informal assessment, the FEP places Pat in a W-2 Transition (W-2 T) placement and refers him for a vocational assessment.

7.2.4.4 CMJ Activities

Because the goal of the CMJ placement is to rapidly connect the individual to sustainable employment, the W-2 agency must immediately engage CMJs in individualized, targeted activities that will help the participant quickly gain employment. The agency must employ an intensive case management strategy in order to coach participants through the job search process and assist the participant with resolving personal and family challenges.

Job Search Activities

The activities assigned to CMJ participants are similar to those assigned during up-front job search. Because these participants are expected to be able to obtain full-time employment, FEPs may assign up to 40 hours per week of appropriate activities, but must assign no fewer than 30 hours per week of activities. Activities include:

- Employment search (ES);
- Career planning and counseling (CE);
- Job readiness/motivation (MO); and
- Life skills (LF).

A CMJ participant may be assigned to education and training activities if the attainment of further education would provide an applicant with better employment prospects. Education and training activities include:

- Adult Basic Education (BE);
- English-as-a-Second-Language (EL);
- General Educational Development (GED);
- High School Equivalency Diploma (HE);
- Literacy Skills (LS);
- Job Skills Training (JS); and

- Regular School (RS).

7.2.4.5 Case Management Services in CMJ

Once the placement has been made, the W-2 agency and CMJ participant have equal share in the responsibility of finding employment. The FEP must maintain weekly contact with CMJ participants. During these weekly contacts, the FEP must provide an array of structured employment services and supports including:

- Providing participants with job leads that match the individual's skills (based on career assessment results) with specific jobs open in the local labor market;
- Creating and updating the participant's employability plan (EP) with appropriate activities based on feedback obtained from the participant and from employers that either did not offer the participant an interview or did not offer the participant a job. In the EP, the FEP will include the CMJ participant's employment and personal goals;
- Offering career assessment services, providing guidance in career decision making skills and helping identify jobs that might match the participant's skills, interests and abilities;
- Monitoring participants' job search efforts to find out what specific jobs the participant has applied for, what interviews the participant has had, the outcome of those interviews, and discussions about why the participant thinks they did not get the job. This requires the FEP to do more than solely collecting participant's job contact logs on a weekly basis;
- Discussing any nonparticipation with the participant and the reasons for the nonparticipation. Agencies must exercise due diligence in determining whether previously identified or unidentified barriers (such as personal and family challenges) are the underlying cause of the nonparticipation. The FEP must work quickly to re-engage in job search activities CMJ participants who are able to work or quickly reassess and place in a paid position CMJ participants who are found to have more severe barriers;
- Convening staffings with the CMJ participant and with agency staff who assist in developing job leads and employer contacts; and
- Discussing with the participant any barriers that may be preventing the participant from obtaining employment, including necessary supports, such as housing, transportation, and child care.

Participants with barriers that cannot be mitigated by W-2 services within a 30-day timeframe must be placed in a paid W-2 employment position while the barriers are being addressed. If these types of barriers are discovered after the FEP has placed the participant in a CMJ, the FEP must not wait for the 30-day review period to move a CMJ participant to a paid W-2 employment position. (See 7.2.4.2)

7.2.4.5.1 Supportive Services in CMJ

W-2 agencies must pay for supportive services that are needed for participation in the W-2 program, e.g., work uniforms, transportation, etc. Additionally, participants in a CMJ:

- Are eligible for Wisconsin Shares child care while in the placement;
- May apply for a Job Access Loan to meet immediate employment related needs when they receive a bona fide offer of employment (see 17.2.1); and
- Must have a Supportive Service Plan that is developed during a meeting between the case manager and the participant.

CMJ participants are not eligible for Emergency Payments.

7.2.4.6 Job Development in CMJ

The W-2 agency and agency staff who assist with developing job leads must actively work with local area employers in order to:

- Solicit job openings;
- Market participants to employers with jobs that match the participant's skills, abilities and interests;
- Set up job interviews;
- Provide bilingual support for job contacts and interviews for persons who are not proficient in English; and
- Follow up with employers to determine why a referred participant was not offered an interview or a job.

7.2.4.7 30-Day Review

Every 30 days, the W-2 agency must review the appropriateness of the CMJ placement.

Overall, the 30-day reassessment focuses on the level of effort required for CMJ participants to complete the requirements. When participants have exhibited the level of effort required to get a job, but remain unemployed, they must be placed in a W-2 paid placement at the 30-day review point. When participants have not exhibited the level of effort required to get a job, and they do not have any barriers to work, and the W-2 agency has provided appropriate case management services, or they request to continue in the CMJ placement, the W-2 agency may keep the participant in the CMJ placement for another 30-day period or end the CMJ placement depending upon the circumstances of the case. (See 7.2.4.8)

In determining the level of effort of the CMJ participant, the following must be considered during the CMJ 30-day reassessment:

1. Was the participant given multiple specific job leads in the local labor market that matched the participant's skills, abilities, and interests?
2. Did the participant get any job offers in the local labor market compatible with the participant's skills, abilities, and interests?
3. Did the participant refuse or fail to apply for any jobs in the local labor market compatible with the participant's skills, abilities, and interests?
4. What were the reasons the participant did not get a job in the local labor market or did not apply for a job(s), e.g., poor interview skills, poor presentation, another individual was more qualified, criminal background, did not possess the minimum qualifications or education and training, or did not pass the examination?
5. Were W-2 participants with similar skills, abilities, and interests able to secure jobs in the local labor market?
6. Did the participant have previously identified barriers that could be addressed with W-2 services? If so, were the services effective? Did the participant have previously unidentified barriers preventing him or her from obtaining unsubsidized employment? If yes, please identify the barriers and what services the agency will provide to address the barrier(s).

The FEP does not have to wait for the 30-day review period to move a CMJ participant to a paid W-2 employment position. At the weekly meetings, the FEP must discuss with the participant any barriers that may be preventing the participant from obtaining employment, including housing, transportation, child care and other family matters.

The results of the 30-day review must be documented in PIN comments. FEPs must document the decision (retain an individual in the CMJ placement, move the individual to a paid placement or end the CMJ placement) and the reasons for the decision.

7.2.4.8 Ending CMJ Placements

CMJ participants who obtain employment must be offered employment retention and advancement services in the CMF placement. CMJ participants are required to comply with all financial and nonfinancial eligibility requirements. Participants in a CMF placement are only required to meet nonfinancial eligibility requirements. When in a CMJ placement, the FEP must close a participant's case if a CMJ participant fails to cooperate with specific W-2 program requirements without good cause. (See 11.4) If a participant in a CMJ placement is not cooperating with ongoing job search activities, the FEP must address this at the weekly meetings.

Then, at the 30-day reassessment, if the participant has not exhibited the level of effort required to get a job by cooperating with ongoing job search activities throughout the 30-day period, and the W-2 agency has provided appropriate case management and job development services, the FEP may either keep the individual in the CMJ placement for another 30-day period or close the case. The FEP must determine whether:

- a. The CMJ participant will be likely to obtain employment if he or she receives additional job search assistance by remaining in the CMJ placement; or
- b. The CMJ participant has not cooperated with job search activities and the case must close.

History: Release 22-05; Release 21-07; Release 20-03; Release 19-02; Release 18-02; Release 16-01; Release 14-03; Release 13-03.

7.2.5 Denying or Terminating an Unsubsidized Employment Case Management Placement

If any individual placed in a CMD, CMU, CMF, CMF+, or CMJ declines case management services or does not participate, the FEP must terminate eligibility for the placement. CWW will issue a W-2 denial notice. If the participant refuses case management services, the FEP must document the refusal in PIN comments.

As case management placements, there is no hourly payment reduction for noncooperation in CMD, CMU, CMF, CMF+, or CMJ. However, the FEP may close a CMD or CMJ placement if the individual is not cooperating with job search requirements, fails to come in for his or her EP review appointment, or loses contact with the FEP. If a CMU, CMF, or CMF+ participant fails to come in or call in to his or her EP or eligibility review appointment or loses contact with the FEP, the FEP should close the CMF, CMF+, or CMU placement. Eligibility reviews must be conducted at least every six months to maintain nonfinancial eligibility.

In addition, job refusal could affect future W-2 eligibility. (See 180 day policy - Manual Section 2.2.1)

History: Release 20-03; Release 16-01; Release 12-04.

7.3 Trial Employment Match Program

7.3. Trial Employment Match Program (TEMP)

TEMP is a W-2 employment position that provides subsidized work for applicants or ongoing W-2 participants. An individual working in a TEMP job earns at least minimum wage, and the W-2 agency subsidizes all or a portion of the hourly wages paid to the individual by the employer.

A TEMP job can last for a maximum of six months with an opportunity for a three-month extension. (See 7.3.5.1.2) A custodial parent may take part in more than one TEMP job, but may not exceed a total of 24 months of participation in TEMP. (See 7.3.6)

An NCP meeting eligibility for W-2 case management services (see 7.5.1) may take part in only one TEMP job, provided that the NCP has not exceeded the 24-month TEMP time limit.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

7.3.1 TEMP Participants Characteristics

Depending on the individual's parental status, the Trial Employment Match Program (TEMP) placement type is Custodial Parent TEMP (TMP) or Noncustodial Parent TEMP (TNP). TEMP participants may have some of the following characteristics:

- Capable of working and has a willing attitude;
- Requires a flexible schedule or other reasonable accommodations;
- Has basic skills and/or education;
- Lacks sufficient work skills;
- Has little or no recent work experience or a poor work history; and
- Nearing a time limit.

The W-2 agency must utilize informal assessment results to identify W-2 participants who are capable of working and may be appropriate for TEMP (see 5.2 for more information on Informal Assessments).

History: Release 16-01.

7.3.2 Service Delivery Models

7.3.2.1 Matching Model

7.3.2.2 Sector Model

There are two service delivery models in TEMP: 1) Matching Model; and 2) Sector Model.

The W-2 agency will administer TEMP beginning with recruitment of potential candidates and subsidized employers for TEMP and continue to provide services throughout the duration of the TEMP placement as described under the W-2 agency's implementation plan.

7.3.2.1 Matching Model

The matching model matches individuals to available subsidized jobs that require specific sets of skills, abilities, and aptitudes. It is based on a comprehensive assessment of the individual's skills, abilities, and aptitudes and on an assessment of the subsidized job requirements to assure a good match between them.

7.3.2.2 Sector Model

The sector model provides sector-specific training that prepares individuals for subsidized jobs in those sectors. The sector or sectors to be served by TEMP in a given area will depend on partnerships with subsidized employers and training providers developed by the W-2 agency.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

7.3.3 W-2 Agency Requirements

7.3.3.1 Wage Subsidy

7.3.3.2 Employer Agreement

7.3.3.3 Verification of Time Records

7.3.3.1 Wage Subsidy

The W-2 agency must negotiate an agreement with an employer to pay a wage subsidy that is no more than the state or federal minimum wage ($7.25) for each hour worked, up to a maximum of 40 hours per week. The W-2 agency may negotiate with an employer to pay a wage subsidy that is less than $7.25 per hour, if the employer is willing to accept a wage subsidy that is less than $7.25 per hour.

The W-2 agency may not pay a wage subsidy to an employer for a period when no wages are paid to a TEMP employee.

7.3.3.2 Employer Agreement

The W-2 agency must complete an agreement with a TEMP employer for every TEMP employee and use the form Wisconsin Works Trial Employment Match Program – Employer Agreement (5088). The W-2 agency must scan completed agreements into ECF for all TEMP participants.

The W-2 agency and employer must also complete the Wisconsin Works (W-2) Work Training Site Agreement (10792) for every training provider or employer at which a W-2 participant has been placed. (See 9.2.1)

7.3.3.3 Verification of Time Records

The W-2 agency must collect and verify timesheets for hours actually worked by a TEMP employee prior to making payments to an employer.

The W-2 agency must manually issue payments to an employer to cover wage subsidies paid monthly to a TEMP employer for each TEMP employee and accurately record the hourly subsidy in wage history in WWP.

History: Release 21-07; Release 17-02.

Release 23-05

7.3.4 TEMP Employer Requirements

7.3.4.1 Wages and Benefits

7.3.4.2 Time Records

7.3.4.3 Good Faith Effort

7.3.4.1 Wages and Benefits

A TEMP employer must pay a TEMP employee for the hours worked at either the wage paid to the employer's entry level employees who perform similar duties or the state or federal minimum hourly wage, whichever is higher. A TEMP employer must provide a TEMP employee with benefits comparable to benefits provided to regular employees in similar positions.

When an employer pays a wage ("Employee Wage") that is higher than the negotiated wage subsidy ("Wage Subsidy"), the employer must supplement the wages in excess of the negotiated wage subsidy. The portion of the employee's wage that the employer is responsible for ("Employer Supplement") is calculated using the following formula:

Employee Wage - Wage Subsidy = Employer Supplement

EXAMPLE: A TEMP employer pays a TEMP employee $8.50 per hour. The W-2 agency and employer negotiate a wage subsidy of $4.50 per hour. The employee wage is higher than the subsidy and the employer supplement is: $$8.50 - $4.50 = $4.00$ per hour.

7.3.4.2 Time Records

A TEMP employer must invoice the W-2 agency monthly for the wage subsidy payment. The invoice must itemize the following for each TEMP employee:

- Actual wages paid monthly;
- Number of hours worked in the month; and
- Month of employment.

7.3.4.3 Good Faith Effort

A TEMP employer must agree to make a good faith effort to retain the participant as a permanent employee after the wage subsidy ends.

If a TEMP employer does not retain a participant as a permanent unsubsidized employee, the employer must:

1. Agree to serve as an employment reference for the participant; or
2. Provide to the W-2 agency a written performance evaluation of the participant, including recommendations for improvement.

Employers who routinely fail to offer unsubsidized jobs to participants who have succeeded in their TEMP job experience should not receive future contracts.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

7.3.5 Participation Requirements and Case Management

7.3.5.1 Ending TEMP Placements

7.3.5.1.1 Multiple TEMP Jobs

7.3.5.1.2 Placement Extensions

7.3.5.1.3 Moving Between TMP and TNP Placements

The TMP or TNP placement must begin effective the first date of employment in a TEMP job. This will ensure that there are no breaks in payments if the participant was previously in a paid placement

TEMP jobs are generally 40 hours per week. A participant may, in unique circumstances, be placed in a TEMP job that is less than 40 hours per week. For example, the individual requests to work only 30 hours per week because she is attending night school, even though she will not be paid for the hours in school. The hours an individual participating in a TEMP job is required to work are determined by the employer, the W-2 agency, and the individual, and must be stated in the employer agreement. (See 7.3.3.2)

The W-2 agency is expected to provide case management services that help individuals to succeed in the TEMP job. Examples of these types of services include:

- Frequent follow-up with the employer and TEMP employee, including employer site visits;
- Mediating conflicts between employers and TEMP employees;
- Identifying and facilitating referrals for work supports that will help to ensure job retention; and
- Providing information about the state and Federal Earned Income Tax Credit, Transitional FoodShare, BadgerCare, Wisconsin Shares, and any other resource that the individual and his or her family will access during the transition to full-time employment.

7.3.5.1 Ending TEMP Placements

The TMP or TNP placement must end effective the last date of employment in a TEMP job. NCPs in the TNP placement are not eligible for multiple TEMP jobs under 7.3.5.1.1.

7.3.5.1.1 Multiple TEMP Jobs

It is expected that the W-2 agency conduct a thorough assessment of candidates for TEMP and available TEMP jobs and appropriately match participants to a TEMP job; however, there may be instances where there is a mismatch of an individual's skills with an employer's expectations.

If the individual remains eligible and appropriate for TEMP, the individual may continue with a different employer. When this occurs, the W-2 agency must make every effort to ensure that there is no break in employment. If the W-2 agency is unable to immediately place the individual with a different employer, the W-2 agency must end the placement with the last date of employment and reassess the individual for the most appropriate placement.

7.3.5.1.2 Placement Extensions

To be eligible for a placement extension, the employer must request the extension based upon the individual's need to continue to develop or strengthen specific workplace competencies as identified in his or her employability plan. The W-2 agency has the authority to determine extensions to the wage subsidy, taking the agency's budget into consideration. All subsidy extensions must be justified by a need for continuing skill development balanced with the likelihood that the individual will be retained in unsubsidized employment following the extension.

7.3.5.1.3 Moving Between TMP and TNP Placements

Individuals who move between TMP and TNP placements during one TEMP job may continue with and complete that TEMP job for the duration of the agreement.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

7.3.6 TEMP Time Limits

W-2 participation in TEMP is limited to 24 cumulative months. (See 2.10.2) TMP and TNP placements count toward one 24-month TEMP eligibility time limit. Months accumulated in TEMP follow the individual irrespective of the change in W-2 Group status.

7.4.1.8 CSJ Placements as Employment

The CSJ placement is for applicants and ongoing W-2 participants who are not ready for unsubsidized employment. A CSJ placement provides the opportunity to practice work habits and skills that are necessary to succeed in any regular job environment, including punctuality, reliability, work social skills, and more. CSJ work site providers are expected to offer an environment which generally replicates regular employment, realizing that job coaching and mentoring may be needed to help the participant succeed. An individual is permitted to participate in more than one CSJ for a cumulative total of no more than 24 months. (See 2.10.3) A participant placed in a CSJ receives a monthly payment of $653 for full-time participation.

7.4.1.1 General CSJ Participant Description Characteristics

Persons placed in CSJs may have:

- Little or no work history;
- No evidence of reliable work habits;
- A work history with frequent voluntary quits or terminations;
- Physical or mental conditions or other personal limitations to regular employment; or
- Domestic violence, temporary illness or incapacity of self, family member, or other family crises.

EXAMPLE 1: Jane has two children (ages 1 and 5) and a very limited work history. She worked a year and a half ago at a restaurant when she was forced to quit due to a difficult pregnancy. She has been off work since that time. She completed her 12th grade of school but did not receive her diploma because she failed to complete one class. She is eager to get back into the workforce, but she is worried that her limited experience and lack of high school diploma will prevent her from getting a job. She is interested in becoming a child care provider. Jane applied for W-2. The RS assigned Jane to up-front job search and the job developer connected Jane to local child care employers who had openings. Jane was not hired because of her lack of experience and no high school diploma. The FEP places Jane in a CSJ. During her CSJ, Jane will be assigned to 10 hours per week of education in order to complete her high school course work and obtain her diploma. The FEP will also assign Jane to 30 hours of work experience at the Job Center day care site.

EXAMPLE 2: Jennifer applied for W-2. She is 24 years old, has a high school diploma, and she completed a clerical training course a year ago but has never had a full-time job. Her seven-year-old son Jason has severe behavioral problems and has recently been diagnosed with Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD). Jason's doctor is currently trying to get Jason's condition stabilized using medication. Jason goes to school for a full day, but about two to three times a month Jennifer is called to pick him up because of bad behavior. Jennifer wants to work and put her clerical skills to use, but doesn't see how she can until Jason's medication stabilizes his behavior. The FEP places Jennifer in a CSJ. The FEP designs a CSJ placement to allow Jennifer time to practice her clerical skills and provide flexibility for her to care for her son. In order to do this, the FEP sets up a CSJ worksite in the front office of Jason's school so that she is readily available if Jason begins to act out. The school is understanding of Jennifer's situation and allows her flexibility to care for her son whenever necessary. Once Jason's medication stabilizes his behavior and Jennifer has the necessary clerical experience, the FEP will focus on moving Jennifer to an unsubsidized job.

7.4.1.2 CSJ Participation Requirements

CSJ participants are expected to complete 40 hours of activities per week but can be assigned fewer hours depending on the participant's circumstances. Of these 40 hours, up to 10 hours per week can be in education and training activities.

Education and training may be assigned:

- Up to 10 hours per week of allowable education and training (see 8.3.2.2);
- By aggregating education and training hours to enable a participant to engage in an education and training program that can be completed within a one year period (see 8.3.2.3);
- Through participation in a full-time technical college education program (see 8.3.2.5); or
- 18- or 19-year-olds who do not have a high school diploma or equivalent, can attend high school or enroll in a course of study meeting the standards either full or part-time (see 8.3.2.1).

CSJ work training hours countable toward the maximum 40 hours of activity as approved by the FEP may include:

- Work experience (WE);
- Training activities conducted at the CSJ work training site;
- Other assigned work training activities, such as;
 - Job search activities (ES);
 - Vocational rehabilitation (VA, VE, VL) and
 - Meetings with child support agency staff, social workers, health care professionals or other meetings approved by the FEP and necessary to prepare a participant for employment (Activity Codes may vary.)

7.4.1.3 Kinds of CSJ Work Site Placements

CSJ work sites may be with public, private non-profit and private for-profit employers. Each CSJ placement may be scheduled for up to six months with an opportunity for a three month extension. The following is a sample list of entities which may offer opportunities for CSJ work sites:

1. Municipal or other government - Jobs with easily expanded work crews.
 - Example employers: housing authorities, school systems, parks and recreation, and sanitation departments

- Example job tasks: public housing painting and preparation, maintenance of parks or other facilities, city gardening, neighborhood watch patrol, clean up of city property or vacant lots, graffiti removal
2. Community-based organizations and government agencies - Participants proven to be reliable in the positions listed in the category above, but are still not ready for private employment, may be placed into these positions.
 - Example employers: community non-profits, religious organizations, hospitals, schools, government agencies
 - Example job tasks: health aide, clerical or administrative aide, child care aide, teacher's aide, personal assistant, driver, outreach worker in languages other than English, elder or youth services worker
 3. Contract organizations - Private or public companies which bid for contracted services.
 - Example employers: private non-profits, W-2 agencies, specialized for-profits such as industrial laundry, packaging and distribution, recycling recovery, cleaning and maintenance.
 - Example job tasks: same as community-based organizations and other government.

Keep in mind that participants placed in positions may have to pass criminal background checks to work in certain facilities or positions.

7.4.1.4 Prorated CSJs

The prorated CSJ placement is for W-2 applicants and participants who are working in unsubsidized employment for less than 30 hours per week and have limitations to increasing their work hours, or obtaining additional job(s). Hours of activities and payments are prorated to one of the following three levels:

- 1/3 CSJ: Participants placed into 1/3 CSJs receive a payment of $218 for up to 20 hours of activity per week which may include a combination of work training and a maximum of 10 hours of education and training activities. (Participant working in unsubsidized employment 20 to 29 hours per week)
- 1/2 CSJ: Participants placed into 1/2 CSJs receive a payment of $327 for up to 25 hours of activity per week which may include a combination of work training and a maximum of 10 hours of education and training activities. (Participant working in unsubsidized employment 15 to 19 hours per week)

- 2/3 CSJ: Participants placed into 2/3 CSJs receive a payment of $435 for up to 30 hours of activity per week which may include a combination of work training and a maximum of 10 hours of education and training activities. (Participant working in unsubsidized employment 10 to 14 hours per week)

The total combined number of hours of activities and unsubsidized employment must not exceed 40 hours per week for anybody placed in a prorated CSJ. Participants working up to nine hours per week in an unsubsidized job or a non-W-2 funded subsidized job may be granted a full CSJ payment. Participants working 30 hours or more per week in an unsubsidized job or a non-W-2 funded subsidized job are not eligible for a prorated CSJ.

Activities assigned to prorated CSJ participants must be specifically designed to assist the participants with overcoming their employment limitations within a reasonable time period. For information on combining the aggregated education and training policy with the prorated CSJ policy, see 8.3.2.4.

7.4.1.4.1 General Prorated CSJ Participant Description Characteristics

A prorated CSJ placement may be appropriate for individuals with limitations (or barriers) to full-time employment, such as:

- Barriers to increased unsubsidized employment opportunities which cannot be addressed through supportive services;
- A lack of skills to be competitive for available jobs;
- A sporadic work history;
- Little evidence of reliable work habits;
- No high school diploma, GED or HSED; and
- A work history with frequent voluntary quits or terminations.

EXAMPLE 1: Brenda completed specialized manufacturing training. Shortly after completing her training, the two major manufacturing plants in Brenda's area announced large lay-offs. There were no manufacturing jobs in town, but Brenda was able to secure a job at a local fast food restaurant working 23 hours per week. Unable to support her family with the income, Brenda applied for W-2. After a thorough assessment and an unsuccessful job search, the FEP determines that Brenda will not be able to increase her hours at work or obtain unsubsidized employment because the local job market for manufacturing workers is extremely limited. Also, Brenda lacks other skills that would allow her to compete for other available jobs in the local labor market. However, Brenda believes that she can compete for a full-time supervisor position at the fast food restaurant if she finishes her final GED courses. Brenda is assigned to GED courses in the evenings for 10 hours per week and to job search for 7 hours per week during the day. Her 1/3 CSJ payment, based on less than 10 hours of work activity per week, is $230.

EXAMPLE 2: Maria is a single mom with two teenagers. She works 20 hours per week as a program assistant for an insurance company. Maria has a physical disability which causes her severe pain and is preventing her from increasing her work hours. Maria is unable to support her family on her current income and applies for assistance from W-2. After receiving appropriate documentation from her doctor concerning her work limitations and abilities, Maria is placed in a prorated CSJ position. Maria's FEP reviews the medical documentation and together they create an employability plan focusing on moving Maria towards employment that utilizes her abilities. Maria makes a career goal of becoming a technical writer. Maria is assigned to participate in a college-based writing workshop over the internet for 4 hours per week. In addition, Maria is referred to the agency's disability advocate to assist her in initiating an application for SSI. With her current hours of unsubsidized employment at 20 hours per week and less than 10 hours of assigned work activity per week, Maria will receive a 1/3 CSJ payment of $230 per month.

7.4.1.4.2 Prorated CSJ Participation Requirements

CSJ participants eligible for a prorated CSJ payment are also expected to participate up to 40 hours per week in a combination of hours working in their jobs, work training activities and education and training activities. In some cases, the combination of CSJ activities and employment may be less than 40 hours per week, such as when the participant's limitations are severe. When a participant's limitations are severe enough, the FEP should work closely with the assessing agency or medical professional to determine the types of activities the participant can reasonably perform. However, these activities must be allowable work training hours, such as vocational rehabilitation, meeting with social workers and health care professionals, etc. Participants must be assigned CSJ activities that do not interfere with the hours they are expected to work in their jobs.

7.4.1.4.3 Prorated CSJ Payments

Initial and ongoing payments are issued according to current W-2 payment policies and procedures. (See Chapter 10) Payment reductions are applied according to current W-2 payment reduction policies and procedures. (See Chapter 11) There is no separate prorated CSJ 24-month time limit. The CSJ 24-month time limit type will be affected regardless of whether the participant is in a prorated or a full CSJ. (See 7.4.1)

7.4.1.5 CSJ Placements for Parents Temporarily Unable to Care for Their Children

CSJ participants who, for medical reasons determined by a qualified assessing agency or individual, are out of the home or are unable to care for their children for periods of less than 60 days may remain in a CSJ placement. The participation requirement will be to cooperate with the prescribed treatment plan. In most cases the Physical Rehabilitation (PR) activity code will be used during this time frame.

7.4.1.6 CSJ Administration

The W-2 agency is responsible for identifying, creating and managing CSJ positions that prepare CSJ participants for unsubsidized employment. The agency may contract for all or part of the operations.

1. CSJ positions must:
 - Replicate actual conditions of work;
 - Have responsibilities and expectations similar to unsubsidized employees to the extent feasible;
 - Have a work training site supervisor. The work training site supervisor must provide a structured work environment to include close supervision and a willingness to mentor and coach CSJ participants to succeed in the workplace. See the TANF Work Participation Requirements appendix for more information on requirements for supervising W-2 activities, and
 - Serve a useful public purpose or be a project of which the costs are partially or wholly offset by revenue generated from it.

If a W-2 agency develops a community service job worksite with a for-profit organization, there must be some agreement in place that the organization, using revenue or profit generated by the use of the CSJ participants, reimburses the agency for costs associated with the CSJ. This can include the organization using the profit to provide on-the-job training that is valuable to the participant or the organization may make a payment back to the W-2 agency to cover some of the administrative costs of the CSJ.

2. Management of CSJ positions include:

- Obtaining new work training sites;
- Maintaining relationships with existing providers;
- Creating CSJ placements within the W-2 agency;
- Ensuring that an adequate number of CSJs exist;
- Providing special or additional supervision of CSJ participants at the work training site when necessary;
- Providing or arranging for reasonable accommodations, translator or other supportive services;
- Acting as a liaison between work training providers and CSJ participants;
- Maintaining and updating an inventory of CSJ work training sites;
- Providing worker's compensation coverage for all participants, except when the W-2 work training provider provides the coverage; and
- Requiring all work training sites complete the form Wisconsin Works (W-2) Work Training Site Agreement (10792).

7.4.1.7 Attendance Records

The CSJ work training provider is responsible for keeping hourly time records and reporting nonparticipation to the FEP as it occurs. See the TANF Work Participation Requirements appendix for guidelines on documenting and verifying W-2 activities.

CSJ Payments

The W-2 agency will issue a monthly payment of $653 to the CSJ participant if all participation requirements are met. The monthly payment of $653 will not be prorated or otherwise reduced if the assigned hours are less than 40 hours per week. Payments will be reduced by $5.00 for each hour that the participant fails to participate without good cause.

7.4.1.8 CSJ Placements as Employment

The U.S. Department of Labor has stated that all federal employment laws apply to welfare employment and training participants, the coverage of this law is intended to be very broad and in some cases to cover a person who is not an “employee” in other contexts.

The W-2 Agency should conform to the standards described below for ensuring that a CSJ activity qualifies as “training” rather than “employment” for the purposes of wage withholding requirements (including FICA), the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC), and unemployment compensation taxes.

- The training is similar to that given in a vocational school;
- The training is for the benefit of the trainees;
- Trainees do not displace regular employees;
- Employers derive no immediate advantage from the trainees’ activities;
- Trainees are not entitled to a job after the training is completed; and
- Employers and trainees understand that the trainee is not paid.

If there should be a finding that a particular CSJ activity is “employment” which results in liability for wage withholding or EITC payments under federal law, the individual is an employee of the state rather than the W-2 agency. It is the obligation of the W-2 agency, in following this policy, to use its best efforts to ensure that CSJ activities comply with the criteria listed above for “training.”

History: Release 22-09; Release 13-03; Release 12-05.

7.4.2 W-2 Transition (W-2 T)

- 7.4.2.1 General W-2 T Participant Description Characteristics
- 7.4.2.2 W-2 T Participation Requirements
- 7.4.2.3 Marginally Employed W-2 T Participants
- 7.4.2.4 W-2 T and Work Training
- 7.4.2.5 W-2 T Time Records
- 7.4.2.6 W-2 T Payments

The W-2 Transition (W-2 T) employment position is for individuals who have been determined not ready for unsubsidized employment and unable to successfully participate in one of the other W-2 employment positions for reasons such as an individual's incapacitation or the need to remain in the home to care for another W-2 group member who is incapacitated or disabled.

7.4.2.1 General W-2 T Participant Description Characteristics

Participants placed in a W-2 T must have a formal assessment, as described below, scheduled and documented in WWP within 30 calendar days of the W-2 T placement. (See 5.5.1). The FEP must not assume that participants who have a disability are unable to participate in an employment position other than W-2 T, including unsubsidized employment. The FEP may place a participant in a W-2 T when the participant is incapable of performing a CSJ, as determined by the W-2 agency, for reasons which may include:

1. The participant is determined, based on an independent assessment by a medical professional or similar qualified assessing agency or individual, to be or expected to be incapacitated for a period of at least 60 days. Examples of incapacitation that would warrant an assessment may include:
 - Physical limitations;
 - Mental health limitations;
 - Cognitive limitations;
 - Learning disabilities;
 - Victim of Domestic Violence; and
 - Substance abuse.

Section 5.5.4, Obtaining a Complete Assessment, describes the types of information that must be gathered through assessment and the methods for obtaining the information.

EXAMPLE 1: Ms. Anderson is a single parent with two children. She was a waitress until three months ago when her rheumatoid arthritis worsened to the level that she was no longer able to work. Ms. Anderson is placed in a W-2 T position and is referred for a vocational assessment. The results of the assessment show that with special sitting accommodations, rehabilitation and training, Ms. Anderson will be able to perform a sedentary job. Areas of employment recommended by the assessing agency include computer data entry, customer service, or telemarketing. Ms. Anderson and her FEP agree to revise her employability plan, emphasizing activities that will allow her to work towards a job in customer service. Her participation requirement is 27 hours per week in a physical rehabilitation program, which involves physical therapy and teaches independent mobility, plus three hours of work training. After completing three months of rehabilitation, Ms. Anderson is moved to a CSJ, where she is able to participate a full 40 hours per week in a combination of work training and education activities. Five months after placement in the CSJ, Ms. Anderson is successfully employed in a manufacturing company in their customer service department.

2. The participant is needed in the home to care for another member of the W-2 group who is ill or incapacitated. The following steps must be taken when determining the need for a W-2 adult to remain in the home to care for a family member:
 - a. Using the Need to Care for Disabled Family Member (10786) form (or an agency-developed form that, at a minimum, has the same elements), verify the incapacity/disability of the affected family member and the appropriateness of day/child care outside of the home through third party sources. The FEP may consider statements from sources such as medical professionals, the Social Security Administration, Family Support Program, Birth to Three Early Intervention Program, Program for Children with Special Health Care needs, and Exceptional Educational Needs Program. Supportive adult programs under the 51.42 service board or Independent Living Centers for a physical disability or mental health issues are other verification sources.
 - b. Determine whether day/child care outside the home is available for the disabled/incapacitated family member so that the participant can engage in work training activities outside the home. The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) requires that any day treatment or day care facility accommodate a child or elderly person and provide reasonable accommodations for individuals with disabilities. However, where a reasonable accommodation cannot be made or the care is not available, lack of adequate child care is a good cause reason for not participating in W-2 requirements outside the home. Written documentation from one or more local day/child care providers is sufficient verification that appropriate care is not available.

EXAMPLE 2: Ms. Johnson applies for W-2. Her daughter Kathy, age 8, is in an advanced stage of leukemia. Kathy has been hospitalized numerous times over the school year and has had extended absences from school. She has an extremely fragile immune system and can no longer be exposed to other children in a school or day care setting. The FEP places Ms. Johnson in a W-2 T employment position and opens the "CD-Caring for Disabled Child" participation status to care for her child with a disability. Ms. Johnson indicates to her FEP that her mother is available for two hours per week so she can also attend grief mental health counseling sessions, which is added to her EP.

7.4.2.2 W-2 T Participation Requirements

An in-depth formal assessment will determine the appropriate level of W-2 participation, the person's ability to engage in specific work and training activities and the need for supportive services, accommodations, auxiliary aids or communication assistance. (See 5.5.1) Attendance and cooperation with an in-depth assessment may satisfy participation requirements pending the results of the formal assessment. A W-2 payment reduction cannot be imposed on a participant for declining to complete a formal assessment. (See 5.5.7)

Based on the results of the assessment the participant may be assigned up to 40 hours per week in activities which may include work training, other W-2 T activities and education and training.

W-2 T work training activities approved by the FEP may include activities such as a:

- Community rehabilitation program - a program that provides directly or facilitates the provision of vocational rehabilitation to individuals with disabilities and that enables an individual with a disability to maximize opportunities for employment. Services may include vocational assessment, job readiness training, job placement and on-the-job support targeted at individuals with disabilities. Assignable activities will vary depending on the focus of the program, but may include:

- Disability and Learning Assessment (AD);
- Career Planning & Counseling (CE);
- Employment Search (ES);
- Mentor/Coach (MN);
- Job Readiness/Motivation (MO);
- Occupational Testing (OC);
- On-The-Job Training (OJT);
- Paid Work Experience in the public sector, not funded by TANF (SW); or
- Work Experience (WE).
- Activities similar to a CSJ but with more supervision.
- Volunteer activity. Assignable activity is Work Experience (WE).

Other common activities and statuses assigned to W-2 T participants include:

- AODA detoxification, assessment and treatment. Assignable activities may include AODA Counseling (CA) and AODA Assessment (AA) and Personal Development (PD);
- Mental health activities, as prescribed by an appropriate health care professional. Assignable activities may include Mental Health Assessment (AM) and Mental Health Counseling (CM);
- Counseling or physical rehabilitation activities. Assignable activities may include Physician's Assessment (AL), Ongoing Medical/Personal Care (MP), Physical Rehabilitation (PR);
- Court ordered activities. Assignable activity is Court-Related/Legal Appointments (LA);
- Activities related to obtaining shelter or retaining safety in a domestic abuse situation or other activities needed to stabilize a family. Assignable activities may include Domestic Violence Assessment and Supportive Services (AV) and Personal Development (PD);
- Activities that will provide support for children with special needs. Assignable activity is Family Member Treatment/Counseling (FC); and
- Caring for a family member with an incapacity of such severity that without home care, the incapacitated member's health and well-being would be significantly affected, as determined by the W-2 agency. Reportable statuses are Caring for Other Family Member (CF) and Caring for Disabled Child (CD). (See 6.4.1)

Education and training may be assigned through any of the following means:

- Through the assignment of up to 12 hours per week of allowable education and training (see 8.3.2.2);
- By aggregating education and training hours to enable a participant to engage in an education and training program that a participant can complete within a one year period with participation in up to 516 hours of education and training activity (see 8.3.2.3); or
- Through participation in a full-time technical college education program (see 8.3.2.5).

7.4.2.3 Marginally Employed W-2 T Participants

A W-2 applicant or participant who is marginally employed in an unsubsidized job only a few hours per week may also be placed in a W-2 T placement when the participant has long-term, severe barriers to increasing the hours in the existing unsubsidized job or obtaining additional unsubsidized employment. In these instances, the FEP must schedule flexible activities around the unsubsidized employment. W-2 T assigned activities must be specifically designed to assist the applicant or participant in overcoming these severe barriers while maintaining flexibility and sensitivity.

EXAMPLE: Ms. Smith's son Jason, age 8, has been diagnosed with a brain disorder. Jason is able to attend school most of the time, however, the school often asks Sue to remove Jason when he is uncontrollable. Appropriate child care is often not available during these periods. Ms. Smith is marginally employed and works approximately 10 hours per week in a small town pharmacy. Her employer has been sensitive to Ms. Smith's need for a flexible, part-time job. This situation is not likely to change for some time. Ms. Smith's FEP places her in a W-2 T position since she will not be able to move to full-time employment in a short period of time. The FEP includes her marginal unsubsidized employment on her EP and assigns Ms. Smith to 2 hours per week in a life skills motivational course. The FEP also opens the "CF-Caring for Other Family Member" participation status to care for her disabled child.

7.4.2.4 W-2 T and Work Training

The W-2 agency is responsible for the creation and management of work training sites that prepare W-2 T participants for unsubsidized employment. The agency must act as a liaison between providers and W-2 T participants when necessary.

W-2 T work training providers must complete the Wisconsin Works (W-2) Work Training Site Agreement (10792) and comply with all provider assurances outlined in the form. In addition, agencies must develop work training sites that:

- Are sensitive to participants with employment barriers;
- Offer part-time and flexible schedules to meet the special needs of participants;
- Provide comprehensive supervision of participants. See the TANF Work Participation Requirements appendix for more information on requirements for supervising W-2 activities; and
- Provide or arrange any needed supportive services, accommodations, auxiliary aids or communication assistance.

The W-2 Agency must provide worker's compensation coverage for all participants, except when the W-2 work training provider provides the coverage.

7.4.2.5 W-2 T Time Records

The participant is required to provide verification for education and training hours as well as other hours in W-2 T activities. See the TANF Work Participation Requirements appendix for guidelines on documenting and verifying W-2 activities.

7.4.2.6 W-2 T Payments

The W-2 agency will issue a monthly payment of $608 to the W-2 T participant if all participation requirements are met. The monthly payment of $608 will not be prorated or otherwise reduced if the hours assigned are less than 40 hours per week. Payments will be reduced by $5.00 for each hour that the participant fails without good cause to participate.

7.4.3 SSI/SSDI Advocacy for W-2 Placements

7.4.3.1 SSI/SSDI Application and Appeals

7.4.3.2 SSI/SSDI Advocacy

7.4.3.3 Services Provided by an SSI Advocate

7.4.3.3.1 Authorized Representative

7.4.3.4 Communication with SSA and DDB as an Advocate

7.4.3.5 SSI/SSDI Eligibility and Receipt of Benefits

7.4.3 SSI/SSDI Advocacy for W-2 Placements

The W-2 agency is responsible for identifying participants who may be eligible, or who express an interest in applying for SSI/SSDI through screening, formal assessment, and consultation with other providers of disability-related services. When the participant and the agency agree that the participant's situation is appropriate for SSI/SSDI advocacy, the agency is responsible for assisting with the SSI/SSDI application and appeals process to the extent needed by each participant. Participants who are receiving SSI/SSDI advocacy should be placed in the appropriate placement using the same criteria used to determine placements for other participants. (see 7.1)

A Disability Starter Kit is available on the SSA website and provides additional information and documents to assist individuals with an online application or to prepare for a disability interview. Kits are available for adults and for children under age 18.

7.4.3.1 SSI/SSDI Application and Appeals

The W-2 Agency must maintain staff with a working knowledge of Social Security Administration (SSA) guidelines used to determine SSI/SSDI eligibility including, but not limited to, the forms needed to apply, and the methods used by the SSA when determining eligibility.

An SSI/SSDI application is submitted to the SSA. To determine whether an individual is disabled according to Social Security regulations, the SSA looks at:

- The severity of an individual's impairment(s);
- Current age;
- Education; and
- Work history.

During the SSI/SSDI application process, the local SSA office is responsible for verifying non-medical eligibility requirements (financial and non-financial), which may include age, employment, marital status, or Social Security coverage information. Once verified, the SSA office sends the case to the Disability Determination Bureau (DDB) for evaluation of the disability.

It may take several months for the Social Security Administration (SSA) to process a submitted application. During this time, the W-2 agency should maintain contact with the SSA to ensure they have all the necessary information, the application is being processed correctly, and any issues are being resolved in a timely manner.

In some cases, an SSI application may be denied. If this happens, it is essential to support the participant through the appeals process.

The application process includes provisions for an applicant to appeal an SSI/SSDI eligibility decision. There are four levels to the application and appeal process:

1. Initial application;
2. Request for Reconsideration;
3. Request for Hearing with SSA office of Hearing and Appeals; and
4. Appeals Council Review.

The W-2 Agency must review, monitor, and document the progress of the SSI/SSDI application and the progress with the assigned activities in CARES and WWP. The FEP should review existing case comments and activity progress every 60 days.

7.4.3.2 SSI/SSDI Advocacy

SSI/SSDI advocacy must be provided directly by the W-2 agency, through subcontract, or through a referral to an SSI/SSDI advocate.

An SSI/SSDI advocate provides specific services to facilitate the approval of a W-2 participant's application for SSI/SSDI or appeal of an SSA decision. The roles and responsibilities of the advocate are the same whether a W-2 agency provides for advocacy through its own in-house staff or through an outside resource. A W-2 participant should receive SSI/SSDI advocacy services throughout the SSI application process including the initial application, reconsideration, or appeal.

In general, a qualified SSI/SSDI advocate must have the program background and knowledge necessary to successfully assist W-2 participants with the SSI/SSDI application process. In particular, an advocate should have the following background and knowledge:

- Experience working in an SSI/SSDI advocacy role;
- General knowledge of W-2 policy and procedures;
- Knowledge of the SSI/SSDI application and appeal processes; and
- Legal or medical background, or experience in the field of disabilities.

7.4.3.3 Services Provided by an SSI Advocate

The SSI/SSDI advocate plays a vital role in a participant's application process. An SSI/SSDI advocate shall gather the necessary information to build a strong medical narrative to accompany the participant's SSI/SSDI application. Advocates must also gather information about the participant's ability and capacity to work.

Ways in which this information can be collected are:

- Formal and informal assessments;
- Case management relationship; and
- Through the participant's experience participating (or failing to participate) in assigned activities and/or work experience.

The services outlined below may be provided at any point during all phases of the SSI/SSDI application or appeal process.

1. Review medical documentation and build a medical narrative.
2. Assist in supplying initial and subsequent documents, including non-medical documentation.
3. Coordinate with the case manager or an appropriate service provider to schedule additional evaluations that may build the medical narrative and support the disability claim.
4. Communicate information to and facilitate contacts among involved parties.
5. Attend phone calls, meetings, hearings, and appointments with the participant as needed or requested.
6. Present the facts in a participant's case that favor a decision of disability.
7. Ensure all relevant documentation is available to the DDB.
8. Assist the participant in complying with the SSI/SSDI claim requirements.
9. Act as a liaison among SSA, DDB, and medical professionals.
10. Coordinate with the W-2 agency and the FEP to establish a referral process and an ongoing communication network, to include SSI/SSDI related activities on the Employability Plan and to provide supportive services such as transportation and childcare for SSI/SSDI related activities.

The SSI/SSDI advocate should maintain regular contact with the SSA, DDB, and W-2 participant throughout the application and appeal process.

7.4.3.3.1 Authorized Representative

If a participant wants more involvement from the SSI/SSDI advocate, he or she may appoint the advocate to be an authorized representative. The authorized representative may do all of the activities listed in 7.4.3.3, and:

1. Review the applicant's file at the local SSA office.
2. Get information from SSA about the claim, including notices and letters, just as the applicant does.
3. Represent the applicant at informal or formal hearings.
4. Provide SSA with evidence for the applicant, and/or help with the appeals process.

The SSA webpage, <http://www.socialsecurity.gov/representation/>, provides authorized representatives with information and the necessary forms needed to effectively assist individuals with their SSA application or appeal.

No W-2 agency, W-2 agency staff member, or W-2 agency subcontractor may charge the participant a fee for providing authorized representative services.

7.4.3.4 Communication with SSA and DDB as an Advocate

1. Authorization to Send Information to SSA

To share necessary information with the other providers working with the participant, including SSA and DDB, an advocate must have a participant signed Authorization for Disclosure of Confidential Information \(10779\) form.

2. Authorization to Receive Information from SSA

If you are not an authorized representative, but want to receive information from SSA or DDB about the participant during the application or appeals process, send a participant signed SSA Consent for Release of Information \(SSA-3288\) form to SSA or DDB.

7.4.3.5 SSI/SSDI Eligibility and Receipt of Benefits

To determine the monthly SSI/SSDI payment, SSA divides the amount of the W-2 payment by the number of individuals in the W-2 group and uses the resulting dollar amount to determine the SSI applicant's share of the W-2 payment. The SSI applicant's share of the W-2 payments is then used in the budget to determine the SSI/SSDI payment. This calculation is used whether the SSI/SSDI applicant is the W-2 participant, or another W-2 group member.

If the SSI/SSDI applicant is also the W-2 participant, SSA will use a portion of the W-2 payments to determine the monthly SSI/SSDI benefit amount until the participant is no longer receiving W-2 payments. Generally the SSI/SSDI applicant will be eligible for monthly SSI/SSDI benefits back to the month of application.

7.4.4 SSI/SSDI Transition Plan

7.4.4.1 SSI/SSDI Transition Plan

7.4.4.2 Developing the SSI/SSDI Transition Plan

7.4.4.1 SSI/SSDI Transition Plan

The case manager may begin to develop a written Transition Plan with the participant early in the SSI advocacy process using the automated SSI/SSDI Transition Plan.

The Transition Plan must be developed during a meeting between the FEP and the participant. Once there is a formal decision handed down from the Social Security Administration (SSA) regarding eligibility for SSI/SSDI, the Transition Plan should be finalized with the participant. The final Transition Plan should be issued to the participant no sooner than 90 days prior to W-2 eligibility ending and reviewed regularly with the participant up until W-2 eligibility ends. The case manager must document in PIN comments when the final plan was printed and given to the participant.

7.4.4.2 Developing the SSI/SSDI Transition Plan

Circumstances will vary greatly from one family to another which will require case managers to be resourceful as they work through the plan with the participant. Areas of need that should be addressed include:

- Emergency needs;
- Housing needs;
- Household budgeting and/or money management needs;
- Access to economic supports;
- Education and training needs for the participant and other family members;
- Legal assistance needs;
- Employment support needs with particular emphasis on work connection resources targeted at individuals with disabilities;
- Child care needs (for job search and work);
- Transportation needs;
- Personal and family health Care needs; and
- Other needs identified by the participant.

The Transition Plan must include at a minimum, the following elements for each need that is identified:

1. A plan of action. A short-term plan of action should help the participant address an emergency or short-term needs. A long-term plan of action includes the steps necessary to carry out a goal towards self-sufficiency, such as completing an education or training program or securing permanent housing; and

2. Resource and referral information for any known government and community resources that may help to address the need. The Transition Plan should explain the purpose of each resource and how it addresses or relates to the participant's identified need(s).

A W-2 worker must never enter confidential information in the SSI/SSDI Transition Plan in WWP. See 4.2.2.1 for a listing of confidential information that must never be entered on WWP pages without the additional security protections.

Important Topics to Be Covered in the SSI/SSDI Transition Plan

1. Benefits and supportive services targeted at individuals with disabilities, including recipients of SSI/SSDI. Examples include:

- a. Ticket to Work: The Ticket to Work and Self-Sufficiency Program is an employment program for people with disabilities who are interested in going to work. The Ticket to Work Program is designed to remove many of the barriers that previously influenced people's decisions about going to work because of the concerns over losing health care coverage. The goal of the Ticket to Work Program is to increase opportunities and choices for Social Security Disability Insurance beneficiaries to obtain employment, vocational rehabilitation (VR), and other support services from public and private providers, employers, and other organizations. To access a list of Ticket to Work providers in Wisconsin, go to:

<https://choosework.ssa.gov/findhelp/>

- b. Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR):

- Provides employment services and counseling to people with disabilities;
- Provides or arranges for services to enable an individual to go to work; and
- Provides training and technical assistance to employers regarding disability employment issues.

A person is presumed eligible for DVR services if they are receiving SSDI or SSI and want to work. DVR service locations are available at:

<https://dwd.wisconsin.gov/dvr/locations/>

- c. Independent Living Centers (ILC): Wisconsin ILCs are community based, consumer directed, not for profit organizations. ILCs are nonresidential organizations serving persons of any age with any disabilities in all 72

Wisconsin counties. Unique in the world of human services, ILCs are governed and operated by a board and staff composed of a majority of people with disabilities. At a minimum, all ILCs funded through a contract with a designated state entity are required to provide these core services:

- Peer Support – staff and trained volunteers provide support, encouragement, and guidance for individuals with disabilities;
- Information and Referral – one-stop shopping for information related to disability or services for individuals with disabilities, families, employers, and the community;
- Independent Living Skills Training – assessment and training to people with disabilities in areas such as money management, housekeeping, communication, self-advocacy, prevocational skills and socialization; and
- Individual and Systems Advocacy – consistent with the philosophy of independent living, individuals with disabilities are taught to advocate for themselves. In addition, ILCs can engage in activities designed to affect positive change in local, state, and federal systems affecting individuals with disabilities.
- Services that facilitate the transition from nursing homes and other institutions to the community, provide assistance to those at risk of entering institutions, and facilitate transition of youth to postsecondary life.

More information about these centers and where they are located is available at: <https://www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/disabilities/physical/ilcs-contact.htm>.

d. Application Information for Caretaker Supplement: Wisconsin's Caretaker Supplement (CTS) is a cash benefit available to parents who are eligible for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments. Caretaker Supplement benefits are $250 per month for the first eligible child and $150 per month for each additional eligible child. Individuals can apply for CTS over the phone, by mail, or at a local agency. Applications can also be submitted in ACCESS when applying for health care or Foodshare benefits. More information on what CTS is and how to apply is available at: <http://dhs.wisconsin.gov/ssi/caretaker.htm>

e. Aging and Disability Resource Centers (ADRCs): ADRCs are service centers that provide a place for the public to get accurate, unbiased information on all aspects of life related to aging or living with a disability. These centers are friendly, welcoming places that anyone can contact to receive information and assistance regarding not only the public benefits that may be available, but all of the programs and services available throughout the area.

Individuals, concerned families or friends, or professionals working with issues related to aging, physical disabilities, developmental disabilities, mental health issues, or substance use disorders can receive information specifically tailored to each person's situation. ADRC services can be provided at a center, via telephone, or through a home visit, whichever is more convenient to the individual seeking help. More information on what services are provided and ADRC locations is available at: <https://www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/adrc/index.htm>.

2. Government-funded economic supports, including but not limited to:
 - a. Caretaker Supplement;
 - b. FoodShare;
 - c. BadgerCare Plus (for dependent children of the SSI/SSDI recipient);
 - d. Child Support;
 - e. Wisconsin Shares Child Care Subsidy Program – for individuals who plan to work in unsubsidized employment or attend job skills training while employed; and
 - f. Wisconsin Home Energy Assistance Program (WHEAP).

3. Community-based supportive services that may address unmet needs and prevent crisis situations from arising. Examples include:
 - a. Subsidized housing programs;
 - b. Household Budgeting/Money Management Services;
 - c. Transportation Services;
 - d. Legal Assistance Services;
 - e. Mental Health and AODA Services;
 - f. Domestic Violence Services;
 - g. Adult Literacy services; and
 - h. Other services including volunteer organizations.

7.4.5 Custodial Parent of an Infant (CMC)

7.4.5.1 Eligibility for CMC

7.4.5.1.1 Other Adult Living In The Home

7.4.5.1.2 Paternity Establishment

7.4.5.2 CMC Verification, Placement, and Payment

7.4.5.3 State 48-Month Lifetime Limit for CMC

7.4.5.4 Ending CMC

The CMC placement is for eligible parents with newborns so that they may provide care for their children during the first months of the children's lives as well as to successfully adjust to the challenges of being a parent. A custodial parent of an infant 8 weeks old or younger who meets W-2 financial and nonfinancial eligibility may receive a monthly CMC payment of $673 and will not be required to participate in W-2 activities unless he or she volunteers to participate in activities.

During the 8-week period, it is expected that in addition to physically recuperating from the birth of their child and nurturing their infants during this critical period, new parents will also find childcare and take other steps necessary in order to prepare to enter or re-enter the workforce. W-2 agencies should encourage CMC participants to take advantage of the employment-related services offered within the W-2 program during the 8-week CMC period.

7.4.5.1 Eligibility for CMC

The custodial parent must meet all W-2 nonfinancial and financial eligibility requirements. (See Chapters 2 and 3) In addition, a custodial parent of an infant must meet the following criteria:

1. Have a child 8 weeks old or less; and
2. No other adult member of the custodial parent's W-2 Group is participating or eligible to participate in a W-2 employment position or be working in an unsubsidized job.

7.4.5.1.1 Other Adult Living In The Home

The family is not eligible for a CMC payment if another adult is included in the W-2 Group and is working or if he or she is not working but is eligible to participate in a W-2 placement. This is regardless of the other adult's income level. Even if the income of the other adult results in the family's income being at or below 115% of federal poverty, the family is still ineligible for a CMC payment. If the family's income is at or below 115%, the other adult must be considered for placement in a W-2 employment position. In this situation, this family would be considered a two-parent family and be treated according to two-parent family policy.

EXAMPLE 1: Diane gave birth to Marina on July 8, and applied for CMC. During intake, Diane stated that Marina's father, her boyfriend, does live in the home with them and they signed the PATH form in the hospital. When asked whether he was employed, Marina said that he hauls lumber part-time for a man in town. Because the boyfriend is the non-marital co-parent and lives in the home, he is considered the "other adult in the W-2 group" and because he is working in unsubsidized employment, the family is not eligible for CMC. The FEP must offer the family other employment services if otherwise eligible such as case management services in the CMU placement.

EXAMPLE 2: Dorothy gave birth to a girl on September 1, and applied for CMC. During intake, Dorothy stated that she is married to John, but John is not the biological father of the baby girl. They do have a child in common in the home. She also says that John is employed as a laborer at a local construction site making a little over $7.25 hour. Because the spouse is included in the W-2 group and because he is working in unsubsidized employment, the family is not eligible for CMC even though John's income results in the family being below the 115% level of poverty. The FEP must offer the family other employment services.

EXAMPLE 3: Mia gave birth to a baby on June 14. Prior to giving birth, Mia was employed full-time at a local grocery store. Mia's husband Jeff is the biological father of the baby. Jeff has not had a job in a year and has been staying at home and caring for his 3-year-old son. Because the baby's father lives in the home and he is eligible to participate in a W-2 employment position, the family is not eligible for the CMC payment. When the FEP conducts an informal assessment, the FEP takes into consideration a difficult birth that will not permit Mia to return to work for a number of weeks and determines that the father would be appropriate for placement in a CSJ. Jeff, on the other hand, says that he will not participate in W-2 as he would like to stay home and care for the baby. The FEP determined that Jeff was appropriate for W-2 placement and, because he refused to accept the appropriate placement, the family is not eligible for W-2, including CMC.

EXAMPLE 4: Sonia gave birth to a baby boy on February 23. Sonia's husband Victor is the biological father of the baby. Victor has been receiving SSDI since 2000 when he was injured. Although Victor is included in the W-2 group, he is not working and he would not be eligible to participate in a W-2 employment position. The family is eligible for CMC.

7.4.5.1.2 Paternity Establishment

In situations where the CMC participant is not married, the FEP must inform the mother that she and the baby's biological father will have the ability to sign the PATH form to acknowledge paternity in the hospital and encourage the mother to sign the form. The FEP must explain they need to have their signatures on the form notarized (witnessed). Typically, a Notary is on staff at the local hospital. The FEP must inform the participant that there is a $10 fee for the form and, if the mother cannot afford the $10 fee, the hospital may be able to help with the fee. If the mother has any doubts about who the father may be, the FEP should discuss the option of genetic testing.

FEPs must stress the importance of legally establishing paternity at the time of the child's birth.

Reasons for establishing paternity:

- The importance of a child knowing his or her mother and father;
- Both parents are responsible for supporting their child;
- The child may be covered under the father's medical insurance; or
- It gives the child the rights to:
 - the father's social security and veterans' benefits;
 - know the family's medical history; and
 - tribal affiliation and/or enrollment (For Native Americans).

If the FEP does not have the opportunity to discuss paternity acknowledgement until after the birth of the baby, the FEP must still review the benefits of establishing paternity with the participant and inform the participant that the PATH form is available at the local child support agency (CSA) or county Register of Deeds office.

The FEP must explain the difference in eligibility for W-2 if the father lives in the household. If the alleged father lives in the child's home and the child's paternity is established while the mother is receiving the CMC payment, the mother's eligibility for CMC ends if the father is working or if he is not working but eligible to participate in a W-2 employment position. The FEP must be clear that although it may mean the household is not eligible for the CMC placement, the father may be placed in a W-2 employment position, education and training or other case management services in order to prepare for work.

In certain situations the FEP must contact the local CSA and request that the paternity establishment for that CMC case be prioritized. The CSA will assist in expediting genetic testing and judicial paternity establishment for CMC cases. These situations include:

- When a mother and father refuse to sign the PATH form;
- When the mother and father sign the PATH form and then later rescind it when they become aware of the potential loss of CMC payment; or
- When a mother and potential father are living together and paternity acknowledgement is not appropriate (for instance, there is more than one potential father).

7.4.5.2 CMC Verification, Placement, and Payment

If an individual meets the eligibility criteria, the FEP must place the participant in the CMC placement. Once the parent has been determined eligible for the CMC payment, the FEP can encourage the participant to volunteer for appropriate services such as parenting classes, budgeting classes, family planning services and, once appropriate, job search. These services are not mandatory activities and cannot be used as a basis for eligibility determination while the participant is in the CMC placement.

The CMC placement begin date is either the birth date of the child or the date of application, whichever is later. An applicant has seven days to provide appropriate verification. If the applicant provides verification within that timeframe, the placement must begin as of the date of application but no earlier than the date of birth. The agency has the option of extending the verification period up to 30 days and may still backdate the placement back to the date of the application. (See 4.1.3)

The W-2 agency must have verification of a baby's birth and application for a SSN prior to placing a participant into the CMC placement. Medical verification requiring the individual to be in the home for 8 weeks is not necessary. (See 4.1.2 and 2.2.1. #14)

EXAMPLE 1: Mary gives birth on April 14. On April 21, she applies for the CMC payment. During her April 23 intake appointment, Mary did not bring in verification of her baby's birth or SSN application. Mary's FEP instructs her to bring in verification no later than April 30. Mary brings in her verification on April 25. Mary is placed in CMC effective April 21, the date of application.

EXAMPLE 2: Jontae applies for the CMC placement on May 5 because her baby is due on May 10. At her intake appointment on May 8, the FEP asks Jontae to bring in verification of the baby's birth and SSN application as soon as possible. Jontae's baby is born on May 11 and she submits required verification to the FEP on May 15. Jontae is placed in CMC effective May 11, the date of the baby's birth.

Ongoing participants have 10 days to report a change in circumstances. If the change (the birth of the baby) is reported within this timeframe, the payment should begin as of the date of the child's birth. If it is reported outside of 10 days, the FEP determines whether the payment begins as of the date of the child's birth or when the parent verified the birth and SSN application date. The FEP should consider whether or not circumstances prevented the parent from reporting the child's birth within 10 days.

Individuals placed in CMC will receive a monthly payment of $673.

7.4.5.3 State 48-Month Time Limit for CMC

Under specific circumstances, the CMC placement will count toward the 48-month state lifetime limit. If the FEP determines that placement in CMC will count toward the individual's 48-month state lifetime limit, the FEP must explain the impact this will have on the family's eligibility for future W-2 benefits. If CMC participants reach the 48-month state lifetime limit while in the CMC placement they are automatically eligible for a time limit extension.

See 2.10.8 for more guidelines on CMC participants and the policies relating to W-2 time limit.

7.4.5.4 Ending CMC

The CMC placement must end 8 calendar weeks (7 days x 8 weeks = 56 days) after the child is born. CMC cannot extend beyond the date the child turns 8 weeks of age regardless of the date the CMC placement begins. A CARES alert is generated to remind the FEP to change the CMC placement on the appropriate day.

EXAMPLE: Joan applies for the CMC payment on December 28th because her baby is due on January 1st. The FEP processes the application and informs Joan she must bring in verification of the baby's birth as soon as possible. Joan's baby is born on the 1st and she brings verification of the birth to the FEP on January 7th. Joan is placed in CMC effective January 1st, the date of the baby's birth. Joan will no longer be eligible for CMC on February 26, which is 8 calendar weeks from the date the child was born.

As a CMC participant approaches her CMC end date, the FEP must contact her to discuss her employment and supportive service needs once the CMC placement ends. If the participant is going to continue in a different W-2 placement, the FEP must enter the new placement on the 57th day which will end CMC placement on the 56th day. If the CMC participant is not going to continue in a different W-2 placement, the W-2 episode must be end dated on the 56th day which will also end the placement on the 56th day.

EXAMPLE 1: Bobbi gave birth to a baby and is placed in CMC on March 6th. Two weeks before the 56th day in the placement, the FEP meets with Bobbi and finds out that she will be returning to her prior job and that she does not want any W-2 follow-up services. For that reason, the FEP will end-date CMC on the CWW W-2 Placement page effective April 30th, which is the 56th day.

EXAMPLE 2: Bobbi gave birth to a baby and is placed in CMC on March 6th. Two weeks before the 56th day in the placement, the FEP meets with Bobbi and Bobbi indicates that she has been very sad and depressed. Bobbi doesn't feel like she can handle getting a job as she had hoped. Based on an informal assessment, the FEP determines that Bobbi is in need of a formal assessment and possible services depending upon the outcome of the assessment. For that reason, the FEP will place Bobbi in a W-2 T effective May 1st, which will correctly end date the CMC placement on April 30th (the 56th day).

The CMC Placement Detail Report – Length of Stay of 42 to 56 Days identifies cases that are approaching the end of their 56 days.

The CMC Placement Detail Report – Length of Stay > 56 Days identifies cases that have been in CMC for longer than 8 weeks. If participants do appear on this report, agencies must act on these cases immediately by contacting the participant to discuss the participant's current and future employment and supportive service needs as well as ending the placement in CWW on the W-2 Information page.

On both detail reports, the Youngest Child Part. Status Code should contain the EC (eligible child) code. If this column is blank or has an XC (excluded child), action should be taken to determine why the child is not coded properly as EC. Quite often, the problem may be associated with:

- Living arrangement (CWW Current Demographics page);
- Household relationship (CWW Household Relationships page); or
- Placement (CWW W-2 Information page) remained open after eligibility has ended.

These reports are located in the "W-2 Monitoring Reports" folder in Webl. Each report has multiple tabs that provide additional detailed information. The tabs are identified in italics beneath the report name

7.4.6 At Risk Pregnancy

- 7.4.6.1 ARP Eligibility Requirements
- 7.4.6.2 ARP Medical Information Requirements
- 7.4.6.3 ARP Placement/Payment Start Date
- 7.4.6.4 Child Support Requirements and the 60-Month Federal Lifetime Limit
- 7.4.6.5 ARP Case Management Requirements
- 7.4.6.6 Ending ARP Placement/Payment

The ARP placement is for a pregnant woman in her 3rd trimester who is diagnosed with an At Risk Pregnancy. The participant receives a monthly payment of $673. A pregnant woman in an ARP placement must not be subject to requirements of W-2 employment positions, such as Employability Plans (EPs), sanctions for nonparticipation, etc. Pregnant teens younger than eighteen (18) years are not eligible for an ARP placement.

7.4.6.1 ARP Eligibility Requirements

A pregnant woman who meets all of the following requirements must be placed in an ARP placement:

- Meets W-2 financial and nonfinancial eligibility requirements, except the woman is not a Custodial Parent (CP) of a dependent child who resides in the woman's home;
- Is unmarried;
- Is in the third trimester of pregnancy, defined as the twelve weeks prior to the estimated delivery due date, which must be medically verified (see 7.4.6.2);
- Has a medically verified at risk pregnancy; and
- Is unable to work as a result of the at risk pregnancy, and the inability to work due to the at risk pregnancy must be medically verified.

The following W-2 nonfinancial eligibility criteria does not apply to ARP Eligibility:
 "Have made a good faith effort, as determined by the W-2 agency on a case-by-case basis, to obtain employment and have not refused any bona fide offer of employment, including a job quit, within 180 calendar days immediately preceding application. (See 2.2.1, #8)

EXAMPLE: Sophia is seven months pregnant with her first child and has never been married. Sophia's doctor recently ordered Sophia to bed rest for the remainder of her pregnancy to treat problems in Sophia's medical conditions that developed from Sophia's pregnancy. Sophia contacted the local W-2 agency for assistance. The W-2 agency provided Sophia with information about W-2 and ARP, and Sophia indicated she wanted to apply. While Sophia is on bed rest, the FEP contacted Sophia by phone and went to Sophia's home to complete Sophia's W-2 application. The FEP determined Sophia is eligible for W-2, except without custody of a minor child which is not a W-2 requirement for an ARP placement. The FEP gave Sophia an ARP Medical Information/Verification Form for Sophia to provide for her doctor's completion and return to the W-2 agency. The W-2 agency already had filled in the form with: (1) The W-2 agency's name, address, telephone and fax numbers; and (2) Sophia's name and birthdate. Based on the information from Sophia's doctor in the completed form, and the information Sophia already had provided to the W-2 agency, the FEP placed Sophia in an ARP placement.

7.4.6.2 ARP Medical Information Requirements

The required medical information/verification for ARP must be provided on either:

- The form At Risk Pregnancy (ARP) Medical Information/Verification (4070); or
- Letter/memo from the physician on the physician's letterhead that includes all of the information described below.

The required medical information/verification must be provided by the patient's physician based on the physician's medical examination of the patient. The physician's specialty area must be one of the following: General Medical; Family Medicine; or Obstetrics.

The physician's signed statement on either the ARP Medical Information/Verification Form or on the physician's letterhead must be completed no earlier than thirty (30) days prior to the beginning of the pregnant woman's third trimester of pregnancy. Medical information/verification completed earlier must be resubmitted and updated by the physician within the required time frame.

EXAMPLE: Christa is pregnant with her first child and is currently on bed rest because her pregnancy is high risk. She is in her first trimester when she applies for W-2. Christa is placed in a CMP placement. It is possible that her medical condition could change between her first trimester and her third trimester when she may become eligible for an ARP placement. Therefore, Christa has to obtain an updated medical information/verification no earlier than thirty (30) days prior to the beginning of her third trimester of pregnancy to be eligible for the ARP placement.

ARP medical information must include all of the following:

1. Patient's full name;
2. Patient's date of birth;
3. Patient's estimated due date (which must be provided by the patient's physician);
4. Physician's statement that the patient is in an at risk pregnancy (which the patient's physician must provide based on the physician's determination of an at risk pregnancy);
5. Physician's statement of the cause/reason for the physician determining the patient's pregnancy is an at risk pregnancy;
6. Physician's statement that the patient is unable to work due to the patient's at risk pregnancy;
7. Start date for the patient being unable to work due to the at risk pregnancy;
8. Any other comments (by the physician);
9. Physician's specialty area (which must be General Medicine, Family Medicine or Obstetrics);
10. Physician's National Provider Identifier (NPI);
11. Physician's signature;
12. Physician's name legibly printed;
13. Date of the physician's signature (must be no earlier than thirty (30) days prior to the beginning of the woman's third trimester of pregnancy); and
14. Physician's contact information: e-mail address; phone number; fax number; and office address.

NOTE: The W-2 agency may verify a National Provider Identifier (NPI) based on a medical provider's name or may verify a medical provider's name based on an NPI by accessing the NPI Registry website at: <https://npiregistry.cms.hhs.gov/>.

The W-2 agency must date stamp the ARP Medical Information/Verification Form or the physician's letter with the date when the W-2 agency received the document.

7.4.6.3 ARP Placement/Payment Start Date

The start date for an ARP placement must be the latest of the following dates:

- Date of W-2 eligibility;
- Start date of the third trimester defined as twelve weeks prior to the medically verified estimated delivery due date; or
- Date specified by the physician in the ARP medical information/verification as the start date of the patient's inability to work due to her at risk pregnancy.

7.4.6.4 Child Support Requirements and the 60-Month Federal Lifetime Limit

ARP payments do not require cooperation with child support or the assignment of Child Support payments. ARP placements do not count towards the 60-month federal lifetime limit because the payment is considered short term assistance under TANF regulations.

If an ARP participant transitions to another placement, the child support rules and requirements for that placement should be implemented when the participant changes placements.

7.4.6.5 ARP Case Management Requirements

The W-2 agency must contact ARP participants at least once a month. These contacts must be initiated by the W-2 agency. The contacts may occur in-person or by phone depending on the needs of the ARP participant.

The purpose of the monthly contact is to discuss the ARP participant's needs. The W-2 agency must provide W-2 services or refer the participant to other agencies/services to meet her needs. For example, discussion with the ARP participant may reveal that periodic visiting nurse services may be helpful, and then the W-2 worker would follow-up with a referral for those services.

7.4.6.6 Ending ARP Placement/Payment

The end date for an ARP placement is the earliest of the following four dates:

- When the ARP placement changes to a different W-2 placement, for example the placement change to a Custodial Parent of an Infant (CMC) placement when the woman's child was born.
- If an ARP participant regains custody of a dependent child, the ARP participant may be eligible for a W-2 Transition (W-2 T) placement.
- When one or more of the five ARP eligibility requirements are no longer met. Examples include: the participant regained custody of her minor child; the participant got married; or the participant is no longer pregnant.
- When CARES batch process ends the ARP placement; this is twenty (20) days after the estimated due date.

History: Release 16-01; Release 13-01.

7.5 Other Unpaid Placements

7.5.1 Noncustodial Parents

- 7.5.1.1 Noncustodial Parent Eligibility for W-2 Services
- 7.5.1.2 W-2 Case Management Services for Noncustodial Parents (CMN)
- 7.5.1.3 Stipends for Noncustodial Parents (TSP)
 - 7.5.1.3.1 Participation Requirements
 - 7.5.1.3.2 Stipend Payments
 - 7.5.1.3.3 Stipend Procedures
- 7.5.1.4 Children First

One of the goals of W-2 is to enable custodial parents to achieve economic stability by ensuring regular child support payments in combination with employment. For this reason, W-2 agencies should provide case management and employment services to NCPs. When appropriate, W-2 agencies should explain available NCP services to the custodial parent.

7.5.1.1 Noncustodial Parents' Eligibility for W-2 Services

An NCP may be eligible for W-2 services when all of the following apply:

1. The custodial parent is:
 - a. Participating in a TMP, CSJ, W-2 T, or CMJ placement;
 - b. Receiving a payment in an ARP or CMC placement; or
 - c. Receiving Wisconsin Shares child care assistance;

Agencies may disclose information to the NCP about the custodial parent's participation status in W-2 or child care (i.e., not participating in a qualifying program or placement) to explain why the NCP is not eligible for W-2.

If the FEP receives information, from the NCP or some other source, that indicates that the custodial parent may no longer be receiving child care or that his or her W-2 placement may have ended, the FEP would have to re-determine eligibility. At a minimum, this information must be verified again at the NCP's six month eligibility review.

2. The NCP is subject to a child support order;

3. The NCP meets all other financial and nonfinancial eligibility criteria except that the individual is an NCP (see Chapters 2 and 3); and
4. The NCP meets all eligibility criteria defined in DCF 105 including drug screening and subsequent referral to testing or treatment as indicated.

EXAMPLE: Norman is the NCP of Thomas, his nine-year-old son. Thomas lives with his mother, Mary. Mary is in a CSJ. Norman has a Child Support order that requires him to pay the monthly court-ordered support for Thomas. Although Norman typically is a few months late in making his Child Support payments, he is cooperating with the CSA and he meets all other W-2 financial and nonfinancial requirements, except that he is not a custodial parent. Norman would be eligible for W-2 services for NCPs.

7.5.1.2 W-2 Case Management Services for Noncustodial Parents (CMN)

The W-2 agency may provide the following case management services to individuals in a CMN placement:

- Employment Search (ES);
- Job Retention Services (JR);
- Career Advancement Services (CR);
- Education and Training activities, including;
 - Job Skills Training (JS);
 - General Educational Development (GE);
 - High School Equivalency Diploma (HE);
 - Life Skills (LS);
- Parenting Skills (PA);
- Other Case Management activities (See Appendix – Activity Codes for a full list).

7.5.1.3 Stipends for Noncustodial Parents (TSP)

The Stipends for Noncustodial Parents (TSP) placement is available to eligible NCPs who are not ready for a TEMP job (see 7.3) or unsubsidized employment due to lack of work skills or education. TSP is also available to eligible NCPs who could benefit from a monetary stipend for participation in W-2 activities that will prepare them for a TEMP job or unsubsidized employment.

7.5.1.3.1 Participation Requirements

To be eligible for a stipend, an NCP in the TSP placement must participate in a minimum of 20 hours per week of W-2 education and training activities that prepare the individual for employment. These include:

- A course of study meeting the standards established under Wis. Stat. s. 115.29(4), for the granting of a declaration of equivalency of high school graduation;
- English-as-a-Second Language;
- Adult basic education courses; and
- Short-term job skills training for career focused training programs such as vocational training classes and pre-vocational or bridge training focused on specific industry sectors.

The W-2 agency may prescribe additional requirements that an NCP must achieve in order to receive a stipend, e.g., perfect attendance.

7.5.1.3.2 Stipend Payments

The W-2 agency may issue a stipend payment to an NCP at any point or frequency during the TSP placement based on the current needs of the individual while he or she is preparing for employment. Stipend payments must not be based on hours of participation in W-2 activities.

An NCP may receive stipend payments for a maximum of 16 weeks in a rolling twelve-month period. The W-2 agency may determine a stipend amount that is not to exceed $200 per month, per NCP in the TSP placement. The amount of the stipend should help the NCP with meeting the costs associated with engaging in W-2 education and training activities.

Stipend payments should not be used in conjunction with other supports available to NCPs. W-2 agencies must offer NCPs assistance in developing a Supportive Service Plan (see 7.6.1) and use this information to gauge the needs of the NCP while participating in W-2 activities.

NOTE: Stipend payments do not fall under the category of “cash assistance,” and NCPs receiving stipends are not subject to the state 48-month lifetime limit. Stipends are a non-recurrent, short-term benefit authorized at 45 C.F.R. § 260.31(b)(1). The stipend is not intended to meet recurrent or ongoing needs of the NCP.

Placement in TSP on any day of the standard workweek, i.e., Sunday to Saturday, will count as one week. W-2 agencies should maximize NCP participation and move an NCP to the TSP placement on a Monday when possible.

W-2 agencies are required to move an NCP in the TSP placement to a TEMP job or unsubsidized job as quickly as possible. The stipend terminates when the NCP begins a TEMP job in the TNP placement (see 7.3.1) or begins unsubsidized employment.

7.5.1.3.3 Stipend Procedures

The W-2 agency must create a standard operating procedure (SOP) establishing consistent procedures for issuing a stipend. Regional DCF contractor staff must approve the new SOPs.

The W-2 agency must manually issue stipend payments to NCPs in the TSP placement who meet the participation requirements for a stipend (see 7.5.1.3.1) and must document in PIN comments.

7.5.1.4 Children First

Children First provides employment and training services for eligible NCPs. It also provides services and support to help NCPs increase their involvement in the lives of their child(ren).

NCPs may be court-ordered to participate in the Children First Program if they are unable to meet their child support obligations. Eligibility for Children First is not tied to W-2 eligibility. An NCP who meets all of the eligibility criteria in 7.5.1.1 above may receive both Children First and W-2 services at the same time.

NCPs successfully complete the Children First Program when they make timely child support payments for 3 consecutive months or participate in the Children First Program for 16 weeks. Children First may be administered by the county CSA, county human/social services agency, tribal governing body, or W-2 agency.

7.5.2 Case Management for Minor Parents (CMM)

7.5.2.1 Eligibility for Wisconsin Shares Child Care

The Case Management for Minor Parents (CMM) placement is for individuals who are custodial minor parents. A custodial minor parent (under the age of 18, male or female) is eligible for W-2 regardless of the minor parent's living arrangement and his or her financial or nonfinancial eligibility status.

EXAMPLE: Kerrie is the mother of Olivia. They live with Kerrie's mother, Sandra. Kerrie is 17 years old. Anthony, also 17 years old, is Olivia's father and Kerrie's boyfriend. Anthony lives in the home with Sandra, Kerrie, and Olivia. Sandra's income provides the household's only income and exceeds W-2 financial eligibility requirements. However, Kerrie and Anthony both meet all of the CMM placement requirements simply by being a minor parent regardless of W-2 financial and nonfinancial eligibility status and regardless of living arrangement.

FEPs should provide individuals in the CMM placement with information regarding:

- Available child care services;
- Employment and financial planning;
- Family planning services;
- Community resources: and
- Eligibility for BadgerCare Plus, FoodShare and other food and nutrition programs.

The FEP should counsel a minor parent living independently on the importance of living in an adult-supervised living arrangement and should discuss optional living arrangements such as living with relatives, beginning with the assumption the minor parent would live with his or her parents. When appropriate, a referral for the minor parent must be made to the county or tribal social/human services agency or another appropriate community based organization for assistance in finding an adult-supervised supportive living arrangement.

If there is reasonable cause to suspect that the minor parent or a child of the minor parent has been abused or neglected, has been threatened with abuse or neglect, or that abuse or neglect will occur, the W-2 agency must make a report to the child welfare agency. By law, FEPs are mandated reporters of child abuse and neglect.

7.5.2.1 Eligibility for Wisconsin Shares Child Care

Minor teen parents may be eligible for a Wisconsin Shares child care subsidy while attending high school or its equivalent when they are living independently or living in a supervised living arrangement, including living with a custodial parent who is in a W-2 Employment Position.

A custodial parent who is enrolled in a W-2 employment position may be eligible for Wisconsin Shares child care subsidy and any minor teen parent in this household may also be eligible for a Wisconsin Shares child care subsidy. In order to be eligible for Wisconsin Shares, all W-2 eligible adults and minor teen parents must be engaged in activities as described in Child Care Policy Manual, Section 1.3.8 Participation in Approved Activities. W-2 agencies are encouraged to inform W-2 households with minor teen parents that they may be eligible for child care assistance and should encourage them to apply for this assistance at the local Income Maintenance agency.

Approved activities for unmarried minor teen parents include Learnfare, high school, or the high school equivalency. Approved activities for the adult may include any activity assigned by the W-2 agency as part of the W-2 employment position. The authorization for child care should be written to cover the overlapping times that the adult and minor teen parents are both engaged in an approved activity.

History: Release 21-07; Release 12-05.

7.5.3 Case Management for Pregnant Women (CMP)

The Case Management for Pregnant Women (CMP) placement is for pregnant women who do not have custody of any children. These individuals may receive services through a case management pregnancy placement.

For a pregnant woman to be eligible for a CMP placement, she:

- Must have a medically verified pregnancy; and
- Must meet all the financial and nonfinancial eligibility criteria (see Chapters 2 & 3), except that she is not the custodial parent of a dependent child.

EXAMPLE: Shawna is five months pregnant and does not have custody of any children. Shawna's doctor provided medical verification of Shawna's pregnancy, and Shawna meets all W-2 financial and nonfinancial eligibility requirements except she is not the custodial parent of a dependent child. Shawna meets all of the CMP placement requirements.

The W-2 agency may provide the following services to individuals in a CMP placement:

- Employment Search (ES);
- Child Care Related Activities (CC); and
- Other Case Management activities (See Appendix – Activity Codes for a full list).

Once the child is born, the participant may be eligible for the CMC placement. CMPs typically transition to the CMC placement after the birth of the child, if the woman has a medically verified at-risk pregnancy and also meets the ARP eligibility criteria, she may be eligible for case management services through a paid ARP placement. (See 7.4.6.1)

History: Release 21-07.

7.5.4 Case Management Denied (CMD)

The CMD placement is for individuals who have reached their time limit and are no longer eligible for a paid placement. When a participant is denied or declines an extension, the FEP must offer the CMD placement.

The goals of the CMD placement are to:

- Help match the individual to employment;
- Connect the individual and family to services in the community; and
- Reassess on a monthly basis whether the individual is eligible for an extension.

To be eligible for the CMD placement, the participant must meet W-2 financial and nonfinancial eligibility criteria, with the exception of exceeding the 24-month placement time limit or 48-month state lifetime limit.

EXAMPLE: Karl has been a CSJ participant for 18 months. The activities he was assigned to were Life Skills, Job Readiness/Motivation, Mental Health Counseling for his daughter Kassandra, Work Experience, and Employment Search. He started missing activities and after talking with his FEP, he was referred for a formal assessment with a mental health provider. Karl never followed through with that referral. With Karl's 24th month approaching, the FEP wanted to discuss with him his eligibility for an extension. His FEP attempted to reach him by phone and mail a number of times to discuss an extension, but Karl never responded. In Karl's 22nd month, he contacted his worker and told her that he was feeling depressed again. The FEP discussed with Karl the fact that he was going to reach his 24-month time limit and that he had not been participating. However, due to the potential depression, the FEP gave Karl a three month extension and scheduled another referral to a mental health provider in addition to work experience and employment search. Karl never followed through on the second referral and only participated sporadically in the assigned activities. The FEP denied eligibility for a subsequent time limit extension due to Karl's nonparticipation and placed Karl in a CMD to try and assist Karl in finding employment.

Services provided to a CMD participant will depend largely on the reason for the extension denial or the reason the participant declined an extension and the placement the individual was in at the time of the denial or the time the participant declined an extension. Participants who were denied an extension due to nonparticipation would likely be assigned to activities similar to what was assigned while in the subsidized employment position.

FEPs must meet with CMD participants weekly. Every 30 days, the FEP must review the CMD placement. The placement review must be held in a meeting (see 1.4.2.3) with the participant. At this meeting, the FEP must reassess the case. If the individual has consistently participated, the FEP must reassess whether barriers to employment exist. The FEP must also reconsider whether the individual is appropriate for an extension.

History: Release 22-05; Release 21-09; Release 19-02; Release 12-04.

7.6 W-2 Supportive Service Plan

7.6 W-2 Supportive Service Plan

The goal of a Supportive Service Plan is to proactively help individuals address family and work-related needs. The Supportive Service Plan must include information necessary to connect applicants and participants with supportive services available within the agency as well as other resources in the community. The Supportive Service Plan must also include strategies for addressing family and work emergencies before these situations result in family crisis and/or loss of employment.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

7.6.1 W-2 Supportive Service Plan

The W-2 agency must offer assistance in developing a Supportive Service Plan with:

1. Applicants who withdraw their W-2 applications prior to W-2 placement. In this circumstance, the Supportive Service Plan would generally be developed between the Resource Specialist and the applicant.
2. Participants who are approved or denied a time limit extension.
3. Participants who are placed in a case management placement, including: CMF, CMF+, CMU, CMD, CMJ, CMN, CMM, CMP, and TSP.

The Supportive Service Plan must be developed during a meeting (see 1.4.2.3) between the case manager and the applicant or participant using either:

1. The automated W-2 Supportive Service Plan in WWP.; or
2. The paper version of the W-2 Supportive Service Plan (12956).

The automated plan cannot be accessed until after an applicant has been referred to WWP. When developing a Supportive Service Plan with an applicant who withdraws their W-2 application prior to placement and no referral to WWP was made, the worker must use a paper version of the plan.

If a case has been established in CWW, the worker must document in PIN comments when the plan was printed and given to the individual. If the paper version of the Supportive Service Plan was used the worker must also scan the form into ECF.

An applicant or participant may refuse the offer to develop a Supportive Service Plan. If this occurs, the refusal should be documented in PIN comments.

History: Release 22-05; Release 20-03; Release 17-02.

7.6.2 Developing the W-2 Supportive Service Plan

Circumstances will vary greatly from one family to another, requiring case managers to be resourceful as they work through the plan with the applicant or participant. Areas of need that should be addressed include:

- Emergency Needs;
- Housing Needs;
- Access to Economic Supports;
- Household Budgeting/Money Management Needs;
- Education and Training Needs (Participant and other family members);
- Legal Assistance Needs;
- Employment Support Needs (i.e. Work Connection and Retention Services);
- Child Care Needs (for job search and work);
- Transportation Needs;
- Personal and Family Health Care Needs; and
- Other needs identified by the participant that impede the participant's ability to find and retain a job.

The Supportive Service Plan must include at a minimum, the following elements for each need that is identified:

1. A plan of action. A short-term plan of action to help the participant address emergency or short-term needs. A long-term plan of action includes the steps necessary to carry out a goal towards self-sufficiency such as completing an education or training program or securing permanent housing.
2. Resource and referral information for any known government and community resources that may help to address the need. The plan should explain the purpose of each resource and how it addresses or relates to the identified need.
3. W-2 Agency contact information.

Workers must never enter confidential information in the W-2 Supportive Service Plan in WWP. See 4.2.2.1 for a listing of confidential information that must never be entered on WWP pages without the additional security protections.

EXAMPLE: Susie has never attempted to get her driver's license. While she was in a CSJ, she was able to take a bus to her work site with little difficulty and preferred this mode of transportation. But her new job requires a much longer bus ride making it difficult for her to get home from work before her children arrive home from school. Susie confides to her worker during the Supportive Service planning meeting that she is considering quitting her job.

Together, the FEP and Susie talk through her options. As a result, her long-term plan of action is to pursue her driver's license and purchase an automobile. Her short-term plan of action is to locate an after-school program that the children may attend so that they are not left alone during the time Susie is on the bus returning home from work. Susie is informed that she can apply for a child care subsidy through Wisconsin Shares to help cover costs for any child under the age of 13.

The FEP identifies four community resources that Susie may benefit from. These include: a community driver's education program; two after school programs that are near Susie's home; and a community bank that assists low-income individuals with automobile loans.

08 Education & Training

8.1 Introduction

8.1 Introduction

W-2 emphasizes that education and training is a pathway to meaningful employment, rather than an alternative to employment. Education and training activities should be short-term and provide tangible employment skills. Combining work or work training activities with education and training should, at a minimum, prepare participants for entry-level employment.

All W-2 participants, including those placed in case management positions, may participate in education and training. W-2 agencies must:

1. Establish a referral relationship with other employment and training programs for participants to make use of varied education and training opportunities; and
2. Encourage employers to make training sites available on the business site for participants.

The FEP should emphasize the importance of education and training as an ongoing process. The W-2 program acknowledges the importance of life-long learning and encourages participants to pursue further education and job training once they have established an attachment to the workforce. In addition, child care subsidies are often available for those participating in these educational opportunities.

History: there are no previous versions of this policy.

8.2 Educational Needs Assessments For W-2 Applicants

8.2.1 Educational Needs Assessments For W-2 Applicants

The W-2 agency is required to conduct an educational needs assessment with all new W-2 applicants and before making a change in W-2 placement. (See 5.3.1)

History: there are no previous versions of this policy.

8.3 Education And Training Activities For W-2 Participants

8.3.1 Education and Training Activities for Unsubsidized Employment Placements

If a participant is placed in CMF, CMF+, or CMU, the case management services may include:

- Employment skills training;
- English as a second language classes;
- A course of study meeting the standards established under 115.29(4), Stats., for the granting of a declaration of high school graduation; or
- Other remedial education courses (e.g., adult basic education, literacy services).

If the W-2 agency determines that the appropriate placement for an individual is CMF, CMF+, or CMU, and that the individual needs and wishes to pursue basic education, including a course of study meeting the standards established for the granting of a declaration of high school graduation, the W-2 agency must include the activity in the participant's EP and pay for the education services .

History: Release 13-03.

8.3.2 Education And Training Activities For Community Service Jobs And W-2 Transition Placements

8.3.2.1 Education Activities for 18- and 19-year-old CSJ Participants

8.3.2.2 Assignment of Up to 10 or 12 Hours Per Week of Education and Training

8.3.2.3 Aggregating Education and Training Hours

8.3.2.4 Combining Aggregated Education and Training with Prorated CSJ Policy

8.3.2.5 Full-Time Technical College Education

Participants assigned to a CSJ or W-2 T placement may be assigned education and training activities through any of the following means:

- Through the assignment of up to 10 hours per week of education and training for individuals placed in a CSJ and up to 12 hours per week of education and training for individuals placed in a W-2 T (see 8.3.2.2);
- By aggregating education and training hours to enable a participant to engage in an education and training program that a participant can complete within a one-year period with participation in up to 516 hours of education and training activity (see 8.3.2.3); or
- Through participation in a full-time technical college education program (see 8.3.2.5).

For CSJ participants only:

- When an 18- or 19-year-old CSJ participant has not obtained a high school diploma or equivalent, the W-2 agency must allow the participant to decide whether to attend high school or to enroll in a course of study meeting the standards established under 115.29(4), Wis. Stats, in order to satisfy, in whole or in part, the required hours of participation in a CSJ. (See 8.3.2.1)

Participants who are interested in education and training activities that are not covered in W-2 policy should be counseled on their options which may include:

1. Pursuing the education or training program while meeting their W-2 participation requirement through other assigned activities. While this is not a viable option for everyone, some participants may be able to manage both participation in required W-2 activities up to 40 hours per week plus education and training that is not part of assigned W-2 activities. Any employment search activities assigned by the W-2 agency should target employment that aligns with the training the participant is enrolled in.

2. Ending his or her participation in the W-2 program and applying for and using financial aid and other work supports (FoodShare, child care, etc.) to complete the training program. Individuals who wish to pursue education and training outside the scope of the W-2 program should be referred to a career counselor at the nearest Wisconsin Technical College to explore his or her options.

Individuals who elect to pursue training outside of W-2 should be informed that child care eligibility for the training may be affected if the participant is not employed at least 5 hours per week. Information regarding Child Care policy can be found in the Child Care Policy Manual.

8.3.2.1 Education Activities for 18- and 19-year-old CSJ Participants

When an 18- or 19-year-old CSJ participant has not obtained a high school diploma or equivalent, the W-2 agency must allow the participant to decide whether to attend high school or to enroll in a course of study meeting the standards established under 115.29(4), Wis. Stats, in order to satisfy, in whole or in part, the required hours of participation in a CSJ. The W-2 agency must monitor each participant's progress towards achieving a high school diploma or equivalent. During the summer months, the agency must assist these participants in finding employment. If employment is not obtained for the summer, these participants must be assigned to appropriate employment-related activities.

Although it is expected that most 18- or 19-year-old CSJ participants will want to obtain a high school diploma or equivalent, some may choose not to do so. If this is the case, they should be assigned to other work training and education and training activities as appropriate.

8.3.2.2 Assignment of Up to 10 or 12 Hours Per Week of Education and Training

The FEP may assign CSJ participants up to 10 hours per week of education and training activities, and may assign W-2 T participants up to 12 hours per week of education and training activities. If there are hours spent in the classroom, doing lab work or study time, those hours must be included as part of the assigned education and training activities.

The following types of activities are allowable under the education and training hours for CSJ and W-2 T participants.

W-2 Education

1. A course of study meeting the standards established under 115.29(4), Stats., for the granting of a declaration of equivalency of high school graduation.
2. English-as-a-Second Language.
3. Adult basic education courses.

W-2 agencies may coordinate with the Wisconsin Technical College System and the University of Wisconsin-Extension Program or other educational programs to provide a variety of Adult Basic Education opportunities including literacy skills and remedial math and reading courses.

The W-2 activity codes associated with these education activities include:

- Adult Basic Education (BE);
- English-as-a-Second-Language (EL);
- General Educational Development (GED);
- High School Equivalency Diploma (HE);
- Literacy Skills (LS); and
- Regular School (RS).

Up to one hour of unsupervised study time for each hour of class time plus supervised study time may be assigned under these activities and tracked for attendance purposes. A statement from the educational program indicating the amount of study time required must be used to determine the assignment of hours.

For more information on W-2 activities, see Activity Codes Appendix.

W-2 Training

1. Technical college courses and other educational courses that provide an occupational skill.
2. Employer-sponsored training.

W-2 agencies can coordinate with technical colleges to offer certified (or diploma/degree) training programs, and also work directly with employers to develop on-site training opportunities.

These training courses must be tied directly to occupations for which there are job openings in the community. Examples include:

- Basic welding;
- Keyboard/data entry;
- Certified nursing assistants;
- Utility installation;
- Office software;
- Food preparation;
- Electronic assembly;
- Child care;
- Press production;
- Entrepreneurial/small business; and
- Hospitality training.

The W-2 activity code associated with these training activities is Job Skills Training (JS). Up to one hour of unsupervised study time for each hour of class time plus supervised study time may be assigned under Job Skills Training (JS) and tracked for attendance purposes. A statement from the educational program indicating the amount of study time required must be used to determine the assignment of hours.

If these activities are not available through the Job Center or other community resources, W-2 agencies must take responsibility for funding these services if assigned as a required activity, with the exception of a full-time technical college program. (See 8.3.2.5)

8.3.2.3 Aggregating Education and Training Hours

The FEP may aggregate education and training hours to allow W-2 T and CSJ participants access to short-term intensive training programs that require more than 10 or 12 hours of participation per week. Totalling education and training hours in this manner allows the FEP to place the CSJ or W-2 T participant in a short-term program.

The aggregation policy can be applied and should be considered for education and training programs that a participant can complete within a one-year period with participation in up to 516 hours of education and training activity. In addition to the education and training activities, the FEP must assign some work training activities each week, not to exceed a total of 40 hours of participation per week.

The FEP must document in PIN comments that the aggregation policy was used, the amount of aggregated education and training hours, the occupational skills to be gained, and the expected number of weeks needed to complete the training.

Wisconsin's Technical College system offers many one- and two- semester certificate programs that are accessible to W-2 participants under the aggregated education and training policy.

EXAMPLE: Jennifer is found eligible for a CSJ. Based on an occupational assessment, she is found to be a good candidate for a short-term intensive training program. Jennifer enrolls at her local technical college in a 16 week certificate program, requiring 15 credits.

Lecture time and lab work requires her to attend school 20 hours per week. In addition, her instructor provides a written statement estimating that Jennifer will need to spend an additional 10 hours per week studying. Using the aggregation policy, the FEP assigns her to participate 30 hours per week in the program. The FEP also assigns another 10 hours of work training activity for a total of 40 hours per week.

Jennifer's total aggregated education and training hours over this 16 week timeframe is 480 hours (30 hours per week x 16 weeks), keeping her well within the policy's one-year completion period and the 516 hour limit.

The goal of this policy is full-time unsubsidized employment. If the agency is unsuccessful in connecting Jennifer to unsubsidized employment, her hours of participation in education and training activities are limited to the following:

- For the remainder of the year beginning with the date of her assignment to the education and training program, Jennifer cannot be assigned to more than 36 hours of education and training ($516 - 480 = 36$).
- One year following the date of her assignment to the education and training program, if Jennifer is still in a CSJ placement, 10 hours per week of education and training activity may be assigned.

8.3.2.4 Combining Aggregated Education and Training with Prorated CSJ Policy

A prorated CSJ placement is appropriate for individuals who are already working in an unsubsidized job less than 30 hours per week and are determined through an informal assessment to have barriers that prevent him or her from obtaining an additional unsubsidized job or from increasing the number of hours in the current job. This includes individuals who lack the skills needed to be competitive for jobs available in the current unsubsidized market. See 7.4.1 for additional characteristics of an employed individual who may be appropriate for a prorated CSJ.

In certain circumstances, these individuals would also benefit from an intensive short-term training program using the aggregated education and training policy. When combining the prorated CSJ policy and the aggregated education and training policy, the FEP must keep in mind that total hours of participation, including unsubsidized employment, must not exceed 40 hours per week.

EXAMPLE: Laura works 15 hours per week washing dishes at a local restaurant. The W-2 agency assesses Laura's employability and determines that she is in need of additional training in order to make her competitive for full-time employment. The FEP assigns her to a half-time CSJ.

A prorated CSJ would normally require Laura to participate 11 to 15 hours in work training and up to 10 hours of education and training per week. But Laura is motivated and would like to participate in a certificate program on Medical Billing offered through the local technical college. The 16 week certificate program requires Laura to be in the classroom 14 hours per week. In addition, her instructor provides a written statement estimating that Laura will need to spend an additional 6 hours per week studying. Laura's total aggregated education and training hours over the 16 week timeframe is 320 hours (20 hours per week x 16 weeks) of education and training. In addition to the training activity, the FEP assigns Laura to 5 hours per week of work experience at a site specifically related to the training. Laura is participating a total of 40 hours (15 hours in unsubsidized employment, 20 hours in education and training and 5 hours in work experience). She is meeting the requirements of the prorated CSJ policy while also benefiting from the aggregated education and training policy.

8.3.2.5 Full-Time Technical College Education

An individual placed in a CSJ or W-2 T may participate in a full-time technical college education program when specific requirements listed below are met. An individual may participate for the duration of the program but for no longer than 2 years as long as the agency has determined that the program will likely lead to employment. An agency must consult with its Community Steering Committee and local technical college board to determine if a technical college education program will likely lead to employment.

Agencies are encouraged to detail their own internal policies governing how appropriate programs will be identified and how FEPs will make a determination for placement in a technical college education program. In all circumstances, the decision should be documented in PIN comments.

An individual placed in a CSJ or W-2 T may participate in a full-time technical college education program as part of that placement if the participant meets all 3 of the following requirements:

1. Is enrolled full-time (up to 15 hours per week) in a program offered through the Wisconsin Technical College System that requires between one and two years of class-time to complete and regularly attends all classes;
2. Maintains a grade point average of at least 2.0 (or the equivalent, as determined by the technical college);
3. Is employed or engages in work activities under a CSJ or W-2 T for 25 hours per week in addition to class time. The 25 hours must include the study time required for the program as well as other work activities that relate to the training the participant is engaged in that will improve the likelihood of obtaining employment once the training is completed. This may include activities such as work study/internships, career planning and counseling, job shadowing and work experience activities that relate to the training program.

Including the technical college program on the EP does not obligate the W-2 agency to pay for the program out of its W-2 budget. If the participant has not identified available funding for the program, the agency may require the participant to do so. The agency must assist the participant is applying for financial aid.

The W-2 activity codes associated with full-time Technical College are:

- Technical College (TC)
- Technical College Study Time (TT)

History: Release 21-07; Release 20-03.

8.4 Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act

8.4.1 Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act

Education and training opportunities may also be available through the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA). Under WIOA, a number of agencies and programs are required to work together to provide employment training and education services throughout the state. These required partners (in addition to W-2/TANF) are:

1. Programs authorized under WIOA, including workforce development activities for Adults, Youth, and Dislocated Workers;
2. Programs authorized under WIOA, subchapter II, Adult Education and Family Literacy;
3. Programs authorized by the Wagner-Peyser Act (provided by the Job Center of Wisconsin);
4. Programs authorized under title I of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (provided by the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, DWD);
5. Activities authorized under title V of the Older Americans Act of 1965, Older American Community Service Employment Programs;
6. Career and technical education programs at the postsecondary level authorized under the Carl D. Perkins Career and Technical Education Act of 2006;
7. Activities authorized under the Trade Act of 1974, Trade Adjustment Assistance (and NAFTA-TAA);
8. Activities authorized under 38 U.S.C. Ch. 41: Job Counseling, Training, and Placement Service for Veterans (provided by the Department of Veterans Affairs);
9. Employment and training activities carried out under the Community Services Block Grant Act (provided by Community Action Agencies, administered by DCF);
10. Employment and training activities carried out by the Department of Housing and Urban Development;
11. Programs authorized under state unemployment compensation laws (Unemployment Insurance, administered by DWD); and
12. Programs authorized under 42 U.S.C. s. 17532 (administered by the Department of Corrections).

09 Work Training Provider/Employer Guidelines

9.1 Work Training Providers/Employers

9.1 W-2 Work Training Providers/Employers

Sustainable, family-supporting employment is the goal of most W-2 participants. Work training experience provided by W-2 work training providers/employers can help TEMP, CSJ, and W-2 T participants reach that goal.

When possible, the W-2 work training provider/employer will have the opportunity to interview more than one individual for every available position. Positions can be for government, public or private non-profit, or private for-profit employers. W-2 work training providers/employers should allow the same flexibility in work rules for the W-2 participant that they do for a regular employee. However, they should be sensitive to work and family issues, including single parent households, accommodation for disability related issues, and child care needs.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

9.2 W-2 Work Training Provider/Employer Guidelines

9.2.1 W-2 Work Training Provider/Employer Guidelines

The following guidelines must be adhered to by both the W-2 agency and the W-2 work training provider/employer. These guidelines are outlined in the form Wisconsin Works (W-2) Work Training Site Agreement (10792). The W-2 agency must have a signed copy of this form on record for any work training provider/employer at which a W-2 participant has been placed.

1. Comply with and observe all federal, state and local laws, ordinances, and regulations affecting W-2 participants including the Family Medical Leave Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, and the Civil Rights Act of 1964 prohibiting discrimination of any employee or trainee based upon race, color, sex, age, sexual orientation, handicap, political affiliation or national origin.
2. Provide supervision, structure, performance appraisal, training, materials, and tools normally provided regular employees to assist a W-2 participant to develop good work habits and skills.
3. Provide a safe and healthy work environment in compliance with federal, state and local health and safety standards.
4. Collect and verify accurate time and attendance records.
5. Immediate notification to the W-2 agency of participant injury, problems detrimental to continued success on the job, transfer/termination from the worksite, or tardiness or absence not authorized by the employer/work training provider.
6. Notify the W-2 agency of any work training site requirements such as tuberculosis testing, driver's license, background checks, physical examinations, etc.
7. Timely notification to the W-2 agency of any collective bargaining changes that may have an impact on the W-2 participant(s) or the worksite agreement.
8. Timely notification to the W-2 agency of any changes at the worksite which might necessitate a reevaluation of the worksite agreement.
9. Development of written employer/work training provider expectations for all positions to be filled by W-2 participants. These may include titles, schedules, task descriptions, and skills and abilities necessary for success in that position.
10. Provide appropriate on-site access to W-2 participants by designated W-2 agency personnel as well as access to any participant records.
11. No Wisconsin Works employment position may:

- Fill a vacancy created by an employer terminating a regular employee or otherwise reducing its workforce for the purpose of hiring an individual in a W-2 employment position;
 - Fill a position when any other person is on layoff or strike from the same or a substantially equivalent job within the same or a substantially equivalent job within the same organizational unit; or
 - Fill a position a position when any other person is engaged in a labor dispute regarding the same or a substantially equivalent job within the same organization unit.
12. Agree to follow the provisions of the Wisconsin Works Employee Displacement Grievance Policy to address complaints, by regular employees of the work training site/employer, of displacement in violation of assurances under number 11 above. (See 9.3.1)
 13. Agree to notify regular employees of their right to file a displacement complaint, using one of the required notification methods and agree to inform the agency which notification method is being used. (See 9.3.3)
 14. No W-2 participant may be asked or required to function in any task or activity which promotes or discourages religious, union, or political activity.
 15. Provide work opportunities for no more than the number of participants who can be utilized productively.
 16. Agreement not to disclose information concerning the W-2 participant for any purpose not connected with program administration.
 17. Agreement not to willfully and knowingly provide false information for purposes of securing or ensuring issuance of a W-2 payment either in greater quantity or when there is no eligibility for a payment.

In addition to getting the signed Wisconsin Works (W-2) Work Training Site Agreement (10792) for each W-2 work training provider/employer, the W-2 agency must:

- Evaluate on an ongoing basis the W-2 participant's progress toward unsubsidized employment;
- Assist in resolving workplace conflicts as they arise; and
- Consult local labor unions to avoid potential disputes.

History: Release 13-03.

Release 23-05

9.3 Employee Displacement Grievance Procedure

9.3.1 Grievance Procedure

A regular employee of a W-2 work-training provider/employer may file a complaint with the local JCCC if the employee believes that he or she or another employee was unlawfully terminated to create a vacancy for a person in a W-2 employment position, i.e., TEMP, CSJ, or W-2 T placement, or if the employee believes that a person in a W-2 employment position has been unlawfully placed in a vacancy created by a labor dispute.

Complaints of displacement must follow the procedure outlined in the W-2 Employee Displacement Grievance Policy (13121-P).

In addition:

- Employees may initiate a group complaint. In such a case, the complainants shall choose one individual to represent the interests of the group. A group complaint shall be so designated at the first step of the grievance procedure and signed by all employees who are parties to the complaint.
- A work training provider/employer against whom multiple complaints have been lodged may ask that the JCCC or the W-2 Agency consolidate complaints. The JCCC or agency may consolidate complaints where a reasonable basis for consolidation exists.
- No work training provider/employer may retaliate against an employee, his or her representative, or any witness who participates in the grievance procedure, for initiating or participating in the grievance procedure.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

9.3.2 Penalties for Engaging in Prohibited Displacement Practices

A W-2 work training provider/employer found to have engaged in one or more of the prohibited displacement practices is subject to any or all of the following penalties:

- Termination of existing W-2 work training site agreements with that work training provider/employer, after ensuring that all W-2 participants at the site are appropriately reassigned to W-2 employment positions at another site.
- Indefinite prohibition against future W-2 work training site agreements between DFES or its grantee/contractors and that work training provider/employer.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

9.3.3 Notification of Grievance Procedure to Regular Employees

W-2 work training providers/employers must inform their regular employees of the right to file a grievance under this policy, and of the procedure for doing so. Such notification may take place through such methods as:

- A sign posted in the workplace.
- A notification form signed by new employees during the hiring/orientation process (supplemented by other measures to notify current employees).
- A notification slip periodically included with employee paychecks.
- Any other means mutually agreed upon by the work training provider/employer and the local W-2 agency and approved by the Regional Administrator.

Standard language for all these methods of notification is provided in the Wisconsin Works Employee Displacement Grievance Policy publication (13121). Work training providers/employers must inform the W-2 agency of the notification method being used.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

10 Payments

10.1 Paid W-2 Employment Positions

10.1 Paid W-2 Employment Positions

W-2 participants in the following W-2 placement types receive payments:

- CSJ: Participants placed into full CSJs receive a monthly payment of $653.
 - 1/3 CSJ: Participants placed into 1/3 CSJs receive a payment of $218 for up to 10 hours of work training and up to 10 hours of education and training per week.

- 1/2 CSJ: Participants placed into 1/2 CSJs receive a payment of $327 for 11 to 15 hours of work training and up to 10 hours of education and training per week.
- 2/3 CSJ: Participants placed into 2/3 CSJs receive a payment of $435 for 16 to 20 hours of work training and up to 10 hours of education and training per week.

- CMC: Participants placed into CMC receive a monthly payment of $673.
- ARP: Participants placed into ARP receive a monthly payment of $673.

History: Release 13-03; Release 11-04.

10.2 Understanding W-2 Payment Issuance

10.2.1 W-2 Payment Issuance

In order to understand how W-2 payments are issued, it is important to understand the CARES payment cycles and the W-2 participation period.

There are two CARES payment cycles that generate W-2 payments either at the beginning or the end of the month.

1. W2P: This W-2 payment cycle occurs about five days prior to the end of the month with participants receiving their checks by the last day of the month.
2. W2L: This W-2 payment cycle occurs around the 7th of the month with participants receiving their checks by the 10th of the month.

These payment cycles run on different days of each month. Specific monthly dates can be viewed on the TBIC located in CWW using the following instructions:

1. Access CWW.
2. On the left-hand side, under Worker Tools, click Reference Tools.
3. Under Reference Tools, click Ref Table Search.
4. In the Table ID box, type TBIC and click Go.
5. In the Reference Table Search Result box, click the magnifying glass located on the right side of the screen next to the table name.
6. Click Search in the Reference Table Information. Select BNFTYEAR from the Column drop down, then enter the year you are searching for in the Search field.
7. Once you have identified the correct benefit month, the payment cycle dates are located on the right side of the table under the W-2 PULLD DATE and W-2 DELAY DATE column headers.

An alternative way to view specific monthly dates is to go to <https://dcf.wisconsin.gov/w2/partners/toolbox/helpdesk>, click "W-2 Benefit Issuance Schedule" under "Common Requests", then select the schedule for the year for which you are searching.

The timing of the payment depends upon whether the individual receiving the check is a new participant (having just applied and been found eligible) or an ongoing participant. If it is a new participant, the payment is issued based on what time during the W-2 participation period the person was placed in a W-2 employment position. The W-2 participation period is from the 16th of a month to the 15th of the next month.

W-2 payments include all reductions for missed hours of assigned activities and other penalties imposed during the participation period. (See 11.1.2)

History: 20-03.

10.2.2 Payments to New W-2 Participants

When and how a new participant receives the first few W-2 payments depends upon when he or she is placed in a W-2 employment position.

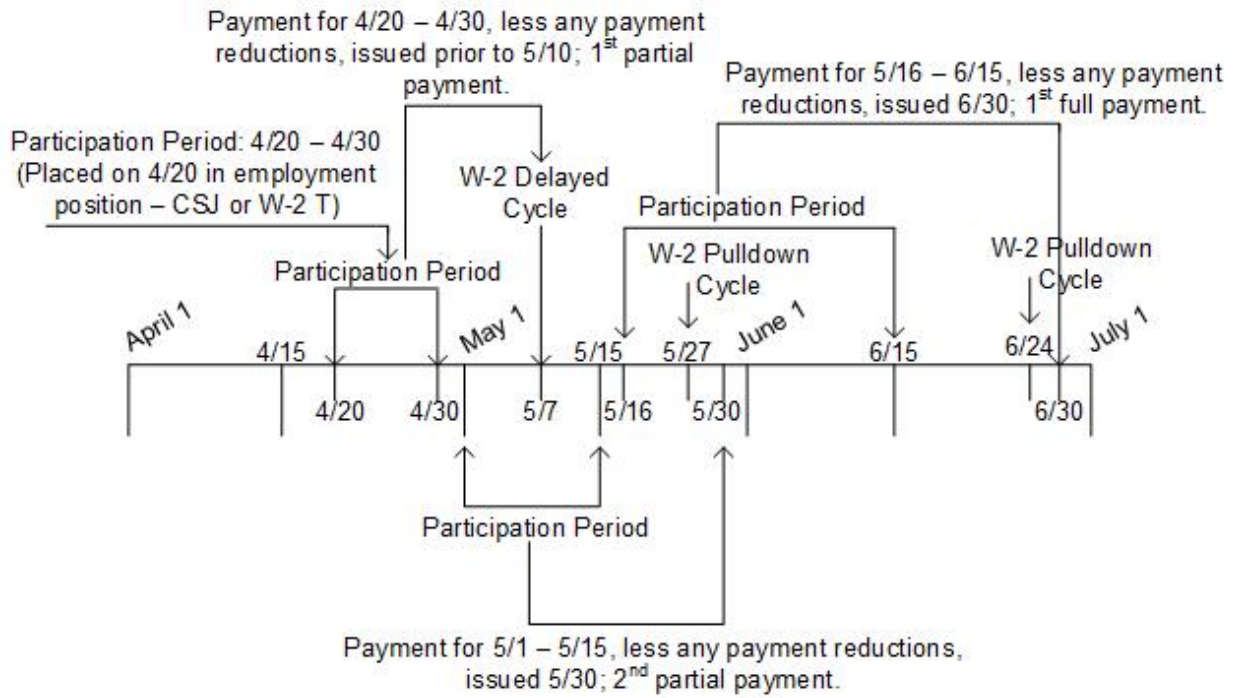

If the W-2 Placement Begin Date falls on or between the 1st and the 15th of the month, a prorated initial payment is issued in the monthly W2P. The second and subsequent payments cover full participation periods and are also issued in W2P at the end of the following month.

EXAMPLE 1: Placement between the 1st and the 15th of the Month

If the W-2 Placement Begin Date falls on or between the 16th and the last day of the month, a prorated initial payment is issued in two parts. The first payment is issued in the monthly W2L for participation completed from W-2 Placement Begin Date until the last day of the month. The second payment is issued in W2P for participation completed from the 1st through the 15th of the next month. The third and subsequent payment covers a full participation period and is also issued in W2P.

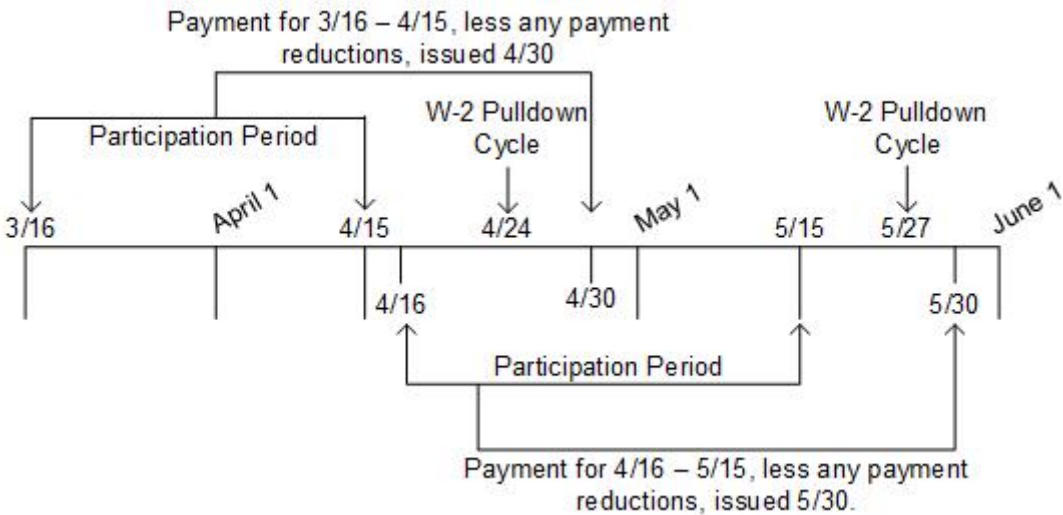

EXAMPLE 2: Placement between the 16th and the End of the Month

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

10.2.3 Payments to Ongoing W-2 Participants

Once W-2 is open and ongoing, subsequent months payments are issued in W2P at the end of the month in which the participation period ends.

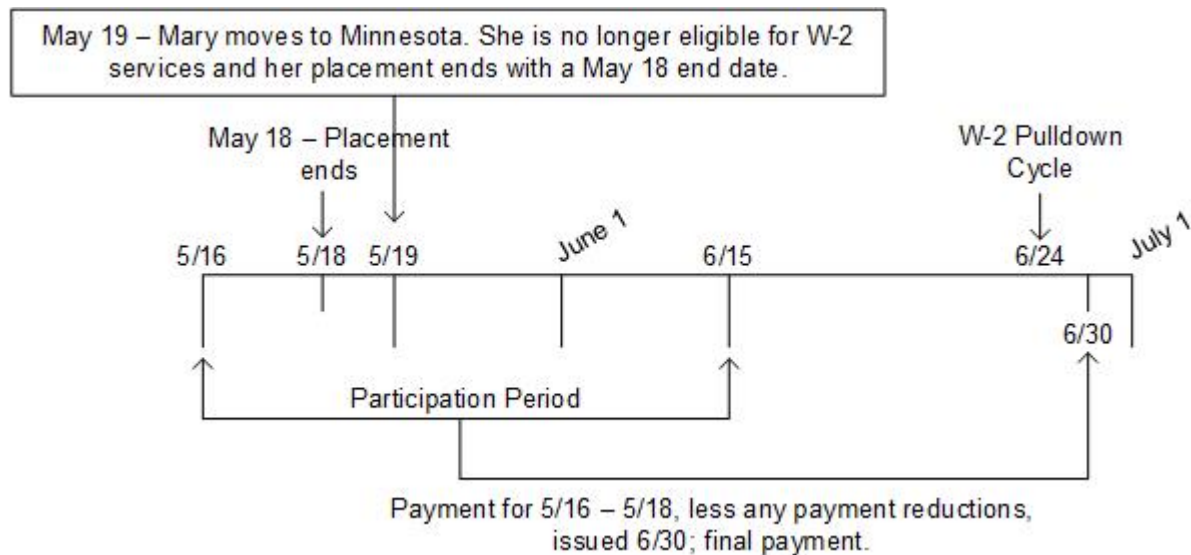

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

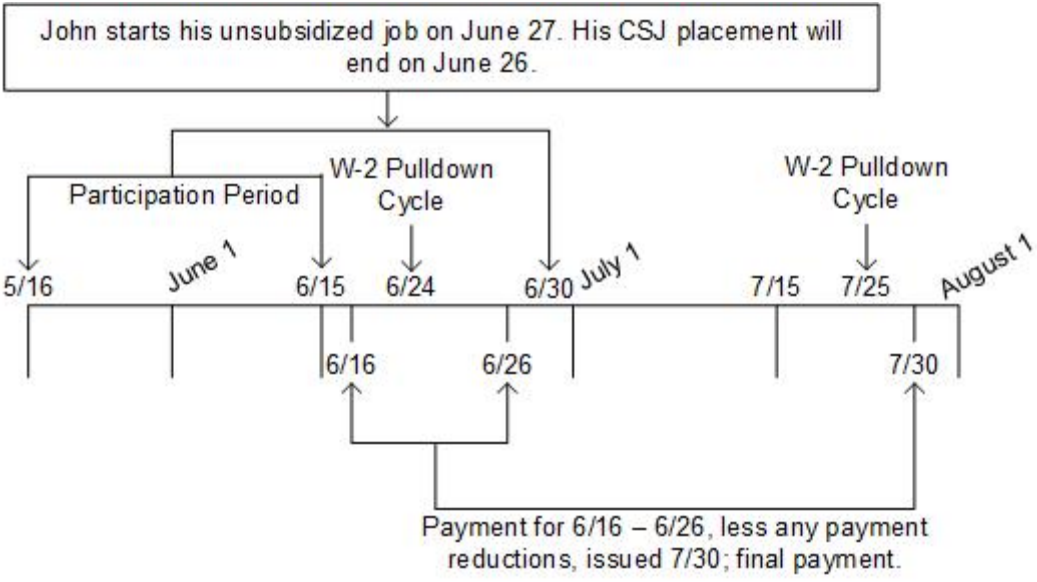

10.2.4 Final Payments

As with unsubsidized employment, a final check is issued for the current participation period when an individual leaves a W-2 employment position. Participants who become ineligible for W-2 will receive a prorated final payment for the percentage of the participation period that they were actually in the placement on the W-2 Placement page in CWW.

EXAMPLE 1: Mary reports on May 19 that she moved to Minnesota. Mary is no longer eligible for W-2 services. Mary's W-2 placement end date is May 18. Mary receives final payment at the end of June for three days of participation (May 16, 17, and 18).

EXAMPLE 2: John is in a CSJ and reports on June 1 that he found unsubsidized employment that will begin on June 27. The FEP informs him that he may continue to participate in the CSJ until his employment begins, and lets the CSJ work training provider know John will be leaving the position. The FEP verifies John's employment with his new employer and verifies that John will begin on June 27. Any hours missed without good cause up until June 26 will be deducted from the final payment.

History: Release 19-04.

10.2.5 Changing W-2 Placements

10.2.5.1 Moving Between CSJ and W-2 T Placements

10.2.5.2 Moving between Paid and Unpaid Placements

10.2.5.3 Moving from CMF+ to Paid Placements

When W-2 participants moves between W-2 placements, their payments may or may not be prorated depending upon the W-2 placement types.

10.2.5.1 Moving Between CSJ and W-2 T Placements

When a participant moves between a W-2 T and a CSJ placement during a participation period, the payment is not prorated. The participant receives the payment of the last assigned W-2 Paid Employment Position for that participation period. The participant uses a month of assistance based on the last W-2 Employment Position in a calendar month, not the participation period. (See 2.10.3 and 2.10.9)

EXAMPLE: Jennifer is in a W-2 T. On August 9th, her FEP places her in a CSJ. Her payment for participation from July 16th through August 15th is at the CSJ amount. Jennifer will use a month toward her W-2 T 24-month placement time limit for the month of July, and a month toward her CSJ 24-month placement time limit for August, as long as she is not moved to a W-2 T before the end of the calendar month.

10.2.5.2 Moving between Paid and Unpaid Placements

When a participant in a CSJ, W-2 T or CMC moves to a an unpaid placement, the participant will receive a final prorated payment for the time that they were actually in the paid placement during the participation period.

EXAMPLE: Rhonda is in a CSJ. On May 18th, her FEP places her in a CMF. Her payment for CSJ participation on May 16th and 17th will be a prorated.

When moving from an unpaid placement to a paid placement, the participant will be paid similar to a new participant. (See 10.2.1)

EXAMPLE: A W-2 participant is placed in CMU in July. The individual loses her job and on August 18, the FEP changes the placement to CSJ based on a reassessment. A prorated initial payment for the participation period 8/18 – 8/31 is issued on or about the 7th of September during W2L. The next payment is also a prorated payment issued at the end of September for the participation period 9/1 – 9/15. Regular ongoing payments for 9/16 – 10/15 begin at the end of October during W2P.

10.2.5.3 Moving from CMF+ to Paid Placements

When moving from a CMF+ placement to a paid placement during a participation period, the supplemental payment is not prorated. The participant will not receive a final supplemental payment unless the participant was in the CMF+ placement for one full W-2 participation period. (See 7.2.3.5.1)

EXAMPLE: On July 8, 2018, Uma moves to a CMF+ placement. On October 10, 2018, her FEP places her in a W-2 T placement. Uma will not receive a final supplement payment for the period September 16, 2018 to October 15, 2018 because she was not in the CMF+ placement for the full participation period. However, Uma will receive a W-2 T payment for the period of October 10, 2018 to October 15, 2018.

History: Release 18-02; Release 13-03.

10.2.6 Auxiliary Payments

10.2.6.1 W-2 Auxiliary Payment Approval Worker

10.2.6.2 Monthly Reviews of Auxiliary Payments

There are two different types of auxiliary payments:

1. Automated auxiliary payments are system-calculated and automatically issued in WWP. These payments are issued when a worker takes an action following either the Delayed Cycle or the W-2 Pulldown cycle that causes a recalculation for the payment amount owed.

The actions that can result in an automated auxiliary payment include:

- Backdating a paid placement after Delayed Cycle into a previous month;
 - Backdating a paid placement into a prior participation period; or
 - Changing participation data after the W-2 Pulldown Cycle such as adding Good Cause for hours of nonparticipation.
2. Manual auxiliary payments can be created in WWP for cases where an auxiliary will not be calculated automatically, such as auxiliaries that must be issued as a result of a Fact Finding Review.

All auxiliary payments will be issued to the participant via the Benefit Issuance (BI) subsystem in CARES Mainframe.

For lost, stolen, or destroyed W-2 or vendor checks, refer to the Appendix -- Benefit Issuance Guide.

10.2.6.1 W-2 Auxiliary Payment Approval Worker

There is a two-party W-2 auxiliary payment approval process. W-2 agencies are responsible for keeping their list of designated approval workers current in CARES and Wisconsin Work Programs (WWP).

For CARES, each W-2 agency must have an identified CARES W-2 Auxiliary Payment Approval Worker. The minimum number of approvers for an office is two and the maximum is six. The same worker may be an approver for more than one office. The approval worker CARES logon is displayed on CARES screen BIAW. In order to establish a CARES W-2 Auxiliary Payment Approval Worker, the agency must complete the form Job Access Loan, W-2 Auxiliary Payment and/or Performance Outcome Payment Claim Approval Designation (2582).

If CARES W-2 Auxiliary Payment Approval Workers leave their agencies or change job functions, their CARES logon will need to be removed from CARES screen BIAW.

When an approval worker is added or deleted from an office, the agency must check screen BIAW to see if another worker will need to be deleted or added at the same time.

The W-2 Auxiliary Payment Approval Designation form must be completed with worker addition or deletion changes.

For WWP, each W-2 agency must have at least two identified W-2 Auxiliary Approvers. The agency must complete the form WWP Application -- User Setup Form (5212) in order to add or delete an agency worker as a W-2 Auxiliary Payment Approver in WWP. Current W-2 Auxiliary Approvers for each agency are listed in WWP under Worker Tools.

10.2.6.2 Monthly Reviews of Auxiliary Payments

At a minimum, W-2 agencies must perform a monthly review of W-2 auxiliary payment monitoring reports available in WebI. The data in these reports is updated directly from the CARES Benefit Issuance subsystem into WebI by the second Monday of every month. The agency must investigate questionable payments or payment discrepancies identified on the reports. Some examples of questionable payments or discrepancies include multiple payments to a case for the same benefit month by one or more workers, or check amounts for a particular month issued to a case that exceed the monthly W-2 maximum payment level of $608, $653, or $673, depending on the W-2 placement.

If an agency identifies a questionable payment or a payment discrepancy, the W-2 agency must contact the appropriate case worker(s) to confirm that the discrepancy is not an improper or illegal payment.

If an improper payment has been made, the W-2 agency must take appropriate action to recover the payment. If applicable, fraud prevention actions will be implemented in accordance with W-2 contract and state fraud program requirements. Regional DFES staff identifying any major discrepancies on the reports will contact the W-2 agency to ensure that the agency is investigating the discrepancies and gather the agency's feedback on their findings. Regional staff also determine whether appropriate corrective action has been taken (e.g. benefit recovery, fraud referral, etc.)

Release 23-05

10.3 W-2 Overpayments

10.3.1 W-2 Overpayments

W-2 overpayments may occur as a result of an error by either the participant or the W-2 agency. There are three types of overpayments:

1. Administrative Error: The W-2 agency commits an error that results in incorrect payments. This type of error is also known as non-client error.
2. Inadvertent Household Error: The W-2 participant reports incorrect information or fails to report information due to a misunderstanding or unintended error. This type of error is known as client error (CE).
3. IPV: The W-2 participant willfully reports incorrect information or fails to report information and, as a result, is found guilty of IPV by the W-2 agency. (See 13.4.1)

W-2 agencies should seek recovery and establish liability for overpayments only from adult members of the W-2 Group. The adult member must have been an adult member of the W-2 group at the time the overpayment occurred.

Overpaid W-2 payments from paid W-2 employment positions and child care may be recouped from either a CSJ or W-2 T payment.

If a W-2 agency issues a W-2 payment in error, the agency must create an overpayment claim. If the agency receives a returned check, the check must be posted as a repayment to the claim.

10.3.1.1 Calculating W-2 Overpayments

W-2 overpayments can occur throughout the time a participant is in W-2. To maintain accurate and consistent calculations of overpayment amounts, W-2 agency workers are required to use the W-2 Payment Calculator and Overpayment Worksheet to calculate a participant's overpayment.

10.3.1.1.1 Calculating W-2 Overpayments When Moving Between W-2 T and CSJ Placements

When a participant moves between a W-2 T and a CSJ placement during a participation period, the payment is not prorated. Instead, the participant receives the payment for the placement they were in at the end of the participation period. (see 10.2.5.1).

When calculating an overpayment in this situation, W-2 agency workers must use the full payment amount of the last placement the participant was in.

EXAMPLE: Laura is in a CSJ placement for the 1/16-2/15 participation period. She discloses additional barriers to her FEP on 2/14, and this discussion leads to a new placement of W-2 T. The FEP does not update the placement in CWW until 2/28, after pulldown, so Laura is issued a full CSJ payment of $653, instead of $608 for the W-2 T placement she should have been in at end of the participation period. Laura will have an overpayment in the amount of $45 ($653-608) because payments are not prorated when changing between a CSJ and W-2 T.

10.3.1.1.2 Including the Amount of Child Support Retained in W-2 Overpayment Calculation

All parents in the W-2 group are required by law to assign all child support payments to the State while they are participating in the W-2 program and placed in a CSJ or W-2 T placement, or a CMC placement in certain situations. W-2 participants in these placements have 25% of their Child Support retained by the State. (See 15.1).

Participants who incur overpayments related to eligibility such as unreported income and assets should not have had any of their Child Support retained during the time period they were ineligible for W-2. When determining eligibility-related overpayments, W-2 agency workers must consider the amount of Child Support retained by the State when determining the final overpayment amount.

Overpayment calculations involving moving from a paid to an unpaid placement such as a CMF also need to consider the retained Child Support because unpaid placements are not subject to child support assignment and retention.

EXAMPLE: Doris is in a CSJ placement. Her worker learns she is no longer eligible and has incurred an overpayment for her last two months of payments. During those two months the State retained $30 a month of her child support payment received due to W-2 participation. Because she was not eligible for the W-2 program during that time, the W-2 agency worker must subtract the $60 total in child support payments that was retained when calculating the overpayment. Doris earned $1,306 in W-2 payments during two months of participation ($653 x 2 months). The W-2 agency worker subtracts the retained child support payments from the overpayment to reach the final total overpayment to collect: $$1,306 - $60 = $1,246$.

10.3.2 Deadlines for Establishing Overpayment Claims

10.3.2.1 Deadline for an Inadvertent Household Error or IPV Overpayment Claim

10.3.2.2 Deadline for an Administrative Error Overpayment Claim

The deadline for establishing overpayment claims varies depending upon the overpayment type.

10.3.2.1 Deadline for an Inadvertent Household Error or IPV Overpayment Claim

A claim for incorrect benefits due to an inadvertent household error or IPV that are subject to recovery should be established before the last day of the calendar quarter following the calendar quarter in which the overpayment was discovered. However, this does not bar the establishment of claims due to an inadvertent household error or IPV that fall past this timeframe. Claims for incorrect payments may be established up to six years after the discovery of the error.

EXAMPLE 1: If an overpayment is discovered on June 20th, it must be established by September 30th.

EXAMPLE 2: If an overpayment is discovered on January 2nd, it must be established by June 30th.

10.3.2.2 Deadline for an Administrative Error Overpayment Claim

Administrative error claims cannot be established if the end of the overpayment period exceeds 12 months from the date of discovery. The date of discovery is the notification date of the overpayment claim.

The overpayment period for administrative error claims ends with the month the error last occurred and extends back 12 months or when the error first became effective, whichever is most recent. In other words, the overpayment period cannot begin more than 12 months prior to the notification date of the overpayment.

EXAMPLE: A W-2 worker discovers on October 1, 2005, that a W-2 participant incorrectly received W-2 payments beginning in August 2004. If the worker establishes the overpayment on October 1, 2005, the overpayment period cannot begin prior to October 2004. Therefore, the overpayment period would be October 2005 through November 2004.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

10.3.3 Recovery of Overpayments for Open CSJ or W-2 T Cases

W-2 overpayments are recovered (sometimes referred to as recouped) at the rate of 10% per month from CSJ and W-2 T payments when resulting from an Inadvertent Household Error or Administrative Error.

W-2 overpayments are recouped at the following rate from CSJ and W-2 T payments when resulting from an IPV. If the overpayment is:

- Less than $300, the recoupment is 10% per month;
- At least $300 but less than $1,000, the recoupment is $75 per month;
- At least $1,000 but less than $2,500, the recoupment is $100 per month; or
- $2,500 or more, the recoupment is $200 per month.

History: Release 13-03.

10.3.4 Recovery of Overpayments for Closed Cases, or Unpaid Placements

Overpayment collections from persons in unpaid W-2 placements and closed cases must be sought by the W-2 agency. CARES will automatically send out repayment agreements for new claims and dunning notices. The W-2 agency must negotiate an amount of repayment for each program. Monthly repayments should be negotiated in an amount that will repay the overpayment within a reasonable length of time. In the event of unsuccessful collection efforts by the W-2 agency and after the third dunning notice is sent by CARES, the Department will begin centralized collection efforts. For further information on repayment agreements, see Appendix - Benefit Issuance Guide.

History: Release 13-03; Release 09-02.

10.3.5 Recovery of AFDC Overpayments

A W-2 participant who has an AFDC overpayment may elect to repay the overpayment in one of four ways:

1. Monthly installments;
2. W-2 payment reduction of 10 percent or $10 dollars, whichever is greater;
3. W-2 payment reduction greater than 10 percent. The elected percentage must be indicated on the AFDC Repayment Agreement; or
4. Payment in full.

Persons with AFDC overpayments must select and initial at least one of the above repayment options on the CARES generated AFDC Repayment Agreement. Failure to complete the repayment agreement may result in additional collection, tax offset, or both. A person selecting the recoupment option from W-2 cash payments (items 2 and 3 above) will have tax offset suspended, along with any other collection action, as long as he or she is receiving a W-2 payment. However, recoupment from W-2 cash payments can occur only if a participant agrees to have his or her W-2 payment reduced. Those selecting monthly installments or payment in full (items 1 and 4 above) must comply with the terms of the agreement. Failure to comply with the agreement will result in additional collection action.

The AFDC Repayment Agreements are generated from CARES screen BVSL.

History: Release 21-04.

10.4 Electronic Funds Transfer

10.4.1 Electronic Funds Transfer Option

W-2 agencies are encouraged to provide money management and banking information to W-2 participants and to promote EFT of W-2 payments into a financial institution rather than receiving the check by mail. Advantages of EFT include:

- Payments are more safe and timely.
- Avoids expensive check cashing fees.
- Many financial institutions offer a no-fee, no-minimum-balance checking or savings account with EFT accounts.
- Less staff time dealing with phone calls, documentation, completion and mailing of affidavit forms associated with lost, stolen, or destroyed checks.
- Promotes work readiness – many employers require that paychecks be issued electronically.

Some participants may decline the EFT option because they are chronically overdrawn and may owe fees associated with their negative balance. For these participants, money management workshops or classes may be appropriate.

The FEP should discuss various options with the participant, such as opening a limited account with a debit card only option that does not allow expenditures in excess of available funds. Participants with credit problems may still have access to a checking or savings account. Those who have "non-fraudulent" activities reported on their ChexSystems report and have been denied access to a checking account in the past may benefit from participation in a program to repair their standing with banks. Agencies should assist participants in connecting with these community resources.

Some participants may have a prepaid debit card and use this option when electing EFT. Prepaid debit cards may offer advantages such as helping build good credit and providing an option to participants with bad credit. However, some prepaid card vendors may charge excessive fees. Fees are sometimes hidden or hard to find. In addition to the monthly fee, other fees may include: initiation or activation fees, point of sale transaction fees, cash withdrawal fees, balance inquiry fees, customer service fees, bill payment fees, and/or fees to add or "load" funds. If the participant chooses EFT, the FEP must alert the participant to the potential for possible fees charged by the financial institution. All prepaid debit cards must be included when counting assets for determining financial eligibility.

If a participant has selected EFT, and, at some point after requests to have the W-2 payment “held,” the FEP must end the EFT so that CARES will issue the participant’s W-2 payment by check and the FEP can then put a hold on the check.

EXAMPLE: Mercedes tells her FEP that she is planning on getting a prepaid debit card so she can have electronic deposit of her W-2 payments. The FEP advises Mercedes to be aware of fees when choosing a card, including possible monthly fees, customer service fees, inactivity fees, or paper statement fees. The FEP suggests that Mercedes compare a few cards before making her choice. When Mercedes opens a prepaid debit card, she must disclose this asset to the FEP. The FEP will need to enter the prepaid debit card information on the CWW Liquid Assets page and run eligibility.

Wage Garnishment

Some participants have a garnishment order for unpaid debts or child support. Per Wisconsin Statutes Section 49.96, W-2 payments cannot be garnished, however financial institutions must honor garnishment actions ordered by the court. Agencies must provide this information to W-2 participants who choose EFT of W-2 payments. If the financial institution garnishes the W-2 payments, the FEP should advise the participant to seek legal assistance to stop the garnishment.

History: Release 16-01; Release 11-05; Release 10-01.

10.5 W-2 Payment Statement

10.5.1 W-2 Payment Statement

When reductions are applied to the W-2 payment, participants receive a CARES generated Wisconsin Works Payment Statement (BIL1) prior to payment issuance, indicating the gross payment amount, any reductions due to missed hours, Learnfare reductions, drug felon penalties, recoupments, and the net payment.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

10.6 W-2 Payment Designations

10.6.1 W-2 Payment Designation

CSJ, W-2 T, or CMF+ payments must be made payable as appropriate to the:

1. Participant;
2. Spouse of the participant (the spouse must be living in the home unless designated as protective payee or appointed by a court to be legal representative); or
3. Guardian or conservator of the W-2 participant.

History: Release 18-02.

10.6.2 Protective and Vendor Payments

If mismanagement of funds is a threat to the health and safety of a W-2 participant's child as determined by the FEP, all or part of the CSJ or W-2 T payment may be a protective payment or Vendor Payment. Other options would be making part of the CSJ or W-2 T payment a direct payment and part a protective payment, vendor payment, or both. The agency must investigate reports of mismanagement before initiating protective or vendor payments.

The W-2 agency must document in the case record the reason for the authorization of protective or vendor payments and must show the name of the eligible participant, the name of the protective or vendor payee, and the amount and form of payment authorized.

Participants may voluntarily choose to receive all or part of the CSJ or W-2 T payment as a protective payment or Vendor Payment, without being subject to an investigation by a FEP into the participant's use of funds.

History: Release 22-07.

11 Sanctions and Case Closures

11.1 Hourly Payment Reductions

11.1.1 Applying Hourly Payment Reductions

11.1.1.1 Difficulty Completing Assigned Activities

CSJ and W-2 T participants must participate in all assigned work training activities or education and training activities outlined in the EP. Payments for CSJ and W-2 T participants who fail to participate in assigned activities are reduced by $5.00 per hour for hours missed without good cause. (See 11.2.1)

If a W-2 participant cannot participate in an assigned activity, the agency must encourage the participant to call the FEP prior to the activity start time. This will help a participant to develop the skills needed to manage issues that arise and prepare for workplace expectations. However, the FEP must not penalize the participant if he or she fails to call the FEP prior to the activity time. A participant has 7 working days after an absence from a W-2 assigned activity to notify his or her worker of the reason for the absence. The FEP can then determine whether the reason meets one of the W-2 good cause reasons. (See 11.2.2)

Participants placed in CMC and ARP placements are not subject to W-2 hourly payment reductions by the W-2 agency. CMC and ARP participants do not have participation requirements and cannot be subject to a payment reduction.

11.1.1.1 Difficulty Completing Assigned Activities

On a regular basis, a FEP must work with participants who are not attending scheduled W-2 activities to identify any barriers that might exist and take steps to address those barriers.

A pattern of nonparticipation without good cause is one reason the FEP may consider completing the WWP Informal Assessment, as it is helpful in guiding the conversation about potential barriers and service needs. (See 5.2.3)

In addition, W-2 informal assessment policy requires FEPs to conduct ongoing informal assessments, which includes discussing with the participant any underlying causes of nonparticipation. The FEP and participant must discuss the appropriateness of the assigned activities, the need for additional supportive services, and the provision of accommodations that will allow the individual to participate. (See 5.2.1)

History: Release 19-02; Release 13-03; Release 11-04.

11.1.2 Entering Participation Hours

In order to ensure participants' W-2 payments are accurate, the FEP must record all participation data in the W-2 Participation Calendar in WWP. When entering participation hours, the FEP must enter:

1. Hours participated based on the scheduled hours of each activity. Hours participated must be documented for each day and activity separately, and do not include hours where good cause was granted or make-up hours.
2. Hours participated that are scheduled on one day but are made up during a different day within the same week. (See 6.3.3)
3. The participant's reason for nonparticipation, if provided, and whether good cause is granted. If good cause is granted, the number of hours approved for each activity are entered on each day separately. (See 11.2.3)

EXAMPLE 1: Michelle is scheduled for Work Experience on Monday from 10 am to 12 pm but is unable to go. She calls her FEP and explains her situation. The FEP determines that her reason for missing the scheduled activity meets the good cause policy.

The FEP enters 0 hours participated for WE on Monday. WWP calculates 2 hours of nonparticipation. The FEP then enters 2 hours of Good Cause.

EXAMPLE 2: Tamara is scheduled for a 1-hour ESL class on Tuesday evening but is unable to attend. Instead, she attended the same class later in the week on Thursday.

For Tuesday, the FEP enters 0 hours participated for EL and 1 hour of make-up hours with Thursday's date

The monthly W-2 payment is calculated based on the following rules:

1. Payment reductions for missed hours are deducted from the payment for the participation period during which hours were missed.
2. In order to affect the next payment, the final date that participation data can be entered into WWP is the date the W-2 Pulldown payment cycle is scheduled. If there are changes to participation data after W-2 Pulldown WWP will calculate to determine if an auxiliary payment or overpayment is necessary.

3. A payment reduction is not imposed on a participant for failing to complete a formal assessment.
4. A payment reduction is not imposed for nonparticipation in any activities that are scheduled on a date that a formal assessment activity is open on the EP or the Formal Assessment Pending status is open. A payment reduction cannot be imposed until:
 - The formal assessment has been completed;
 - The assessment activity has been ended on the EP; and
 - The FEP, in consultation with the participant, has made the necessary adjustments to the participant's Employability Plan.

Payment reductions are specific to a W-2 Group and, therefore, do not follow a participant. Even if a participant moves out of the W-2 Group, any payment reduction for missed hours or penalties associated with that individual during the current participation period are deducted from the next W-2 payment issued to that W-2 Group. Recovery of overpayments continues to follow an individual from W-2 Group to W-2 Group.

For additional information on entering nonparticipation, see W-2 Manual Appendix – TANF Work Participation Requirements.

History: Release 21-07; Release 19-02; Release 11-04; Release 10-02; Release 09-03.

11.2 Good Cause

11.2.1 Good Cause Policy

A participant must notify the FEP of the reason for missing an assigned W-2 activity in order to prevent a payment reduction. The participant must contact the worker within 7 working days following the absence. The FEP will then determine whether the reason for the absence meets any of the W-2 good cause reasons.

History: Release 11-04.

11.2.2 Good Cause Reasons

11.2.2.1 Child Care Availability

11.2.2.1.1 Determining Availability of Child Care

11.2.2.1.2 Demonstrating an Inability to Obtain Child Care

11.2.2.2 Death of an Immediate Family Member

The good cause reasons for failing to comply with the W-2 assigned activities are:

1. Any required court appearance including a required court appearance for a victim of domestic abuse.
2. Inability to obtain child care that is necessary for the W-2 participant to participate or accept employment, but is unavailable and the W-2 agency was unable to provide or refer for alternate child care arrangements.
3. Lack of transportation with no reasonable alternative, as determined by the FEP. In determining the reasonableness of transportation alternatives, FEPs should consider factors such as the length of commute, participant safety and cost of transportation in relationship to income.
4. Participant or W-2 Group member's illness, injury or disability or incapacity. It is expected that a participant will need to remain home occasionally to care for an ill child who has to miss school or daycare or a participant will need to miss an assigned activity due to an unexpected illness or a documented chronic illness, e.g., chronic asthma, panic attacks, disabled child, child with behavioral problems, etc.
5. Accommodations identified in a formal assessment but the accommodations are not available to complete the assigned activity.
6. Conflict with another assigned W-2 activity or job search attempts.
7. Inclement weather that impedes transportation or travel.
8. School emergency.
9. Domestic violence issues as defined in Wisconsin Administrative Rule DCF 101.15(3).
10. Death in immediate family. (See 11.2.2.2)
11. Observance of a religious holiday.
12. Routine medical or school appointments, which cannot be scheduled at times other than during assigned activities.
13. Child's school holiday with the exception of summer break.

14. Any day that the worksite or training site is closed due to a site-specific holiday, e.g., days closed surrounding Christmas, closure the day after Thanksgiving, etc.
15. Other circumstances beyond the control of the participant, but only as determined by the FEP.

11.2.2.1 Child Care Availability

A single parent placed in W-2 Employment Positions cannot be sanctioned for nonparticipation in any W-2 activities during a period of time when he or she is unable to obtain child care for a child under the age of 13. If child care is only available to the participant during specific hours of the day or days of the week, the W-2 agency must make every effort to assign work activities during those hours.

An applicant or participant who needs to secure child care arrangements in order to participate in W-2 activities should be assigned the task of securing child care as part of his or her participation requirements on the Employability Plan (EP). The W-2 activity code associated with this activity is Child Care Related Activities (CC). See W-2 Activity Code Appendix.

The applicant or participant should initially be assigned the CC activity for no less than 5 working days and no more than 10 working days to establish a sense of urgency in obtaining child care. If the applicant or participant has not been successful in obtaining needed child care by the end date of the CC activity, the worker must review the individual's circumstances to determine if the applicant or participant has demonstrated an inability to obtain child care. (See 11.2.2.1.2)

If the applicant or participant has demonstrated an inability to obtain child care, the worker must grant good cause for all nonparticipation, until:

1. Child care is obtained; or
2. The applicant or participant is no longer demonstrating an inability to obtain child care.

Until child care is obtained (whether good cause is being granted or not), the CC activity must remain assigned on the EP and the applicant or participant must continue to pursue any possible leads about available child care. The worker must continue to closely monitor the applicant's or participant's progress.

EXAMPLE: Jackie applied for W-2 and was placed in a CSJ. The FEP develops the EP with Jackie and assigns her to Child Care Related Activities (CC) as well as 10 hours per week of GED classes and 10 hours of structured job search.

Because Jackie lives in an urban setting which generally has a wide range of child care providers, Jackie's FEP gives her 5 working days to find child care. The FEP also connects Jackie to the local Child Care Resource and Referral Network (CCRR).

The FEP explains to Jackie that any hours she misses of her assigned activities will be good caused while she is searching for child care. However, if she does not find child care within 5 working days and cannot demonstrate an inability to find child care then she will begin to receive payment reductions for any future hours she misses.

After the 5 working days, Jackie has not found child care. The FEP discusses with Jackie what steps she has taken and it becomes clear from the conversation that Jackie has not followed through with the referrals she received from CCRR. The FEP directly calls the CCRR to verify that child care slots are available in a licensed child care facility, within a reasonable distance from Jackie's home, and that there is no documentation that the facility would be harmful to the health or safety of her children. With this information in hand, it is clear that Jackie has an ability to obtain child care.

The FEP informs Jackie that she is no longer eligible for good cause due to lack of child care. From that point forward, the FEP applies payment reductions for the hours Jackie misses in her assigned GED lab and job club. The FEP encourages Jackie to find child care as quickly as possible so that she can participate in these assigned activities.

11.2.2.1.1 Determining Availability of Child Care

Child care arrangements are ultimately the responsibility of the parent. However, a W-2 applicant or participant may be unfamiliar with the task of locating a child care provider. In these situations, the W-2 agency must help the applicant or participant.

In order to determine if child care is available, a W-2 staff person must discuss child care with each applicant or participant at the time of the initial assessment and during the review of the W-2 Participation Agreement.

The W-2 staff person must:

1. Explain to the applicant or participant his or her responsibility to obtain any needed child care for the hours of participation in W-2.
2. Determine if informal child care, or formal child care within a reasonable distance from the applicant's or participant's home, is available. Informal child care arrangements may be discussed, but an applicant or participant cannot be required to use an informal child care arrangement. If another parent is in the home, able and available to care for the child, child care is not needed.

3. Provide information to the applicant or participant about eligibility for W-2 child care assistance and the requirement for the provider to, at a minimum, be provisionally certified to qualify for assistance. (See Child Care Policy Manual)
4. If the applicant or participant does not currently have child care available, refer the individual to the local Child Care Resource and Referral Network (CCRR), which is available to help all parents locate safe and affordable child care throughout the state, and other child care resources in the community. If the referrals do not result in the applicant or participant locating child care, the W-2 agency may require the individual to demonstrate an inability to obtain child care. (See 11.2.2.1.2)
5. If available, offer the use of the W-2 agency on-site child care to the parent until an ongoing child care arrangement is found. A W-2 on-site child care provider must be regulated in order for the parent to leave the premises.
6. Discuss the availability of backup child care arrangements to ensure the applicant or participant is planning ahead for emergency situations when the regular provider is unable to care for the child(ren) or when the child is sick and cannot attend the regular child care program.

11.2.2.1.2 Demonstrating an Inability to Obtain Child Care

An inability to obtain child care must be based on the following reasons:

1. Formal child care is not available within a reasonable distance from the parent's home or work site. Formal child care is considered available if there is at least one licensed or certified child care facility with space available for the child. The certified or licensed child care facility, including a W-2 agency with certified or licensed on-site child care, must not be considered available if there is documentation that the facility would be harmful to the health or safety of the child. Reasonable distance means no more than 60 minutes travel time one-way, using available transportation, from the parent's home to the child care provider's location to the parent's work site. Travel time may be extended up to 90 minutes one-way if there is a good placement opportunity for the participant AND the participant is willing to enter into this arrangement.
- and,
2. Informal child care by a relative or under other arrangements is unavailable or unsuitable. Informal child care is defined as an arrangement in which the child care provider is neither licensed nor certified. Informal child care arrangements may be used by any W-2 participant; however, a participant cannot be required to use informal child care. (See Child Care Policy Manual, Chapter 1)

If the participant fails to demonstrate an inability to obtain child care, he or she may face payment reductions for nonparticipation.

An inability to obtain appropriate child care may be indicative of a shortage of child care providers in the community (including sick child care, evening and weekend care, culturally competent child care, and care for disabled children) and W-2 agency management should be alerted to the problem.

11.2.2.2 Death of an Immediate Family Member

A participant may be granted up to 3 working days of good cause if there is a death of an immediate family member. However, if travel for funeral services is required or to accommodate cultural tradition, FEPs may grant good cause for up to 7 working days.

Immediate family is defined as the participant's spouse, non-marital co-parents, parents, step-parents, grandparents, foster parents, children, step-children, grandchildren, foster children, brothers and their spouses, sisters and their spouses, aunts, uncles, sons-in-law and daughters-in-law, cousins, nieces and nephews of the participant or his or her spouse or non-marital co-parent and other relatives of the participant or his or her spouse or non-marital co-parent if these other relatives reside in the same household as the participant.

EXAMPLE: A W-2 participant who is of Hmong ethnicity has a brother who died on Monday, May 8, 2006. Although the funeral is not scheduled until Friday, May 12, 2006, cultural tradition requires the participant to go to the sister-in-law's house to greet and provide comfort to the family up until the start of the funeral on Friday. The funeral then runs through Monday, May 15, 2006. The participant expects to return to assigned activities on Tuesday, May 16, 2006. The FEP may grant good cause for the participant's absence due to the death of an immediate family member.

History: Release 21-07; Release 12-03; Release 11-04; Release 11-01.

11.2.3 Approving or Denying Good Cause

FEPs are responsible for determining if a W-2 participant had good cause for not participating in W-2 assigned activities. While the good cause policy is meant to model what an employer may allow under its own absence policy, FEPs must consider the fact that participants may face hardships that make completing activities and notifying the agency of missed activities more difficult, e.g., phone availability, reliable transportation, etc.

FEPs must determine if the participant's explanation for the absence or the written verification of the absence meets the allowable good cause reasons. The FEP must enter the hours participated, the participant's reason for the nonparticipation, and indicate whether there is good cause for the nonparticipation. If there is good cause, the FEP must select the worker reason for approving along with the appropriate number of good cause hours approved, and document the rationale in PIN comments. If the FEP determines that the participant's explanation does not meet any of the allowable good cause reasons, the FEP must select the worker reason for denying good cause as well as referencing the number of hours, dates and activities missed in PIN comments.

When documenting the reasons for approving or denying good cause, the FEP must use the Good Cause Determination Comment Type so monitoring staff will be able to easily identify comments related to good cause decisions.

History: Release 21-07; Release 12-03; Release 11-04; Release 09-03.

11.2.4 When to Verify Good Cause

11.2.4.1 Pattern of Absences

11.2.4.2 Verifying Good Cause

A FEP must request written verification of good cause if a pattern of absences exists, and the FEP does not believe that a reasonable explanation has been given for the absences or the FEP believes that the participant is misusing the good cause policy. (See 11.2.4.1 for a definition of pattern of absences.)

A FEP must not request written verification verifying good cause for a pattern of absences if the FEP believes that there is a reasonable explanation given for the absences and the FEP does not believe that the participant is misusing the good cause policy.

In addition, the FEP must not request written verification verifying good cause for absences that do not meet the definition of a pattern of absences. For example, W-2 participants will occasionally need to remain home to care for an ill child who has to miss school or daycare. Participants will also miss assigned activities due to their own unexpected illness. In addition to these types of situations, the FEP must not require written documentation verifying good cause if a participant misses assigned activities due to an already documented chronic illness, e.g., chronic asthma, panic attacks, etc., or known family circumstance, e.g., disabled child, child with behavioral problems, homelessness, domestic violence, etc.

11.2.4.1 Pattern of Absences

If a pattern of absences occur, the FEP may require written good cause verification. A “pattern of absences” are absences that extend beyond 3 consecutive working days or are more than 5 working days in a rolling 30 calendar day period. An absence means being absent from any one activity. For example, if a participant is assigned to work experience and adult basic education on the same day and misses just one of those activities, this is considered an absence. If good cause is accepted for any of the absences, the good cause absences may still be considered as a part of the pattern.

If the person misses beyond 3 consecutive working days or misses more than 5 working days in a rolling 30 calendar day period, but the absences are for the same reason, e.g., car accident, child has flu, etc., this may be considered a reasonable explanation for missing beyond 3 consecutive days and written verification is not necessary. The FEP determines whether there is a reasonable explanation on a case-by-case basis in which the FEP's knowledge, experience, and familiarity with the case and the community are factors.

EXAMPLE 1: A participant misses 3 consecutive working days of her assigned activities and calls in on the fourth day because of the illness of her children and explains that one after the other of her four children were ill with a bad flu. Although the absences constitute a pattern, the FEP does not have reason to believe that the participant is misusing the good cause policy. In this scenario, the FEP would not require written documentation of good cause for the missed activities.

EXAMPLE 2: A participant misses her assigned morning activity 3 consecutive working days because she felt sick. She has no chronic health problems and does not offer an adequate explanation of what was wrong with her. On the fourth day, the participant again calls and says that she is feeling ill and cannot attend her activities. In this scenario, the FEP may require written documentation of good cause for the missed activities because the participant's absences constitute a pattern and the FEP has reason to believe that the participant may be misusing the good cause policy.

EXAMPLE 3: A participant misses 5 working days in a 30 calendar day period because of school appointments. She brings in written verification for 2 of the days but not all 5 days indicating that her child is undergoing an evaluation for suspected learning problems. The participant calls and says that she will miss the next 2 days for the same reason. Because the participant has missed 5 days, even though 2 of the days she was granted good cause, this does constitute a pattern. The FEP has reason to believe that the participant may be misusing the good cause policy because the participant has a history of not attending activities. In this case, the FEP may require written documentation verifying good cause.

EXAMPLE 4: A participant misses 2 consecutive days of activities because she is ill. These 2 absences are the first absences the participant has had in several months. Because this does not constitute a pattern, whether or not the FEP believes the participant is misusing the good cause policy, the FEP may not require written documentation verifying the good cause.

11.2.4.2 Verifying Good Cause

If the FEP determines that written verification is necessary for a pattern of absences, the FEP must first check in the Electronic Case File (ECF) to ensure that written verification does not already exist. Examples of written documentation include a signed medical statement, an update to existing medical information from a licensed physician or some other qualified assessing agency, etc. If it does not, the participant must be informed in writing of the verification items required, including the due date. The FEP must give the participant 7 working days from the date the good cause request is made to provide the written documentation. The FEP must document in PIN comments using the Good Cause Determination Comment Type why the written documentation verifying good cause is required.

FEPs must not penalize participants when they attempt to obtain the written verification and other entities delay their ability to obtain the necessary documents. If the individual does not have the power to produce verification, or if circumstances exist that make the verification requirements unduly burdensome, the W-2 agency must assist the participant in obtaining the necessary documents and the FEP must extend the verification due date. The verification due date may be extended for up to 30 calendar days from the date the good cause verification request is made. In some instances, the W-2 agency may seek the verification directly. (See 4.1.3)

The verification due date cannot be extended from 7 to 30 days at the point when the participant receives CWW letter NWSN, which informs participants of a 20% payment reduction. In these circumstances, the nonparticipation has occurred, the participant has had the opportunity to request good cause (within 7 working days of the nonparticipation) and provide any necessary verification of that good cause (within 7 working days of the request for verification, unless extended to up to 30 calendar days). The NWSN letter is sent and it provides a final, but narrow opportunity for the participant to provide good cause for the past nonparticipation.

History: Release 21-07; Release 20-03; Release 11-06; Release 11-04.

11.3 20% Payment Reductions

11.3.1 Rectifying 20% Payment Reductions

W-2 policy requires FEPs to conduct ongoing informal assessments, which includes the need to discuss with the participant any underlying causes of nonparticipation to identify any barriers that might exist and take steps to address those barriers. (See 11.1.1 and Chapter 5) In addition to working with participants to identify potential barriers, if a participant's payment is going to be reduced by 20% or more, the W-2 agency must:

1. Provide written notice to the W-2 participant of the proposed 20% or more payment reduction and of the reasons for the proposed payment reduction; and
2. Allow the participant reasonable time to rectify the deficiency, failure or other behavior to avoid the proposed W-2 payment reduction. To rectify means that the participant is given one last opportunity to present good cause for nonparticipation or to present late documentation of completed assigned activities.

CWW automatically generates the Notice of Potential W-2 Payment Reduction (letter NWSN) either at the beginning (W-2 delayed payment) or the end of the month (W-2 pulldown) when final W-2 monthly payment amounts are determined.

CWW populates the letter with information that the FEP enters in participation tracking in WWP: the missed activities, the hours missed and the dates the activities were missed. The letter informs the participant to contact the worker as soon as he or she receives the letter to explain why the activities were missed. If the participant is claiming good cause, the FEP determines whether the reason for the missed hours meets any of the good cause reasons and whether to require written verification of good cause (called "proof of good cause" in the letter).

If the participant is submitting late documentation of completed assigned activities, the documentation must be for the dates that the activity was assigned on the Employability Plan.

Because the participant may have to provide written verification, the letter includes the date by which the verification must be provided, if required by the FEP. The participant is given 7 working days to provide written verification of good cause. The next working day after the mailing date of the letter is day 1. For example, if the mailing date of the letter is Tuesday, September 18, 2018, the date by which the individual needs to provide written verification is Wednesday, September 27, 2018. The verification due date cannot be extended from 7 working days to 30 days. (See 11.2.4) The date provided on NWSN is the final date any verification can be received

11.4.1 Noncooperation with W-2 Program Requirements

11.4.1.1 Determining the Date of Noncooperation

A FEP must close a case when a participant fails to cooperate with specific W-2 program requirements without good cause. The specific cooperation requirements are:

1. A W-2 participant may be required to search for unsubsidized employment throughout his or her participation in a W-2 employment position. (See 2.9.1)
2. A W-2 participant may be required, as determined by the FEP, to apply for and accept other public assistance programs or resources that may be available, prior to being determined eligible for W-2 services or during W-2 participation. (See 2.6.1)
3. If an EP review does not occur before the date the EP is set to expire because the participant fails to keep an EP review appointment without good cause.
4. The FEP and the participant have not had any contact for at least 30 consecutive calendar days and the FEP has made repeated and varied attempts to contact the participant at the participant's home, assigned worksite or the location of any other assigned activities. "Repeated" attempts means the FEP or another W-2 agency representative must make weekly attempts, at least. "Varied" attempts means a combination of attempts to contact, such as worksite visits, home visits, phone calls, letters, etc.

For policies regarding noncooperation with paternity establishment and child support enforcement services, see 15.3.2.

11.4.1.1 Determining the Date of Noncooperation

The date of noncooperation is the date that the participant was provided to cooperate with W-2 program requirements. (See 11.4.1)

EXAMPLE 1: A participant's EP review is scheduled for March 17 and the participant failed to show for the appointment. The date of noncooperation is March 17.

EXAMPLE 2: The last date of contact that a FEP had with a participant was July 1. The FEP is unable to make contact with the participant after 30 calendar days of repeated and varied attempts to contact the participant. The date of noncooperation is July 31.

History: Release 18-04; Release 11-04; Release 11-01.

11.4.2 Prior To Closing a Case for Noncooperation

11.4.2.1 Exploring Potential Barriers

11.4.2.2 Rectifying Noncooperation Prior to Case Closure

Prior to closing a case for noncooperation with program requirements, the FEP must:

1. Explore for potential underlying barriers;
2. Provide written notice to the W-2 participant of the proposed case closure and of the reasons for the proposed closure; and
3. Allow the participant reasonable time to rectify the deficiency, failure or other behavior to avoid the proposed case closure.

11.4.2.1 Exploring Potential Barriers

W-2 informal assessment policy requires FEPs to conduct ongoing informal assessments, which includes the need to discuss with the participant any underlying causes of noncooperation. (See Chapter 5) The FEP must explore potential barriers that may be interfering with a participant's ability to cooperate and take steps to address those barriers prior to closing a W-2 case for noncooperation reasons.

Before closing a case for noncooperation, the FEP has a responsibility to:

1. Initiate action to uncover why the participant has not completed the required activity in the event that unidentified barriers exist. FEPs must document thoroughly in PIN comments as well as on the appropriate WWP pages actions taken to uncover barriers that may be contributing to the noncooperation or other good cause reasons for failing to cooperate.

Examples:

- Ask the participant why he or she has not been cooperating and then fully explore the responses. For example, if the participant says, "I have been busy," the FEP should follow up with probing questions. The FEP should continue to question until there is reasonable certainty that the participant has offered all possible reasons for not cooperating.
- Provide the participant with information on how to cooperate with program requirements and the consequences for ongoing noncooperation.

- Conduct home visits.
 - Review the history of the case, including the WWP Informal Assessment results and any formal assessments, to determine if any issues were identified early on in the participant's connection with W-2 that may still be a factor affecting cooperation.
 - Complete the WWP Informal Assessment again. (See 5.2.3)
 - Review the Employability Plan to ensure that activities assigned are appropriate. Appropriate activities may include, but not be limited to, education, training, work, treatment, counseling, etc. These activities must be individually designed and based on the participant's strengths, needs, abilities, family circumstances and identified barriers and disabilities. Activities must be designed to assist the participant overcome barriers to employment and provide the skills needed to secure and maintain full-time employment.
 - Talk with worksite supervisors and other individuals the participant may be working with such as a child welfare worker or other social service providers.
2. Take steps to address the barriers that may have caused the noncooperation.
- Examples:
- Refer the participant to supportive services that are appropriate for assisting with overcoming barriers and work towards finding and maintaining employment.
 - Refer the participant for formal assessments in order to identify necessary accommodations.
 - Identify and assign appropriate activities.
3. Apply payment reductions if appropriate prior to determining ineligibility.

Although payment reductions are not necessary prior to all case closures, e.g., failing to verify information, it is required prior to closing a case for noncooperation with job search.

11.4.2.2 Rectifying Noncooperation Prior to Case Closure

In addition to exploring potential barriers, if a participant's case is going to close for noncooperation, the W-2 agency must:

1. Provide written notice to the W-2 participant of the proposed case closure and the reason for the case closure; and
2. Allow the participant reasonable time to rectify the deficiency, failure or other behavior to avoid the proposed W-2 payment reduction. Rectifying means that the participant is given one last opportunity to present good cause for failing to cooperate or to present late documentation of completed assigned activities.

The FEP must issue the Notice of Noncooperation with W-2 Requirements (CWW letter NWNC) and must give the participant one last opportunity to present good cause for failing to cooperate.

The FEP must manually issue NWNC via CWW prior to generating a Notice of Eligibility. The FEP must mark the correct noncooperation reason on NWNC and enter the date of noncooperation (see 11.4.2.1). The letter informs the participant to contact the worker as soon as he or she receives it to explain why the noncooperation occurred.

If the participant is claiming good cause, the FEP determines whether the reason for the noncooperation meets any of the good cause reasons and whether to require written verification of good cause (called “proof of good cause” in the letter). (See 11.2.2)

Because the participant may have to provide written verification, the letter includes the date by which the verification would need to be provided, if necessary. The participant is given 7 working days to provide written verification of good cause. The next working day after the mailing date is day 1. For example, if the mailing date of the letter is Friday, October 12, 2018 the date by which the individual needs to provide written verification is Tuesday, October 23, 2018. The verification due date cannot be extended from 7 working days to 30 days. (See 11.2.4.2) The date provided on NWNC is the final date any verification can be received.

If the participant is submitting late documentation of completed assigned activities, the documentation must be for the dates that the activity was assigned on the Employability Plan.

In the case of a missed EP review appointment, the individual must be allowed to make the appointment up within the 7 working days from the date of the CWW letter NWNC.

It is assumed in this scenario that the participant missed an EP review appointment that was scheduled prior to the expiration. The written notice will instruct the participant to contact the worker to reschedule. If the participant calls, the W-2 agency must re-schedule the EP meeting. NWNC informs the participant that if the participant does not appear for the re-scheduled appointment, the case will close unless good cause for the missed appointment exists. In order for the agency to reschedule a missed EP review appointment, the participant does not have to have had good cause for missing the first EP review appointment.

If the participant does not comply with what is requested within the 7-working-day timeframe or if the FEP determines that good cause does not exist for the noncooperation, the worker must generate the case closure and CARES will issue the appropriate Notice of Eligibility. The FEP must not end the participant's W-2 placement until the last day of the 7-working-day timeframe even if the FEP determines prior to the last day of the 7-day timeframe that good cause does not exist. If the participant did not appear for a rescheduled EP review appointment, the FEP must not end the participant's W-2 placement until the last day of the 7-working-day timeframe or the date the EP expires, whichever is later. The Notice of Eligibility contains information on filing a Fact Finding Review if the participant does not agree with the decision.

If a participant reapplies after his or her case has closed due to noncooperation and now he or she has written verification of good cause, agencies must not apply the nonfinancial eligibility policy regarding cooperating with the W-2 agency within 180-days of application. (See 2.2.1)

EXAMPLE 1: During a review, a participant failed to verify her assets. Prior to initiating the case closure, the FEP first took steps to explore potential barriers that may be interfering with a participant's ability to cooperate. The worker then generated the Notice of Noncooperation with W-2 Requirements, which gave the participant 7 working days to submit the verification and specified the due date. The worker did not hear from the participant and initiated the case closure. The Notice of Eligibility was sent to the participant notifying the participant of the impending case closure and the right to a Fact Finding Review if she disagreed with the decision.

EXAMPLE 2: A participant's EP was going to expire on December 16. The participant missed an EP review appointment without good cause on December 2. Prior to initiating the case closure, the FEP first took the steps to explore potential barriers that may be interfering with a participant's ability to cooperate. The worker then generated the Notice of Noncooperation with W-2 Requirements (NWNC), which informed the participant that she should contact her worker by December 14 (last day of the 7-working day timeframe) for a final EP review appointment. The worker did not hear from the participant and initiated the case closure. The worker ended the placement on WPWW as of December 16 because the EP expiration date was later than the last day of the 7-working-day timeframe. The Notice of Eligibility was sent to the participant notifying the participant of the impending case closure and the right to a Fact Finding Review if she disagreed with the decision.

EXAMPLE 3: A participant had an ongoing pattern of failing to complete job search without good cause. Despite the FEPs interaction with the participant to uncover potential barriers and applying payment reductions, the participant continued to not participate with job search requirements. Prior to initiating the case closure, the FEP made one last attempt to explore potential barriers that may be interfering with a participant's ability to cooperate. Still, there were no reasons given for the missed activities. The worker then generated the Notice of Noncooperation with W-2 Requirements, which informed the participant that she should contact her worker. The participant then called the worker and said that she was diagnosed with ulcers and that was causing her to miss her assigned job search activities. The participant was able to provide the FEP with the appropriate medical documentation supporting the diagnosis and the FEP did not close the case. The FEP updated the participant's assigned activities and the employability plan to reflect the ongoing medical attention that was needed to help the participant recover from the ulcers.

11.5 Incarceration

11.5.1 Incarceration

11.5.1.1 Prisoner Match Data Exchange

W-2 participants whose incarceration renders them temporarily unable to participate in work activities or retain care and control of their children will remain eligible for W-2 payments for up to 30 days, provided they remain otherwise financially and nonfinancially eligible. Incarcerated W-2 participants who are unable to participate in work activities or retain care and control of their child(ren) for more than 30 consecutive calendar days are not eligible for W-2 payments. The 30-day timeframe allows for short-term incarceration without having to disenroll and then re-enroll the participant that would disrupt the activities, payments and child care.

For more information on Incarceration and Huber Program Participation, see Process Help 3 Ongoing Case Maintenance.

For more information on Department of Corrections Record Query, see Process Help 44 Data Exchange.

For more information on collecting absent parent information, see Process Help 65 Absent Parent.

11.5.1.1 Prisoner Match Data Exchange

The daily Prisoner Match Data DX provides information from SSA for all individuals included in the W-2 Group who are between 18 and 65 years old, as long as there is a valid SSN (Verification code V, C or W) on the CWW Household Members page during intake, review, person adds, and program adds. CWW sends the request for prisoner match data via the SOLQ-I DX from the CWW General Case Information page. (See 4.1.5.3)

Three days after CWW runs the data exchange, CWW will set discrepancies and alerts for individuals who have been incarcerated for more than 30 days, and have no release date. The results of the data exchange match information appear on CWW Prisoner Response Details page.

When a discrepancy is set, the FEP must verify match results through a secondary source and update the case, if necessary.

This secondary verification can be through online resources, phone calls or faxes to the facility or by contacting the individual.

Online Verification Resources

VINELink

For data exchange results inside or outside the State of Wisconsin, agencies can verify incarceration matches through VINELink, the online version of VINE (Victim Information and Notification Everyday), located at: www.vinelink.com/vinelink. VINELink's home page has information on how to use the query.

FEPs may have to do more than one query if the first online check does not return results. If VINELink does not verify incarceration information, FEPs should access other resources such as direct contact with the facility or contact with the individual.

State Of Wisconsin Offender Locator

For matches within the State of Wisconsin, FEPs can verify the information through the Offender Locator website at: <http://offender.doc.state.wi.us/lop/home.do>. This website provides records of incarcerated offenders through the Wisconsin Department of Corrections (DOC).

FEPs can also access this site through VINELink. The database only includes adults who are incarcerated in the Wisconsin prison system. It is a good practice to include aliases in your search.

Federal Prisoner Information

For federal prisoner matches, FEPs can verify the accuracy at: <https://www.bop.gov/inmateloc/>.

If the online queries do not result in verification of incarceration information for individuals in county jails, workers should continue to use resources at the local agency level such as faxes, phone calls and contact with the individual to verify the incarceration information.

History: Release 20-06; Release 20-01; Release 13-03.

11.5.2 Good Cause for Incarcerated Participants

Although incarcerated W-2 participants may remain eligible to receive W-2 payments, incarceration will generally not be considered good cause for not participating in required work activities. Hours of work activities missed because of incarceration will result in payment reductions in the same manner as any other hours missed without good cause, unless the W-2 agency finds extenuating circumstances relating to the incarceration or determines that the incarceration resulted from a situation beyond the participant's control. The FEP must determine this on a case-by-case basis and document the reason in PIN comments.

EXAMPLE 1: Amy was arrested for unpaid fines from her Operating While Intoxicated (OWI) conviction. Amy stated she was unable to pay the fines. As a result, Amy served 20 days in jail. Amy's payment was reduced based on the days she was unable to participate.

EXAMPLE 2: Ken was arrested on suspicion of drug possession. After the preliminary hearing, the charges were dropped and he was released. Ken served 14 days while waiting for his hearing. Ken submitted a statement from the court to the FEP. The FEP gave him good cause for the hours because the charges were dropped.

History: Release 20-03; Release 20-01.

11.5.3 Huber Program

A judge may order an incarcerated W-2 participant into the Huber Program, allowing for limited release for work, school, job search, or treatment, and, in some cases, performance of child care responsibilities. An incarcerated W-2 participant's EP may be adjusted to reflect the court-specified terms of that participant's Huber Program release and should be otherwise modified as needed to allow continued W-2 participation, provided the participant maintains care, custody and control of their child(ren).

EXAMPLE: Elizabeth, a W-2 participant, is ordered into the Huber Program for three months. The judge indicated Elizabeth would be released during the day to care for her children and participate in specified work program activities. Elizabeth's mother is available to stay with the children at night. Elizabeth called her FEP explaining the changes in her family's situation. The FEP altered the EP to reflect the changes in circumstances. Elizabeth's updated EP includes GED classes for four hours a week at the Job Center and clerical work site activities at the Job Center for eight hours a week where she can use the onsite child care.

A W-2 participant released under the Huber Program must cooperate with jail staff and rules in order to remain eligible for W-2 services. The W-2 worker must verify cooperation with jail staff every 30 days while the W-2 participant is in the Huber Program.

Huber Program participants are ineligible for Wisconsin Shares. W-2 agencies must work with W-2 participants in the Huber Program to establish appropriate child care when necessary.

History: Release 20-06.

11.6 Refusal to Participate

11.6 Introduction

The refusal to participate policy applies to any W-2 employment position (TEMP, CSJ, or W-2 T). The policy does not apply to the CMC or ARP placements or any of the case management placements.

The intent of the refusal to participate policy is to require standards of behavior by participants in the W-2 program that are substantially similar to those expected of employees by employers in the general economy so that W-2 participants will become prepared for Unsubsidized Employment in the general economy through their participation in employment positions in the W-2 program.

It is not the intent of the refusal to participate policy to close cases when participants are unable to find or maintain unsubsidized employment because they are in need of supportive services to overcome barriers to unsubsidized employment.

History: Release 18-04.

11.6.1 Refusal to Participate

11.6.1.1 Demonstrating a Refusal to Participate

W-2 Participants are required to participate in all assigned activities in their W-2 Employability Plan (EP). W-2 participants are also required to cooperate with specific W-2 program requirements. When a participant does not comply with assigned activities or does not cooperate with specific program requirements, W-2 nonparticipation and noncooperation policies require the FEP to:

- Work with participants to identify issues related to their missed activities, such as Barriers and other circumstances that contribute to missing activities;
- Identify any needed accommodations or modifications that will allow them to participate; and
- Provide services and supports required for them to participate in appropriately assigned activities and to develop the skills they need to manage issues that arise so they do not continue to miss activities without good cause. (See 11.3.1 and 11.4.2)

The refusal to participate policy does not replace nonparticipation and noncooperation policies (see 11.1 and 11.4); however, the FEP must follow the same policies and procedures for initiating action to uncover barriers and take steps to address the barriers that may have caused the refusal to participate. (See 11.6.2.2)

If the FEP determines that a participant in a TEMP, CSJ, or W-2 T placement refuses to participate without good cause, the individual is ineligible to participate in the W-2 program for three months. Three months means 90 calendar days.

If the FEP determines that a second Parent in the participant's W-2 Group is subject to the work requirement under the two-parent policy (see 14.3) and refuses to participate without good cause, the W-2 Group is ineligible to participate in the W-2 program for 90 calendar days.

11.6.1.1 Demonstrating a Refusal to Participate

The FEP must close a case when a TEMP, CSJ, or W-2 T participant demonstrates a refusal to participate in the W-2 program without good cause. The FEP must also close a case when a second parent in the participant's W-2 Group is required to participate in assigned activities because the family is receiving federally funded childcare and refuses to participate without good cause.

A participant is refusing to participate when the individual:

1. Is terminated from employment for misconduct or engages in misconduct on the premises of an employer.

‘Misconduct’ means an act by the individual that shows an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer’s interests or of the individual’s job duties and obligations. It does not mean an act of an isolated instance of carelessness and ordinary negligence or good faith errors in judgment.

‘Misconduct’ includes:

- A violation by an individual of an employer’s reasonable written policies concerning the use of alcohol or controlled substances.
- Theft of an employer’s property or services with intent to deprive the employer of the property or services permanently, theft of currency of any value, felonious conduct connected with an individual’s employment with an employer, or intentional or negligent conduct by an individual that causes substantial damage to an employer’s property.
- Conviction of an individual of a crime that was committed on or off duty, if the individual is unable to perform the duties that the individual performs for an employer due to the conviction.
- One or more threats or acts of harassment, assault, or other physical violence by an individual at an employment site.
- Use of profane or abusive language directed towards staff or others at an employment site.

2. Fails to appear or appears more than 15 minutes after the scheduled start time of an interview with a prospective employer, a job fair, or a meeting with a prospective employer that was arranged by the W-2 agency.

Failure to appear or appearing more than 15 minutes late does not include instances where there was a mistake, inadvertence, misunderstanding on the part of the individual, or other good cause.

3. Leaves an interview or a meeting with a prospective employer prior to the conclusion of the interview or meeting.

4. Appears for an interview with a prospective employer wearing inappropriate attire or exhibiting inappropriate grooming after receiving written or oral directions or training on appropriate attire and grooming.

‘Attire’ means clothing and excludes jewelry and accessories. Examples of inappropriate attire include clothing with profane language, offensive references to a specific gender, ethnic, racial or religious group, vulgar messages, and references to alcohol and controlled substances.

‘Grooming’ means unclean, unkempt, or inappropriate dress or grooming which adversely affects proper performance of duties or the image of the employer.

5. Fails to complete a job application required by a prospective employer.

A job application is “complete” when an individual submits the job application required by the prospective employer using the method specified by that employer.

Failing to complete a job application does not include instances where there was a mistake, inadvertence, or misunderstanding on the part of the individual.

6. Communicates to a prospective employer an unreasonable requirement for salary, hours of employment, or working conditions that disqualifies the individual from employment with that employer.

7. Provides incorrect or incomplete information regarding employment qualifications in an interview or job application that disqualifies the individual from employment with the prospective employer after receiving written or oral directions or training from the W-2 agency regarding interviewing and filling out employment applications.

Examples of employment qualifications include criminal convictions, work history, educational attainment, credentials and certificates, driving record or possession of a valid driver’s license, and salary history and expectations.

Providing incorrect or incomplete information regarding employment qualifications does not include instances where there was a mistake, inadvertence, or misunderstanding on the part of the individual.

8. Quits appropriate employment or refuses a bona fide offer of appropriate employment.

“Appropriate” means consistent with an individual’s employability plan.

9. Fails to participate in assigned activities and W-2 payments are reduced by 20% or more for two consecutive participation periods, or for three non-consecutive participation periods in a rolling 6-month period.

10. Refuses or fails to follow a verbal or written direction from W-2 agency staff or staff at an employment site.

Refusing or failing to follow a verbal or written direction does not include instances where there was a mistake, inadvertence, or misunderstanding on the part of the individual.

11. Uses vulgar or profane language or engages in abusive behavior directed towards staff or others in the W-2 agency or employment site.

12. Violates written work rules developed by the employer, if the work rules were provided to the individual and there is a signed acknowledgement of receipt of the work rules in the individual's case record.

Examples of work rules are dress codes, attendance policies, health and safety standards, use of company property, and appropriate workplace behaviors.

A violation of written work rules does not include instances where there was a mistake, inadvertence, or misunderstanding on the part of the individual.

11.6.2 Prior to Closing a Case for Refusal to Participate

11.6.2.1 Determining the Date of Refusal to Participate

11.6.2.2 Rectifying Refusal to Participate Prior to Case Closure

W-2 policy requires FEPs to conduct ongoing informal Assessments, which includes the need to discuss with the Participant any underlying causes of refusal to participate and services and activities necessary for the participant to fully engage in W-2 activities. (See Chapter 5)

Prior to closing a case for refusal to participate, the FEP must explore potential Barriers that may be interfering with a participant's ability to participate in W-2 and take steps to address those barriers. (See 11.4.2.1)

11.6.2.1 Determining the Date of Refusal to Participate

The date of refusal to participate is the date that the participant demonstrated the refusal to participate.

EXAMPLE 1: The W-2 agency arranges an interview for a participant with an employer on March 18, 2018, and the participant was a no-call, no-show to the interview. On March 22, 2018, the FEP learns that the participant did not show for the interview. The date of refusal to participate is March 18, 2018.

EXAMPLE 2: A participant fails to participate in assigned activities and the May 2018 and June 2018 W-2 payments are reduced by 20% or more for two consecutive months. At W-2 Pulldown, CWW issues letter NWSN to the participant with a good cause due date of June 6, 2018. The participant does not submit good cause by June 6, 2018. The date of refusal to participate is June 6, 2018, the final date that any good cause can be received for 20% or more payment reduction.

11.6.2.2 Rectifying Refusal to Participate Prior to Case Closure

In addition to exploring potential barriers, if a participant's case is going to close for refusal to participate, the W-2 agency must:

1. Provide written notice to the W-2 participant of the proposed case closure and the reason for the case closure; and
2. Allow the participant 7 working days to rectify the deficiency, failure, or other behavior to avoid the proposed case closure. To rectify means that the participant is given one last opportunity to present good cause for refusing to participate.

The FEP must create a record of the refusal to participate occurrence in CWW, including the individual who is refusing to participate, the date of occurrence for refusal to participate, and the reason(s) for refusal to participate. The W-2 Notice of Refusal to Participate (W2RP) letter will be generated via a nightly batch process and mailed to the participant. The W2RP letter is intended to give the participant one last opportunity to present good cause for refusing to participate.

The W2RP letter informs the participant to contact the worker as soon as he or she receives it to explain why the refusal to participate occurred. The participant is given 7 working days to provide good cause. The due date for submitting good cause for refusing to participate cannot be extended from 7 working days to 30 days. The seventh working day is the final date any good cause can be received.

If the participant provides a valid good cause reason by the good cause due date, the FEP must delete the refusal to participate record in CWW so that W-2 eligibility is not impacted.

If the participant does not provide good cause by the due date, or the FEP determines that good cause does not exist, the FEP must run eligibility to generate the case closure. CARES will issue the appropriate Notice of Eligibility after eligibility is run.

(See Operations Memo 18-13 for instructions on entering a W-2 Refusal to Participate record in CWW)

History: Release 21-07.

11.6.3 Penalty for Refusal to Participate

11.6.3.1 Two-Parent Households

The penalty for refusing to participate in W-2 is ineligibility to participate in W-2 for three months. Three months means 90 calendar days. The period of ineligibility begins the calendar day after the 7-working day timeframe to rectify a refusal to participate.

EXAMPLE: The last day of the 7-working day timeframe for a Participant to rectify a refusal to participate is November 16, 2018 (a working day). The period of ineligibility begins on November 17, 2018, (the following calendar day) and ends on February 13, 2019 (the 90th calendar day). The participant may reapply for W-2 and be eligible for W-2 services beginning on February 14, 2019.

After the 90-day penalty period, the individual may reapply for W-2 services. Eligibility for W-2 is not automatically reinstated. For applicants applying after the conclusion of a penalty period, the W-2 agency must not apply the nonfinancial eligibility requirement that the applicant made a good faith effort to obtain employment and not refused any bona fide offer of employment within 180 calendar days immediately preceding application. (See 2.2.1, #8) The W-2 agency also must not apply the nonfinancial eligibility requirement that the applicant cooperated with the W-2 agency's assistance with finding employment if the current application is within 180 calendar days of a previous application. (See 2.2.1, #9)

The W-2 agency may impose subsequent refusal to participate penalties after the individual has completed the 90-day penalty period, re-enrolled in the W-2 program, and then refused to participate again. There is no limit to the number of penalties that a participant may receive for refusing to participate in W-2.

11.6.3.1 Two-Parent Households

In a W-2 Two-Parent Household, the second parent in the W-2 Group who is required to participate in W-2 activities because the family is receiving federally funded childcare may be ineligible to participate in W-2 if he or she refuses to participate.

Both the parent in a W-2 employment position (TEMP, CSJ, or W-2 T) and the second parent in a two-parent household may each be ineligible to participate in W-2. Therefore, refusal to participate penalties imposed on each parent must be tracked independently of each other. When either parent refuses to participate, both parents in the W-2 Group are ineligible to participate in W-2. If the parent who is under penalty moves out of the two-parent household and leaves the W-2 Group, the other parent may be eligible to reapply for W-2 services as a single-parent household.

EXAMPLE: Sharon is a CSJ participant. Her spouse John works part-time at the mall. In addition, John is assigned to four hours per week of employment search so he can find full-time work. The two-parent household is receiving federally funded childcare for their two children. John was terminated from employment for stealing from the employer. The FEP reviews the case and determines that John is refusing to participate. Therefore, both John and Sharon are not eligible to participate in W-2 for 90 days. If John were to move out of the two-parent household and leave the W-2 Group, Sharon may reapply and be found eligible for W-2. However, John remains ineligible for W-2 regardless of leaving the W-2 Group because John refused to participate. If John moves into a new two-parent household and enters a new W-2 Group with an adult in a W-2 employment position, the new W-2 Group would be ineligible to participate in W-2 for the remainder of John's 90-day penalty period.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

11.7 Drug Felons

11.7.1 Drug Felons

For W-2 purposes, the definition of a drug felon is an adult (over 18) who is convicted of a felony, which occurred within the last five years in state or federal court, involving the possession, use or distribution of a controlled substance. As a condition of continuing eligibility, a CSJ or W-2 T participant must report if he or she is convicted of a drug-related felony. If the W-2 agency finds out by another means that the participant received a drug felony conviction and that the participant did not report the conviction, the participant may be ineligible for W-2.

Participants that report receiving a drug felony conviction must submit to a test for use of a controlled substance. The cost of drug testing must be paid for by the local agency. Drug tests taken from another credible source may be used if taken within the last 30 days. If a previous drug test result is offered but is older than 30 days, require a new drug test. Examples of credible sources include, but are not limited to, probation officers, employers, FEPs, etc.

Only CSJ and W-2 T participants are subject to drug felon penalties.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

11.7.2 Guidelines for W-2 Applicants or Ongoing Participants

There are three likely scenarios for W-2 applicants or participants who meet the definition of a drug felon:

1. The applicant or participant will be considered ineligible if he or she refuses to take a drug test. The individual can gain eligibility as long as he or she agrees to take a drug test.
2. The applicant or participant will be eligible for a reduced W-2 payment if he or she takes a drug test, and the test result is positive.
3. The applicant or participant will be eligible for full W-2 payment if he or she takes a drug test, and the test result is negative.

If an applicant has agreed to a drug test, he or she is considered eligible for a full W-2 payment while the worker is waiting for the test results. If the test result is positive, then the next possible payment month is sanctioned. The pre-sanction payment is to be reduced by not more than 15% for no fewer than 12 months, or for the participant's remaining period of participation in a CSJ or W-2 T, if less than 12 months. Within these parameters, the sanction period and amount are set at the discretion of the worker. The number of months of the sanction period will be consecutive calendar months that continue irrespective of whether an individual moves between placements, moves on and off W-2, or receives a payment.

EXAMPLE 1: Scott applies for W-2 and reports a drug felony conviction he received three years ago. As he is being placed in a W-2 T, he is required to take a drug test to meet conditions of eligibility. Scott agrees to take the drug test and the results are positive. The worker applies a 10% reduction for 12 months to Scott's W-2 payment starting in the next possible payment month.

EXAMPLE 2: Janet applies for W-2 and reports a drug felony conviction she received six years ago. Janet would not be required to take a drug test or subject to drug felon payment reduction since the conviction did not occur within 5 years of the W-2 application date.

If a participant is moving between a CSJ and W-2 T placement, the sanction period does not stop or start over with a different placement. If a participant is moving from a CSJ or W-2 T to a CMC placement, the payment reduction would stop during the CMC placement period but months would continue to be counted towards the sanction period. W-2 payment reduction resumes at the end of the CMC placement if the 12 month sanction period has not expired while the participant is in the CMC placement.

EXAMPLE: Holly applied for W-2 and received a drug felon sanction for 12 months beginning in January. She has been participating in a CSJ placement with a drug felon payment reduction for 3 months (from January through March). She moves into a CMC placement for months April and May. During the CMC placement Holly receives a full W-2 payment. However by the end of May, five months of the sanction period will have lapsed. When she moves back into a CSJ placement in June, the payment reduction will resume until December at which point the sanction period will end if the results of Holly's drug test is negative.

History: Release 11-06.

11.7.3 Regaining Full W-2 Payment

The participant will be required to take another drug test at the end of the sanction period to determine whether he or she is eligible for a full W-2 payment. If, at the end of the sanction period, the individual agrees to another drug test and the results are negative, the W-2 agency shall discontinue the drug felon reduction. If, at the end of the sanction period, the individual agrees to another drug test and the results are positive, his or her pre-sanction payment will continue to be reduced by not more than 15% for no fewer than 12 months, or for the participant's remaining period of participation in a CSJ or W-2 T, if less than 12 months. All subsequent payment reductions and drug test results will be treated in the same manner.

The W-2 agency may require an individual who has a positive drug test to participate in a drug abuse evaluation, assessment and treatment program to meet his or her CSJ or W-2 T participation requirements.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

11.7.4 Applicability of Drug Tests for W-2 and Foodshare

The time frame that a drug test is valid for the W-2 and FS programs is 30 calendar days. Two basic rules apply on how to regard the applicability of test results from one program to the other program:

1. If an individual has applied for both programs within 30 calendar days of each other a negative test result (a passed test) can be used in either program's application.
2. If an individual has applied for both programs within 30 days of each other a positive test result (a failed test) cannot be applied across programs. The individual will be able to re-test when applying for the second program. If the first test is positive and the second test is negative this will not make him or her eligible or remove a sanction on the first program. It will only affect eligibility for the application of the second program. The previous sanction will remain in place.

EXAMPLE: Liz applies for W-2 on January 5 and reports a drug felony conviction. She agrees to take the drug test scheduled for January 9 as a condition of her placement in a CSJ placement. The test results come back negative so no sanction is applied to her W-2 payment. On January 23 Liz applies for FS. The worker looks on the Drug Felon page in CWW and sees that the drug test has been taken within the last 30 days and it is a negative test result. The worker can accept these results and process the application for FS.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

12 Dispute Resolution

12.1 Introduction

12.1 Introduction

There are two levels of review under the W-2 Dispute Resolution process: 1) a Fact Finding Review; and 2) a Departmental Review.

The purpose of the Fact Finding Review is to resolve disputes for applicants and participants who disagree with a W-2 agency's decision. This includes decisions regarding all W-2 services including Learnfare and Job Access Loans. A Departmental Review may be requested if an individual or the W-2 agency disagrees with a Fact Finding decision.

Individuals who disagree with an agency's decision regarding Medicaid, BadgerCare Plus, Child Care, FoodShare or Refugee Cash and Medical Assistance benefits must file a separate request for a Fair Hearing with the Department of Administration, Division of Hearings and Appeals. Participants must follow the Fair Hearing time frame which is detailed on decision notices. (See Income Maintenance Manual, Section 3, Fair Hearings)

See EA Manual Chapter 6 for more information on the dispute resolution process for Emergency Assistance.

History: Release 21-01.

12.2 Fact Finding Review (First Level Review)

12.2.1 Request For Fact Finding Review

All JAL applicants and W-2 applicants and participants have the right to request a Fact Finding Review. The Fact Finding Review is completed by the W-2 agency's Fact Finder. It is the first level of the dispute resolution if an applicant or participant believes:

1. The denial of an application for JAL or W-2 services was incorrect;
2. The application was not acted upon with reasonable promptness;
3. The W-2 placement was inappropriate;
4. The W-2 placement begin date was wrong;
5. The W-2 payment was incorrectly ended, reduced, or subject to an overpayment;
6. The extension to a W-2 24-month placement time limit or 48-month state lifetime limit was incorrectly denied; and/or
7. The denial of a good cause request for noncooperation with child support was incorrect.

If an applicant or participant requests a Fact Finding Review for a complaint not related to any of the above reasons, the W-2 agency must provide the Petitioner with a completed Fact Finding Review Denial Notice (2686) form.

An applicant or participant who requests a Fact Finding Review should be encouraged to use the form Request for Wisconsin Works (W-2) Fact Finding Review (10783). However, the petitioner may use other documentation containing the same information found in the form. A W-2 agency must also accept phone requests for Fact Finding Reviews and must document the phone request using the form Request for Wisconsin Works (W-2) Fact Finding Review (10783).

With the exception of a Learnfare Fact Finding Review request made within 10 calendar days after the date of the Learnfare Penalty Notification, the agency decision stands until it is overturned by a Fact Finding Review or a Departmental Review.

History: Release 21-09; Release 12-01; Release 16-01; Release 12-01; Release 11-06; Release 11-03.

12.2.2 Timeframe For Requesting A Fact Finding Review

12.2.2.1 Timeframe for Requesting Learnfare Fact Finding Reviews

Fact Finding Review requests must be made:

- within 45 calendar days from the mailing date of the Notice of Eligibility for W-2 services and JALs; or
- within 45 calendar days from the effective date of the decision announced in the notice, whichever is later.

If the 45th day falls on a weekend or holiday, the calculated date will be the next working day. If the request is received within the 45-day timeframe, the W-2 agency must schedule a Fact Finding Review.

Fact Finding Reviews are not available if the agency action being contested occurred more than 45 days prior to the Review request. If the request for a Fact Finding Review is received beyond the 45-day timeframe, the W-2 agency must provide the petitioner with a completed Fact Finding Review Denial Notice (2686).

12.2.2.1 Timeframe for Requesting Learnfare Fact Finding Reviews

A request for a Learnfare Fact Finding Review must be made within 45 calendar days from the mailing date of the Learnfare Penalty Notification stating the student is not in compliance with Learnfare requirements or within 45 calendar days from the effective date of the decision announced in the notice, whichever is later. However, a Learnfare financial penalty will not be imposed if the participant or family requests a Fact Finding Review within 10 calendar days after the date of the Learnfare Penalty Notification. In this situation, a Learnfare penalty will not be imposed until after the Fact Finding decision is issued and is favorable to the agency, unless the participant withdraws the request in writing or abandons the request.

History: Release 21-01; Release 11-06; Release 11-03.

12.2.3 Fact Finding Reasons

A JAL applicant may request a Fact Finding Review if he or she believes:

1. The denial of an application for a JAL was incorrect;
2. A JAL application was not acted upon within 12 working days; or
3. The agency's determination of a JAL IPV was incorrect.

A W-2 applicant or participant may request a Fact Finding Review if he or she believes:

1. The denial of an application for W-2 was incorrect;
2. The application was not acted upon within 12 working days;
3. The W-2 placement was inappropriate;
4. The placement begin date was wrong;
5. The W-2 payment was incorrectly ended, reduced, or subject to an overpayment;
6. The extension to a W-2 24-month placement time limit or 48-month state lifetime limit was incorrectly denied;
7. The denial of a good cause request for noncooperation with child support was incorrect; or
8. The agency's determination of an IPV was incorrect.

History: Release 21-09; Release 12-01; Release 16-01; Release 13-01; Release 12-01; Release 11-06;
Release 11-03.

12.2.4 Fact Finder

Each W-2 agency must have at least one individual assigned to conduct Fact Finding Reviews. The Fact Finder must:

- Be a person other than the one who took action on the case;
- Be neutral and provide an objective Review and decision regarding the dispute; and
- Have a full and complete understanding of all impacted programs.

The Fact Finder will conduct an orderly Review and, if there is any disruptive or combative behavior by anyone participating in the Review, the Fact Finder may either adjourn or exclude participation by any disruptive individuals.

W-2 agencies may choose to establish a process with another W-2 agency to assist in providing thorough and objective Fact Finding Reviews.

History: Release 11-03.

12.2.5 Fact Finding Review

12.2.5.1 Pre-Fact Finding Review Resolutions

The Fact Finding Review is an informal process to resolve disputes. It permits the Petitioner and W-2 agency to present information regarding the action or inaction in dispute. The W-2 agency must date stamp all requests for Fact Finding Reviews on the date the request was received. The agency must notify the petitioner of the scheduled Fact Finding Review appointment within 3 working days after the date the request for Review is received by the agency. The agency must use the Fact Finding Review Appointment Notice (10782) to notify the individual of the time, place and date of the scheduled Fact Finding Review. The agency must give the petitioner reasonable notice of the scheduled Fact Finding Review and must hold the Review within 8 working days of receiving the request.

If any party requests that the Fact Finding Review be rescheduled and has a reasonable reason for the request, the agency must reschedule the Fact Finding Review. The Fact Finder is responsible for determining the reasonableness of the request to reschedule.

An audio recording of the Fact Finding Review is recommended. All participants must be informed of the recording.

12.2.5.1 Pre-Fact Finding Review Resolutions

At any time up to the date of the scheduled Fact Finding Review, the W-2 agency may contact the Petitioner to discuss the disputed issue and offer a resolution. If the petitioner does not agree with the agency's proposed resolution, the Fact Finding Review must be held.

If the petitioner agrees to the agency's proposed resolution, the agency must complete the form Fact Finding Review Voluntary Withdrawal (11155) which must be signed by the petitioner. The documented resolution must include any actions agreed upon by both the petitioner and the W-2 agency. If either party fails to take the action(s) by the agreed upon due date, then the form is void and a Fact Finding Review must be scheduled within 8 working days to address the petitioner's complaint.

History: Release 11-03.

12.2.6 Fact Finding Review Attendance

The W-2 agency worker who made the decision being disputed should attend the Fact Finding Review when possible to present the facts regarding the decision. If that worker is unable to attend the Fact Finding Review, another staff person must be present and prepared to represent the agency's actions.

The Petitioner and/or her/his representative must also attend the Review. The petitioner may have a representative present to assist in contesting the agency's decision. The process must provide for flexibility. If all parties are not able to attend in person, teleconferencing must be offered.

In order to prepare for the Fact Finding Review, the petitioner or the representative may request to view and copy any records pertaining to the decision. If the cost of copying the records is more than $30, repayment may be sought. (This is assuming a $.10 charge per page, which would allow up to 300 pages of copies before requiring payment.)

If the petitioner or her/his representative fails to attend the Fact Finding Review without good cause, the request for Review is considered abandoned. (See 11.2.2 for more information on good cause.)

History: Release 11-03.

12.2.7 W-2 Agency Representative's Responsibility at the Fact Finding Review

The FEP or W-2 worker must be prepared to introduce as evidence any testimony, exhibits and material from the case record or other sources pertinent to the disputed issue. Additionally, the FEP or W-2 worker must:

- Review the facts of the case and be familiar with the case as a whole. If more than one issue is disputed, the FEP or W-2 worker must be familiar with the policies that relate to all issues being raised.
- Ensure that the case record is complete and all necessary documents are present, appropriate, complete and in chronological order. Appropriate documents include W-2 activity assignment notifications, signed W-2 Participation Agreements, Employability Plans, and any correspondence to support the actions of the W-2 worker.
- Thoroughly document events pertaining to the issue with the date, place and identity of any person involved, including documentation of conversations. Dates of phone calls, names of the person taking the phone call, dates of letters, etc. should be documented for presentation.
- Identify and present W-2 Manual citations and Operations Memos related to the issue(s).

History: Release 11-03; Release 10-02.

12.2.8 Testimony and Evidence

Once the FEP or other W-2 agency representative has presented documentation to support the agency's action, the Fact Finder must give the Petitioner the opportunity to rebut the information. If credibility is an issue, the Fact Finder must determine which party was most credible based on testimony and evidence presented during the Fact Finding Review. Factors used to weigh the evidence include:

- Was testimony or evidence in conflict with other testimony or evidence in the record?
- Does the individual have firsthand knowledge?
- Does the individual appear to be telling the truth?
- Will he or she benefit from hiding the truth?
- Has evidence been presented that the person providing testimony has been unreliable or inconsistent in the past?

At the conclusion of the Fact Finding Review, the Fact Finder must ask all parties to sign the form Documents Submitted at Fact Finding Review (370). This form is used to list all evidence/documentation submitted and, to capture the signature of each person attending the Fact Finding Review, swearing to the accuracy of his or her individual testimony.

If the Fact Finder determines that additional documentation may exist that will support statements made during the Review, the Fact Finder may hold the record open for a specified number of days to allow the submission of the additional documentation.

However, no new information may be submitted by the agency unless the petitioner is offered an opportunity to rebut the new information.

History: Release 14-02; Release 13-02; Release 11-03.

12.2.9 Fact Finding Decision

The Fact Finder must weigh all factors when making the final decision. The Fact Finder must issue a decision within 5 working days after the Review date, unless the Fact Finder has granted the Petitioner a request to submit additional evidence. In these cases, the Fact Finder may extend the decision date as appropriate.

The decision must be documented on the Fact Finding Review Summary and Decision (10784), or its equivalent. On the same day the Fact Finder reaches a final decision, a copy of the decision must be mailed by 1st class mail to the last known address of the petitioner. The Fact Finder must ensure that the date of the final decision is the same as the mailing date, taking into consideration postal holidays. The notice must include the final decision as well as the appropriate remedy, citing the source of the decision, and provide information regarding the individual's right to appeal the Fact Finding decision by requesting a Departmental Review.

The Fact Finder must deny a request for a Fact Finding Review or refuse to grant relief if the petitioner does any of the following:

1. Withdraws the request in writing; or
2. Abandons the request.

Abandonment occurs if neither the petitioner nor his or her representative appear at the scheduled Review without good cause. (See 11.2.2 for more information on good cause.) The petitioner has 7 working days from the date of the scheduled Fact Finding Review appointment to provide good cause.

History: Release 11-03.

12.2.10 Fact Finding Remedies

12.2.10.1 Remedy for Paid W-2 Placements

12.2.10.2 Remedy for Custodial Parent of an Infant (CMC) and At Risk Pregnancy (ARP) Placements

12.2.10.3 Remedy for Job Access Loans

W-2 agencies are bound by the Fact Finding decision for a particular case. W-2 agencies must comply with the Fact Finding decision within 10 calendar days after the decision date.

If a W-2 agency is unable to comply with a Fact Finding decision for any reason, the W-2 agency must contact the Petitioner and its Regional Administrator/Coordinator on or before the 10th calendar day after the decision date and explain why the decision cannot be carried out timely.

12.2.10.1 Remedy for Paid W-2 Placements

If the decision overturns the agency's denial of an applicant's paid W-2 employment position, the W-2 agency must place the individual in a paid employment position that is appropriate for the individual. An individual is eligible for a payment for the employment position beginning on the date the individual begins participation in a paid placement.

No retroactive cash payment for the period prior to participation shall be issued.

If the decision indicates a payment was calculated, reduced or terminated improperly, the W-2 agency must restore the W-2 payment to the appropriate level retroactive to the date on which the payment was incorrectly calculated, reduced or terminated.

12.2.10.2 Remedy for Custodial Parent of an Infant (CMC) and At Risk Pregnancy (ARP) Placements

If the decision overturns the agency's denial of a CMC placement, the W-2 agency must place the individual in the CMC placement effective the date of the baby's birth or the date of the application, whichever was later, and a retroactive cash payment must be issued.

If the decision overturns the agency's end date of the CMC placement, the agency must correct the end date and a retroactive payment must be issued.

If the decision overturns the agency's denial of an ARP placement, the W-2 agency must place the individual in the ARP placement effective the date of the application or the date that all the ARP financial and nonfinancial requirements have been met, whichever was later, and a retroactive payment must be issued. (See Operations Memo 09-77)

12.2.10.3 Remedy for Job Access Loans

If the decision overturns the agency's denial of a Job Access Loan (JAL) due to an error in financial or nonfinancial eligibility determination, the agency must re-examine the JAL eligibility based on the new information.

History: Release 21-01; Release 11-03.

12.2.11 Fact Finder File

At the end of the Review process, the Fact Finder must have a complete Fact Finding file. The file must be a complete and thorough record of the Review and must include the following:

- Request for Wisconsin Works (W-2) Fact Finding Review (10783) or its equivalent;
- Fact Finding Review Appointment Notice (10782);
- Fact Finding Review Voluntary Withdrawal (11155) (if relevant);
- Fact Finding Review Summary and Decision (10784), or its equivalent;
- Documents Submitted at Fact Finding (370);
- Audio Recording of the Fact Finding Review; and
- Any additional information or evidence presented by the W-2 agency, the Petitioner, or the petitioner's representative.

The Fact Finder's file must include an audio recording of the Fact Finding Review.

If the petitioner or the petitioner's representative requests a copy of any part of the Fact Finding file, including the audio recording, the agency must provide the requested information. If the cost of providing the information is more than $30, repayment may be sought. (See 12.2.6)

The agency must scan all of the Fact Finding forms and any additional information or evidence presented by the W-2 agency, the petitioner, or the petitioner's representative in to the petitioner's Electronic Case Record.

History: Release 14-02; Release 11-03.

12.2.12 Reporting Fact Finding Information in CARES

W-2 agencies are required to enter Fact Finding information such as the Fact Finding request date, the Review date, the reason for the Fact Finding request, pre-Fact Finding resolutions, Fact Finding attendance and the results of Fact Finding Reviews into CARES screen WPFf by the 10th day of each month for the prior month.

History: Release 11-03.

12.2.13 Summary of Fact Finding Timelines

Below is a summary of the timeframes that must be adhered to throughout the Fact Finding process by the applicant, the participant, the W-2 agency or the Fact Finder:

- An applicant or participant must request a Fact Finding Review within 45 calendar days from the mailing date of the Notice of Eligibility for JALs or W-2 services, or within 45 calendar days from the effective date of the decision announced in the notice, whichever is later.
- The W-2 agency must notify the Petitioner of the scheduled Fact Finding Review appointment within 3 working days after the date the request for Review is received by the agency.
- The W-2 agency must schedule the Fact Finding Review within 8 working days from the date the request for Review is received by the agency.
- The Fact Finder must issue a decision within 5 working days after the Review date.
- The Fact Finder must mail a copy of the decision by 1st class mail to the last known address of the petitioner on the same day a final decision is reached.
- The W-2 agency must comply with the Fact Finding decision within 10 calendar days after the decision date.
- The W-2 agency is required to enter Fact Finding information into CARES screen WPFf by the 10th day of each month for the prior month.

If the Fact Finding Review is rescheduled (see 12.2.5), then the dates that the decision must be issued, mailed to the petitioner, acted upon and entered into WPFf are moved back accordingly.

History: Release 21-01; Release 11-03.

12.3 Departmental Review (Second Level Review)

12.3.1 Requesting a Departmental Review

If an individual or the W-2 agency disagrees with the final Fact Finding decision, they may appeal the decision by requesting a Departmental Review.

The Department of Administration, Division of Hearings and Appeals (DHA) will complete the Departmental Review. This Review is a limited review of the record and the decision of the Fact Finder.

The request for a Departmental Review of a W-2 decision including a Job Access Loan decision must be received by the DHA within 21 calendar days after the date on which the copy of the Fact Finding decision is mailed (the same date as the Fact Finding decision).

DHA must date stamp requests for a Departmental Review. DHA will promptly notify the W-2 agency of receipt of a request for a Departmental Review. The W-2 agency must submit the Fact Finding file to DHA within 5 working days after receipt of the request. DHA will fully review the W-2 agency's Fact Finding decision by completing a desk review.

If after reviewing the Fact Finding file, DHA determines that the file is inadequate, DHA may do any of the following:

- Remand the file to the W-2 agency to provide additional information;
- Hold a teleconference interview with the Petitioner and W-2 agency representative; or
- Request written supplementation from the petitioner or W-2 representative.

DHA may grant a postponement of a telephone conference if the petitioner is not available due to a good cause reason. DHA may grant an extension of the decision.

DHA must complete its Review within 10 working days of the receipt of the Fact Finding file, unless DHA determines the file is inadequate. If the W-2 agency has requested the Departmental Review, the W-2 agency must comply with the Fact Finder's decision while waiting for DHA to issue its decision.

The Department must deny a request or must refuse to grant relief if the applicant or participant withdraws the request for a Departmental Review in writing.

History: Release 21-01; Release 11-06; Release 11-03.

12.3.2 Proposed Departmental Review Decisions

DHA may issue a proposed decision rather than a final decision. Whenever a decision concludes that a manual provision is invalid or too limited under a state statute, the decision must be issued as proposed.

When DHA issues a proposed decision, it solicits comments from all parties and instructs the W-2 agency that the decision is proposed and should not be acted upon.

All parties may send written comments or objections to the proposed decision to DHA within 15 calendar days of receipt of the proposed decision. Upon request, DHA may extend the deadline for written comments.

After the 15 calendar day comment period has ended, DHA sends the proposed decision and all comments or objections to the Department of Children and Families (DCF). The Secretary of DCF reviews the proposed decision and issues the final decision. The Secretary's final decision can be to agree or reverse the proposed decision or amend current policy. The final decision made by the Secretary is communicated by DHA to the individual and the W-2 agency. The final decision must be acted upon within 10 calendar days by the W-2 agency if the decision is in favor of the individual.

If the final decision ruled current department policy to be incorrect, the W-2 agency must continue to follow the current policy in all other cases until the Department changes that policy.

History: Release 11-03.

12.3.3 Departmental Review Final Decision

The Departmental Review final decision is based upon the review of the Fact Finding file, and when applicable, the information obtained during a telephone conference, or written supplementation. The Departmental Review final decision contains the following information:

- The facts presented from the Fact Finding file;
- Any additional statements (oral or written);
- The conclusions applicable from pertinent law; and
- The Departmental Review order.

DHA must issue a copy of the written decision of the Departmental Review to the applicant or participant and the W-2 agency.

History: Release 11-03.

12.3.4 Departmental Review Remedies

W-2 agencies are bound by the Departmental Review final decision for a particular case. W-2 agencies must comply with the Departmental Review decision within 10 calendar days.

In order to ensure compliance, DHA sends the W-2 agency a Certification of Administrative Action (DHA-18) form along with the decision. This form must be completed and sent back to DHA in order to certify that appropriate action has been taken within 10 calendar days. The form should not indicate what the agency will do, but, rather, what the agency has already done to comply with the order. In addition to sending the form back, DHA requires agencies to include copies or make note of CARES screens that have been used to record the action taken. DHA will not close out the case file until there is evidence in CARES that action has been taken.

As with Fact Finding decisions, if a W-2 agency is unable to comply with a Departmental Review decision for any reason, the agency must contact its Regional Coordinator/Administrator on or before the 10th calendar day and explain why the decision cannot be carried out timely. Non-compliance with DHA decisions may result in a corrective action or a failure penalty as defined in the W-2 and Related Programs Contract.

The Division of Family and Economic Security (DFES) may find that the final decision's principles and policies require a change in policy. If so, DFES will make a statewide directive. Until such a declaration, the W-2 agency must continue to follow existing written policies and procedures in all other cases.

The remedies allowed under Departmental Review decisions are the same remedies allowed under Fact Finding Review decisions. (See sections 12.2.10.1 - 12.2.10.4 for more information on remedies.)

History: Release 21-01; Release 11-03.

12.4 Administrative Hearings for Delinquency Collection Actions

12.4.1 Administrative Hearings for Delinquency Collection Actions

The Public Assistance Collection Section (PACS) located in DCF serves as the State's central collection section for the recovery of delinquent public assistance overpayments. PACS utilizes and initiates various collection methods to recover overpayments, including liens, levies, and tax intercepts, which are known as delinquency actions. Liens are docketed against a debtor's real and personal property, such as a home to secure the state's interest. Levies are issued against all real and personal property including wages or bank accounts. Tax interceptions are issued against the clients state tax refunds or credits owed by the debtor.

Once the individual is notified of the delinquency collection action, he or she has 21 calendar days to appeal a levy or lien collection action and 30 calendar days to appeal a tax intercept collection action. The Division of Hearings and Appeals (DHA) conducts the administrative hearings for delinquency collection actions.

History: Release 22-02; Release 18-02; Release 11-03.

12.4.2 Role of the W-2 Agency In Administrative Hearings for Delinquency Collection Actions

12.4.2.1 Lien or Levy Collection Action Hearings

12.4.2.2 Tax Intercept Hearings

A delinquency hearing may be limited to the delinquency collection action or questions of prior payment or debtor identity. However, under certain circumstances the ALJ may decide to review the underlying merits of the overpayment. This can include inquiries such as how the overpayment was calculated and whether proper notice to the debtor(s) had been provided.

W-2 agencies are not involved in the delinquency hearing process. PACS will appear and prepare all exhibits for all lien and levy delinquency hearings. DCF's Office of Legal Counsel (OLC) will appear and prepare all exhibits for tax intercept hearings. PACS and OLC will collaborate with the Wisconsin Works (W-2) agency prior to the delinquency hearing to determine if a fact-finding review took place on that claim. When a W-2 or Job Access Loan (JAL) delinquency hearing results in the need to address the merits of the overpayment, PACS and OLC will request that the ALJ schedule a fact finding if there was no prior fact finding decision made prior to the delinquency hearing. The local W-2 agency that established the claim will follow the current procedures in 12.2.5. If there is a fact finding decision on record, PACS will request that the ALJ schedule a departmental review. The local W-2 agency that established the claim will follow the current procedure for departmental review in Section 12.3.

If a merit hearing or departmental review already occurred on the W-2 or JAL related claim, PACS and OLC will provide that information at the time of the delinquency hearing and will request no additional hearing to be scheduled.

The delinquency hearing will be held in the Petitioner's current county of residence. If the case has been transferred to another W-2 agency since the overpayment determination, both the current agency and the previous agency will be notified of requested appeals. The agency where the overpayment originated is the agency that must attend and provide supporting information if the hearing is rescheduled to a fact-finding or departmental review hearing. An agency can request to attend the hearing by telephone in a transferred case situation or at any other time that a telephone appearance is warranted. The notice of scheduled hearing will list the Administrative Law Judge and his or her telephone number to contact for requested telephone appearances.

12.4.2.1 Lien or Levy Collection Action Hearings

When a program participant appeals a lien or levy collection action through DHA for W-2 or JAL DHA will notify PACS and the local agency that established the claim via email. The local agency does not need to take any action at that time. PACS will take the following actions:

- Prepare and provide DHA with all exhibits;
- Appear at the hearing and defend the lien and/or levy collection action;
- Review decisions for policy adherence;
- Comply with the hearing decision by removing/continuing lien and levy collection action; and
- Provide the certification of compliance to DHA, when necessary.

12.4.2.2 Tax Intercept Hearings

When a program participant appeals a tax intercept action through DHA for W-2 or JAL, DHA will notify PACS and the local agency that established the claim via email. The local W-2 agency does not need to take any action at that time. PACS and the Department of Children and Families (DCF) Office of Legal Counsel (OLC) will take the following actions:

- PACS will communicate with OLC that a debtor initiated a W-2 tax intercept appeal through DHA.
- OLC will request DHA to convert the delinquency hearing to a contested case hearing.
- OLC will prepare and provide DHA with all exhibits.
- OLC will appear at the hearing and defend the tax intercept action.
- OLC will comply with the hearing decision by removing/continuing the tax intercept action.
- OLC will work with PACS to complete and provide a certification of compliance to DHA when necessary.

13 Fraud

13.1 Program Integrity

13.1.1 Program Integrity

In accordance with Chapter 49 of the Wisconsin state statutes, the W-2 and Related Programs Contract, and applicable sections of the W-2 Manual, W-2 agencies are required to establish a W-2 fraud program and plan. This requirement includes the development and submission of standard operating procedures for fraud prevention and fraud investigative activities, follow up on case findings, CARES case tracking and benefit recovery, and administrative tracking and reporting.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

13.1.2 Structure

As part of their responsibilities for ensuring the integrity of the programs they administer, both W-2 and IM agencies must operate fraud prevention programs to identify and prevent fraud or error from occurring. The agency determining eligibility for a particular program is responsible for fraud prevention and fraud investigation activities in that program.

W-2 agencies should coordinate their fraud prevention and investigation activities with the agency that administers IM programs.

W-2 agencies may establish personnel responsible for performing fraud prevention and investigation activities, or contract out these functions.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

13.1.3 Fraud Standard Operating Procedures

As a contract requirement, each W-2 agency is required to submit standard operating procedures outlining the internal steps the agency must follow to implement a fraud plan. Milwaukee W-2 agencies are required to submit standard operating procedures to their DFES/BWF Regional Administrators. BOS W-2 agencies are required to submit standard operating procedures to their W-2 Regional Coordinators.

Standard operating procedures must:

1. Describe the agency's plan to identify and address fraud;
2. Identify a Fraud Representative for the agency;
3. Describe the agency's plan to implement a Fraud Prevention Plan;
4. Establish procedures for FEV, fraud referrals, and investigations; and
5. Establish procedures to determine when overpayments are the result of an IPV and establish procedures for applying IPVs.

W-2 agencies must review their standard operating procedures periodically to ensure that they are current.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

13.1.4 Fraud Program Activities

W-2 agencies must differentiate between the following types of program integrity activities:

1. Routine verification for eligibility determination conducted on all applications and reviews detailed in W-2 Manual Chapters 1, 2, 3, and 17;
2. Selection of cases that exhibit error-prone case characteristics for referral to FEV;
3. Selection of potential fraud cases for referral to fraud investigation;
4. Establishment of IPVs;
5. Initiation of fraud overpayment claims and collections; and
6. Referral of cases to the local District Attorney's office for criminal prosecution.

Separation of these activities is necessary for proper reporting in the Benefit Recovery and Investigation Tracking System (BRITS).

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

13.1.5 Benefit Recovery and Investigation Tracking System (BRITS)

Front-end verification and fraud investigation activities, costs, and investigative results are recorded in the BRITS. BRITS replaces the CARES Benefit Recovery Subsystem screens BVIR, BVIT, and BVPI that were exclusively used for fraud program reporting. In addition, BRITS is used to record comments for all front-end verification and fraud investigation activities.

W-2 agencies are responsible for tracking all referrals for front-end verification and fraud investigation. There are a number of Webl reports available to assist W-2 agencies in tracking BRITS referrals.

History: Release 16-01.

13.2 Front-End Verification

13.2.1 Front-End Verification

13.2.1.1 Application of Front-End Verification

13.2.1.2 Payment Delay Prohibited

The primary goal of FEV is to prevent fraud, waste, and abuse in the W-2 program by identifying false reporting and by verifying ineligibility during the application process, reviews, or changes in circumstances. FEV mainly involves intensive verification of error-prone case characteristics or questionable eligibility information provided by individuals for W-2 payments and services including employment position payments and JALs.

13.2.1.1 Application of Front-End Verification

W-2 agencies are responsible for ensuring that enhanced verification is conducted when information supplied by individuals is questionable or error-prone characteristics are present. The FEV process is appropriate at application, review, or when individuals report a change. However, FEV should not be routinely required on all new case applications, reviews, or changes. Cases referred for FEV must exhibit characteristics of a potential program error-prone profile. W-2 agencies must establish an error-prone profile for use to determine if a case meets the criteria for an FEV referral. (See 13.2.2)

13.2.1.2 Payment Delay Prohibited

When a case is referred for FEV, the W-2 agency must not delay eligibility determination. The W-2 agency must observe application and payment processing deadlines even if the FEV results have not been received. Benefit recovery can be completed at a later date, if an overpayment is established.

History: Release 20-01.

13.2.2 Error-Prone Profile

13.2.2.1 Review of Error-Prone Profile

13.2.2.1.1 Prohibited Error-Prone Profile Characteristics

13.2.2.1.2 Residence

13.2.2.1.3 Household Composition

13.2.2.1.4 Assets

13.2.2.1.5 Earned Income

13.2.2.1.6 Unearned Income

13.2.2.1.7 General Criteria

An error-prone profile is a list of characteristics recognized by the W-2 agency as indicators of error(s) on a case. It allows W-2 agencies to allocate administrative and investigative resources to those cases according to their potential for error. The criteria for an error-prone profile must accommodate situations applicable to the specific agency. For example, there are a high number of jobs in the area that provide opportunities for earning tips. In these situations, the error-prone profile would include not reporting tip income when working a job that routinely receives tips. FEV activities may reveal that some characteristics originally thought to show potential errors are irrelevant and not cost effective to pursue.

13.2.2.1 Review of Error-Prone Profile

Because error-prone profile criteria are likely to change over time, the W-2 agency must evaluate its error-prone profile annually to determine if the profile is actually identifying errors. The recommended target is that 30% of cases referred to FEV should result in a referral for fraud investigation. If the W-2 agency does not meet the 30% target, it should remove characteristics that are not error-prone and add other characteristics that may be error-prone.

13.2.2.1.1 Prohibited Error-Prone Profile Characteristics

The following characteristics must not be used when developing an error-prone profile:

1. Race;
2. Color;
3. National origin;

4. Ethnic background;
5. Sexual orientation;
6. Religion;
7. Age;
8. Political belief;
9. Disability;
10. Association with a person with a disability; and
11. Marital status.

Federal regulations specifically prohibit error-prone profiles from targeting migrant farm workers or Native Americans.

13.2.2.1.2 Residence

Error-prone indicators for residence include:

- Conflicting documentation or verification differing from that reported by the individual;
- Recent arrival (within the prior three months) in the agency's county, excluding migrant farm workers, people who are homeless, and residents of shelters;
- Highly mobile families whom rarely stay in one location for more than two or three months; and
- Frequent or prolonged visits outside of the W-2 Geographic Area.

13.2.2.1.3 Household Composition

Error-prone indicators for household composition include:

- Employable household members listed on the application and then later reported to have moved;
- Collateral contact statement is inconsistent with the individual's statement of household size;
- Landlord's address is same as individual's, but landlord is not included as a household member;

- Landlord is the absent parent or ex-spouse;
- An unmarried individual gives birth to a baby who is given the same last name as a male friend, but client claims male friend does not live with her;
- Client reports someone else pays the rent for several months, but that person is not listed in the home;
- Household reports large increases or decreases in household size or a frequently fluctuating household size; and
- Other household member(s) included on a JAL or EA application.

13.2.2.1.4 Assets

Error-prone indicators for assets include:

- Individual reports no assets or resources on the application, but has no unpaid bills;
- Individual reports no vehicle, but has no reasonable explanation of the transportation method;
- Individual claims no income for an extended period of time, but offers no satisfactory explanation of how needs were met before applying;
- Information provided by the individual shows a substantial reduction in assets just prior to application for assistance; and
- Reported assets are very near or equal to the asset limits.

13.2.2.1.5 Earned Income

Error-prone indicators for earned income include:

- Reported income is different than IRS records or state tax forms;
- Individual's expenses are being met, although individual's reported income is not enough to satisfy the financial obligations;
- Self-employment income reported to have stopped (potential business assets available);
- Individual reports zero income but states someone else paying the bills;

- Household that has an adult wage earner who becomes unemployed and reports no unemployment benefits or reports unemployment benefits have stopped, but employment has not resumed;
- Increase in nonparticipation without attempts from the individual to provide good cause; and
- Application for JAL or EA indicates increase in earned income not previously reported.

13.2.2.1.6 Unearned Income

Error-prone indicators for unearned income include:

- Household member claims disability, but does not report SSI, SSDI, or worker's compensation;
- Application for JAL or EA indicates source(s) of unearned income not previously reported; and
- Individual owns rental property(ies).

13.2.2.1.7 General Criteria

General error-prone indicators include:

- Individual has provided contradictory information or made statements inconsistent with information provided during a previous contact in the application or review;
- Case was previously closed for loss of contact or failure to provide essential information;
- Case in which fraud was previously alleged or committed;
- Case in which information provided by applicant is incomplete or not clear;
- Case was previously referred for FEV, which resulted in either denial or reduction of benefits; and
- Case was flagged for potential error via the automated process for identifying error prone cases in CWW.

History: Release 16-01.

13.2.3 Referrals for Front-End Verification

13.2.3.1 Timeliness of Front-End Verification

13.2.3.2 Sources for Front-End Verification

13.2.3.2.1 Field Investigation

13.2.3.2.2 Information by Collateral Contacts

13.2.3.2.3 Surveillance

13.2.3.2.4 Vehicles & Assets Information

13.2.3.2.5 Income Information

A referral for FEV is completed when an investigation is needed to verify specific error-prone characteristics relating to program applications, reviews, or changes in circumstances. When the W-2 agency suspects fraudulent reporting, the case must be referred for fraud investigation, not FEV.

The steps the W-2 agency must take to initiate and process a FEV referral are as follows:

1. Compare the case characteristics to the agency's error-prone profile;
2. Create a referral for FEV in BRITS and specify the error-prone reason(s) of concern; and
3. Provide specific information regarding the referral in BRITS.

13.2.3.1 Timeliness of Front-End Verification

The W-2 agency must conduct front-end investigations within 30 calendar days from the date the referral was created in BRITS. If a front-end investigation is expected to exceed 30 days, the W-2 agency's fraud representative must record an extension due date in comments and provide an explanation.

13.2.3.2 Sources for Front-End Verification

To verify information that prompted a FEV referral, the W-2 agency must determine the appropriate source(s).

13.2.3.2.1 Field Investigation

When documentary evidence is insufficient to determine eligibility or when a case fits the error-prone profile, a visit to the individual's residence may be appropriate. The W-2 agency must provide the individual advance notice of the date of the visit and document issuance of the notice in BRITS. Field investigations should take place during normal business hours unless there are special circumstances.

W-2 agencies must follow these steps when conducting field investigations:

1. At the residence, identify yourself to the individual and explain the reason for your visit;
2. Request identification (Social Security card, driver's license, state ID, etc.) from the individual;
3. Treat the individual(s) and all other persons in the household with respect. Do not coerce the individual(s);
4. Ask permission to enter the residence. Do not attempt to enter if the individual refuses to give consent. Do not tell the individual that there will be automatic denial of the case;
5. Inform the individual who gave consent for you to enter the residence that the consent may be withdrawn at any time; and
6. Ask to see areas of the residence. Do not demand access to or inspect areas or items without the individual's consent.

13.2.3.2.2 Information by Collateral Contacts

A collateral contact is an oral or written confirmation of a household's circumstances by a person outside the household.

Examples of acceptable collateral contacts may include:

- Employers;
- Landlords;
- Social service agencies;
- Migrant service agencies; and
- Neighbors of the household who can be expected to provide accurate third-party verification.

13.2.3.2.3 Surveillance

W-2 agencies may use legal surveillance in completing an investigation of residence or household composition.

13.2.3.2.4 Vehicles & Assets Information

Examples of sources to verify vehicles and assets include:

- Department of Transportation;
- Register of Deeds for mortgage or debt information;
- Credit bureaus;
- Banking and other financial institutions, including prepaid debit card accounts; and
- Auto appraisers for collector vehicles.

See Chapter 4 for additional sources to verify assets.

13.2.3.2.5 Income Information

Examples of sources to verify income include:

- State wage matches;
- Contact with employer;
- State and federal tax information;
- Child support records;
- SSA; and
- Financial institutions.

See Chapter 4 for additional sources to verify income.

History: Release 16-01.

13.3 Fraud Investigation

13.3.1 Fraud Investigation

The primary goal of a fraud investigation is to determine the correctness of an allegation that an applicant or recipient of W-2 payments and services, including employment position payments and JALs, intended to misrepresent his or her eligibility criteria or committed any act that constitutes an IPV.

In most suspected fraud cases referred to an investigator by the W-2 agency:

- A benefit overpayment is suspected and the agency has reason to believe the overpayment is the result of misrepresentation of program eligibility requirements. The misrepresentation of program eligibility or fraudulent activity may be the result of:
 - False or misleading statements of circumstances,
 - Failure to report a change in circumstances,
 - Concealed or withheld facts, or
 - Violation of a program regulation or State statute relating to program benefits.
- The benefit(s) would not have been provided, but for the false representation.
- The conduct of the applicant or recipient indicates the misrepresentation or fraudulent use of the benefit was done with knowledge and intent.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

13.3.2 Referrals for Fraud Investigation

13.3.2.1 Identifying Potential Fraud

13.3.2.2 Timeliness of Fraud Investigation

13.3.2.3 Sources for Fraud Investigation

The steps the W-2 agency must take to initiate and process a fraud investigation referral are as follows:

1. Assess whether the case meets the agency's fraud referral criteria established in the agency's standard operating procedures;
2. Review the allegations contained in the investigation referral;
3. Conduct the investigation in accordance with the agency's standard operating procedures to substantiate the allegations of fraud;
4. Provide specific information regarding the investigation in BRITS (see 13.1.5); and
5. Initiate the processes for prosecution of fraud cases, applying an IPV, and calculating and collecting fraudulent overpayments.

13.3.2.1 Identifying Potential Fraud

Potential fraud may be identified by various sources, including:

- W-2 agency staff;
- IM agency staff;
- Other agency staff (Child Welfare, Child Support, Child Care);
- FIRE staff;
- FDIU;
- W-2 Fraud and Child Care Anti-Fraud Task Forces;
- Program Integrity Unit;
- Complaints from the general public; and
- Anonymous tips from the general public.

Potential fraud may also be identified using various tools:

- Error-prone profiles;
- Periodic case audits;
- Shared information on automated systems (CWW, CARES, WWP, and Data Exchanges);
- Case worker alerts (W-2 and IM);
- Automated reporting systems (WebI); and
- PARIS interstate matches.

W-2 agencies should establish networks with local agencies to promote communication of fraud referrals. Fraud committed by an individual in one program may be simultaneously occurring in another program.

13.3.2.2 Timeliness of Fraud Investigation

The W-2 agency must conduct fraud investigations within 90 calendar days from the date the referral was created in BRITS. If a fraud investigation is expected to exceed 90 days, the W-2 agency's fraud representative must record an extension due date in BRITS and provide an explanation.

When a W-2 agency designates fraud investigation activities to a third party, the W-2 agency is responsible for establishing procedures for requesting investigation extensions including the criteria for approval or denial.

13.3.2.3 Sources for Fraud Investigation

To determine the appropriate fraud investigation source(s) to verify the correctness of an allegation that prompted a fraud referral, see 13.2.3.2.

History: Release 19-01; Release 18-02.

13.3.3 Disposition of Fraud Investigation

When the investigation finds that an individual intended to misrepresent his or her eligibility criteria or committed any act that constitutes an intentional program violation, the W-2 agency must:

1. Establish an IPV or take no action to establish an IPV because the fraud allegation was not substantiated (see 13.4);
2. Determine whether the case meets the agency's criteria for referral to the District Attorney for prosecution for fraud (see 13.5); and
3. Establish overpayments claims to attempt to recover any payments incorrectly paid to the individual as the result of the fraud (see 13.6).

History: Release 20-01.

13.3.4 W-2 Service Provider Fraud

13.3.4.1 Prohibited Conduct

13.3.4.2 Reporting W-2 Service Provider Fraud

The W-2 agency and the State have the ability to pursue a civil or criminal action against any entity that receives funds to which it was not entitled. The W-2 agency contracts are specific regarding the responsibility of each W-2 agency to monitor its subcontractors and recover any overpaid amount that resulted for any reason. (See 2013 W-2 Contract, Section XI. D.)

13.3.4.1 Prohibited Conduct

The following conduct by W-2 service providers are prohibited:

1. Knowingly and willfully making or causing to be made any false statement or representation of a material fact in any application for any benefit or payment;
2. Having knowledge of the occurrence of any event affecting the initial or continued eligibility for a benefit or payment under the W-2 program and concealing or failing to disclose that event with fraudulent intent to secure a benefit or payment under W-2 either in a greater amount or quantity than is due or when no such benefit or payment is authorized;
3. Soliciting or receiving kickbacks, cash or other forms of compensation, for referring an individual or individuals arranging or furnishing an item or service for which payment is received under the W-2 program; and

Note: This provision does not include an amount paid by an employer to an employee who has a bona fide employment relationship with the employer for employment in the provision of covered items or services.

4. Knowingly charging a W-2 recipient for services provided under W-2 or charging a W-2 recipient for non-W-2 services without first notifying the recipient of potential charges.

13.3.4.2 Reporting W-2 Service Provider Fraud

Report W-2 service provider fraud to:

Department of Children and Families
W-2 Fraud Unit
PO Box 8916
Madison, WI 53708-8916

Or e-mail: w2fraud@wisconsin.gov

13.4 Intentional Program Violation

13.4.1 Intentional Program Violation

13.4.1.1 Intentional Program Violation Determination and Notification

13.4.1.1.1 Intentional Program Violation Determination

13.4.1.1.2 Determining the Date of an Intentional Program Violation

13.4.1.1.3 Intentional Program Violation Notification

13.4.1.2 Intentional Program Violation Penalties

13.4.1.3 Imposing an Intentional Program Violation Penalty

13.4.1.4 Overpayment Recoupment for Intentional Program Violations

13.4.1.5 Additional Intentional Program Violation Enforcement Actions

13.4.1.6 Dispute Resolution Process

A W-2 IPV means that an individual did any of the following for the purpose of establishing, using, maintaining, increasing, receiving, transferring or trafficking W-2 payments and services including a JAL:

1. Intentionally made a false or misleading statement;
2. Intentionally misrepresented or withheld facts; or
3. Intentionally committed any act that constitutes a violation of state or federal law.

To determine whether to impose an IPV penalty for W-2 applicants, JAL applicants, or W-2 participants, the IPV must have been committed on or after November 1, 2012. An applicant does not have to receive payments or services prior to the agency imposing an IPV penalty.

The following are examples of IPV's:

- Concealing or intentionally not reporting unearned income or assets;
- Failing to report employment;
- Failing to report household composition change (including minor children);
- Failing to disclose/report non-Wisconsin residency;
- Submitting documentation that has been forged or tampered with;
- Submitting false information; or
- Using a JAL for other than an approved purpose.

Reminder: Prior to entering an IPV, the W-2 agency must enter all required fraud information in BRITS. (See 13.1.5)

13.4.1.1 Intentional Program Violation Determination and Notification

Within seven working days of receiving a fraud investigation report, the W-2 agency must:

1. Determine if an IPV has occurred;
2. Determine whether an IPV penalty can be applied based on the November 1, 2012 effective date of Wis. Stat. s. 49.151(2); and
3. Notify the individual that he or she has committed an IPV.

13.4.1.1.1 Intentional Program Violation Determination

If the outcome of a fraud investigation confirms that an individual has committed a fraudulent act, the W-2 agency must ensure that the fraudulent act meets the definition of an IPV. (See 13.4.1) It is likely that if the investigation concluded that an act was, in fact, fraudulent, then it will also be an IPV.

If the W-2 agency discovers that more than one act of fraud occurs at the same time, i.e., at application, at eligibility review, or during a change report, then the W-2 agency must impose only one IPV penalty. The agency can only impose subsequent IPV penalties after the individual has completed an IPV penalty period, re-enrolled in the W-2 program, and then violated program rules again. For example, after an individual has completed a 6-month penalty period for a first IPV, re-enrolls in the W-2 program, and then violates the program rules again, the agency can consider imposing a second IPV penalty. The same is true for imposing a third IPV penalty; an individual has to serve the 12-month penalty period for the second IPV, re-enroll in W-2, and then violate the program rules for the third time.

EXAMPLE: Louis applies for W-2 in June 2013 and is determined eligible and placed in a Community Service Job. The following month, the agency discovers that Louis did not report a savings account with a balance of $5,000. The agency imposes an IPV and Louis is disqualified from W-2 for six months. In March 2014, the agency discovers that Louis did not report his part-time employment that began in May 2013. The agency may not impose a second IPV since Louis had not re-applied for W-2 and violated program rules again.

In cases where the applicant is eligible for a JAL for an approved loan reason and uses the JAL funds for another reason that still meets a discreet financial crisis, an IPV is not applicable.

EXAMPLE: Joan applies for a JAL for auto repairs. Based on the information she provided on the application, the W-2 agency approves it and issues a check on June 11, 2013. On June 12, 2013, Joan's son Matthew went to the dental office after complaining of a toothache. After the exam, the dentist recommends an emergency root canal procedure. Joan does not have dental insurance and has to pay up-front for this procedure. She uses the JAL to cover this cost, as she does not have any other financial options. The agency determines that the emergency root canal procedure was a discreet financial crisis and does not impose an IPV.

All IPV determinations must be reviewed and approved by a supervisor or a supervisor's designee to ensure uniform application of IPV policy within each W-2 agency.

13.4.1.1.2 Determining the Date of an Intentional Program Violation

The date of intentional program violation is the date that the individual committed the fraudulent act.

If the fraudulent act is committed prior to November 1, 2012, the agency must not impose an IPV. If the fraudulent act resulted in an overpayment, however, the W-2 agency must still process the overpayment.

If it is discovered, through a data exchange or other third-party verified source, that a participant received or retained income while receiving W-2 that would have made them financially ineligible for W-2 and did not report it, the overpayment must start the day the income was received.

EXAMPLE 1: Marquita submits an altered Medical Examination & Capacity form on October 3, 2012 claiming that she can only participate five hours per week. Based on this altered form, her FEP places her in a W-2 T placement with limited activities assigned. The following year, her FEP learns that Marquita altered the form she submitted on October 3, 2012 by changing 15 hours to 5 hours. The fraudulent act (submitting falsified information) was committed prior to November 1, 2012. The W-2 agency must not apply an IPV penalty.

EXAMPLE 2: When the W-2 agency determines Lisa's initial W-2 eligibility on December 17, 2012, Lisa does not list Tony, her son's father, as part of her household. In February 2013, Lisa reports that Tony is living with her. The W-2 agency subsequently determines that Tony has been living with Lisa since August 24, 2011 and that Tony works full-time making them financially ineligible for W-2. The W-2 agency will apply an IPV because the fraudulent act occurred after November 1, 2012. The date of the fraudulent act is December 17, 2012. The agency must apply an IPV penalty.

EXAMPLE 3: Judy was found eligible for a W-2 T placement in February 2014. Through a third party data exchange, Judy's FEP finds out that Judy received $10,000 as an inheritance on June 12, 2014. When Judy's FEP contacts Judy, Judy states that she spent the money by September 1, 2014. Judy would have been over the asset limit for the calendar months of July and August. Since Judy did not report the change in income timely, her overpayment period starts the day she received the inheritance, June 12, and ends the day before she was again eligible, August 31. If Judy had reported the income timely, there would not have been an overpayment.

EXAMPLE 4: Suki was found eligible for a CSJ placement in April 2016. On May 15, 2016, Suki receives a $5,000 legal settlement. Suki calls her FEP to report the change on May 16, 2016. Suki's FEP advises her to pay ahead on her rent, electric bill, and other utilities to help stabilize her living situation. At a follow-up appointment in July 2016, Suki's FEP asks if she still has any settlement money remaining. Suki says she still has $2,600, and plans on keeping it. Suki's FEP advises Suki that her case will close at the end of July since it will be her second month of being over assets. Suki agrees, and Suki's FEP closes her case on July 31, 2016. There is no overpayment as Suki reported the income timely, and Suki's FEP closed her case timely. If Suki had not reported the income, Suki's overpayment would have started on May 15 and ended when her case closed.

13.4.1.1.3 Intentional Program Violation Notification

The W-2 agency must notify an individual in writing that he or she committed an IPV by generating the IPVI letter from CWW. The letter informs the individual:

1. He or she has been determined to have committed an IPV;
2. The date(s) of the fraudulent act;
3. The fraudulent act that resulted in the IPV penalty; and
4. He or she has seven working days to provide any additional information regarding the IPV.

The W-2 agency must allow seven working days for the individual to rectify the IPV.

- If the individual submits additional information related to the IPV within the seven working day timeframe, the W-2 agency must review the additional information and decide if the IPV determination should be overturned.
- If the IPV is overturned, the agency must delete the IPV and must notify the individual that he or she will not receive an IPV penalty. If the IPV is not overturned, the W-2 agency must impose the IPV.

The period of ineligibility begins the first day of the month after the seven working day timeframe. CWW will generate a Notice of Eligibility to the ineligible individual.

EXAMPLE: On May 28, 2013, the W-2 agency receives a fraud investigation report on Mary's case. The Fraud Coordinator reviews the report on June 6, 2013 and determines that the fraudulent act was intentional. On that day, the W-2 agency enters the IPV and generates an IPV notification letter (IPVI) to Mary, giving her until June 17, 2013 to provide any additional information regarding the IPV. On June 18, 2013, the agency imposes the IPV penalty because Mary did not submit new information. This is Mary's first IPV. Mary will be ineligible for W-2 for six months beginning July 1, 2013, and ending December 31, 2013.

13.4.1.2 Intentional Program Violation Penalties

If the W-2 agency determines that an individual has committed a W-2 or JAL IPV, the W-2 agency must impose an IPV penalty denying W-2 and JAL to the individual for the following time periods:

1. Six months for the first IPV;

2. One year for the second IPV; and
3. Permanently for the third IPV.

Once a W-2 agency imposes an IPV penalty, the penalty continues uninterrupted for the duration of the ineligibility period unless reversed under the W-2 dispute resolution process (See Chapter 12). The duration of the ineligibility period is never subject to review.

Each IPV determination is subject to the dispute resolution process.

13.4.1.3 Imposing an Intentional Program Violation Penalty

IPV determinations for W-2 (including JALs), Wisconsin Shares (child care) and EA are independent of each other. If an individual is determined to have committed a W-2 or JAL IPV, the penalty applies to both W-2 and JAL. If an individual commits a child care IPV, the penalty applies only to child care. If an individual commits an EA IPV, the penalty applies only to EA.

If a W-2 applicant or participant demonstrates an inability to obtain child care as a result of a child care IPV, the W-2 agency must not grant good cause for all nonparticipation.

EXAMPLE: Cathy applies for W-2 and child care. During the W-2 application process, Cathy states that she and her two children reside in her home. She states that her husband James moved out two months ago and she does not know where he is. The FEP completes the W-2 intake and confirms eligibility. The FEP reviews all W-2 forms with Cathy before she signs them. After the appointment, the FEP's co-worker approaches her and states that Cathy is her neighbor and that James resides in the home. The FEP calls Cathy and she admits that James is in the home and that she did provide false information. The FEP discusses the situation with the Fraud Coordinator who decides that Cathy committed a W-2 IPV. The Fraud Coordinator notifies child care of the finding and child care makes the IPV determination for that program. The following month, Cathy is not able to pay her rent. She applies for EA and lists herself, her husband, and two children on the EA application. The W-2 IPV does not prevent Cathy from being determined eligible for EA. She may be eligible for EA if she meets all of the non-financial and financial eligibility.

More than one adult in the W-2 Group may be determined to have committed an IPV and can be subject to the penalty. Only the individual determined to have committed an IPV must receive the penalty. An individual ineligible for W-2 due to an IPV penalty is an Included Adult in the W-2 Group for the purpose of financial eligibility; however, the individual is not eligible for a W-2 placement or services or JAL.

In the case of a two-parent household when one parent is ineligible and the second parent has been determined not to be involved in the IPV activity, the second parent may apply for, and may be, eligible for W-2.

If the W-2 case is closed, or if the individual has already received a JAL, an IPV may still be determined and a penalty applied.

(See Operations Memo 13-10 for instructions on entering W-2 and JAL IPVs in CWW)

13.4.1.4 Overpayment Recoupment for Intentional Program Violations

The W-2 agency must establish all W-2 overpayments claims in the CARES BV Subsystem. CARES automates the collection process by sending the overpayment notice, repayment agreement, and past-due (dunning) notices. CARES also automates recoupment of overpayments from ongoing payments.

Because an individual's W-2 case will close for an IPV, it is not possible to recoup from ongoing payments. When entering overpayment claims related to IPV, the agency must use IV as the Error Type on CARES screen BVCL. If a balance still exists when the individual reapplies for, and is found eligible for W-2, CARES will recoup the remaining overpayment from ongoing payments. (See 10.3.3)

Under no circumstances can the W-2 agency recoup JAL payments from W-2 payments, including any JAL payments that occur due to an IPV. When a JAL recipient commits an IPV and receives an IPV penalty, the recipient is still subject to the terms of his or her JAL repayment agreement. (See 17.5)

13.4.1.5 Additional Intentional Program Violation Enforcement Actions

After the W-2 agency determines that an IPV has occurred, the agency may decide to take additional enforcement action(s). The additional enforcement action(s) include:

1. Refer for possible criminal prosecution. The W-2 agency must communicate with its Corporate Counsel to discuss and establish thresholds and criteria regarding when to refer individuals to local law enforcement or the district attorney for consideration of possible criminal prosecution.

2. Obtain a Disqualification Consent Agreement. If the W-2 agency decides to refer an individual to the District Attorney for prosecution for civil or criminal misrepresentation or fraud, the agency may offer the individual the option to sign a consent agreement with the agency to defer the referral for prosecution. Individuals who choose to sign this waiver still receive an IPV penalty.

13.4.1.6 Dispute Resolution Process

Individuals may appeal an IPV determination by requesting a Fact Finding Review (See Chapter 12). A W-2 IPV determination and the establishment of an IPV-related overpayment are considered two separate actions. The individual must appeal each action separately.

History: Release 20-01; Release 18-04; Release 16-01.

13.4.2 Misrepresentation of Identity or Residence

A W-2 participant will be prohibited from participating in W-2 or receiving a JAL for 10 years if convicted in a federal or state court for any of the following reasons:

1. Knowingly and willfully making or causing to be made any false statement or representation of material fact in any application for benefits or payments with respect to his or her identity or place of residence for the purpose of receiving state TANF assistance simultaneously from this state and at least one other state.
2. Fraudulently misstating or misrepresenting his or her identity or place of residence for the purpose of receiving from this state and at least one other state benefits simultaneously under one of the following programs:
 - a. Medical Assistance;
 - b. FoodShare; and
 - c. SSI.

This misrepresentation is an IPV and must be counted as such when determining permanent ineligibility for three occurrences of IPV.

The 10 year period will begin on the date of conviction. If the person who has been suspended from participating in W-2 for any of the above reasons is pardoned by the president of the United States for the conduct that caused the suspension, eligibility may be restored beginning on the first day of the first month after the pardon was granted.

13.5 Referral to Prosecution

13.5.1 Referral to Prosecution

13.5.1.1 Referral Criteria

13.5.1.2 Prosecution Alternatives

As a part of the W-2 agency's fraud standard operating procedures, the W-2 agency must establish internal policies and procedures for identifying fraud cases for referral to prosecution. W-2 agencies are encouraged to develop referral criteria with their local District Attorney's office to make a satisfactory referral to prosecution.

13.5.1.1 Referral Criteria

W-2 agencies must determine if a case should be referred for prosecution based on whether:

1. The completed investigation report supports the allegation of fraud and provides evidence of intent;
2. The investigation was completed in a timely manner;
3. The case meets the local agency's policy and cost effective criteria;
4. The case meets the local District Attorney's prosecution criteria; and
5. The agency designee recommends prosecution.

13.5.1.2 Prosecution Alternatives

There are several alternatives that allow individuals to avoid criminal prosecution in court by agreeing to certain terms at various points of the legal process:

- Pre-Charge Diversion Agreement;
- Pre-Trial Agreement;
- Deferred Prosecution Agreement; and
- Disqualification Consent Agreement.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

13.6 Fraudulent Benefit Recovery

13.6.1 Fraudulent Benefit Recovery

13.6.1.1 CARES and Central Recovery Enhanced System Overpayment Recovery Actions

Fraud overpayments are benefit overpayments issued as a result of a fraudulent act. The W-2 agency must attempt to recover only the amount of W-2 benefits incorrectly paid to the individual. If fraud is suspected in more than one public assistance program, the W-2 agency should communicate with other affected programs so recovery of all program benefit overpayments can be made.

When an overpayment occurs as the result of an IPV (see 13.4), the W-2 agency must process the overpayment as an IPV claim for the purposes of benefit recovery from W-2 payments (see 10.3.3).

The individual may appeal a fraud overpayment by requesting a Fact Finding Review. (See Chapter 12)

13.6.1.1 CARES and Central Recovery Enhanced System Overpayment Recovery Actions

CARES processes overpayment claims, identifies liable individuals, and generates the appropriate notices and worksheets. CARES tracks the repayment of overpayments, issuance of notices of nonpayment, closes a claim when the balance is paid, and identifies and tracks refunds.

CARES sends three dunning or past due notices to the individual before referring delinquent claims for further collection action, as authorized by law, to the CRES. CRES is monitored and maintained by the PACS. PACS uses the CRES system to initiate delinquent collection actions including State tax intercept and lien and levy for TANF programs.

14 Two-Parent Households

14.1 Introduction

14.1 Introduction

W-2 is based on the philosophy that both parents are responsible to care for and support their children. The W-2 agency's goal, whenever possible, is to increase the family's total income by helping both parents find and keep employment.

Not all families with two adults are considered two-parent households for purposes of W-2. W-2 has specific policies for two-parent households. A W-2 two-parent household is a W-2 Group where both adults:

1. are Custodial Parent (CP) who have a child in common (for example, step parents do not meet the definition of a custodial parent however these individuals are considered an Included Adult for eligibility purposes);
2. reside in the same household with their child(ren);
3. meet all W-2 eligibility criteria (for example, a custodial parent receiving SSI or a custodial parent who is not a qualified non-citizen are not members of a two-parent household for W-2 purposes because those adults do not meet W-2 nonfinancial eligibility requirements and therefore are "included adults" not eligible adults);
4. are not a Disabled Adult, and
5. are not caring for a Severely Disabled Child in the W-2 Group.

It is important to note that when one parent in a W-2 Group with two adults does not meet the W-2 eligibility requirements and is considered an "included adult" that W-2 Group still may be eligible for W-2 services. However, the W-2 Group will not be considered a two-parent household for W-2 purposes.

EXAMPLE: Ineesha and Nate Tosh apply for W-2. They are married and have two minor children together. Ineesha receives public employers' disability benefits. Nate has been unemployed for the last six months. The family meets all other W-2 financial and nonfinancial eligibility requirements. Nate is not ready for employment due to barriers identified by the FEP. The family is eligible for W-2, and Nate is placed in a CSJ. However because Ineesha meets the definition of a disabled adult, the W-2 Group is not considered a two-parent household for W-2 purposes. Ineesha cannot be required to participate in W-2 activities.

This chapter discusses the policies related to W-2 Groups that meet the definition of a W-2 two-parent household.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

14.2 W-2 Placements

14.2.1 W-2 Placements for Two-Parent Households at Application

While the goal for W-2 Two-Parent Households is to increase both parents' earning capacity, only one parent in a W-2 two-parent household can be placed in a W-2 position at any one time. Because only one parent can be placed, the FEP must determine which parent is "most employable" and place that parent in the appropriate W-2 placement.

Note: The other parent is not required to participate in W-2 activities unless the family receives Wisconsin Shares. (See 14.3)

The "most employable" parent is the parent who is best able to most quickly increase the family's income by getting and keeping employment. Below are some examples:

- In a W-2 two-parent household where neither parent is working, the FEP must place the parent who is best able to find the highest paying job the quickest.
- In a W-2 two-parent household where one parent is working, the FEP must place the parent who is best able to increase the family's income the quickest.
- If the parent who is working is unable to increase the family's income by increasing his or her work hours or wages, the FEP must place the non-working parent.

In situations where one or both of the parents in a W-2 two-parent household are not able to get and keep employment due to a disability that would qualify for SSI, SSDI or other disability benefits, the FEP must place the parent who is best able to most quickly increase the family's income from either disability benefits or employment.

The FEP determines which parent to place in close consultation with each of the parents by carefully assessing all of the following factors:

- The short and long-term employability of each parent;
- The wages each parent is able to earn based on his or her skills, abilities and the jobs available in the workforce;
- The activities needed to prepare each parent for unsubsidized employment;
- Total family strengths and barriers, including the need for child care and other supportive services; and

- The amount of income a parent who is unable to work due to disability will receive in the foreseeable future from SSI, SSDI or other disability benefits.

The FEP assesses these factors by meeting with each parent in a W-2 two-parent household and by completing an informal assessment of each parent. The FEP must complete the WWP Informal Assessment with each parent at application and at other times as required by the informal assessment policy. (See 5.2) Unless both parents request the WWP Informal Assessment be completed with the other parent present, the WWP Informal Assessment must be completed with each parent separately. An applicant or participant must never be asked to complete the Domestic Abuse Screen while his or her partner is present.

EXAMPLE 1: Kaileigh and Cole Jackson apply for W-2 and meet the definition of a W-2 two-parent household. Kaileigh and Cole are both unemployed. In the past, Kaileigh has worked as a waitress and Cole has worked at the local factory on the line. Although Cole has better long-term earning potential, there are not currently any jobs in the area that match his skills. Kaileigh, on the other hand, has many jobs available to her at least part time. Both have barriers to employment but Kaileigh's are easier to address. With this in mind, the FEP determines Kaileigh is the most employable as she is able to get a job more quickly than Cole. The couple agrees that their best plan is to focus on getting Kaileigh a job as quickly as possible. The FEP places Kaileigh in a CSJ and encourages Cole to volunteer for activities and services.

EXAMPLE 2: Kimberly Hetto and Jason Lee apply for W-2 and meet the definition of a W-2 two-parent household. Both parents are unemployed and have significant barriers. Jason has more of a work history than Kimberly but he has an uncooperative attitude and does not do well in his mock interviews conducted by the W-2 agency. The FEP determines that Kimberly is most employable because she is best able to prepare for employment and more motivated to work than Jason. The FEP places Kimberly in a CSJ and encourages Jason to volunteer for activities and services.

EXAMPLE 3: Gerri and Jeff Kast apply for W-2 and meet the definition of a W-2 two-parent household. Jeff has significant disabilities that prevent him from working and he wants to apply for SSI. Gerri has worked in the past but she currently has a drinking problem and other barriers to employment. She has not worked for several years. Although Gerri says she wants to work on her drinking and other problems, it will likely take her some time to address her issues and prepare for employment. However Jeff would be able to receive SSI in the foreseeable future. The FEP determines Jeff is most able to most quickly increase the family's income by getting SSI. The FEP places Jeff in a W-2 T and encourages Gerri to volunteer for activities and services.

EXAMPLE 4: Jim Reed and Brandy Carter apply for W-2 and meet the definition of a W-2 two-parent household. Brandy has a verified medical condition limiting her hours of employment to 2 hours per day or less. She currently works 10 hours per week at Goodwill Industries. Jim and Brandy reside with both of their children who are in high school and do not need child care. In the past, Jim has been the family's primary financial provider. He is currently unemployed and wants to work full-time but has some barriers. The FEP determines that because of Brandy's medical condition, she is unable to increase her hours or her wages. As a result, Jim is the most employable because, after Jim addresses his barriers, he is best able to increase the family's income by working full-time. The couple agrees that Jim should try to find a job. The FEP places Jim in a CSJ and encourages Brandy to volunteer for activities and services in addition to her 10 hours working at Goodwill.

EXAMPLE 5: LaKeisha and Marcus Clayton apply for W-2 and meet the definition of a W-2 two-parent household. Marcus works 15 hours per week delivering newspapers and LaKeisha is unemployed. Marcus wants to find another job but has not been able to find one on his own due to his criminal record. LaKeisha struggles with depression. As a result, the FEP determines Marcus is the most employable because he is able to increase the family's income by increasing his hours of work and/or finding a better paying job. The couple agrees that their best plan is for Marcus to get a new better paying job. The FEP places Marcus in a pro-rated CSJ and encourages LaKeisha to volunteer for activities and services.

EXAMPLE 6: Natasha Filbert and Anthony Marques apply for W-2 and meet the definition of a W-2 two-parent household. They have five children. Although Anthony is working full-time, the family still meets financial and nonfinancial eligibility for W-2. Anthony is not able to increase his hours or his wages. Natasha has some barriers but once they are resolved, she is able to work at least part time. The FEP determines Natasha is the best able to increase the family's income and places Natasha in a CSJ. The FEP encourages Anthony to volunteer for retention services provided by the W-2 agency.

History: Release 19-02.

14.2.2 Re-Determination of W-2 Placement for Two-Parent Households

Over time, the circumstances of a W-2 two-parent household may change. For example, one or both of the parents may:

- Leave the W-2 Group;
- Lose a job;
- Get a job;
- Lose job hours and/or wages;
- Increase job hours and/or wages;
- Become incapacitated for a short period of time; or
- Become eligible for SSI, etc.

When changes occur, the FEP must determine if the W-2 Group still meets W-2 eligibility requirements. If the W-2 Group still is eligible, the FEP must determine if the W-2 Group still meets the definition of a W-2 two-parent household. If the W-2 Group still is a two-parent household, the FEP needs to determine if the most employable parent is placed and the appropriate W-2 placement. (See 14.2.1) When necessary, the FEP must change the placement and/or the parent who is placed to ensure that the parent who is best able to increase the family's income the quickest is placed in the appropriate W-2 placement.

EXAMPLE 1: Kaileigh and Cole Jackson meet the definition of a W-2 two-parent household. Several months after being placed in a CSJ, Kaileigh gets a part-time waitress job working 20 hours per week. Kaileigh is looking for another part time job to get her hours up to full-time. The FEP places Kaileigh into a pro-rated CSJ. Cole continues to volunteer for W-2 activities as the second parent in a W-2 two-parent household.

EXAMPLE 2: Kimberly Hetto and Jason Lee are a W-2 two-parent household. Kimberly is placed in a CSJ. A month after placement, Jason moves out. Kimberly's and Jason's children are residing with Kimberly. With Jason no longer in the home, the FEP determines this situation no longer meets the definition of a W-2 two-parent household. Kimberly still is eligible for W-2 and her appropriate placement still is CSJ. Kimberly continues in her CSJ as a single parent case.

EXAMPLE 3: Gerri and Jeff Kast are a W-2 two-parent household. Several months into his W-2 T, Jeff qualifies for SSI payment. He provides a copy of the award letter. Jeff no longer meets W-2 nonfinancial eligibility requirements due to his receiving SSI. That means he is now an Included Adult, instead of an eligible adult and the W-2 Group no longer meets the definition of a W-2 two-parent household. The W-2 Group, however, is still eligible for W-2. The FEP ends Jeff's W-2 T placement and places Gerri in a W-2 T.

EXAMPLE 4: Jim Reed and Brandy Carter are a W-2 two-parent household receiving Wisconsin Shares. Several months after Jim is placed in a CSJ, he gets a full-time job. Brandy still works 10 hours per week at Goodwill Industries. The FEP determines with Jim's full-time income, the household's income exceeds 115% of the federal poverty level (FPL). Jim agrees to follow-up services, and the FEP changes his placement from a CSJ to a CMF placement. Jim cannot be placed in a CMF+ placement because the combined hours of unsubsidized employment for the two-parent household only totals 50 hours per week and does not meet the minimum work hours of 55 hours per week for a two-parent-family receiving Wisconsin Shares. The FEP determines their W-2 Group still meets the definition of a W-2 two-parent household, and encourages Brandy to continue her voluntary W-2 activities and services.

EXAMPLE 5: LaKeisha and Marcus Clayton are a W-2 two-parent household. Several months into his pro-rated CSJ, Marcus gets a full-time job. Despite his employment, the W-2 Group still is below 115% of the FPL. The W-2 Group continues to meet the definition of a W-2 two-parent household. The FEP ends Marcus' pro-rated CSJ placement and places LaKeisha in a W-2 T. LaKeisha has been volunteering for W-2 activities during the months Marcus was placed. She has decided to apply for SSI with help from the W-2 agency. The FEP encourages Marcus as the second parent to volunteer for retention services to support his continued employment.

EXAMPLE 6: Natasha Filbert and Anthony Marques are a W-2 two-parent household. Natasha is placed in a CSJ and Anthony is working full-time. Several months later, Anthony loses his job because he has a short term health problem. The FEP determines that Anthony is now the most employable parent. Because the W-2 Group still meets the definition of a W-2 two-parent household, the FEP ends Natasha's CSJ placement and places Anthony in a CSJ. Natasha agrees to volunteer for activities and services to support her goal of resolving her barriers to work at least part-time.

14.3 Participation Requirements for Second Parent in a Two-Parent Household

14.3 Participation Requirements for Second Parent in a W-2 Two-Parent Household

Participation requirements for the second parent in a W-2 two-parent household are determined by whether the family is receiving Wisconsin Shares subsidized child care.

When the second parent is required to participate or volunteers to participate, the FEP must create an EP for the second parent. (See 6.1)

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

14.3.1 Participant Requirements for Second Parent in a Household Receiving Wisconsin Shares

The second parent in a W-2 two-parent household is required to participate in W-2 activities if the W-2 two-parent household is receiving Wisconsin Shares.

The assigned hours for both parents must add up to 55 total hours. To determine how many hours must be assigned to the second parent, the FEP must subtract the hours assigned to the placed parent (Total Placed Parent Hours) from 55 total hours.

The second parent must be assigned to hours based on the following formula:

$$55 \text{ hours} - \text{Total Placed Parent Hours} = \text{Hours Assigned to Second Parent}$$

Based on the FEP's determination, in consultation with both parents, the FEP may assign additional activities to the second parent if those additional hours will help prepare the second parent for unsubsidized employment.

EXAMPLE: Mary Jones and Jesus Pena and their two children are part of a W-2 two-parent household and are receiving W-2 services. The W-2 two-parent household is receiving Wisconsin Shares. Mary is assigned to a CSJ placement. She is required to participate in Work Experience for 35 hours per week and GED classes for 5 hours per week for a total of 40 hours of assigned activities. To meet the combined total of 55 hours, Jesus must be assigned at least 15 hours of allowable activities:

55 hours – 40 hours assigned to Placed Parent = a minimum of 15 hours for Second Parent

Jesus needs to improve his English skills and he wants to meet with a job developer regarding employment options. The FEP assigns Jesus to 10 hours of English as a Second Language and 10 hours of Employment Search for a total of 20 hours per week. The couple's combined 60 hours per week meet the minimum of 55 hours required for their W-2 two-parent household receiving Wisconsin Shares.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

14.3.2 Participation Requirements for Second Parent in a Household Not Receiving Wisconsin Shares

If the W-2 two-parent household is not receiving Wisconsin Shares, the second parent is not required to participate in W-2 activities. However the second parent may volunteer to participate to W-2 activities that are suggested by, but not required by, the W-2 agency. If the second parent chooses to voluntarily participate in W-2 activities, the W-2 agency must provide the second parent an opportunity to participate in W-2 activities.

The FEP must work with both parents to identify activities, taking into consideration the schedules of the parents and children in order to accommodate the fact that the family is not receiving Wisconsin Shares.

EXAMPLE: Leticia and Tom Smith are part of a W-2 two-parent household with their children and are receiving W-2 services. The Smiths are not receiving Wisconsin Shares. Tom is placed in a CSJ and is participating in work training experience from 8:00 a.m. until 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. The family has two children who are in school from 8:30 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. From 9:00 a.m. until 2:30 p.m., Monday through Friday while the children are in school, Leticia may volunteer for W-2 activities that are suggested by, although not required by, the FEP to help Leticia progress toward unsubsidized employment.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

14.4 Nonparticipation in Two-Parent Households

14.4.1 Payment Reductions for Nonparticipation in W-2 Two-Parent Households

Hourly payment reductions (also known as sanctions) only apply to the placed parent in a W-2 two-parent household. (See 11.1) When the second parent is required to participate in W-2 activities, the FEP must create a separate EP for the second parent, enter hours participated (including make-up hours), and determine whether there is good cause for any nonparticipation. The good cause determination is important because it may be used by the Wisconsin Shares child care program to determine if the second parent's nonparticipation will affect Wisconsin Shares eligibility.

If either parent in a W-2 two-parent household misses W-2 activities without good cause and these activities are required for Wisconsin Shares eligibility, the family's eligibility for Wisconsin Shares may be affected. (See Wisconsin Shares Child Care Subsidy Policy Manual)

History: Release 21-07.

14.5 W-2 Time Limits

14.5.1 W-2 Time Limits for W-2 Two-Parent Households

See section 2.10.2.1 for the policies relating to W-2 time limits affecting W-2 two-parent household cases.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

15 Child Support

15.1 Assignment and Distribution of Child Support Payments

15.1.1 Assignment of Child Support Payments

As a condition of eligibility, all parents in the W-2 Group are required by law to assign to the state all child support payments paid or accrued while the W-2 Group is in one of the following placements:

- W-2 T;
- CSJ; or
- CMC placement when the individual in a CMC placement previously received AFDC, W-2, or CTS payments. If an individual currently in a CMC placement did not previously receive AFDC, W-2 T, CSJ, or CTS, child support is not assigned during the CMC placement.

The “assignment” of support means that child support collections can be retained by the state to pay back some or all of the federal and state costs of the cash assistance paid to W-2 participants. Not all of the child support collected is retained by the state.

History: Release 12-01.

Release 23-05

15.1.2 Distribution of Child Support Payments

As shown in the chart below, current W-2 participants subject to assignment of child support receive 75% of current child support payments and receive either 75% or 100% of past-due (arrears) child support payments, depending on whether the payment is past-due from the period of W-2 participation or from a period when the W-2 participant was not on W-2.

Type of Child Support	Portion Paid to the Family	Portion Paid to the State
Current child support payments paid to parents in the W-2 Group subject to assignment of child support*	75%	25%
Past due child support payments that accrued during months when the parent(s) in the W-2 Group was subject to child support assignment*	75%	25%
Past due child support payments that accrued during months when the parent(s) in the W-2 Group was not subject to child support assignment	100%	None

* The following W-2 placements are subject to child support assignment: W-2 T; CSJ; and CMC when the individual in a CMC placement previously received AFDC, W-2 or CTS.

 When the child support paid amount is more than the assigned child support amount, the amount that exceeds the assigned child support amount is paid to the family.

Once a W-2 case closes, all child support received is paid to the family. If current or past due child support is paid when the family is no longer on W-2, the family receives 100% of the child support paid even if the child support previously was assigned to the state.

Any child support owed for periods while the children received AFDC remains owed to the state and no portion of the assigned child support is passed through to the family.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

15.1.3 Informing Applicants about Assignment of Child Support Payments

W-2 agencies are required to give all W-2 applicants the Notice of Assignment Child Support, Family Support, Maintenance, and Medical Support (2477) and the Good Cause Notice (2023). (For more information on the Good Cause Notice publication, see 15.6.1.)

Those applicants being referred to the local CSA or applicants already receiving services from the local CSA must sign the Notice of Assignment form (2477) acknowledging the assignment of child support or at least an understanding of how child support payments are assigned if and when they begin receiving child support payments while receiving W-2 services. If an individual refuses to acknowledge the assignment, the W-2 agency representative must sign the gray shaded box, which indicates the applicant's refusal to acknowledge the assignment. In addition, these referred applicants or applicants already receiving child support services must receive the Your Guide to W-2 Services, Cash Benefits Programs, & Child Support \(16232-P\) brochure.

History: Release 23-02.

15.2 Referral to the CSA

15.2.1 Referral to the CSA

The W-2 agency must refer the following W-2 applicants to the local CSA:

1. Unmarried pregnant women, including minors;
2. Families where the natural or adoptive parent is absent from the home (but not cases when the absence is because of military service); and
3. Non-marital Co-parent cases (families where the parents either are not married to each other or were not married to each other when the child was born), and where paternity has not been established by legitimation, court action or paternity acknowledgement. Fathers with children needing paternity establishment are:
 - Acknowledged father, non-conclusive: voluntary acknowledgement without an effect of a judgment of paternity (pre May 1, 1998 in Wisconsin);
 - Alleged father: named by custodial parent as probable father; or
 - Claimed father: father lives with the child, claims to be the father but paternity has not been established.

Households with fathers in the home with children for whom paternity has been established should not be referred to the CSA. This would include:

1. Acknowledged fathers, conclusive: voluntary acknowledgment with an effect of a judgment of paternity (post May 1, 1998 if a Wisconsin birth) (typically the father signed the voluntary Paternity Acknowledgement Through Hospitals (PATH) form); or
2. Adjudicated fathers: paternity established through a court order.

An automated referral is sent via CARES screen APGI when W-2 eligibility is confirmed.

W-2 agencies are encouraged to establish a collaborative working relationship with CSAs. Each W-2 agency is encouraged to contact its local CSA regarding any child support issues affecting the W-2 applicant's or participant's family.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

15.2.2 Fees for the CSA's Services

The CSA will not charge a fee for services provided to W-2 participants. When a participant leaves the W-2 program or is determined ineligible, child support services will continue automatically. There will be no new application fee or application process necessary. However, if the individual leaves the W-2 program or is determined ineligible and also requests his or her child support case be closed and then reapplies for child support services, the individual is subject to the child support fee structure and to court costs. (See the fees and costs for child support services at <http://dcf.wisconsin.gov/cs/fees/>)

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

15.3 Child Support Cooperation

15.3.1 Cooperation with the CSA

The CSA determines whether or not a parent is cooperating with the CSA for:

- paternity establishment;
- support order establishment; and
- child support enforcement

In order to be eligible for W-2 services or a JAL, all parents in the W-2 Group must fully cooperate with the CSA in relation to all children for whom the parent is a custodial parent or a noncustodial parent. Note: A parent can be both a custodial parent and a noncustodial parent if the parent does not have custody of all of his or her children.

A custodial parent must cooperate with the CSA by:

- Providing verbal information, written information, or other evidence that the custodial parent knows, possesses, or might reasonably obtain or by signing an affidavit declaring a lack of information with regard to identifying and locating an absent parent, establishing paternity or obtaining support payments;
- Attending interviews and responding to written requests for information by the CSA;
- Appearing as a witness at hearings or other legal proceedings;
- Submitting to genetic tests pursuant to judicial or administrative order; and
- Paying to the Department or its designee any court-ordered child support payments received.

The CSA must conclude a custodial parent is cooperative if the custodial parent has signed an affidavit attesting to full cooperation and there is no substantial independent evidence or verifiable information that suggests the custodial parent is not cooperating. The W-2 agency must consider a parent to be cooperative with child support if there is an open child support case for the child in question and there is no indicator of noncooperation from the CSA.

An NCP must cooperate with the CSA by:

- Providing verbal information, written information, or other evidence that the noncustodial parent knows, possesses, or might reasonably obtain with regard to establishing paternity of an alleged child or obtaining support payments for which he or she may be responsible;

- Appearing at hearings or other legal proceedings;
- Submitting to genetic tests pursuant to judicial order; and
- Paying court-ordered child support to the Department or its designee.

Once W-2 eligibility is determined, child support cooperation must continue in order for the W-2 Group to maintain eligibility unless there is a current exemption or good cause for noncooperation.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

15.3.2 Noncooperation with the CSA

15.3.2.1 Noncooperation by Custodial Parents

15.3.2.2 Noncooperation by Noncustodial Parents

The CSA determines when a parent is not cooperating with the CSA. An alert is sent to the W-2 worker via CARES from KIDS regarding the CSA's determination of a W-2 participant's noncooperation with child support. KIDS also generates a letter from the CSA to the parent regarding the CSA's determination of the parent's noncooperation with child support.

15.3.2.1 Noncooperation by Custodial Parents

The CSA may determine a custodial parent is not cooperating if the custodial parent does any of the following without adequate reason:

- Misses two consecutive CSA appointments;
- Misses one CSA appointment and fails to respond to a written communication from the CSA within a 90-day period; or
- Fails to appear for a hearing, other legal proceeding, or genetic test.

The CSA must consider any of the following reasons as an adequate reason for a custodial parent's failure to do any of the three noncooperation items above:

- Personal or family illness or injury;
- Family crisis;
- Breakdown in transportation arrangements;
- Inclement weather that causes a general breakdown in travel;
- Failure to receive a hearing notice, appointment notice, or written request for information due to a demonstrable mail problem, address change, or extended time away from home;
- Other reasonable circumstances as determined by the CSA or the Department.

When a custodial parent informs the CSA about any of the adequate reasons above for the custodial parent's noncooperation, the CSA must determine the parent is cooperating due to the adequate reason(s). The CSA may request evidence verifying adequate reason if there are repeated instances of failure to respond based on the above reasons.

15.3.2.2 Noncooperation by Noncustodial Parents

The CSA may determine a noncustodial parent is not cooperating if the noncustodial parent is the subject of a warrant relating to paternity or support, including a criminal warrant for failure to support, a civil warrant for contempt of court, or an arrest warrant, excluding a warrant issued for failure to complete service of process.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

15.4 W-2 Agency's Follow-up on Noncooperation

15.4.1 Requirements When the CSA Determines Noncooperation

When a parent is not cooperating with the CSA, the FEP receives an alert indicating the CSA's determination of noncooperation.

The FEP has up to seven calendar days from the display date of the alert to act on the alert by pending W-2 and generating the Notice of Action Needed. The FEP must generate the Notice of Action Needed by the seventh calendar day. If the seventh calendar day is on a weekend or holiday, the FEP has until the next working day to act on the alert. (See 4.1.3) The FEP must not pend W-2 or generate the Notice of Action Needed if a good cause claim exists and has not been denied.

When the FEP pends the W-2 case and generates the notice, the parent has seven working days from the mailing date of the notice to cooperate with child support or file a good cause claim (See 15.6.3). On (and no earlier than) the day after the seventh working day after the mailing date of the notice, if the parent does not begin cooperating or file a good cause claim, the FEP must end the W-2 placement in CWW, backdate the end date to the seventh working day, and run eligibility to close W-2.

The FEP must do this to prevent any overpayments that would occur beginning on the day after the seventh working day.

EXAMPLE 1: The FEP receives a noncooperation alert on Wednesday, May 15. By Tuesday, May 22, the FEP runs eligibility to pend W-2 and generate the Notice of Action Needed. The mailing date on the notice is May 23. The participant then has seven working days from the mailing date of the notice (until Monday, June 3) to start cooperating with child support or submit a good cause claim. The participant does not claim good cause or cooperate with child support, so on the day after the seventh working day (Tuesday, June 4), the FEP ends the placement, backdates the end date to the seventh working day (Monday, June 3), and runs eligibility to close W-2.

W-2 cases that have not claimed good cause or begun cooperating with child support that are not closed on the day after the seventh working day after the mailing date of the Notice of Action Needed may incur overpayments. (See 10.3) Because W-2 agencies are required to send a notice when a participant is not cooperating with CS, the overpayment period could be determined to begin on the day after the seventh working day after the mailing date of the notice.

W When W-2 remains open beyond the seventh working day after the mailing date of the Notice of Action Needed (overpayment begin date), and the participant has not begun to cooperate with CS or claim good cause, the overpayment period will continue until:

- The participant begins to comply with the CS cooperation requirements; or
- The placement closes.

If the CS noncooperation end date is unclear, the FEP should review KIDS.

EXAMPLE 2: Eve is not cooperating with Child Support. Her FEP receives the CS noncooperation alert on Monday, March 7. The FEP acts timely by Monday, March 14, to generate the Notice of Action Needed. The mailing date on the notice is March 15. By the seventh working day of Thursday, March 24, Eve does not respond. On Friday, March 25, the FEP acts timely to close Eve's placement, backdates the placement end date to Thursday, March 24, and runs eligibility to close W-2. The FEP acted timely to generate the notice and acted timely to close the placement for CS noncooperation. Eve did not receive any overpayments.

EXAMPLE 3: Alice's FEP received the noncooperation alert on Tuesday, April 5, and acted timely to generate the Notice of Action Needed. The mailing date on the notice is April 12, and the due date is Thursday, April 21, the seventh working day after the mailing date on the notice. Alice does not respond by the due date. On Friday, May 6, her FEP acted on the overdue verification item, verifying no change to Alice's cooperation status and no good cause claim. The FEP ends Alice's placement on May 6. The FEP acted timely to generate the notice but did not act timely to end the placement.

Because the FEP should have ended the placement on Friday, April 22, and backdated the placement end date to April 21, an overpayment occurred. The overpayment period start date is April 22, the day after the placement should have ended. The overpayment period end date is May 6, the day the FEP closed the placement. Alice received fifteen days of overpayments.

EXAMPLE 4: Patty's FEP received an alert indicating Patty's CS noncooperation status on Friday, April 1, but did not act timely to generate the Notice of Action Needed. The FEP did not run eligibility until Monday, April 11. The mailing date on the notice is Tuesday, April 12. The due date to either cooperate or claim good cause is Thursday, April 21. On Friday, April 22, the FEP acted timely on the verification item, verifying no change to Patty's cooperation status and no good cause claim. The FEP closes Patty's placement on April 22 and backdates the end date to the seventh working day, April 21. The FEP did not act timely on the CS noncooperation alert but acted timely to close the placement by the eighth working day.

Despite the FEP not acting timely on the noncooperation alert, there was no overpayment in this scenario because: 1) overpayments for CS noncooperation cannot occur until after the Notice of Action Needed is mailed and the due date has passed without cooperation or a good cause claim filed; and 2) once the due date passed, the FEP acted timely to close the placement by the eighth working day.

EXAMPLE 5: Mira's FEP received the noncooperation alert on Monday, April 11, but did not act timely to generate the Notice of Action Needed. The FEP should have run eligibility to generate the Notice of Action Needed on or before Monday, April 18. However, the FEP did not generate the Notice of Action Needed until Thursday, April 21, The mailing date on the notice is Friday, April 22, and the due date, the seventh working day is Tuesday, May 3.

Mira did not cooperate nor claim good cause by the due date. The FEP did not act timely to end Mira's W-2 eligibility on May 4, the day after the seventh working day after the mailing date of the notice. The placement and eligibility remained open. On Monday, May 16, the FEP received the alert indicating the CS noncooperation has ended and the cooperation status on the CWW Absent Parent page updates from No to Yes.

Because the placement should have closed on May 3, the due date on the Notice of Action Needed, an overpayment occurred. The overpayment start date is May 4, the day after the placement should have ended and the overpayment end date is May 15, the day before the display date on the alert indicating CS noncooperation ended. Mira received 12 days of overpayments.

If a parent from the W-2 Group reapplies while another parent in the W-2 Group still is not cooperating with child support, the entire W-2 Group remains ineligible for W-2 services or a JAL until the uncooperative parent cooperates or establishes good cause for noncooperation. During the intake appointment, the FEP must generate the Notice of Action Needed to allow the applicant seven working days to cooperate with child support or claim good cause.

Note: Some individuals are exempt from cooperating with child support. Typically, the CSA does not report noncooperation for exempt individuals. Regardless, if an individual is exempt, the W-2 agency cannot impose any penalty for the individual's noncooperation, and he or she does not have to provide good cause for noncooperation (see 15.5.1).

History: Release 22-06; Release 18-04; Release 14-03.

Release 23-05

15.4.2 W-2 Group with Multiple Child Support Cases

A parent in a W-2 Group may be part of more than one child support case. In these situations, it is possible for the CSA to determine there is cooperation with child support for one of the child support cases and also determine there is noncooperation for the other child support case. When the W-2 agency has determined a parent in a W-2 Group is not cooperating with child support and there is no exemption or good cause for the noncooperation, then the entire W-2 Group is ineligible for W-2 due to the parent's noncooperation with child support even if the parent or another parent in the W-2 Group is cooperating with child support.

EXAMPLE: Karina is the custodial parent of her daughter Bella age 5 and the noncustodial parent of her daughter Celeste age 6. Karina and Bella are members of a W-2 Group. Karina owes past-due child support for when she previously was the noncustodial parent of her daughter Bella and also owes current and past-due child support for her daughter Celeste. The CSA determined Karina is cooperating with child support for her daughter Bella and not cooperating for her daughter Celeste. The W-2 agency determined there is no exemption or good cause for Karina's noncooperation. Karina is ineligible for W-2 due to her noncooperation with child support for her daughter Celeste even though Celeste is not a member of the W-2 Group and Karina is cooperating with child support for her daughter Bella.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

15.4.3 Three Instances of Noncooperation

A member of a W-2 Group who fails to cooperate 3 times without an exemption or good cause remains ineligible until all of the members of the W-2 Group cooperate or for a period of 6 months, whichever is later. If a child support worker notifies the FEP that a report of noncooperation was in error, the FEP must not count that instance as one of the 3 instances. The FEP must then contact the BWF Work Programs Help Desk to remove the instance from the CWW Child Support Noncooperation Instance Tracking page to avoid case sanction errors.

EXAMPLE: Marissa applied for W-2 in January 2015 and met with the CSA as scheduled. Marissa was found eligible for W-2 and placed in a CSJ. However, Marissa refused to respond to the CSA's requests to establish the paternity of her child's father. Marissa's W-2 case was closed in April 2015 and this was her first instance of noncooperation with child support. In June 2015, Marissa again applied for W-2, attended her appointments with the CSA, agreed to paternity establishment for her child, and was found eligible for W-2. However, while receiving W-2, Marissa refused the CSA's requests to pursue child support payments from her child's father without an exemption or a good cause claim. Marissa's W-2 case was closed in August 2015 and this was her second instance of noncooperation with child support. Marissa applied for W-2 again in September 2015. She agreed to pursue child support payments from her child's father, and was found eligible for W-2. While receiving W-2, Marissa did not attend the scheduled legal proceedings to establish the child support payments. Marissa's W-2 case was closed in October 2015 and this was her third instance of noncooperation with child support. Because this was her third instance of failure to cooperate with child support without an exemption or good cause, Marissa was found to be ineligible for W-2 for 6 months due to noncooperation with child support regardless of whether she would choose to cooperate. Marissa would not be able to apply for W-2 again until May 2016 provided she subsequently cooperated with Child Support by participating in the legal hearing to establish the child support payment.

History: Release 16-01.

15.4.4 W-2 Agency's Access to the Child Support Automated System

The Child Support automated system KIDS includes information about custodial parents' noncooperation with child support. FEPs can query KIDS. If FEPs do not have FIQY to KIDS, and need access to KIDS noncooperation screens, FEPs can request FIQY access through their agency security officer. An NCP's cooperation must be determined by contacting the CSA.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

15.5 Noncooperation Exemption

15.5.1 Noncooperation Exemption for Pregnant Women or Custodial Parents with Newborns

The W-2 agency determines if there is a noncooperation exemption. There are two possible exemptions:

1. A pregnant woman is exempt from any penalty for noncooperation for the unborn child, regardless of the pregnant woman having custody of born child(ren). However, the pregnant woman must cooperate for any born children in the W-2 group who are over 59 days of age.
2. A custodial parent with a child younger than 60 days is exempt from the requirement to cooperate for that child. However, the custodial parent must cooperate for any children in the W-2 Group who are older than 59 days.

If there is an exemption and the CSA sends noncooperation information, the W-2 agency must not impose any penalty for noncooperation, regardless of whether there is good cause.

EXAMPLE: A W-2 Group has three members: Kim, the custodial parent; her child Tia who is 5 years old; and her child Tisha who is 30 days old. The CSA determined Kim is not cooperating with child support for Tisha. The W-2 agency determined that there is an exemption for Tisha because she is under 60 days old. This exemption does not apply to Kim cooperating for Tia because the exemption is only for the custodial parent's noncooperation for the child who is younger than 60 days. Kim must still cooperate with child support for Tia.

History: Release 14-03.

15.6 Good Cause Claim for Noncooperation

15.6 Good Cause Claim for Noncooperation

When an applicant or participant files a good cause claim with the W-2 agency, the W-2 agency must determine whether there is good cause for the noncooperation. This is also true when a case is open for W-2 and Child Care. Only the W-2 agency determines when there is good cause for the noncooperation.

History: Release 14-03.

15.6.1 Good Cause Notice

The W-2 agency must provide to all W-2 applicants and participants the Child Support Cooperation and Good Cause Notice \(2023\) describing the cooperation requirements and the right to good cause as an exception to the child support cooperation requirements.

The Good Cause Notice publication must be provided to W-2 applicants and participants:

- When they apply for W-2;
- When a child is added to the W-2 Group;
- When a parent leaves the W-2 Group;
- At a reapplication/review for continued benefits; and
- If a participant discloses to his or her W-2 worker that the participant is experiencing circumstances that may meet the good cause criteria.

If the individual applies for W-2 through ACCESS, the language from the Good Cause Notice displays on the page where the applicant signs the application. The applicant must check a box indicating that they have read this information and understand that they have the right to claim good cause for not cooperating with child support. Because this information is the same as the information contained in the Child Support Cooperation and Good Cause Notice \(2023\) (DCF-P-5600) and captures the applicant's acknowledgement, this is sufficient for providing the Good Cause Notice at application for W-2. FEPs do not need to manually provide a copy of the Good Cause Notice (DCF-P-5600) when the applicant completes this acknowledgement in ACCESS.

However, this notice and checkbox do not appear in ACCESS when the participant reports a change or completes a renewal in ACCESS. Therefore, the FEP must manually provide the Good Cause Notice (DCF-P-5600) in all other circumstances specified above. This notice and acknowledgement are included on the ACCESS Application Summary which is viewable to the participant in ACCESS and to the FEP in CARES Worker Web (CWW) and the Electronic Case File (ECF).

History: Release 23-02; Release 21-02.

15.6.2 Good Cause Reasons

A custodial parent or NCP is eligible for a good cause exemption from the cooperation requirements when the W-2 agency determines that any of the following criteria applies:

1. Cooperation is reasonably anticipated to result in either physical or emotional harm to the child, including threats of domestic abuse or child kidnapping;
2. Cooperation is reasonably anticipated to result in either physical or emotional harm to the parent, including domestic abuse;
3. Cooperation with the CSA would make it more difficult for the individual to escape domestic abuse or unfairly penalize the individual who is or has been victimized by such abuse, or is at risk of further domestic abuse;
4. The child was conceived as a result of incest or sexual assault;
5. The parent is considering whether to terminate parental rights and sought the assistance of a public or licensed private social services agency not more than three months ago; or
6. A petition for the adoption of the child has been filed with a court, except this reason does not result in any exemption from the parent's responsibility to make payments under an existing court order.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

15.6.3 Filing a Good Cause Claim

A W-2 agency must provide the Good Cause Claim \(2019\) to any W-2 applicant or participant upon request. The individual may file a Good Cause Claim form with the W-2 agency at any time. Individuals may also ask for and receive the Good Cause Claim form to help them decide whether or not to claim good cause for not cooperating.

Upon receipt of the Good Cause Claim form, the W-2 agency must notify the CSA within 2 working days of the date the Good Cause Claim form was signed. The CSA must not take any further action until the W-2 agency determines whether good cause exists.

An individual who submits a Good Cause Claim form is required to submit at least one document of corroborative evidence and a statement specifying the circumstances that the individual believes provide sufficient good cause for not cooperating. The statement may be written on the claim form.

If an individual does not submit sufficient evidence for the W-2 agency to substantiate the good cause claim, the W-2 agency must notify the individual that additional evidence is required and must outline the types of evidence that may be used as listed in 15.6.4. The W-2 agency must make a reasonable effort to obtain specific documents or information that the individual is having difficulty obtaining.

The individual must submit corroborative evidence to the W-2 agency within 20 calendar days from the day the claim was signed. A W-2 worker may, with supervisory approval, determine that more time is needed due to difficulty in obtaining corroborative evidence. The W-2 agency must advise the individual that if assistance is needed in obtaining the evidence, the agency will assist. If the good cause claim is based on domestic abuse and no corroborative evidence is currently available, the W-2 agency may permit the applicant or participant to submit evidence to the W-2 agency within 60 calendar days from the date the claim was signed.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

15.6.4 Types of Corroborating Evidence

A good cause claim may be corroborated with any of the following types of evidence:

- Court, medical, criminal, child protective services, social services, psychological, school, or law enforcement records regarding domestic abuse or physical or emotional harm to the parent or child;
- Medical records or written statements from a mental health professional that pertain to the emotional health history, present emotional health status, or prognosis of the parent or child;
- Birth certificates, medical records, or law enforcement records that indicate the child may have been conceived as a result of incest or sexual assault;
- Court documents or other records that indicate a petition for the adoption of the child has been filed with a court;
- A written statement from a public or private social services agency that the parent is being assisted by the agency in deciding whether to terminate parental rights;
- Written and signed statements from others with knowledge of the circumstances on which the good cause claim is based, including, but not limited to, statements from neighbors, friends, family, or clergy;
- Identification by the WWP Informal Assessment - Domestic Abuse Screen as an individual or parent of a child who is or has been a victim of domestic abuse or is at risk of further domestic abuse and the alleged perpetrator is the other parent; or
- Any other supporting or corroborative evidence.

History: Release 19-02.

15.7 Good Cause Claim Investigation and Determination

15.7 Good Cause Claim Investigation and Determination

The W-2 agency must investigate any good cause claim based on anticipated harm, even if the applicant or participant fails to submit corroborative evidence or evidence is unavailable. (See 15.6.4)

If corroborative evidence is submitted, but the applicant or participant's statement and corroborative evidence does not provide enough information for the W-2 agency to make a determination, the W-2 agency may investigate any good cause claim.

The W-2 agency must give the CSA the opportunity to review and comment on the agency's findings prior to the W-2 agency's final determination on good cause. The W-2 agency must consider any recommendations from the CSA.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

15.7.1 Good Cause Determination Timeline

The W-2 agency must determine whether good cause exists within 45 calendar days from the date the claim was signed, unless an extension to submit evidence was granted to the applicant or participant or more time is necessary for the W-2 agency to obtain evidence. If the W-2 agency allowed up to 60 calendar days to submit evidence for a claim of domestic abuse, the agency must determine whether good cause exists within 85 calendar days from the date the claim was signed.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

15.7.2 Determination that Good Cause Does Exist

If the W-2 agency determines the applicant or participant does have good cause for failing to cooperate with efforts directed at establishing paternity and obtaining child support payments, the W-2 agency must promptly notify the applicant or participant of the good cause determination and the basis for the determination in writing. In addition, the W-2 agency must:

- Direct the CSA to suspend all further case activities if the individual did not request the CSA to proceed without his or her cooperation; or
- Notify the CSA that it may proceed with child support services if the individual wants the CSA to proceed without his or her cooperation. If good cause is granted for items 1 through 4 in 15.6.2, the CSA must send a notice to the person alleged to have caused harm that states the CSA is proceeding without the cooperation of the applicant or participant.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

15.7.3 Determination that Good Cause Does Not Exist

If the W-2 agency determines that the applicant or participant does not have good cause for failing to cooperate with efforts directed at establishing paternity and obtaining child support payments, and there is no exemption for noncooperation (see 15.5.1), the individual is not eligible for W-2. The W-2 agency must update the Child Support Information section of the CWW Absent Parent page, which will deny or close W-2. (See 15.4.1)

History: Release 14-03.

15.7.4 Reviewing Good Cause Determinations

The W-2 agency must review good cause determinations that are based on circumstances subject to change at each review of eligibility or upon new evidence. Good cause determinations based on permanent circumstances do not need to be reviewed.

If the W-2 agency determines that good cause for noncooperation no longer exists, the parent must be allowed 10 calendar days before cooperation requirements are imposed to request the case be closed or request an agency Fact Finding Review.

EXAMPLE 1: Joanne was granted good cause for not cooperating with child support because she was working with Catholic Social Services to complete the adoption process for her baby son. Joanne met with her FEP 3 months later to update her Employability Plan and the FEP inquired about the adoption services. Joanne told the worker she no longer meets with Catholic Social Services because she decided to keep her baby instead of placing him for adoption. The FEP reviewed the Good Cause Claim form with Joanne and explained that good cause no longer exists for a pending adoption, so Joanne has 10 calendar days before cooperation requirements will be implemented by the CSA. During that time, Joanne may file another good cause claim for a different good cause reason.

EXAMPLE 2: Ada was granted good cause due to domestic abuse. She has been fleeing her former abusive partner for the last 6 years. Her former partner is the father of her 8-year-old child. The FEP does not review the good cause claim form because of the permanent nature of Ada's domestic abuse circumstances.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

15.8 Fact Finding Reviews

15.8.1 Fact Finding Reviews by CSAs For Noncooperation Determinations

A parent who has been determined noncooperative by a CSA may petition the CSA for a Fact Finding Review. The parent must submit a request for a Fact Finding Review to the CSA, the CSA will conduct the Fact Finding Review, and the parent or the parent's representative may appear for the Fact Finding Review via telephone conference if the CSA is in a different county than the parent's current residence.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

15.8.2 Fact Finding Reviews by W-2 Agencies For Good Cause Determinations

An individual who is denied good cause by the W-2 agency for noncooperation with child support and disagrees with the W-2 agency's determination may request a Fact Finding Review by the W-2 agency. In the event that a Fact Finding Review for W-2 and a fair hearing for an IM program are based on the same issues and facts, the fair hearing decision takes precedence.

The W-2 agency must provide the CSA with reasonable notice of any Fact Finding Review by the W-2 agency that occurs due to the W-2 agency's denial of a good cause

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

16 Learnfare

16.1 Introduction

16.1.1 Goal and Requirements

The goal of Learnfare is to help children fulfill their potential in life by providing opportunities that will enable them to attend and complete school, obtain employment, and break the cycle of welfare dependency. The Learnfare requirement to be enrolled in and attend school is balanced by the provision of case management, especially for at-risk children, to address barriers, maintain school enrollment, and improve attendance and achievement.

Learnfare has three program requirements:

1. School Enrollment and Attendance. Children in W-2 Groups are required to be enrolled in and attending school.
2. Mandatory Case Management. Members of certain target groups are required to participate in case management. (See 16.3.1)

"Attending" means that a child in the W-2 group has not been absent from school without an acceptable excuse for all or part of five or more days on which school is held during a school semester. A child that has been absent from school without an acceptable excuse for all or part of five or more days on which school is held during a school semester is considered a habitual truant. [Wis. Stat. s. 118.16(1)(a)]

History: Release 11-02.

16.2 School Enrollment and Attendance

16.2.1 Children Subject to School Enrollment and Attendance

A child is required to be enrolled in and attend school if he or she:

1. Is in a W-2 Group whose parent is placed in a CSJ, TMP, or W-2 T;
2. Is age 6 through 17 (beginning on the first day of the fall school term), including a Minor Parent who is part of the W-2 Group;
3. Has not graduated from high school or obtained a HSED/GED; and
4. Resides with his or her natural or adoptive parent.

A child is exempt from school enrollment and attendance requirement if:

1. He or she is excused from attending school under s. 118.15 (3), Wis. Stats;
2. He or she is the caretaker of a child who is less than 45 days old and child care is not available at school and home instruction is not available;
3. Child care is needed for the minor parent to attend school but child care or transportation to and from child care is not available;
4. He or she is prohibited from attending school while an expulsion is pending;
5. He or she was expelled from school and there is no other school available because:
 - a. There is no public or private school within reasonable travel time or distance which will accept the child.
 - b. There is no private or public transportation available to another school.
 - c. There is a public or private school which will accept the child but the tuition charge is prohibitive and the child's school district refuses to pay the tuition.
6. A physician has determined that she should delay her return to school after giving birth;
7. He or she is on the waiting list for a children-at-risk program and such a program is not available;
8. He or she or a family member is ill, injured, or incapacitated. ("Family member" means his or her spouse, dependent child, or parent who lives with him or her);
9. He or she is temporarily incarcerated; or

10. Circumstances beyond his or her control make him or her unable to be enrolled in and attend school.

Additional exemption reasons may be determined by the W-2 agency or justified through the Fact Finding Review.

Any child exempt from the school enrollment and attendance requirement is required to participate in case management if he or she is one of the target groups. (See 16.3.1)

History: Release 13-03.

16.2.2 Learnfare School Definition

A school is any one of the following:

1. Public school.
2. Private school.
3. Department of Public Instruction (DPI) registered home educational program including home based and home school instruction.
4. Wisconsin Technical College System (WTCS) school.
5. DPI-approved HS equivalency course of study.
6. Programs, including English as a Second Language (ESL) instruction, leading to a GED test.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

16.2.3 Enrollment and Attendance Verification

The FEP must verify enrollment and attendance for each child ages 6-17 subject to Learnfare and determine if the child is mandatory for Learnfare case management:

- At the initial W-2 eligibility determination;
- At each review; and
- When the FEP receives information or has reason to believe that a child in a W-2 Group whose parent is placed in a CSJ, TMP, or W-2 T has become a dropout, habitual truant, minor parent, or a child whose W-2 group includes a participant who has been unable to participate in required assigned activities due to the child's school-related problems.

Verification of school enrollment status and attendance must be a school attendance record. If the record indicates that the child has been absent from school without an acceptable excuse for all or part of five or more days on which school is held during a school semester, the child is considered a habitual truant. If the FEP cannot determine the status of enrollment or whether the child is a habitual truant from the attendance record, the FEP must use the School Enrollment and Attendance Information Release (11297) and allow the school to make the determination.

The format of a school attendance record may vary from school to school. The verification may be a document provided by or through the school that indicates the number of days a student is absent from school without an acceptable excuse.

The W-2 participant has seven working days from the date of the verification request to provide the verification. The verification due date may be extended up to 30 days from the initial request for W-2 services under extenuating circumstances. (See 4.1.3)

The W-2 participant has the primary responsibility for providing the verification. The FEP may assist in obtaining needed documents to expedite the verification process. If the family does not have the power to produce the verification, or requires assistance to do so, the FEP must proceed immediately to seek the verification. (See 4.1.3) The School Enrollment and Attendance Information Release (11297) is available for FEPs to use to obtain verification if participants are unable to provide verification. FEPs must scan completed forms into the W-2's Electronic Case Files (ECF) under code WLCM.

Any instance where a parent refuses to provide verification of a child's school enrollment or school attendance status will make the W-2 Group ineligible for a W-2 employment position.

While school is in session, the FEP must verify enrollment and attendance in the current semester only. When school is not in session, the FEP must verify enrollment and attendance for the immediately preceding semester. When making a determination as to whether a child is a returning dropout, the FEP must review information from both the current and immediately preceding semesters. To determine if a child is a habitual truant, the FEP must review school attendance in the current semester only, unless no more than four weeks have passed since the current semester starts.

EXAMPLE 1: Lily's daughter, Selena is in 7th grade. She can monitor her daughter's progress through the school's parent portal page, which is updated daily with school attendance. At Lily's review, her FEP asks her to provide verification of Selena's school enrollment and attendance. Lily logs into the parent portal and clicks on the school attendance record. She prints out a copy for her FEP. Selena has missed nine days of school. Six days were unexcused absences, which meets the definition of a habitual truant. The FEP uses the document to verify Selena's school enrollment and attendance for Learnfare. Because Selena is a habitual truant, the FEP enrolls her in Learnfare case management and schedules the first appointment for next week. If Selena does not participate in case management, Lily's W-2 payments may be sanctioned.

EXAMPLE 2: Joy's son, Leroy is in 4th grade. His school mails her progress reports. The progress reports also include a section on school attendance. Each report shows how many days Leroy was absent from school with an acceptable excuse, how many days he was absent without an acceptable excuse, and how many days he was tardy to school. Leroy has only missed one day of school. At review, Joy makes a copy of the report and brings it to her FEP. The report verifies Leroy's enrollment and attendance in school.

History: Release 16-01; Release 13-03.

16.3 Learnfare Case Management

16.3.1 Groups Mandatory for Case Management

Five target groups are mandatory for case management:

1. Children between the ages of 6 and 17 not enrolled in school;
2. A Dropout or a Returning Dropout;
3. A Habitual Truant;
4. A Minor Parent; and
5. A child whose W-2 group includes a participant who has been unable to participate in required assigned activities due to the child's school-related problems.

A child identified as mandatory for case management will remain mandatory until the next review date, unless any of the following occurs:

- The parent of the Learnfare child is no longer placed in a CSJ, TMP, or W-2 T position;
- The child has reached age 18;
- For minor parents, the minor parent has lost his or her child through death or adoption;
- For returning dropouts, the child has completed two consecutive semesters, including the semester during which the child returns to school; or
- The child's school-related problems are remedied and the participant resumes participation in required assigned activities.

Any child enrolled in case management can volunteer to receive Learnfare case management services through the end of the school semester even when he or she is no longer mandatory.

A financial penalty must not be imposed on W-2 Groups whose child(ren) voluntarily continue(s) to participate in Learnfare case management. (See 16.4.1)

History: Release 16-01; Release 13-03.

16.3.2 Enrollment in Learnfare Case Management

The FEP or Learnfare Case Manager must enroll mandatory children in Learnfare case management within 14 working days of the Learnfare case management referral date.

The W-2 agency must make the following efforts to enroll a child in Learnfare case management:

1. Upon receiving a referral or having identified that a child is mandatory for case management, the FEP or Learnfare Case Manager will schedule an initial appointment with the child and his or her parent for the purposes of conducting the assessment and completing the Learnfare Case Management Plan. The FEP or Learnfare Case Manager must schedule the appointment at a time when it will not interfere with the child's school or the parent's assigned W-2 activities. The FEP or Learnfare Case Manager will send written notice of the initial appointment to the child and his or her parent 7 working days before the appointment date. The notice shall clearly state that if the child and his or her parent are unable to attend, the child's parent(s) must contact the FEP or Learnfare Case Manager before the scheduled appointment date to reschedule the appointment.
2. If the child and his or her parent fail to report for the initial appointment or fail to reschedule the first appointment, the FEP or Learnfare Case Manager will send a second and last notice. This notice will ask the parent(s) to contact the FEP or Learnfare Case Manager within 5 working days. Otherwise, a financial penalty may be imposed in the next possible payment month. A home visit is strongly encouraged before the financial penalty is imposed.
3. For children not subject to a financial penalty for failure to cooperate with case management (see 16.4.1), the FEP or Learnfare Case Manager should:
 - a. Contact parents to schedule the initial appointment by telephone rather than letter.
 - b. Contact teachers and administrators who have contact with the child to determine what has been tried with the family and child already, and ask for suggestions on what would be a positive way to approach the child or family.
 - c. Attempt to meet with the child at school.
 - d. If the Learnfare Case Manager is not the FEP, attend the next scheduled review and explain the services that are available to the child.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

16.3.3 Case Management Requirements

Once enrolled in Learnfare case management, case management requirements include:

1. The child and his or her parent must participate in the assessment and development of the Learnfare Case Management Plan and the parent must sign the Plan once completed.
2. If the child is a dropout, the parent must provide verification of the child's return to school and attendance within 7 working days of the date a school is available.
3. The child and his or her parent must attend meetings scheduled and moderated by the FEP or Learnfare Case Manager. Meetings will be scheduled so as not to interfere with the parent's assigned W-2 activities. No more than one mandatory meeting will be scheduled per month.

The FEP or Learnfare Case Manager must notify the child and his or her parent 7 working days before the scheduled meeting date. If the child and his or her parent fail to report for the meeting or fail to reschedule the meeting, the FEP or Learnfare Case Manager will send a written notice. This notice will ask the child or his or her parent to contact the FEP or Learnfare Case Manager within 5 working days. Otherwise, a financial penalty may be imposed in the next possible payment month. (See 16.4.1)

4. The individual(s) assigned activities (child, parent or both) must engage in activities identified by the FEP or the Learnfare Case Manager in the Learnfare Case Management Plan as being necessary to maintain school enrollment or improve school attendance.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

16.3.4 Learnfare Case Management Plan

16.3.4.1 Learnfare Case Management Activities

A Learnfare Case Management Plan is required for each child subject to Learnfare case management and must include:

1. Goals for the child during Learnfare case management;
2. Description of the activities planned;
3. Planned begin and end dates for each activity;
4. Agencies/parties that will provide the services; and
5. Signature of the parent(s).

The Learnfare Case Manager must coordinate with the FEP if the Learnfare Case Management Plan includes required activities for the parent. (See Chapter 6 for more information on the W-2 Employability Plan.)

The Learnfare Case Management Plan must integrate plans prepared by other local government agencies, community-based organizations, judicial entities, or professional health providers with whom the Learnfare participant is currently involved or the Learnfare Case Manager deems appropriate. It must also incorporate any plans already developed by the school to address school attendance/achievement or at-risk indicators.

The school or school district should be the primary provider of services to Learnfare participants. Therefore, collaboration and coordination with the school is essential to the development of the Learnfare Case Management Plan.

16.3.4.1 Learnfare Case Management Activities

As part of the Learnfare Case Management Plan, W-2 agencies must provide services which maintain school enrollment, improve school attendance, and prepare children for a career.

For those children in high school, Learnfare case management should focus on graduation, career and/or employment planning, job readiness, and job seeking/job retention activities as appropriate.

For those children in elementary and middle schools, Learnfare case management should focus on maintaining school enrollment and attendance.

For minor parents, Learnfare case management should also focus on parenting skills and family planning. The overall goals for Learnfare case management with minor parents are to complete school, prepare children for a career, and delay subsequent pregnancies until the minor parents are ready emotionally and economically to support additional children.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

16.3.5 Good Cause for Failing to Cooperate with Learnfare Case Management

Good cause for failing to cooperate with Learnfare case management includes any of the following circumstances:

1. Child care is needed for the child or minor parent to participate in case management, but child care is not available.
2. Transportation is needed to and from child care for the minor parent's child, but neither public nor private transportation is available.
3. Court-required appearance or temporary incarceration. Any court appearance for a victim of domestic abuse is considered a court-required appearance.
4. Observance of a religious holiday.
5. Death of a relative. (See 11.2.2.2)
6. Family emergency.
7. Illness, injury, or incapacity of the child or a family member (spouse, child, or parent) living with the child.
8. Medical or dental appointment for the child or his or her child.
9. Breakdown in transportation.
10. A Fact Finding Review identifies circumstances that justify good cause.
11. Other circumstances beyond the control of the child or his or her parents, but only as determined by the FEP or Learnfare Case Manager.

The FEP or Learnfare Case Manager must determine if a child and his or her parent had good cause for failing to cooperate with Learnfare case management. (See 11.2.2)

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

16.4 Learnfare Financial Penalty

16.4.1 Determining a Financial Penalty

A W-2 participant in the CSJ, W-2 T or TMP placement may have a financial penalty imposed if all of the following conditions are met:

1. The child continues to fail to meet the school attendance requirement if the student is either determined to be a habitual truant or is not enrolled in school;
2. Individuals assigned activities on the Learnfare Case Management Plan have failed to cooperate with case management;
3. Good cause for failing to cooperate with case management has not been presented; and
4. A Fact Finding Review was not requested within 10 days from the Learnfare Penalty Notification date.

The following children are required to participate in case management, but the W-2 participant in their group are not subject to a financial penalty for failure to cooperate:

- Minor Parents enrolled in school;
- Returning Dropouts; and
- A child whose W-2 group includes a participant who has been unable to participate in required assigned activities due to the child's school-related problems.

EXAMPLE: Mia is a minor parent. Mia continues to go to school and maintains regular school attendance. Mia was participating in the required Learnfare case management but missed her last scheduled case management appointment. She did not contact the FEP to reschedule the appointment. The FEP sends a notice that requires Mia to contact the FEP and schedule a new time to meet. Mia failed to contact the FEP by the due date on the notice. Although Mia is a minor parent and must participate in mandatory Learnfare case management, the FEP cannot impose a financial penalty because she is a minor parent enrolled in school and maintains regular school attendance.

If the following children fail to cooperate with case management, the W-2 participant in their group is subject to a financial penalty:

- Children between the ages of 6 and 17 not enrolled in school, including Minor Parents;

- Habitual Truants; and
- Dropouts.

EXAMPLE: Last semester, Lucy missed eight (8) days of school without an acceptable excuse, which meets the definition of a habitual truant. She started participating in Learnfare case management and developed a plan to improve her attendance. This semester she continues to skip school. Lucy has missed five (5) days without an acceptable excuse. She also stopped coming to case management and did not contact the FEP to reschedule her appointment. The FEP sends a written notice for Lucy and her mom to contact the FEP within five (5) working days of the notice date. If they do not contact the FEP, a financial penalty may be imposed in the next possible payment month.

The financial penalty is $50 per month per child, not to exceed $150 per W-2 Group per month. If a financial penalty is entered into CWW for a CSJ, TMP, or W-2 T placement, a notice will be sent indicating that the W-2 payment may be reduced for a Learnfare financial penalty.

The notice or letter will inform the participant that they have 10 days to request a Fact Finding Review from the date on the notice. A penalty cannot be imposed during that 10 day time period. If the participant requests a Fact Finding Review within the 10 day period, the FEP must not impose a penalty until after the Fact Finding decision is determined, unless the participant withdraws the petition in writing or abandons the petition. (See 12.2.1)

A financial penalty must take effect in the next possible benefit month after the sanctionable event has occurred. The FEP or Learnfare Case Manager may impose a financial penalty every month until the sanctionable event is cured.

A financial penalty must not be imposed on children who voluntarily continue to participate in Learnfare case management.

17 Job Access Loans

17.1 Introduction

17.1 Introduction

JALs are short-term interest-free loans that are intended to meet immediate and discrete expenses that are related to obtaining or maintaining employment. W-2 agencies must not use JALs in place of W-2 services or other appropriate financial resources. In order to obtain eligibility for a JAL, the applicant must meet W-2 financial and nonfinancial eligibility and the additional JAL eligibility criterion listed in 17.2.1. There is no entitlement to a JAL.

Local W-2 agencies must approve or deny JAL applications based upon the eligibility criteria outlined in this Chapter. Local agencies may not develop more narrow JAL eligibility guidelines.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

17.2 Eligibility Determination

17.2.1 Eligibility Criteria

17.2.1.1 JAL Eligibility for Minor Custodial Parents

17.2.1.2 JAL Eligibility for Noncustodial Parents

17.2.1.3 Additional JAL Eligibility Criteria for the Purchase or Repair of a Vehicle

In order to be determined potentially eligible for a JAL, an individual must meet the following criteria:

1. Be a Custodial Parent (CP) (see 2.3.1 for adult CPs or 17.2.1.1 for minor CPs) or
2. Be a NCP (see 17.2.1.2);
3. Meet all other W-2 nonfinancial and financial eligibility criteria as defined in W-2 Manual Chapters 2 and 3;
4. Need the loan to address an immediate and discrete financial crisis that is not the result of the individual's failure to accept a bona fide offer of employment or the individual's termination of a job without good cause. The individual must be either:
 - Employed and need the loan to continue employment; or
 - Have a bona fide job offer and need the loan to obtain employment.
5. Not be in default in the repayment of any current JAL or cash assistance overpayment recoupment;
6. Not be a migrant worker; and
7. Have an acceptable repayment plan as defined below:
 - The W-2 agency has completed a budget with the applicant which demonstrates the applicant's ability to repay the loan in cash within the agreed upon repayment timeframe making regular monthly payments.
 - The W-2 agency works with the applicant to develop an agreed upon repayment plan which may include in-kind community service work. At least 25% of the loan must be repaid in cash.
 - The initial repayment period may be up to 12 months and may be extended to 24 months at the time of repayment renegotiation.

- No outstanding balance due can exceed $1,600 in any 12 month period for any one loan recipient.

JAL applicants meeting these eligibility criteria are not entitled to a loan, but may be approved for a loan as long as funding is available.

17.2.1.1 JAL Eligibility for Minor Custodial Parents

If the JAL applicant is a minor custodial parent, the minor parent must:

1. Turn 18 years of age within two months of applying for the JAL;
2. Live in one of the following supervised, alternative living arrangements:
 - a. Kinship care;
 - b. Foster home;
 - c. Group home; or
 - d. An adult supervised independent living arrangement approved by the W-2 agency; and
3. Have a high school diploma or its equivalent.

17.2.1.2 JAL Eligibility for Noncustodial Parents

In order for a NCP of a dependent child to be eligible for a JAL, the NCP must be subject to a child support order and the custodial parent of the dependent child must be:

1. In a W-2 placement (paid or unpaid);
2. Receiving Wisconsin Shares child care assistance; or
3. Receiving FoodShare

17.2.1.3 Additional JAL Eligibility Criteria for the Purchase or Repair of a Vehicle

For a JAL requested for the purchase or repair of a vehicle, the applicant must provide:

1. Proof of a current and valid driver's license. The FEP must search the State of Wisconsin Department of Transportation's status check webpage to verify that an applicant's driver's license is current and valid. The FEP must print a copy of the documentation to scan into the ECF with code VI.

2. Proof of motor vehicle insurance. The FEP must pend JAL eligibility until an applicant provides a minimum of two quotes for motor vehicle liability insurance. Upon receipt of the quotes, the FEP may confirm eligibility but must not disburse the check until the JAL recipient furnishes proof of motor vehicle liability insurance. Pursuant to Wis. Stat. § 344.62, proof of motor vehicle insurance may be in print or electronic format.
3. If the JAL applicant is on probation, parole, or extended supervision, proof of permission from the supervising officer allowing the individual to purchase a vehicle. If applicable, the FEP must require written permission from an applicant's probation, parole, or extended supervision agent for a JAL to purchase a vehicle. A note on Department of Corrections letterhead or an e-mail sent via the state e-mail system to the FEP by a probation, parole, or extended supervision agent is allowed as documentation.

Proof of a valid driver's license, proof of motor vehicle liability insurance, and any documents that provide permission from a supervising officer allowing the individual to purchase a vehicle must be scanned into ECF with code VI. (See 4.1.2)

History: Release 18-03; Release 14-01.

17.2.2 Eligibility Determination Process

JAL applicants may request JAL services by contacting the W-2 agency directly or by applying in ACCESS. JAL applicants may schedule an interview with a FEP in ACCESS. W-2 agencies must provide availability in ACCESS for appointment scheduling within five days of the application being submitted. Agencies must maintain available intake appointments in CWW Client Scheduling for a minimum of the next 10 working days to avoid delays in appointment scheduling and application processing.

ACCESS applicants are responsible for scheduling an appointment with a FEP either online through ACCESS or by calling their local W-2 agency. Agencies may contact applicants to schedule interview appointments if an applicant does not schedule an appointment in ACCESS or does not attend their appointment scheduled in ACCESS.

All JAL applicants must meet with a FEP to complete the interactive application process and to sign the JAL Combined Application and Repayment Agreement (2482). The meeting with the FEP can be in-person or via phone or video call. W-2 agencies must provide the option to meet in whichever acceptable meeting format the applicant prefers. FEPs must document in comments which meeting format was used.

The applicant signature can be obtained one of three ways below. W-2 agencies must provide the option to sign in whichever acceptable signature method the applicant prefers.

1. Written signature: The applicant physically signs the JAL Combined Application and Repayment Agreement (2482).
2. Electronic signature: The applicant electronically signs the JAL Combined Application and Repayment Agreement (2482) via an electronic signature software.
3. Telephonic signature: The applicant telephonically signs the JAL Combined Application and Repayment Agreement (2482) during a recorded call.

FEPs must read the form in order to record the agreement being made between the FEP and the participant. Additionally, the FEP must read the language that is in the telephonic signature display in Genesys. The Telephonic Signature Interaction ID generated in Genesys must be documented on the signature line and case comments.

This form documents the JAL application date and loan amount requested. The second section of the form acknowledges receipt of the loan and serves as a loan repayment agreement. Loan recipients must sign the lower half of the form to document receipt of the loan check at the time the check is provided to the loan recipient. The form must be scanned into ECF.

The W-2 agency must process all JAL applications within 12 working days unless additional time is needed to obtain verification. (See 4.1.3) W-2 agencies must have procedures in place to process expedited applications with 2 working days when the applicant has an immediate need for the JAL to maintain a current job or start a job for which the person has a bona fide job offer.

Individuals interested in receiving a JAL who are not in a W-2 placement must complete the W-2 application process within the standard 12 working days timeframe. (See 1.4.4) The W-2 agency must waive all up-front job search activities for JAL applicants as JALs are for individuals who are already employed or have a bona fide job offer. The W-2 agency must not require JAL applicants to complete the informal assessment process.

Individuals interested in receiving a JAL who are in an open W-2 placement must complete a modified application process. These JAL applicants have already met W-2 financial and nonfinancial eligibility criteria. To determine eligibility for JAL, a W-2 agency FEP must meet with the JAL applicant to complete the JAL Combined Application and Repayment Agreement (2482). The FEP must request any additional documentation related to the other JAL eligibility criteria. W-2 agencies must not substitute JALs in place of W-2 services or other appropriate financial resources.

NOTE: Individuals remain eligible for a CMF or CMF+ placement even after their income and assets exceed W-2 limits. All CMF and CMF+ cases must meet nonfinancial eligibility requirements to continue receiving case management services.

When the JAL request has been in applied status in CARES for 30 days, the worker will receive an alert as a reminder to act on the JAL. If after 60 days the agency has not acted upon a JAL request, CARES will automatically deny the request and issue a denial letter to the JAL applicant. The loan applicant must then reapply.

History: Release 20-05; Release 20-03; Release 19-02; Release 16-01.

17.2.3 JAL Budget as Part of the Application Process

The W-2 agency must complete a budget with all JAL applicants. As a step in the eligibility process, the FEP must use CARES screen BVJW to develop a budget using cash as the only means to repay the loan. The FEP must print out BVJW screen and scan it into ECF as documentation of whether the applicant can afford the loan.

Note: Once eligibility is determined, the FEP and the applicant can renegotiate the terms of the loan repayment. Up to 75% of the debt can be repaid through documented in-kind community service work. (See 17.5.3)

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

17.3 Uses of JAL Funds

17.3.1 Approved Uses of JAL Funds

17.3.1.1 JALs for Housing

17.3.1.2 JALs for Fines

W-2 agencies have the authority to approve or deny proposed uses of JALs. JALs can be used for a variety of reasons to assist applicants in obtaining or maintaining employment. Acceptable uses of JAL funds include, but are not limited to:

- Expenses enabling transportation to work, including: fees for obtaining a driver's license, car repairs, and car purchase expenses such as car loans, and down payments;
- Expenses enabling execution of current or prospective job functions, such as: purchase of clothing/uniforms, supplies for work, and equipment for remote work.

In some circumstances, JALs may also be provided for housing and for the payment of fines (See 17.3.1.1 and 17.3.1.2 for more information).

17.3.1.1 JALs for Housing

JALs may be approved to cover the costs of rent or security deposits in order to keep or get a job. However, it is best practice for individuals applying for a JAL for housing expenses to first apply for other housing resources such as EA (See EA Manual). The W-2 agency must carefully review the budget to ensure the applicant can cover existing housing and other expenses and pay off the loan as described in 17.2.3. Below are two examples of when issuing a JAL for housing is appropriate.

EXAMPLE 1: For the past year, Jaya and her children have been living with her mother in Oregon, WI and working part-time. She lost her job two months ago and has just received a bona fide job offer with Capital Machinery in north Madison, 20 miles from her mother's house. Her start date is next week. Jaya needs a JAL for $1,000 to cover her first month's rent and security deposit so that she can move to Madison to be closer to her job. She has found an apartment in Madison that is both close to her job and close to her child care. If she moves, she will be able to take the bus to both her job and her child care provider.

Jaya meets all of the eligibility requirements for a JAL. She has exhausted all other housing resources, including EA. She is not eligible for EA because she does not have an eviction notice and does not meet the definition for doubled up housing. The W-2 agency has carefully reviewed the budget with Jaya. With her new salary, she is financially able to cover her ongoing housing costs and other expenses and be able to make the $83 per month payment to pay off her JAL in 12 months.

The W-2 agency approves Jaya's JAL and works with her to establish a repayment agreement that includes both cash and in-kind payments.

EXAMPLE 2: Ursula is currently employed 30 hours per week at a fast food restaurant. She recently missed 10 days of work because her daughter Lucia had surgery. Ursula does not have sick leave. Because of the missed hours, she was unable to pay her rent and received an eviction notice. Ursula is short on her rent by $400 and needs a JAL to avoid an eviction. If Ursula loses her housing she will not be able to keep her job. Ursula's next door neighbor babysits for Lucia when she is at work. If Ursula has to move into a shelter, her neighbor will not be able to babysit. Ursula's rent is due in 2 days and her next pay check is not expected for 7 more days.

Ursula meets all of the eligibility requirements for a JAL. She has exhausted all other housing resources, including EA. Ursula is not eligible for EA because she received EA 10 months ago when her daughter Lucia first became sick. The W-2 agency has carefully reviewed the budget with Ursula. With her salary, she is financially able to cover her ongoing housing costs and other expenses and is able to make the $33 per month payment to pay off her JAL in 12 months.

The W-2 agency approves Ursula's JAL and works with her to establish a repayment agreement that includes both cash and in-kind payments.

17.3.1.2 JALs for Fines

JALs may be approved to cover the payment of fines that, if unpaid, may result or have already resulted in the suspension of a person's driver's license or the ability to obtain a driver's license.

When using JAL funds to assist the applicant to pay a fine related to obtaining a driver's license, the W-2 agency must:

1. Assist the applicant in identifying the fines preventing them from obtaining a license. This includes identification of the amount owed and any other barriers to obtaining a license. This may be done with the assistance of DMV or other community agencies.

2. Verify with the DMV that paying the fine will result in the applicant's eligibility for driver's license reinstatement, occupational license, or an initial driver's license.
3. Make the JAL check payable to the JAL recipient. If there are several fines owed to more than one court or municipality, only one check will be issued. However, the sum of the loaned funds for any one individual cannot exceed $1,600 in a 12 month period.

If insurance is required before a license can be issued, JAL funds may be used to cover the cost of required insurance for the first six months of coverage or five hundred dollars ($500.00), whichever is less.

History: Release 22-02; Release 12-03.

17.3.2 Prohibited Uses of JAL Funds

Some examples of unacceptable uses of JAL funds are as follows:

- Alleviating a financial crisis that is the result of the individual's failure to accept a bona fide offer of employment or the individual's termination of a job without good cause (see 11.2.2);
- Paying any fine related to operating a motor vehicle under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol, including but not limited to, fines for Operating While Impaired, Blood Alcohol Content, and Implied Consent Violations.
- Covering expenses that are or could be covered by the EA program;
- Purchasing personal items such as clothing (not work related) household appliances, etc; or
- Paying taxes

On a case by case basis, the W-2 agency has authority to further identify prohibited uses of JAL funds for purposes similar to those on this list.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

17.4 Loan Requirements

17.4.1 Loan Amounts

The local W-2 agency can approve a JAL from $25 up to $1,600. In any 12-month period the maximum outstanding loan balance for any individual is $1,600; however, individuals may have more than one open loan.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

17.4.2 Loan Issuance

When the loan application has been approved by the local agency's authorized approver, a check will be generated in CARES that evening and printed the following day. All JAL checks will be mailed to the W-2 agency for distribution.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

17.4.3 Financial Counseling

The W-2 agency is encouraged to offer budget counseling or arrange for financial counseling from outside resources for all loan recipients. Formal budgeting classes may be applicable for large loans or for loan recipients with a history of budgeting problems.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

17.5 Repaying the Loan

17.5.1 Repayment Agreement

During the application process, the loan recipient and the FEP will develop a repayment agreement. Although JAL applicants must be financially able to repay the full loan in cash, JAL recipients may choose to repay up to 75% of the loan through in-kind community service. (See 17.5.3) A minimum of 25% of the loan must be repaid in cash.

The loan must be repaid according to the terms of the repayment agreement in order to avoid an intercept of a state tax refund. If the repayment agreement includes a combination of cash and in-kind services, both obligations are required to be met on a monthly basis until the loan has been repaid.

The initial repayment period may be up to 12 months and can be extended an additional 12 months if necessary, for a total of 24 months.

Regardless of when the loan is issued, the first payment is due on the 25th of the following month. All payments must be recorded in CARES by the end of the month. Each month CARES will issue a statement summarizing payments made to the account and the balance due. CARES will also issue a past due notice each month a payment has not been received or does not meet the expected repayment agreement.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

17.5.2 Repayment by Cash

JAL recipients are encouraged to make monthly electronic transfers from a checking or savings account through the State's free online payment system at <https://dwd.wisconsin.gov/epayment/>. Cash payments in the form of a check or money order may be made at the local W-2 agency. Cash payments made at the local W-2 agency must be posted into CARES within 5 days of receipt.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

17.5.3 Repayment Through In-Kind Community Service

Although JAL applicants must be financially able to repay the full loan in cash, JAL recipients may choose to repay up to 75% of the loan through in-kind community service. The FEP must remind recipients choosing to repay part of their loan with in-kind community service, that individuals who miss three payments (either cash or in-kind, or both) will go into loan default. Loans in default are paid through tax intercept. At that point, there is no way to repay any portion of the loan through in-kind community service.

In-kind community service is valued at the higher of federal or state minimum wage. JAL recipients must provide suitable verification of the in-kind hours worked as required by the FEP. JAL recipients that choose to repay a portion of the loan through in-kind must arrange their own child care and W-2 agencies may not reimburse for any supportive expenses incurred for in-kind work, including transportation and child care.

Loan recipients repaying a portion of the loan through in-kind must begin the work as soon as possible. In-kind work hours must be scheduled around any paid work and must be completed and reported in regular monthly increments.

Loan recipients are responsible for finding the in-kind service opportunity. The W-2 agency may approve the in-kind work proposal or require changes to the proposal as a condition for loan approval. The in-kind work must be an organized and supervised activity that benefits the community.

Examples of in-kind repayment opportunities include assisting with child care at the Job Center, helping at a food pantry, helping at a senior meal site, helping to build a home through Habitat for Humanity, volunteering with religious or non-profit organization, or assisting with the supervision of organized youth activities.

Documentation of in-kind work received by a local agency must be entered into CARES within 5 days of receipt.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

17.5.4 Collections

On a monthly basis CARES will issue a loan summary describing the payments received, the outstanding balance, and the next payment due date. If no payment or a partial payment has been recorded in CARES by the end of the month, a dunning or past due notice will be mailed.

If a loan recipient moves out of a W-2 agency's geographic area of responsibility, the W-2 agency must attempt to modify the repayment schedule prior to the move to recover as much of the loan as possible. If the individual relocates before the loan is repaid in full, the originating W-2 agency will continue to collect cash repayment and should require a new in-kind community service plan, if applicable. If the loan recipient has an open W-2 case in the new W-2 agency, the loan recipient may make loan payments at the new W-2 agency. PACS is responsible for posting the payments in CARES.

In most cases, JALs cannot be written-off in bankruptcy proceedings. If a loan recipient files bankruptcy and has included the JAL, the W-2 agency should submit the bankruptcy notice to the PACS: PO Box 8938 Madison WI 53708-8938 Fax: 608/266-8302.

History: Release 22-02.

17.5.5 Overdue Payments

A JAL payment and or in-kind service is considered past due if not received in full and reported in CARES by the 25th of the month; however, agencies have until the end of the calendar month to enter payments without causing a past due notice to be generated. CARES will issue a notice to inform the loan recipient of the past due payment. This notice is called a “dunning” notice. A second past due payment generates a second dunning notice to the participant.

After the third missed payment and dunning notice, PACS will certify the debt to the Wisconsin Department of Revenue to recover the outstanding balance. Once the loan is considered delinquent, which is defined as 3 missed payments over the life of the debt, the entire outstanding balance must be recovered in cash whether or not the initial repayment agreement included a partial repayment through in-kind community service.

History: Release 22-02.

18 Refugee Cash & Medical Assistance

18.1 Introduction

18.1 Introduction

The Refugee Act of 1980 created the federal Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) within the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, which provides funding to state and local programs for the resettlement of refugees. Refugee(s) are individuals who have had to leave their homeland and are unable to return because of a well-founded fear of persecution. The goal of U.S. refugee resettlement is to help refugees achieve economic self-sufficiency as quickly as possible after their arrival in the United States. Please note that in this chapter “refugee,” unless otherwise indicated, will include refugee(s), asylee(s), Cuban-Haitian entrant(s), certain Amerasian(s), victim(s) of trafficking and any other categories eligible for refugee benefits under federal law. (See 18.2.4.1 for a complete list).

Refugee Cash Assistance (RCA) and Refugee Medical Assistance (RMA) are two programs available to recently arrived refugees. In Wisconsin, RCA is modeled after Wisconsin Works (W-2), the state’s Temporary Aid for Needy Families (TANF) program, and RMA is part of the Medical Assistance (MA) program. RCA and RMA are available for refugees who meet the financial requirements of the W-2 and MA programs, but are otherwise ineligible- such as single individuals, childless couples, minor teen parents and two-parent families without children under 18 years of age. RCA and RMA eligibility is time-limited, with some refugees eligible for up to twelve months from their date of arrival in the United States.

History: Release 22-08.

18.2 Refugee Cash Assistance (RCA)

18.2.1 RCA Overview

RCA is administered by states or other designated entities. In Wisconsin, RCA models itself after the W-2 program and is administered by W-2 agencies with guidance from the Refugee Programs Section of the Wisconsin Department of Children and Families' Division of Family and Economic Security (DFES)/Bureau of Working Families (BWF).

Refugee(s) are often victims of war, political turmoil and/or oppression and typically arrive to the U.S. with few, if any, material possessions. While refugees with children under the age of 18 may qualify for W-2 assistance, others (such as single individuals or couples without children under the age of 18) will not. The goal of the RCA program is to provide a basic standard of living to those recently arrived refugees who do not qualify for W-2 and to promote rapid economic self-sufficiency. RCA recipients must participate in mandatory employment and training activities until either attaining employment or the end of the RCA benefits period in order to attain economic self-sufficiency.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

18.2.2 RCA Application Process

- 18.2.2.1 Applying for RCA
- 18.2.2.2 Requesting RCA
- 18.2.2.3 Completing the RCA Application
- 18.2.2.4 Determining Eligibility and Making an RCA Placement
- 18.2.2.5 RCA Application Processing Timeframe

W-2 agencies are responsible for processing RCA applications. In large part, RCA policy regarding processing applications mirrors W-2 policy.

18.2.2.1 Applying for RCA

Any individual may apply for RCA. Outside of Milwaukee, refugees who wish to apply for RCA must apply at the W-2 agency serving their W-2 geographical area. Similarly, refugees living in Milwaukee's West Central and Southern areas must apply for RCA at their geographical area's "refugee one-stop." Refugees living in Milwaukee's Northern or East Central W-2 geographical areas, in which RCA and RMA cases are not processed, must apply for services at the West Central W-2 geographical office.

If the W-2 agency at which an individual applies for RCA is not a county or tribe and the individual is also applying for Income Maintenance (IM) programs (such as FoodShare or Medical Assistance), the W-2 agency must coordinate services with the agency providing the IM Programs. See 1.4.1.1 for a list of the specific requirements regarding coordination of service between W-2 and IM agencies.

There are times when an individual may not be able to complete the RCA application forms personally. The Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Programs Registration (14880) paper registration form (which may be referred to as the "DOC 1" by voluntary agencies or Volags) may be accepted from an applicant's authorized representative.

See 1.4.1.2 for examples of authorized representatives. Refugees typically give permission for their Volag caseworker to act as their authorized representative. As in the W-2 program, when an applicant chooses to use an authorized representative, both the applicant and the authorized representative must complete the Authorization of Participant Representative (2375). The agency cannot refuse an authorized representative unless the authorization itself is questionable. The authorized representative is responsible for submitting the signed Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Programs Registration (14880) paper registration form and/or application and any required documents.

18.2.2.2 Requesting RCA

An individual may apply for RCA at any time by submitting a signed Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Programs Registration (14880).

Typically the refugee's Volag assists in submitting this form. The RCA application process officially begins on the date the applicant or authorized representative gives the agency a signed version of the Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Programs Registration (14880).

While in most cases the Voluntary Agency (Volag) will help the refugee to apply for RCA, the W-2 agency must ask the client if they have a sponsoring Volag and must notify the refugee's Volag if this is not the case. This initial contact with the Volag caseworker is a convenient time to inquire about assistance received as well as any job quit or employment refusal in the 30 days prior to the application, both of which affect RCA eligibility. (See 18.2.4.5)

A signed copy of the Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Programs Registration (14880) must be scanned into Electronic Case File (ECF).

18.2.2.3 Completing the RCA Application

No later than 5 working days after the date the agency receives a signed Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Programs Registration (14880) (see 18.2.2.2), the W-2 agency must schedule and hold a personal interview between the Financial and Employment Planner (FEP) and the applicant. During this interactive interview the FEP gathers information about the RCA group's financial and nonfinancial eligibility. While RCA eligibility cannot be tested through CARES and RCA payments are not issued through CARES/CWW, the FEP should enter the collected financial and nonfinancial eligibility information into CARES so that the information can be properly stored and later accessed. If the applicant has applied for other programs administered through CARES, the information may already be present in the system. In such cases, the FEP should update the CARES information as necessary to ensure that it is correct and up-to-date.

All applicants requesting RCA services must complete and sign an RCA application, either:

- The Application Summary that prints out of CWW at the completion of the interactive interview, or
- The Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Programs Application (2471) paper form, which is equivalent to the Application Summary and can be used when the CARES system is unavailable.

Note: The FEP should request W-2 in order for CWW to issue the Application Summary at the completion of the interactive interview. The FEP should remember to suppress any generated W-2 notices so as not to confuse the applicant.

All other adults in the RCA assistance group must also sign the RCA application.

By signing the RCA application, the individual attests that:

- All information provided in the application is correct and complete and
- He or she understands and agrees to basic policies of the RCA program, such as the fraud rules and the right of the W-2 agency to request and receive information from other sources.

A home visit may be conducted as a reasonable accommodation for someone in order to secure his or her signature. When a home visit is required, the FEP must document the date of the home visit in case comments.

The application must be signed in the presence of a W-2 agency representative, even if an authorized representative is signing the application. If an application is signed with a mark, two witnesses' signatures are required.

The Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Programs Registration (14880) and Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Programs Application (2471) paper form (if used) must be scanned into Electronic Case File (ECF).

The following forms must be given to RCA applicants during the application process:

- RCA Participation Agreement (15011), which outlines an RCA applicant's rights and responsibilities and is available in English and several other languages. (Refugee Cash and Medical Assistance forms, in several languages, can be found on the Forms webpage). If the form is not available in an appropriate language, another method of communication must be used, such as verbal translation into the refugee's native language. The form must be provided to RCA applicants and reviewed during the application process. Applicants must sign the form to acknowledge that they understand its content. The signed form must be scanned into ECF.
- Rights and Responsibilities- A Help Guide (398-P) must also be given to the applicant during the application process.

18.2.2.4 Determining Eligibility and Making an RCA Placement

When a cash assistance application is received, determine eligibility for W-2 before determining eligibility for RCA. A refugee is not eligible for RCA if he or she is eligible for or receiving W-2 cash assistance. This applies to all refugees whether they refuse W-2 benefits or are ineligible for W-2 due to failure to comply with any eligibility requirement, including W-2 participation requirements.

The FEP must determine RCA eligibility within 7 working days after his or her first meeting with the RCA applicant using all financial and nonfinancial eligibility criteria. (See 18.2.4 and 18.2.5) In extenuating circumstances, when the individual needs additional time to gather verification, the eligibility process can be extended up to 30 days from the date the agency receives a signed Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Programs Registration (14880). (See 4.1.3)

The RS or FEP can assign up-front job search activities as part of the nonfinancial eligibility criteria. (See 2.9.2)

The FEP must not extend the application process past the 12 working days (5 working days to meet with the FEP and 7 working days for the FEP to make an eligibility determination) to accommodate a lengthier job search. W-2 agencies are prohibited from using the up-front job search requirement to delay the application process or eligibility determination. (See 2.9.2.2)

During this 7 day period, the FEP must also work with the applicant to determine the most appropriate placement for the applicant. RCA uses three placements based on the W-2 program placements for Trial Employment Match Program (TEMP) (see 7.3.0), Community Service Jobs (CSJ) (see 7.4.1), and W-2 Transitions (W-2 T) (see 7.4.2). The RCA placement is assigned on the basis of level of job readiness. For example, the CSJ placement would typically be used for refugees who are employable but have barriers such as language, education or work experience (note: like a W-2 client, an RCA client can be placed into a partial CSJ. See 10.1.), whereas the W-2 T placement would typically be used for refugees with more severe personal or family physical, mental or cognitive barriers. The W-2 agency may also make a subsidy payment to an employer to help a refugee obtain employment, in accordance with the rules for the Trial Employment Match Program.

The monthly RCA payment amount for adults and teen parents will be the same as the corresponding W-2 payment for each month in which the participant meets the employment and training requirements. When minor children living with adult caretaker relatives form their own assistance group while awaiting an eligibility determination for Kinship Care, they must be paid at the CSJ payment level unless they have severe physical, mental or cognitive barriers which warrants a W-2 T level payment.

To make the most appropriate placement decision, the FEP discusses and reviews with the applicant the:

- Results of the informal assessment (see 5.2);
- Results of the educational needs assessment (see 5.3);
- Progress made in up-front job search, if assigned (see 2.9.2); and
- Results of any other vocational evaluations or formal assessment obtained during the application process (see 5.1.1).

18.2.2.5 RCA Application Processing Timeframe

Below are the RCA application processing timeframes to which all W-2 agencies must adhere:

1. The same day or no later than the following working day after any individual expresses an interest in applying for RCA, a W-2 agency representative must schedule an appointment with a RS. Individuals interested in RCA must be given the opportunity to sign a Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Programs Registration (14880).
2. No later than 5 working days after the date the agency receives a signed Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Programs Registration (14880), the W-2 agency shall schedule and hold a personal interview between the FEP and the applicant.
3. No later than 7 working days after the first meeting with the FEP, the FEP must determine RCA eligibility and make the most appropriate placement for the applicant.
4. The initial payment, pro-rated from the date of application, must be made within 5 working days of determining eligibility.s

18.2.3 RCA Assistance Groups

The income and assets of RCA assistance group members are considered together (see 18.2.5.1 and 18.2.5.2) and the group receives a single cash benefit.

An RCA assistance group consists of either an applicant or an applicant and his or her spouse. An unmarried refugee 18 years or older forms his or her own RCA group, even if living with other RCA groups.

Minor teen parents and their children form another type of RCA assistance group. If either parent turns 18 during the RCA eligibility period, determine W-2 eligibility.

Remove the group from RCA if the 18-year-old parent is found to be eligible for a W-2 paid placement.

EXAMPLE 1: A household consists of six refugees living together: a husband, wife and child over age 18, the wife's sister and her husband, and the mother's unmarried brother. The household would consist of four RCA assistance groups:

- Husband and wife: one RCA assistance group
- Child over age 18: one RCA assistance group
- Wife's sister and husband: one RCA assistance group
- Wife's unmarried brother: one RCA assistance group

One or more minor siblings living in a single household with adult caretaker relatives instead of their parents form one RCA assistance group. However, one or more non-sibling minors living in a single household with adult caretaker relatives would each form individual RCA groups.

EXAMPLE 2: A household consists of a mother, father and their minor children, the minor son and daughter of the mother's sister and the minor child of the mother's brother. The household would consist of the following assistance groups:

- Mother, father and their minor children: one W-2 assistance group
- Niece and nephew who are brother and sister: one RCA assistance group
- Nephew with no siblings: one RCA assistance group

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

18.2.4 RCA Nonfinancial Eligibility

- 18.2.4.1 Immigration Status
- 18.2.4.2 Date of Entry to the U.S.
- 18.2.4.3 Wisconsin Residency
- 18.2.4.4 Ineligibility for W-2 Paid Placement and Non-Receipt of SSI and Kinship Care
- 18.2.4.5 Job Quit or Refusal Within 30 Days Prior to Application
- 18.2.4.6 Employment and Training
 - 18.2.4.6.1 Employment and Training Requirements

To be nonfinancially eligible for RCA, a refugee must:

1. Possess a qualifying immigration status;
2. Have been in the United States 12 months or less for individuals who have a date of eligibility on or after 10/01/2021 or eight months or less for individuals with a date of eligibility on or before 09/30/2021;

6. Comply with employment and training requirements;
7. Not be enrolled as a full-time student in higher education; and
8. Not be enrolled in the Matching Grant program.

Note: As in W-2 policy, an applicant who does not provide a Social Security number may still be eligible for RCA if they apply for one and provide proof of the application. (See 2.7.1)

18.2.4.1 Immigration Status

To qualify for Refugee Cash and Medical Assistance, individuals must provide proof, in the form of documentation issued by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, of one of the following immigration statuses:

1. Paroled as a refugee or asylee under section 212(d)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA);
2. Admitted as a refugee under section 207 of the INA;
3. Granted asylum under section 208 of the INA;
4. Cuban-Haitian entrant(s), in accordance with the requirements in 45 CFR section 401.2;
 - i. Any individual granted parole status as a Cuban/Haitian Entrant (status pending) or granted any other special status subsequently established under the immigration laws for nationals of Cuba or Haiti, regardless of the status of the individual at the time assistance or services are provided.
 - ii. A national of Cuba or Haiti who was paroled into the United States and has not acquired any other status under the INA and with respect to whom a final, non-appealable, and legally enforceable order of removal, deportation or exclusion has not been entered.
 - iii. A national of Cuba or Haiti who has an application for asylum pending with the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) and with respect to whom a final, non-appealable, and legally enforceable order of removal, deportation or exclusion has not been entered.
5. Certain Amerasian(s) from Vietnam who are admitted to the U.S. as immigrants pursuant to section 584 of the Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Appropriations Act, 1988 (as contained in section 101(e) of Public Law 100-202 and amended by the 9th proviso under Migration and Refugee Assistance in Title II of the Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Appropriations Acts, 1989 (Public Law 100-461 as amended));
6. Victims of trafficking who have been certified by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Refugee Resettlement under section 107 (B) of the Victims of Trafficking and Violence Protection Act of 2000;
7. Iraqis and Afghans with "special immigrant status." These groups have been admitted to the U.S. in Lawful Permanent Resident status; however for a limited time upon arrival they are treated as if they are in refugee status for public benefits purposes.
 - i. A citizen or national of Afghanistan who was admitted to the United States with SI/SQ Parole (per section 602(B)(1) AAPA/section 1059(a) NDAA 2006), Special Immigrant (SI) Conditional Permanent Residence (CPR), or Humanitarian Parole status (per the Afghanistan Supplemental Appropriations Act, 2022); and their spouses and children.

8. Citizens or nationals of Ukraine who the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) has paroled into the United States between February 24, 2022, and September 30, 2023, due to urgent humanitarian reasons or for significant public benefit, known as Ukrainian Humanitarian Parolees (UHPs). (See ORR Policy Letter 22-13)
 - i. Non-Ukrainian individuals who last habitually resided in Ukraine, who DHS has paroled into the United States between February 24, 2022, and September 30, 2023, due to urgent humanitarian reasons or for significant public benefit.
 - ii. A spouse or child of an individual described in section 9 and i., who is paroled into the United States after September 30, 2023.
 - iii. A parent, legal guardian, or primary caregiver of an unaccompanied refugee minor or an unaccompanied child described in section 9 or i., who is paroled into the United States after September 30, 2023.
9. Admitted for permanent residence, provided the individual previously held one of the statuses identified above. (See 18.2.4.2)

Refer to the Office of Refugee Resettlement's Policy Letter 16-01 Documentation Guide for information on the types of documents that verify the immigration statuses listed above. For information on appropriate CARES coding for the immigration statuses listed above, refer to the W-2 Non-Citizen Eligibility Desk Guide.

If a refugee is not able to verify his or her immigration status with paper documentation, attempt to verify the status using the web-based Systematic Alien Verification for Entitlements (SAVE) program. Scan the information found using SAVE into ECF.

18.2.4.2 Date of Entry to the U.S.

Date of Entry is equivalent to the first day that someone gained an RCA-eligible immigrant status. Refugees are eligible for Refugee Cash and Medical Assistance only during the eight-month period (if the Date of Entry was on or before September 30, 2021) or twelve-month period (if their Date of Entry was on or after October 1, 2021) following their date of eligibility in the United States. Therefore, the agency may need to make pro-rated payments at the beginning and end of any eligibility period, based upon the number of days eligible in relationship to the number of days in the month. This eight- and 12-month time limit applies to each person in a case individually.

Follow the guidelines below to determine eligibility start-date:

1. Individuals paroled as refugees or asylees under §212(d)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA); Date of Arrival;
2. Refugees admitted under §207 of the INA; Date of Arrival;
3. Asylees whose status was granted under §208 of the INA; Date Eligible Status Granted;
4. Cuban and Haitian entrants, in accordance with the requirements in 45 CFR § 401.2; Date Eligible Status Granted;
5. Certain Amerasians from Vietnam who are admitted to the U.S. as immigrants pursuant to §584 of the Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Appropriations Act, 1988 (as contained in §101 (e) of Public Law 100-202 and amended by the 9th provision under Migration and Refugee Assistance in Title II of the Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Appropriation Acts, 1989 (Public Law 100-461 as amended)); Date of Arrival;
6. Individuals subjected to a severe form of trafficking who have been certified by the United States Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) under The Trafficking Victims Protection Act of 2000, Pub. L. No. 106-386, Division A, 114 Stat. 1464 (2000); Date Eligible Status Granted;
7. Certain Iraqi and Afghan Special Immigrant Visa holders (SIV) pursuant to the Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2008, Public Law 110-181; Date of Arrival;
8. Afghan Special Immigrant Parolee as described in ORR Policy Letter 22-02 and ORR Policy Letter 22-10; October 1, 2021 or Date "entered community", whichever is later;
9. Afghan Special Immigrant Conditional Permanent Resident as described in ORR Policy Letter 22-02 and ORR Policy Letter 22-10; October 1, 2021 or Date "entered community", whichever is later;
10. Afghan Humanitarian Parolee as described in ORR Policy Letter 22-02 and ORR Policy Letter 22-10; October 1, 2021 or Date "entered community", whichever is later; and
11. Ukrainian Humanitarian Parolee and Non-Ukrainian Individual Displaced from Ukraine as described in ORR Policy Letter 22-13; May 21, 2022, or the individual's date of humanitarian parole, whichever is later. If a UHP or other non-Ukrainian individual displaced from Ukraine obtains Temporary Protected Status (TPS), the individual will remain eligible for until the end of the individual's parole term, due to their underlying receipt of humanitarian parole per INA section 212(d)(5). Note, however, that an individual with only TPS and no underlying humanitarian parole is not eligible for ORR benefits and services.
12. Lawful permanent residents who previously held one of the statuses identified above; same as the previously held status listed above.

Funds must not be used to provide services to United States citizens, as United States citizens are ineligible under the authorizing legislation.

EXAMPLE 1: A refugee's date of entry to the United States is 10/14/2022 and their twelve-month eligibility for Refugee Cash and Medical Assistance ends on 10/13/2023. If the refugee applies for cash assistance on 10/16/2022 and is placed into a CSJ payment level, ($653/month), issue a pro-rated initial payment of $337.03 for 10/16/2022 through 10/31/2022 ($$653/31$ days in month x 16 days of eligibility = $337.03) and issue a prorated final payment of $273.84 for 10/1/2023 to 10/13/2023 ($$653/31$ days in month x 13 days of eligibility= $273.84).

EXAMPLE 2: A refugee's date of entry to the United States is 11/14/2022 and their twelve-month eligibility period for Refugee Cash and Medical Assistance ends on 11/13/2023. If the refugee submits an application for RCA on 11/14/2023, deny the application because the period of eligibility has lapsed.

EXAMPLE 3: An alien enters the United States on 2/3/2022 and is granted asylum on 7/16/2022. The twelve-month Refugee Cash and Medical Assistance eligibility period is 7/16/2022 through 7/15/2023.

Note: If an asylee includes his or her spouse on the asylum application and asylum is granted, the spouse has the same "entry" date (i.e., asylum grant date) as the principal asylee. In some cases, though, an asylee spouse may be outside of the U.S. and not included on the asylum application. To bring the spouse to the U.S., the principal asylee must complete form I-730, Refugee/Asylee Relative Petition. In such cases, the spouse's physical date of entry to the U.S. is the date from which to determine his or her RCA period. This date will be noted on the I-730 (and I-94 and Visa 92).

Note: Individuals who are seeking but have not been granted asylum are ineligible for Refugee Cash and Medical Assistance. See asylum-seeker(s) and asylee(s).

18.2.4.3 Wisconsin Residency

To be eligible for RCA benefits in Wisconsin, a refugee must be a resident of Wisconsin. Apply W-2 residency requirements when making this determination. (See 2.2.1.4)

Secondary migrant(s) to Wisconsin (refugees who move to Wisconsin from a different state) may be eligible for RCA. If there is reason to believe the secondary migrant was receiving RCA in the previous state, use appropriate verification request procedures to request verification that the RCA benefits in the other state have been terminated. (See 18.2.6.1.2) If the individual has made a reasonable effort and cannot obtain the required verification, does not have the power to produce verification or requires assistance to do so, the W-2 agency must assist the individual. (See 4.1.3) In such cases, contacting the worker in the other state would likely be the most efficient way of verifying the information.

Secondary migrants who were receiving RCA in another state must submit a cash assistance application in Wisconsin in order to be RCA-eligible. They are subject to the same financial and nonfinancial eligibility criteria as other refugees, including the twelve-month eligibility time-limit.

EXAMPLE 1: A refugee moves from Minnesota to Wisconsin and submits a cash assistance application on 11/3/2022. The refugee's immigration document shows that his date of arrival to the U.S. was 10/10/2021; RCA eligibility therefore ended 10/9/2022. Deny the application based on expiration of the twelve-month eligibility period.

EXAMPLE 2: A refugee moves from Illinois to Wisconsin on 10/20/2021 and submits a cash assistance application on 10/24/2021. During the interview, the refugee states that she was receiving RCA in Illinois. The worker pends the case for proof that Illinois RCA benefits have ended. The verification is received timely and shows that Illinois RCA benefits ended on 10/19/2021. If the refugee is otherwise eligible, the worker should issue a pro-rated RCA payment for 10/24/2021 – 10/31/2021 and issue appropriate RCA monthly payments thereafter

18.2.4.4 Ineligibility for W-2 Paid Placement and Non-Receipt of SSI and Kinship Care

When a cash assistance application is received, first determine eligibility for W-2. If the applicant meets W-2 financial eligibility requirements but does not meet nonfinancial eligibility requirements or is not eligible for a paid W-2 placement, determine eligibility for RCA.

If an adult refugee becomes ineligible for W-2 due to a change in circumstances in which there is no longer a dependent child in the household, determine eligibility for RCA for any remainder of the initial twelve-month residence period in the United States.

Refer refugees who are age 65 or older, or who are blind or disabled, for application to Supplemental Security Income (SSI) (see 7.4.3 for guidance about SSI advocacy).

Inform these refugees that current federal laws limit SSI eligibility to seven years after arrival unless citizenship is obtained. A refugee is eligible for RCA while an SSI determination is being made and until he or she actually receives an SSI payment. (See 2.2.1.10) If you learn, however, that SSI has been paid for the same month as an RCA payment, attempt to recover the RCA payment.

Refugees who are minors and living with adult caretaker relatives instead of their parents should be referred for application to Kinship Care. A refugee is eligible for RCA while a Kinship Care determination is being made. When Kinship Care begins, RCA eligibility is lost.

18.2.4.5 Job Quit or Refusal Within 30 Days Prior to Application

A refugee that has refused to accept an appropriate offer of employment or voluntarily quit appropriate employment in the 30 calendar days prior to filing the RCA application is ineligible for RCA, unless a good cause reason exists. See 18.2.4.6.3 for guidelines on determining “appropriate” employment. Contact the refugee’s Volag worker when processing the application to determine if such a refusal or job quit has occurred. A refugee who quit or refused a job within the 30 calendar days prior to application would regain RCA eligibility on the 31st day after such job quit or refusal has taken place.

To determine if a refugee who has quit or refused employment possesses a good cause reason, see 11.2.2. W-2 workers must apply good cause policy in a culturally-competent manner.

EXAMPLE: A practicing Muslim (whose religion prohibits the eating of pork or use of alcohol) cannot be sanctioned for refusing to butcher pigs or serve alcohol. This individual would have “good cause” for refusing such employment.

18.2.4.6.1 Employment and Training Requirements

All adult RCA recipients must enroll in employment and training activities and must participate in such activities within 30 days of receiving RCA benefits. The employment and training requirements used in the RCA program differ from W-2 work participation requirements in that they are designed to meet the needs of newly arrived refugees who typically possess little or no English skills. Participation in the employment and training activities is meant to ensure that RCA clients attain economic self-sufficiency within their twelve-month RCA eligibility period. A refugee has attained economic self-sufficiency when their income allows them to afford basic necessities such as rent, food and transportation.

RCA clients may fulfill their RCA employment and training requirement by participating in the FoodShare Employment and Training (FSET) program (if they are FSET-eligible) or a specialized refugee employment and training program.

Employment and training service agencies must work with RCA recipients to develop individual Employability Plan (EP) (see 6.1 and 6.2) that fit into a Family self-sufficiency plan, where applicable. These plans must specify clear employment objectives and concrete steps needed to obtain the clients' goal. Individual *Employability Plan (EP)*s must be updated at least once every 6 months (see 6.2.2) and must address concurrent language training needs and employment services needs of the individual and/or couple.

Refugee employment and training services may include but are not limited to:

1. Employment services including world-of-work and job orientation, job clubs, job workshops, job development, referral to job opportunities, job search, job placement and follow-up;
2. Employability services, including interest, aptitude and skills testing;
3. English as a Second Language (ESL) and/or Vocational English as a Second Language (VESL) courses;
4. Vocational training;
5. Skills recertification (see 18.2.4.7);
6. Subsidized employment;
7. Work experience; and
8. Assistance in obtaining Employment Authorization Documents (EADS)

Note: All employers are required by law to ensure that their employees are eligible to work in the U.S. Individuals who are granted immigration status as refugees are authorized to work indefinitely in the U.S. Refugees can fulfill the employer requirement by showing their I-94 form (with an unexpired refugee admission stamp) for a temporary period of time while they work towards obtaining permanent work authorization, by showing their Employment Authorization Document (EAD) or, if they have been in the U.S. for at least one year, a permanent resident card.

RCA eligibility workers must track recipients' participation in their required employment and training activities.

18.2.4.6.2 Exemptions

No adult is exempt from the employment and training requirement, but all activities in the individual's employability plan (EP) must be appropriate for the individual and consistent with his or her needs and abilities.

18.2.4.6.3 Appropriate Employment and Training Requirements

As a condition of RCA eligibility, adult clients must participate in the employment-related services listed in 18.2.4.6.1, go to any appropriate job interview arranged by the employment and training agency and accept any appropriate offer of employment.

To be considered appropriate, employment and training services and job offers must:

1. Be within the scope of the participant's employability plan.
2. Be related to the ability of the person to perform the task on a regular basis. Any claim of adverse effect on the participant's physical or mental health must be based on information from a physician or psychologist indicating that participation would impair the individual's physical or mental health.
3. Not have a total daily commuting time (to and from home to the site) that normally exceeds 2 hours.
4. Meet federal, state and local health and safety standards.
5. Not discriminate on basis of age, sex, race, creed, color or national origin.
6. Have a wage that meets or exceeds the appropriate federal or state minimum wage law.
7. Not require daily or weekly hours of work that exceed the number of hours usually worked in the job.

Appropriate work can be temporary, permanent, part-time, full-time, or seasonal.

Training must be designed to meet local employers' requirements so that the individual is competitive in the local labor market and the training must be likely to lead to appropriate employment, as defined above.

Participants are not required to accept an offer of employment if:

1. The job is vacant due to a strike, lockout or other bona fide labor dispute.
2. The employment would violate the rules of his or her existing union membership. However, employment not governed by the rules of his or her union may be appropriate.

18.2.4.6.4 Refusal to Comply and Sanctions in the RCA Program

RCA participants must participate in all assigned work training activities or education and training activities outlined in the employability plan (EP). If an RCA participant cannot participate in an assigned activity, the agency must encourage the participant to call their caseworker prior to the activity time. A participant has 7 working days after an absence from an assigned RCA employment and training activity to notify his or her worker of the reason for the absence. The worker can then determine whether the reason meets one of the good cause reasons.

If a refugee fails to meet employment and training requirements and good cause (see 11.2.2) is not found, sanction the individual. A sanction is defined as a stoppage of RCA payments for a set period of time due to client noncooperation. Apply the first sanction for a three-month period. If the same individual again fails to meet employment and training requirements, apply the sanction for six months.

If the RCA assistance group contains an individual other than the sanctioned client, RCA payments may continue if that other individual is not also being sanctioned.

18.2.4.7 Not Be Enrolled as Full-Time Student in Higher Education

Refugees who are enrolled as full-time students in an institution of higher education are not eligible for RCA. However, a professional in need of recertification services in order to practice his or her profession in the U.S. is allowed to attend a full-time college or professional training program provided that the individual is employed, the training is approved as part of the individual's employability plan, and the training program does not last longer than one year.

18.2.4.8 Not Be Enrolled in Matching Grant Program

If an RCA applicant group is participating in the federal Matching Grant program which is administered through Volag, they are not eligible for W-2 or RCA. When you contact the Volag to inform them that an applicant has applied for RCA and to inquire about job quit and refusal (see 18.2.2.2), also determine if the applicant is participating in the Matching Grant Program.

If a refugee is no longer participating in the Matching Grant program, he or she regains eligibility for RCA for the remainder of the twelve-month RCA eligibility period. Verify with the refugee's Volag worker that he or she is no longer participating in Matching Grant.

To properly deny an RCA application due to participation in Matching Grant, issue a manual negative notice explaining that the applicant is not eligible for RCA because he or she is receiving Matching Grant funds. The notice should mention that they can re-apply for RCA after their participation in Matching Grant ends.

History: Release 23-03; Release 22-08; Release 21-10.

18.2.5 RCA Financial Eligibility

- 18.2.5.1.1 $2500 Gross Asset Test
- 18.2.5.1.2 Asset Availability
- 18.2.5.2.1 115% Gross Income Test
- 18.2.5.2.2 Prospective Income Eligibility
- 18.2.5.2.3 Estimating Income
- 18.2.5.2.4 Income Availability
- 18.2.5.2.5 Fluctuating Income
- 18.2.5.2.6 Prorating Income
- 18.2.5.2.7 Changing Estimated Income
 - 18.2.5.2.7.1 Grace Period Early Employment Incentive
- 18.2.5.2.8 Counting Income
 - 18.2.5.2.8.1 Deeming
 - 18.2.5.2.8.2 Self-Employment Income
 - 18.2.5.2.8.3 Census Employment and Other Temporary Employment Income
- 18.2.5.2.9 Disregarded Income

In addition to meeting the RCA nonfinancial eligibility criteria, applicants must also meet financial eligibility criteria to be considered eligible for RCA. RCA financial eligibility testing consists of both an asset and an income test. As in the W-2 program, minor parents do not have to pass the asset and income tests. (See 3.1)

18.2.5.1.1 $2500 Gross Asset Test

At application, the RCA assistance group must have total countable assets that are less than or equal to $2,500, excluding any reception and placement assets provided by the Volag.

18.2.5.1.2 Asset Availability

Only assets that are actually available for use may be counted. An asset is considered “available” if the person has a legal interest in it and has the legal ability to make it available for support and maintenance. An asset is unavailable when the individual can reasonably document that it cannot be accessed for 31 or more days. A payment may not be counted as an asset and income in the same month. Count income in the month received and any amount remaining as an asset in the following month.

Note: Any assets remaining in the refugee's country of origin are considered disregarded for RCA.

18.2.5.2.1 115% Gross Income Test

At application, the RCA assistance group must have total countable income that is less than or equal to 115% of the FPL for the size of the RCA assistance group.

The FPL changes in February of each year. See 3.2.1 for current FPL amounts.

18.2.5.2.2 Prospective Income Eligibility

Available earned and unearned income is tested prospectively for RCA eligibility. The FEP makes a best estimate to determine what income will be received by the participant each month.

18.2.5.2.3 Estimating Income

To get the best estimate of monthly earned income for employees paid an hourly rate, a FEP must use:

- (hourly rate) x (average hours per week) x (4.3 weeks per month) if paid on a weekly basis;
- (hourly rate) x (average hours biweekly) x (2.15 weeks per month) if paid on a biweekly basis;
- monthly amount if paid on a monthly basis (this includes self-employment and other averaged incomes); or
- (amount) x (2) if paid twice a month

To get the best estimate of monthly unearned income for the RCA group, the FEP must use:

- (weekly amount) x (4.3 weeks per month) if received on a weekly basis;
- (biweekly amount) x (2.15 weeks per month) if received on a biweekly basis;
- monthly amount if paid on a monthly basis; or

- (amount) x (2) if paid twice a month

The prospective income estimate must not be changed due to missed work or irregular spikes in work hours. An RCA assistance group must be prospectively ineligible for two consecutive months before the case closes.

As in W-2, the RCA group's income only affects eligibility and does not affect the amount of the RCA payment. The payment amount is a flat grant determined solely by the employment position in which the adult is participating.

18.2.5.2.4 Income Availability

As with assets, only income that is actually available for use may be counted. Income is considered available when the individual has a legal interest in it and has the legal ability to make it available for support or maintenance. Income is considered unavailable when the individual can reasonably document that it cannot be accessed for 31 or more days. Unavailability is usually documented by a letter from an agency or the source stating when the person will receive the income. Income is counted beginning in the first month it is received and thereafter. Until the amount and the payment date are known, the income must not be counted.

A payment received must not be counted as an asset and income in the same month. Current payments must be counted as income in the month received. Any amount remaining becomes an asset in the following month.

18.2.5.2.5 Fluctuating Income

If the amount of regularly-received income varies, the W-2 agency must use an average. Income that is received on an irregular basis must also be averaged over the period between payments. If neither the amount nor the frequency is consistent or predictable, the income may only be counted for the month in which it is received.

18.2.5.2.6 Prorating Income

Income received on a yearly basis or less often may be converted to a monthly amount. The agency may count only income that is predictable in amount and frequency, such as land contract income or income from a trust fund. Count the prorated income beginning in the month it is received.

18.2.5.2.7 Changing Estimated Income

Once determined eligible for RCA, if the RCA assistance group has income and it is expected to exceed the 115% gross income limit (see 18.2.5.2.1) for at least two consecutive months, the group becomes ineligible for RCA. Participants must report any change in earned or unearned income within 10 calendar days of the occurrence. (See 18.2.6.6) The FEP must redetermine the best estimate for income when any change in the income's source, rate of pay, or payment schedule has been reported.

18.2.5.2.7.1 Grace Period Early Employment Incentive

If earned income renders an assistance group ineligible for RCA before the 1st of the month prior to the final month of eligibility, then the grace period policy shall be applied. The grace period will give FEPs sufficient time to make an income availability determination and properly reduce or terminate cash benefits.

Terminating RCA:

FEPs verify eligibility near the end of each time-eligible month before scheduled payments are issued. If an individual obtained employment during the previous month and is no longer financially eligible for RCA, then a 30-day grace period clock will begin on the date on which an individual entered employment. One final payment will be issued for the upcoming month, which will be a partial payment accounting for the remaining days of the 30-day grace period, the first day of which is the day the refugee entered employment. Example 1 illustrates how the grace period policy should be applied in the instance that the individual is no longer financially eligible for RCA.

Reducing RCA:

If an individual obtained employment totaling less than 30 hours per week, FEPs should continue to follow guidance from 7.4.1.4 (per 18.2.6.9) pertaining to Prorated CSJs. If the individual is determined to be eligible for a prorated CSJ, the grace period policy applies only to the month for which the full CSJ-level payment has already been issued. The prorated CSJ payment level must then be applied beginning the first of the month following the date on which the part-time employment began. Example 2 illustrates how the grace period policy should be applied to a prorated CSJ placement.

Grace Period Financial Reporting:

The grace period payments will be reported in a separate line item in SPARC, called RCA Incentive Payments. The line item code to be used for these payments is 0134A. Grace period payments should be recorded in SPARC in the month they are made. This may require making a report correction, which SPARC accountants can do upon request for up to 90 days after the end of the reporting month.

Grace Period Application:

EXAMPLE 1: A refugee's date of entry to the United States is 8/14/2022 and their twelve-month eligibility for Refugee Cash and Medical Assistance ends on 8/13/2023. The refugee is eligible for cash assistance and is placed into a CSJ payment level ($653/month). At the end of November, the FEP verifies the client's ongoing eligibility before issuing the upcoming December payment and discovers that the refugee entered employment on November 20th and their earned income renders them financially ineligible for RCA. The FEP issues a final check for the remainder of the grace period, which will end on December 19th, in the amount of $400. The total RCA Incentive Payment to be reported in SPARC is $653, which was issued partially in November and partially in December.

EXAMPLE 2: A refugee's date of entry to the United States is 9/10/2022 and their twelvemonth eligibility for Refugee Cash and Medical Assistance ends on 9/09/2023. The refugee is eligible for cash assistance and is placed into a CSJ payment level ($653/month). At the end of February, the FEP verifies the client's ongoing eligibility before issuing the upcoming March payment and discovers that the refugee entered part-time employment on February 10th. Their earned income renders them eligible for a 1/3 CSJ payment of $218 per month. In this instance, the grace period policy applies to the time period during which they were no longer eligible for the full CSJ, beginning on the day they entered employment and ending at the end of that month. The FEP issues a $218 check for the month of March. The total RCA Incentive Payment to be reported in SPARC is $280, which is the difference between 18 days of a full CSJ payment ($420) and 18 days of a 1/3 CSJ payment ($140). The remaining partial payments are not considered an RCA Incentive Payment.

18.2.5.2.8 Counting Income

All earned and unearned income of all RCA assistance group members is counted in determining the 115% gross income test (see 18.2.5.2.1) unless specifically disregarded. See 3.2.9 for a list of income that should be disregarded.

In some cases, the husband and wife in an RCA assistance group may have different arrival dates. In such a case, consider any applicable income of the first-arrived spouse

(such as employment earnings) when determining RCA eligibility for the group based on entry of the newly-arrived spouse. In these cases, the assistance group would remain eligible for RCA through the end of the newly arrived spouse's 8 month RCA eligibility period. (See 18.2.4.2)

18.2.5.2.8.1 Deeming

United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) requires certain individuals who are admitted as permanent resident aliens to have a sponsor sign an affidavit of support to ensure that the immigrant does not become a public charge. In these cases, the sponsor's income may be counted or "deemed" to be available to the sponsored alien when determining financial eligibility for W-2 or other public benefits.

Refugees' relationship to sponsors, however, differs from the relationship described above. A refugee is typically "sponsored" by a Volag, whose role is to help the refugee effectively settle into their new community and become socially and economically self-sufficient. In some cases a refugee may also be "sponsored" by individuals or groups in the community (such as church groups), and may be given additional help by friends or relatives (often themselves refugees) who are more acclimated to the community.

These agency and individual sponsors DO NOT meet the USCIS definition of a sponsor because they do not have legal obligations to provide financial support to the refugee. W-2 agencies should not, therefore, deem a sponsor's income for any of the groups listed with refugee status even if they obtain permanent resident status.

EXAMPLE: A single female refugee arrives to the U.S. on 3/1/2012 and is assigned to the local Volag. The woman has relatives in the community who arrived as refugees two years ago, and are able to further help her with her integration into American life. When determining RCA financial eligibility, the income of the woman's relatives should not be counted.

If a refugee has a sponsor (other than a Volag) from whom they are receiving direct income, count the amount of income actually received by the refugee from the sponsor.

18.2.5.2.8.2 Self-Employment Income

If a refugee begins to receive self-employment income, the W-2 agency must count the gross receipts from the self-employment business. As in W-2, gross receipts must not be adjusted based on expenses. If IRS tax forms were completed for the previous year, use these forms to calculate the self-employment income. RCA's twelve-month time period, however, means that IRS tax forms from the previous year may not be available. In such cases, calculate the income using average monthly anticipated earnings.

18.2.5.2.8.3 Census Employment and Other Temporary Employment Income

Income from temporary employment, including employment as a census enumerator, is counted when determining RCA financial eligibility.

18.2.5.2.9 Disregarded Income

All earned and unearned income of all RCA assistance group members is counted in determining the 115% gross income test (see 18.2.5.2.1) with the exception of the income listed in 3.2.9.1.

Note in particular that State Department Refugee Resettlement Reception & Placement (R&P) assistance payments cash income is disregarded.

18.2.6.10 RCA Overpayments and Underpayments

18.2.6.1 RCA Eligibility Verification Requirements

18.2.6.1.1 Introduction

The W-2 agency must verify financial and nonfinancial information provided by the members of the RCA assistance group to determine whether the group qualifies for or remains eligible for RCA.

18.2.6.1.2 Information Requiring Eligibility Verification

A list of eligibility criteria along with suggested sources of allowable verification can be found in section 4.1.2.

18.2.6.1.3 Requesting Verification from RCA Participants

Whenever possible, the FEP should attempt to verify eligibility information via CARES, data exchange and ECF. If that is not possible, the applicant or participant is responsible for obtaining verification of information that is necessary and appropriate in order for the W-2 agency to make a correct eligibility determination. The applicant or participant has 7 working days from the date the verification request is made to provide the needed verification. The participant must be informed in writing of the verification items required, including the due date.

If extenuating circumstances exist that make the verification requirements unduly burdensome or the verification submitted by the individual is questionable or contradictory, the W-2 agency may extend the verification due date. For RCA applicants, the verification due date may be extended up to 30 days from the date the agency receives a signed Wisconsin Works (W-2) and Related Programs Registration (14880). (Keep in mind, though, that federal regulations require an RCA eligibility determination to be made within 30 days of the date of application). For RCA participants, the verification due date may be extended for up to 30 days from the date of the initial request for verification.

If the individual has made a reasonable effort and cannot obtain required verification, does not have the power to produce verification, or requires assistance to do so, the W-2 agency must assist the individual. If the agency is unable to assist, the FEP must not deny an application or close a case based on the information that could not be obtained. The agency must use the available information to process the case and then reassess the case when the requested information is received.

If the applicant is able to produce the information but refuses or fails to do so, he or she is not eligible and the case must be denied or closed.

Questionable verification or reporting supplied by applicants or participants must be referred for fraud investigation. (See 13.3.1)

18.2.6.1.4 Frequency of Verification

There are a number of items that must only be verified once per lifetime, such as:

- Identity
- Social Security Number and
- Birth Date

To assure that these items are only verified once, the FEP must scan copies of the documents used to verify these items into ECF in the appropriate folder based upon the document type. Because RCA applicants may be applying for other public benefits such as FoodShare, the FEP should check ECF for necessary verification before requesting these from the RCA applicant.

Other eligibility criteria should be reviewed when new information is reported or received through a data exchange. (See 18.2.6.1.5)

18.2.6.1.5 Income and Eligibility Verification System (IEVS) and Data Exchange (DX)

See 4.1.5 for information on the systems used and required agency action.

18.2.6.2 Requesting and Protecting RCA Participant Information

18.2.6.2.1 Requesting Information from Third Party Sources

While an applicant or participant has primary responsibility for obtaining verification, a W-2 agency has statutory authority [s. 49.143(5)] to request information from any person it deems appropriate and necessary for the administration of RCA. By signing the application, the individual acknowledges that the agency may request information from a third party unless the information is considered confidential.

Cooperation of the third party is expected within 7 working days of the agency's request. The W-2 agency may extend the 7 working day time limit if it is unduly burdensome. The statute does not provide for compensation for the third party.

Applicants and participants must not be penalized when a third party fails to cooperate with a verification request. The FEP must not delay eligibility determination while waiting for information from a third party. Instead, the FEP must use the best available information, including consulting with appropriate agencies at the time of application.

Eligibility must be reassessed when information from third party sources is received.

During the application process, the FEP may refer the applicant for screenings or assessments, some of which require information from a third party source. However, referrals for screenings and assessments are not eligibility requirements and are therefore not subject to verification time lines discussed here.

When requesting confidential information, the FEP must use the Authorization for Disclosure of Confidential Information (10779). This form meets federal and state requirements for the confidential release of information from treatment providers, including Alcohol and Other Drug (AODA) treatment, mental health treatment, domestic violence counseling, HIV/AIDS, and medical conditions.

18.2.6.2.2 Protecting RCA Participant Information

Follow the guidelines in section 4.2.2 regarding the safeguarding of RCA participants' information.

18.2.6.3 Documenting RCA Participant Information

18.2.6.3.1 Record of Verification

As in the W-2 program, RCA eligibility information requiring verification must be either "validated" or "documented." See 4.2.2 for guidelines on validation and documentation.

18.2.6.3.2 Case Comments

Workers processing RCA cases should follow the guidelines on case comment usage found in section 4.3.3.

18.2.6.4 Storing RCA Participant Information

The standards regarding storage of W-2 participants' data also applies to RCA participants. See the following parts of the W-2 manual for more information:

- Electronic Case File (ECF) (See 4.4.1)
- Scanning Requirements (See 4.4.2)
- Record Retention Requirements (See 4.4.3)
- Access to ECF by an Authorized Representative (See 4.4.4)
- Scanning Consistency Within an Agency (See 4.4.5)
- Storing Confidential Information (See 4.4.6)

18.2.6.5 Fraud

The W-2 agency is responsible for ensuring the integrity of the RCA program that it administers. As with the W-2 program, the W-2 agency must accomplish this responsibility by operating a fraud prevention program to identify and prevent errors/fraud at application, and investigating or referring possible fraud for investigation.

Fraud in the RCA program is defined as anyone who, with knowledge and purpose, makes false statements, suppresses facts, misrepresents circumstances, or fails to report a change in circumstance in order to obtain an RCA payment. An example of participant fraud is when an individual reports being unemployed during a period of time an employer reported earnings for that individual. However, it is important to keep in mind (especially for refugee populations) that a misstatement by an individual due to the individual's misunderstanding on what constitutes income may not be considered fraud.

When investigating possible fraud, the agency must give the individual adequate notice and opportunity to respond to and, if necessary, appeal the allegation.

See also 13.2.1 for guidance on preventing fraud by using front-end verification and 13.3.1 for more information on fraud investigation.

18.2.6.6 Changes

The participant's RCA change-reporting responsibilities are detailed in the "Responsibilities" section of the RCA Participation Agreement (15011), which the participant is required to sign. RCA participants are required to notify the W-2 agency of certain changes (including changes in income, assets and family structure) within 10 calendar days of their occurrence. Additionally, participants must inform the agency of any changes in their mailing address or phone number. The agency must respond to reports in a timely manner and keep case data up to date.

When a refugee reaches the twelve-month time limit for RCA eligibility, review the case file to determine possible eligibility for W-2 due to changed circumstances.

18.2.6.7 Reviews

Due to RCA's short eligibility period there is no required review, but eligibility should be reviewed whenever a participant is scheduled for a regular review of any other benefits administered by the W-2 agency.

18.2.6.8 Requirements for RCA Notices

In order to comply with federal RCA policy regarding notices, refer to the following guidelines:

- The client must sign the RCA Participation Agreement (15011) which communicates RCA time limits, employment and training requirements, consequences of nonparticipation, and client rights.
- Use the RCA Eligibility Notice of Decision (13753) to inform an applicant that he or she is eligible for RCA.
- Use the RCA Ineligibility Notice of Decision (13758) to inform an applicant that he or she is ineligible for RCA.
- A notice of RCA termination must be provided at least 10 days prior to the termination date. Remember that a W-2 determination must be made when RCA is terminated due to time expiration (see 18.2.6.6).
- Use the RCA Sanctions Notice of Decision (13770) to inform a client that a sanction is being imposed on his or her RCA case.
- Use the RCA Work Programs Notice of Referral (13768) to inform clients of referrals to work programs.
- Use the Sample RCA Overpayment Notice (15725) to notify an RCA client of an overpayment and the RCA Repayment Agreement (15721) to record an RCA repayment agreement between the client and the agency.

The forms listed above are available in English and several refugee languages common in Wisconsin and can all be found on the DCF Forms webpage. If a form is not available in an appropriate language for a refugee client, another acceptable means of communication must be used, such as verbal translation into the refugee's native language.

18.2.6.9 Payment Issuance and Reimbursement

Since CARES is not programmed to support the RCA program, W-2 agencies must issue RCA payments manually. The initial RCA payment must be made within five days of the eligibility determination (see 18.2.2.5) and each payment thereafter must be made by the first of the month. Refer to 18.2.4.2 for guidance on pro-rating RCA payments.

W-2 agencies are reimbursed for the RCA payments and related administrative costs separate from their W-2 contract allocation. W-2 agencies must utilize the System for Payments and Reports of Contracts (SPARC) to submit RCA expenses to DCF. SPARC instructions, account information, and reports can be found on the SPARC webpage..

RCA clients can be placed into either subsidized employment (in accordance with the rules governing W-2 Trial Employment Match Program (TEMP)) (see 7.3.0), Community Service Jobs (CSJ) (see 7.4.1), or W-2 Transitions (W-2 T (see 7.4.2)) (see 18.2.2.4).

RCA payment amounts are consistent with W-2 payment amounts for these placements (see 10.1)

18.2.6.10 RCA Overpayments and Underpayments

W-2 agencies must maintain a procedure to ensure the recovery of overpayments and correction of underpayments for the RCA program.

History: Release 22-08; Release 14-03; Release 13-03.

18.2.7 RCA Fair Hearing Process

The state will use the following fair hearing procedure;

When an RCA applicant or recipient disagrees with an agency's action (on his/her request for benefits, amount of benefits, overpayment or termination), an agreement is often reached through an adjustment of the benefit or explanation of the program rules by the agency. However, if no agreement is reached, the applicant/recipient may request an administrative review by the Division of Hearings and Appeals through the fair hearing process.

Hearings serve to:

1. Interpret the program to dissatisfied clients.
2. Bring the applicant/recipient, the agency and state authorities into discussion for a better understanding of problems.
3. Resolve factual disputes.
4. Clarify policies and their application in relation to laws and regulations.
5. Review policies in program administration and reveal those which require clarification or revision.
6. Promptly remedy unfair treatment, mistaken or arbitrary action and negligence.

The hearing process is not intended to be a substitute for responsible administration. Neither good nor bad administration is necessarily reflected in the number of hearings involving any one agency. For example, an applicant/recipient may request a hearing as a protest against a requirement which is not within the agency's power to adjust.

Applicants/recipients must request fair hearings in writing, using the Request for Fair Hearing form (found here). All hearing requests must then be forwarded to the Division of Hearings and Appeals (DHA). DHA will schedule a hearing upon receipt of the hearing request.

DHA's mailing address is:

Division of Hearings and Appeals
P.O. Box 7875
Madison, WI 53707-7875

Fax (608) 264-9885

Email: DHAMail@wisconsin.gov

If the written request is received by the agency, promptly forward it to DHA at the above address.

DHA has jurisdiction to conduct hearings for RCA when the hearing request is received by DHA within 45 days of the action effective date. A hearing must be held to determine if or when an applicant/recipient received the notice of adverse action even if the agency, whose action is being appealed, believes that a request was not timely.

Fair Hearing Dismissal

DHA may dismiss a request at the hearing if the action is a result of a change in federal or state law or policy affecting a significant number of clients unless a client questions its application specific to his/her case. When a hearing request is dismissed, DHA will notify the client.

Expediting Fair Hearings

DHA may expedite any hearing request from an applicant/recipient who plans to move from the hearing officer's jurisdiction (e.g., migrant worker) before a decision would normally be issued. If necessary, DHA may process the request faster than other requests so the client can receive a decision and any restored benefits before s/he leaves your area.

Group Fair Hearings

A group of individuals may request a group hearing if individual issues of fact are not disputed and the sole issue being appealed is a state, federal law, or policy. DHA may also consolidate several hearings on the same topic into one, but only on questions of policy. Procedures for group hearings are the same as in individual hearings.

Overpayment Disputes

The right to appeal the collection of an overpayment is limited to only one hearing request, per overpayment claim, and is limited to:

- Determination of the overpayment amount (at the time of the overpayment determination and/or during the collection process)
- Determination of the overpayment amount still owed during the collection process

Any subsequent appeal requests must be limited to questions of prior payment of debt that the agency or DWD is proceeding against, or mistaken identity of the debtor.

18.3 Refugee Medical Assistance (RMA)

18.3.1 RMA Overview

RMA is administered by states or other designated entities. In Wisconsin, RMA provides the same level of benefits as Medical Assistance and is considered part of the Wisconsin Medicaid/BadgerCare Plus program, though it is funded separately. RMA is administered by W-2 agencies with guidance from the Refugee Programs Section of the Wisconsin Department of Children and Families' Division of Family and Economic Security (DFES)/Bureau of Working Families (BWF).

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

18.3.2 RMA Application Process

- 18.3.2.1 Applying for RMA
- 18.3.2.2 Completing the RMA Application
- 18.3.2.3 RMA Application Processing Timeframe

While W-2 agencies have contractual responsibility for receiving and processing RMA applications, they must work with economic support agencies to ensure that eligibility for all regular BC+ subprograms is tested first.

18.3.2.1 Applying for RMA

Any individual may apply for RMA by submitting a Wisconsin Medicaid, BadgerCare Plus, and Family Planning Only Services Registration Application (F10129) paper registration form. Outside of Milwaukee, refugees who wish to apply for RMA must apply at the W-2 agency serving their W-2 geographical area. Similarly, refugees living in Milwaukee's West Central and Southern areas must apply for RMA at their geographical area's refugee "one-stop." Refugees living in Milwaukee's Northern or East Central W-2 geographical areas, in which RCA and RMA cases are not processed, must apply for services at the West Central W-2 geographical office.

W-2 agencies must encourage anyone who expresses an interest in applying for RMA to file an application as soon as possible and must provide any information, instruction or materials needed to complete the application process.

The applicant may be assisted by any person he or she chooses in completing the application.

In certain cases, an authorized representative or other designated individual may sign the application for the applicant. The information listed in BadgerCare Plus Eligibility Handbook 25.5 provides details about this process and should be applied to the RMA program. Refugees typically give permission for their Volag caseworker to act as their authorized representative. (See Authorized Representative form)

As in Medicaid/BadgerCare Plus policy (see BadgerCare Plus Eligibility Handbook 25.4), an application for RMA is considered valid when it includes the applicant's name, address and signature. The date that the agency receives the valid application is the filing date and the signatures of two witnesses are required if the application is signed with a mark. (See BadgerCare Plus Eligibility Handbook 25.5.1)

As in Medicaid/BadgerCare Plus policy, if an applicant contacts the wrong agency, he or she should be redirected immediately to the agency responsible for processing the application. If an application is received in the wrong agency, it must be date stamped and redirected to the agency responsible for processing that application no later than the next business day. The filing date remains the date it was originally received by the wrong agency. (See BadgerCare Plus Eligibility Handbook 25.3.1)

18.3.2.2 Completing the RMA Application

The agency must schedule a face-to-face interview after receiving the Wisconsin Medicaid, BadgerCare Plus, and Family Planning Only Services Registration Application (F10129). During the interview, the worker will gather more detailed information about the RMA assistance group in order to determine RMA eligibility.

A signed copy of the Wisconsin Medicaid, BadgerCare Plus, and Family Planning Only Services Registration Application (F10129) must be scanned into ECF.

If a refugee attempted to apply for RMA by submitting an ACCESS or telephone application instead of a Wisconsin Medicaid, BadgerCare Plus, and Family Planning Only Services Registration Application (F10129), honor the application's filing date and determine eligibility for RMA according to the timeframe in 18.3.2.3. This application must be scanned into ECF.

18.3.2.3 RMA Application Processing Timeframe

The date the application is received is the filing date. RMA applications must be processed within 30 days of this filing date.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

18.3.3 RMA Assistance Groups

The income and assets of RMA assistance group members are considered together when determining RMA financial eligibility. (See 18.3.5) An RMA assistance group consists of either an unmarried adult refugee (18 years or older) or a married couple without dependent children. Do not consider an RMA applicant as part of another refugee's RMA assistance group unless they are married.

EXAMPLE: A refugee household consists of a husband, wife, their two unmarried adult daughters (aged 18 and 20) and the husband's brother. There are four RMA assistance groups in the household:

- Husband and wife: one RMA assistance group
- Unmarried adult daughter, aged 18: one RMA assistance group
- Unmarried adult daughter, aged 20: one RMA assistance group
- Husband's brother: one RMA assistance group

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

18.3.4 RMA Nonfinancial Eligibility

18.3.4.1 Immigration Status

18.3.4.2 Date of Entry to the U.S.

18.3.4.3 Wisconsin Residency

18.3.4.4 Ineligibility for Medicaid/BadgerCare Plus

18.3.4.5 Not Be Enrolled as Full-Time Student in Higher Education

18.3.4.6 Provide Name of Resettlement Agency

To be eligible for RMA, a refugee must:

1. Possess a qualifying immigration status;
2. Have been in the country eight months or less (except for asylee(s) and victim(s) of trafficking, for whom the eight month clock begins as of the date they are granted asylum or certified as a victim of trafficking, respectively);
3. Be a resident of Wisconsin;
4. Be ineligible for BadgerCare Plus or Medical Assistance;
5. Not be a full-time student (unless part of an individual's employment plan); and
6. Provide the name of his or her resettlement agency to the worker.

Special notes:

- As in MA policy, an applicant who does not provide a Social Security number may still be eligible for RMA if they apply for one and provide proof of the application. (See Medicaid Eligibility Handbook 10.1)
- Unlike RCA policy (see 18.2.4.8) participation in the Matching Grant program does not disqualify a refugee from RMA.
- A refugee cannot be required to apply for or receive RCA as a condition of eligibility for RMA.

18.3.4.1 Immigration Status

Use RCA immigration status requirements when determining eligibility for RMA. (See 18.2.4.1)

Refer to the following refugee immigration document verification guide for information on the types of documents that verify the immigration statuses listed above. For information on appropriate CARES coding for the immigration statuses listed above, refer to the W-2 Non-Citizen Eligibility Desk Guide.

If a refugee is not able to verify his or her immigration status with paper documentation, attempt to verify the status using the web-based Systematic Alien Verification for Entitlements (SAVE) program. Scan the information found using SAVE into ECF.

18.3.4.2 Date of Entry to the U.S.

Follow the eight- and 12-month time-limited eligibility policy for RCA when determining eligibility for RMA. (See 18.2.4.2) Like RCA, RMA benefits may need to be prorated depending on a refugee's date of entry to the U.S.

EXAMPLE: A refugee's date of entry to the U.S. is 8/14/2022 and his twelvemonth eligibility for Refugee Cash and Medical Assistance ends on 8/13/2023. If the refugee meets financial and nonfinancial eligibility criteria, the first month's benefits should start on 8/14/2022 and the last month's benefits should end on 8/13/2033.

18.3.4.3 Wisconsin Residency

To be eligible for RMA, a refugee must be a resident of Wisconsin. To determine if an individual is a resident of Wisconsin for RMA purposes, apply the Medicaid residency requirements listed below (these are also listed in Medicaid Eligibility Handbook 6.1).

The individual must:

1. Be physically present in Wisconsin. There is no required length of time the person has to have been physically present, and
2. Express intent to reside here.

Secondary migrant(s) to Wisconsin (refugees who move to Wisconsin from a different state) may be eligible for RMA. If there is reason to believe the secondary migrant was receiving RMA in the previous state, use appropriate verification request procedures to request verification that the RMA benefits in the other state have been terminated. (See Medicaid Eligibility Handbook 20.1 for general verification rules and Medicaid Eligibility Handbook 20.7 for the appropriate verification request timeline). While the applicant has primary responsibility for providing verification, you must assist him or her in obtaining verification if he or she has difficulty in obtaining it. (See Medicaid Eligibility Handbook 20.5) In such cases, contacting the worker in the other state would likely be the most efficient way of verifying the information.

Secondary migrants who were receiving RMA in another state must submit a medical assistance application in Wisconsin in order to be RMA-eligible. They are subject to the same financial and nonfinancial eligibility criteria as other refugees, including the twelve-month eligibility time-limit, which begins on their date of eligibility (e.g., date of arrival, date asylum granted, etc.).

EXAMPLE: A refugee arrives from overseas to Minnesota on June 1, 2022, and then moves from Minnesota to Wisconsin on 7/20/2022 and submits a refugee medical assistance application on 7/24/2022. During the interview, the refugee states that she was receiving RMA in Minnesota. The worker pends the case for proof that Minnesota RMA benefits have ended. The verification is received timely and shows that Minnesota RMA benefits ended on 7/31/2022. If the refugee is otherwise eligible, the worker should issue RMA benefits beginning on 8/1/2022. The last day of RMA eligibility would be determined by applying the twelve-month time limit to the original date of arrival to the United States, in this case 5/31/2023.

18.3.4.4 Ineligibility for Medicaid/BadgerCare Plus

When a healthcare request is made, determine eligibility for all MA subprograms, including BadgerCare Plus, first. If the applicant is not eligible for any of these subprograms, then determine eligibility for RMA.

Note: If a refugee who is receiving Medical Assistance becomes ineligible for these programs because of earnings from employment, transfer the refugee onto RMA without a formal eligibility determination.

18.3.4.5 Not Be Enrolled as Full-Time Student in Higher Education

A refugee who is enrolled as a full-time student in an institution of higher education is not eligible for RMA unless the enrollment is approved as part of his or her individual employability plan.

18.3.4.6 Provide Name of Resettlement Agency

Refugees must provide the name of the resettlement agency (Volag) that is sponsoring them. While the vast majority of refugees are resettled by the Volag, keep in mind that some may not have this formal sponsor relationship with a Volag. Secondary migrant(s), for example, would have ended their formal relationship with their original sponsoring Volag when they moved out of state.

History: Release 23-03; Release 22-08.

18.3.5 RMA Financial Eligibility

- 18.3.5.1 Special Procedure for RCA Recipients Ineligible for Medicaid or BadgerCare Plus
- 18.3.5.2 RMA Applicants Not Receiving RCA
- 18.3.5.3 Countable Income
- 18.3.5.4 Disregarded Income
- 18.3.5.5 Spend-Down
- 18.3.5.6 Countable Assets

18.3.5.1 Special Procedure for RCA Recipients Ineligible for Medicaid or BadgerCare Plus

All recipients of RCA who are not eligible for Medical Assistance are considered financially eligible for RMA. This means that an RCA recipient who is ineligible for Medicaid or BadgerCare Plus and who applies for RMA does not need to be financially tested for RMA; they are considered automatically financially eligible for RMA based on the fact that they met the RCA financial eligibility criteria.

18.3.5.2 RMA Applicants Not Receiving RCA

In contrast to RCA recipients who apply for RMA (see 18.3.5.1), RMA applicants who are not receiving RCA do need to be tested financially. To be eligible for RMA, these applicants need to meet both the income and asset tests of the AFDC-related medically needy financial eligibility criteria.

18.3.5.3 Countable Income

Count only the income available on the date of application, not prospectively. Do not take into consideration income changes that occur between the filing date and the application processing date when determining RMA financial eligibility. (Note that this policy significantly differs from Medicaid policy). Such employment income is disregarded so as not to discourage refugees from seeking and finding early employment.

EXAMPLE: A refugee arrives to Wisconsin on 8/14/2012, applies for healthcare on 8/16/2012, and reports no income. On 8/25/2012, the refugee begins part-time work and on 8/26/2012, the worker processes the RMA application. The worker should not count the refugee's earned income when making the eligibility determination.

In some cases the husband and wife in an assistance group may have different arrival dates. If this is the case, consider any countable income of the first-arrived spouse (such as employment earnings) when determining RMA eligibility for the group based on entry of the newly-arriving spouse. The newly-arrived spouse would remain eligible for RMA through the end of his or her 8 month RMA eligibility period. (See 18.2.4.2)

18.3.5.4 Disregarded Income

All earned and unearned income of RMA assistance group members is counted toward the AFDC-related medically needy financial eligibility criteria with the exception of the income listed in the Medicaid Eligibility Handbook 15.3.

Note in particular that Department of State Refugee Reception & Placement (R&P) assistance payments cash income and RCA payments are disregarded.

18.3.5.5 Spend-Down

If an RMA assistance group fails the medically needy income test because their net income exceeds the medically needy income limit, the group can still qualify for RMA if they can meet a Medicaid deductible. Calculate the group's deductible by applying the guidelines in Medicaid Eligibility Handbook 24.5.

18.3.5.6 Countable Assets

Follow Wisconsin's Medicaid policy regarding the types of assets that should be counted and how to determine if an asset is available when determining an RMA assistance group's assets.

The assistance group's assets must be within the AFDC-related medically needy asset limit before any member of that group can qualify for RMA.

18.3.6.1.3 Requesting Verification from RMA Participants

18.3.6.2 Changes

18.3.6.3 Reviews

18.3.6.4 RMA Notices

18.3.6.5 Manual Eligibility Determinations and RMA Benefit Issuance

18.3.6.1 RMA Eligibility Verification Requirements

18.3.6.1.1 Introduction

The W-2 agency must verify financial and nonfinancial information provided by the members of the RMA assistance group to determine whether the group qualifies for RMA.

When verifying information for the RMA program, apply the following guidelines:

- Only verify items necessary to determine eligibility for RMA;
- Do not verify information already verified unless you believe the information is fraudulent or differs from more recent information;
- Do not exclusively require a particular type of verification when various types are possible; and
- Do not target special groups on the basis of race, religion, national origin, etc for special verification requirements.

18.3.6.1.2 Information Requiring Eligibility Verification

Refer to Medicaid Eligibility Handbook 20.3.1 for a list of items that must be verified for the Medicaid program; these items, where applicable, must also be verified for the RMA program.

18.3.6.1.3 Requesting Verification from RMA Participants

The worker has a responsibility to use all available data exchanges to verify information, but the applicant has primary responsibility for providing verification. Do not deny RMA eligibility when the applicant does not have the ability to produce verification. Assist the applicant in obtaining verification if he or she has difficulty in obtaining it.

Unlike Medical Assistance, information that requires verification for RMA (see 18.3.6.1.2) only needs to be verified at time of application.

Verification requests must be made in writing and the applicant must be given a minimum of ten calendar days to provide the verification. As in Medicaid policy (see Medicaid Eligibility Handbook 20.7.1.1), do not deny eligibility for failure to provide the required verification until either the 11th day after requesting verification or the 31st day after the application filing date, whichever is later.

18.3.6.2 Changes

If a refugee has been determined eligible for RMA and begins to receive either earned or unearned income, these earnings do not affect RMA eligibility. Once a refugee has been determined eligible for RMA, he or she remains eligible through the end of their 8 month eligibility period, no matter the amount of their earnings. Because changes in earned and unearned income have no bearing on ongoing RMA financial eligibility, RMA recipients are not required to report income changes.

Similarly, RMA recipients are not required to report nonfinancial changes, such as a change in address or household composition.

18.3.6.3 Reviews

Due to RMA's short eligibility period there is no required review.

18.3.6.4 RMA Notices

The following RMA forms should be used for the situations described:

- The lower portion of the RCA Eligibility Notice of Decision (13753) to inform an applicant that he or she is eligible for RMA.
- The lower portion of RCA Ineligibility Notice of Decision (13758) to inform an applicant that he or she is ineligible for RMA.

The forms listed above are available in English and several refugee languages common in Wisconsin and can be found all in one location on the Forms website. If a form is not available in an appropriate language for a refugee client, another acceptable means of communication must be used, such as verbal translation into the refugee's native language.

18.3.6.5 Manual Eligibility Determinations and RMA Benefit Issuance

Eligibility processing for RMA needs to be done manually using form Medicaid/BadgerCare Plus Eligibility Certification (F-10110). The medical status codes that may be applicable for this population are the following:

MA Subprogram	Med Stat	Description	CARES category
Refugees, Occasional DOH Funding	88	Refugee, no T19, RMAP, no $	non-CARES
Refugees, Occasional DOH Funding	89	Refugee, institutionalized, no T19, RMAP, no $	non-CARES

In the majority of cases, the medical status code "88" should apply.

Due to security reasons, the form should not be submitted through e-mail. Send the completed form to:

1. FAX: (608) 221-8815 or
2. Mail: Forward Health iChange
P.O. Box 7636
Madison, WI 53707-7636

Find more detailed information about step-by-step HCF 10110 processing in Process Help 81.2 – 81.4. (A WAMS ID is required to enter Process Help).

A Forward Health card will be issued to refugees found eligible for RMA.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

18.3.7 RMA Fair Hearing Process

The state will use the same fair hearing procedure outlined in Section 18.2.7 for RCA.

History: Release 22-08.

19 Other W-2 Resources

19.1 Emergency Payments

W-2 agencies must determine eligibility for an emergency payment for a participant who has an emergency need and is awaiting a first W-2 payment. Participants in a CSJ placement, CMC placement, and W-2 T placement, are eligible in the period prior to their first W-2 payment.

Emergency payments are one-time payments designed to meet an emergency need at the beginning of a W-2 episode. They are not an additional W-2 benefit. Emergency payments do not use a month of TANF assistance because they qualify as non-recurrent, short-term benefits under the TANF definition of assistance.

Emergency payments may be used for needs such as shelter, food and work-related expenses, etc. They should be used in conjunction with other supports available to participants including EA.

There is no limit on the emergency payment amount; each W-2 agency may choose to establish a range of payments (e.g., between $25 and $750). The W-2 agency may also choose to limit the payment to no more than once every 12 months. Participants are not required to repay emergency payments.

Emergency payments are not tracked through the CARES system, though workers should enter information about the payment in the PIN comments if a participant has received this payment.

History: Release 20-03; Release 13-03.

Release 23-05

19.2.1 Transportation Services

The W-2 agency must provide transportation assistance services to applicants and participants when it is necessary to ensure participation in W-2 activities. The types of transportation services provided may vary from agency to agency based on the options in the area that are both available and reasonable. W-2 agencies must determine the types of transportation options that are reasonable to each participant's needs. A reasonable transportation option must meet all of the following criteria:

- The transportation option is safe;
- All out-of-pocket transportation costs are reasonable with respect to the applicant or participant's income;
- The one-way travel time between home, childcare, and work or activities is no more than 60, or in some cases 90 minutes (see 11.2.2.1.2); and
- All relevant factors have been considered, (e.g. whether the option is the most convenient and reliable one that also meets the other criteria).

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

19.2.2 Eligibility for Transportation Services

All W-2 applicants and participants are eligible for transportation assistance, so long as the transportation is necessary for W-2 activities and childcare. W-2 applicants are eligible for transportation assistance only if the transportation is necessary for up-front job search activities and childcare. W-2 participants in any W-2 placement are eligible for transportation assistance only if the transportation is necessary for W-2 activities and childcare.

If the W-2 agency wishes to use W-2 funds to provide transportation assistance to individuals who are not in a W-2 placement or who are not assigned to up-front job search, (e.g. persons receiving assistance through the EA Program), then the individual must apply for W-2 and the FEP must place the person in a W-2 case management position or assign up-front job search.

W-2 agencies must provide public transportation resources whenever the services are available, and will reasonably meet the participant's needs. In determining the best transportation alternative, the FEP must consider the reasonability criteria listed in 19.2.1. If public transportation is not available or reasonable, the W-2 agency may provide the participant with private or personal transportation resources. For example, the W-2 agency may pay for gas cards, private van services or refer the participant to the W-2 Job Access Loan program (Chapter 17). If public transportation is not an option, the W-2 agency must take whatever reasonable measures are necessary to overcome transportation barriers.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

19.2.3 Transportation Assistance and Time Limits

A W-2 participant who receives transportation assistance is subject to all TANF requirements pertaining to the 60-month federal lifetime limit and other nonfinancial requirements. (See 2.2.1)

TANF assistance includes payments, vouchers, and other forms of benefits designed to meet a family's ongoing needs (food, clothing, shelter, utilities, household goods, personal care items, and general incidental expenses).

W-2 participants in an unpaid, case management only, placement will not use a month toward the 48-month state lifetime limit and 60-month federal lifetime limit for receipt of transportation assistance if any of the following apply:

- They are employed for at least one hour per month;
- They are engaged in job search/readiness activities requiring child care;
- The transportation is not provided for longer than four months; or,
- The transportation services are provided via a group transportation or transportation capacity building project (e.g. someone who rides a TANF funded expanded bus route is not receiving assistance because the service does not have a direct monetary value to the individual family).

Therefore, several factors determine whether issuing transportation assistance to a participant in a case management only placement will use a month toward the 48-month state lifetime limit and 60-month federal lifetime limit. When transportation assistance will use a federal and state month of assistance, the FEP must advise the participant of the potential impact and weigh the cost of using months of lifetime eligibility against the benefit of the service before assistance is given.

W-2 participants in CSJ, pro-rated CSJ, W-2 T, and some CMC placements (see 2.10.8) will not use a month toward the 60-month federal lifetime limit and 48-month state lifetime limit for transportation assistance because the participant will use a federal month due to the receipt of TANF cash assistance.

History: Release 21-09; Release 13-03.

19.3 Caretaker Supplement

The Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS), which administers the state's SSI program, also administers the Caretaker Supplement (CTS) program. The program provides a monthly payment in addition to the SSI payment to help with the support of SSI recipients' dependent children. A monthly CTS payment is issued for each eligible child. The payment amount is two hundred fifty dollars ($250) for one eligible child and one hundred fifty dollars ($150) for each subsequent eligible child in the household.

County or tribal social/human services agencies are responsible for administering the CTS program and providing policy information to the SSI recipient.

For the purpose of budgeting income for W-2 eligibility, W-2 agencies must treat the monthly CTS payment as unearned income received by the SSI recipient. Retroactive CTS payments are treated as a lump sum payment.

For additional information about the CTS program, see the CTS webpage at: <http://www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/ssi/caretaker.htm>.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.

19.4 Kinship Care

The Department of Children and Families contracts with local social/human services agencies to administer the Kinship Care program. The program provides monthly payments to relatives (e.g. grandparents, aunts, uncles, etc.) who care for a minor relative child. Kinship Care is an alternative to placing these children in a foster home or other type of out-of-home placement, unless foster care placement or other out-of-home placement is in the best interests of the child.

Kinship Care can be either court-ordered, as an alternative to a foster care placement, or be voluntary based on the circumstances of individual families. In addition, Kinship Care children whose placement is court-ordered are categorically eligible for Medicaid, the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), and the Free School Lunch Program. The assumption is that children in Kinship Care are financially needy without income, except possibly child support.

The income and assets of the relative who cares for the Kinship Care child are not considered in the Kinship Care eligibility determination. Relatives receiving Kinship Care payments have no work requirements from the Kinship Care program. W-2 agencies may refer a relative who potentially can care for a Kinship Care child to the appropriate local county or tribal social/human services agency.

For additional information about the Kinship Care program, including current payment amounts, see the Kinship Care webpage at: <http://dcf.wisconsin.gov/kinship/>.

History: Release 22-11.

19.5 Burial Reimbursement

The Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS), Division of Medicaid Services administers the Wisconsin Funeral and Cemetery Aids Program (WFCAP). This is an assistance program to service providers who offer funeral, cremation, and cemetery services to certain decedents whose services are not fully compensated by the decedent's estate, family, or other resources. WFCAP is the payer of last resort; therefore, these funeral, cemetery, and cremation service providers are required to make a reasonable effort to exhaust all other funding sources before submitting a WFCAP application. Only the funeral, cemetery, or cremation service providers can submit a WFCAP application. Funeral, cemetery, and cremation service providers may be able to receive WFCAP payments for decedents enrolled in a W-2 paid placement at the time of death. For additional information on WFCAP, see the WFCAP at visit: <http://www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/em/wfcap/index.htm>.

History: There are no previous versions of this policy.*

19.6 Emergency Assistance

EA is a W-2 Related Program that provides funding to families with a child(ren) who meet all EA eligibility criteria. In addition to other financial and nonfinancial eligibility criteria, to be eligible for EA, the applicant must be experiencing a current emergency due to homelessness, impending homelessness, energy crisis, fire, flood, or natural disaster. EA policy, eligibility criteria, application, and payment processing information are available in the Emergency Assistance Manual.

Appendix - AFDC Overview

Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) was Wisconsin's cash assistance program prior to 1997. In September 1997, Wisconsin Works (W-2) replaced AFDC. The chart below highlights the primary differences between AFDC and W-2.

AFDC	W-2
Nonfinancial Eligibility
AFDC was limited to parent(s) or caretakers with children deprived of the support of one or both of their parents due to death, divorce, separation, or continued absence. Two-parent households could be eligible if one of the parents was physically or mentally unable to provide parental care or support to their children; or a parent who was the designated primary wage earner for the family was unemployed, or working less than 100 hours a month. Additional eligibility requirements included: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Citizenship; • Legal alien status; • Cooperation with child support; • Wisconsin residency; and • Providing social security numbers for family members. 	W-2 replaced the AFDC program in September 1997 and offers job placement assistance to parents with dependent children, including noncustodial parents and two-parent households. Other eligibility requirements include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Wisconsin residency; • Citizenship or qualified legal alien status; • Cooperation with the child support agency; and • Providing social security numbers for family members.
Financial Eligibility
Income and asset eligibility was tested	A less complicated financial eligibility

for families that passed the nonfinancial eligibility requirements. The family income could not exceed 185% of the AFDC Assistance Standard of need (based on family size) in order to proceed to the next step, which considered certain income deductions, and then compared any budgetable income to a family allowance to determine the AFDC grant amount. In addition, the family assets could not exceed $1000 in available assets, excluding $1500 vehicle equity, and homestead property.	test requires that the family's gross income must be at or below 115% of the Federal Poverty Level (FPL). A family is permitted to have $2500 in available assets, excluding vehicle equity of $10,000 and homestead property.
Cash Benefits
The AFDC cash benefit amount was based on family size and counted other income the family received against the family allowance. AFDC was considered an entitlement program which meant that applicants who met the specified eligibility criteria were guaranteed program benefits.	There are four paid placements within the W-2 program: Community Service Job (CSJ), W-2 Transition (W-2 T), Custodial Parent of an Infant (CMC), and At-Risk Pregnancy (ARP). Each paid placement has a set grant amount that is not based on family size or the family's other income.
Time Limits
Until October 1996 AFDC did not impose time limits on receipt of benefits. Beginning in October 1996, AFDC recipients who were required to participate in employment and training programs were limited to 60 months of AFDC eligibility. AFDC participation counted toward the 60-month state lifetime limit if the individual was: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Included in the SFU in an open AFDC assistance group (includes 	Until November 1, 2021, W-2 had a lifetime eligibility limit of 60 months. If AFDC closed due to employment, a family was entitled to 12 months of transitional child care assistance. After the entitlement ended, the recipient could still qualify for child care assistance, but depending on the availability of funds, may have to wait for payment assistance.	FPL for participants) who need child care in order to work, participate in Learnfare, or participate in a W-2 employment position. Parents at all income levels (with some limited exceptions) are expected to share the cost of child care expenses through a co-payment to the child care provider. See the Wisconsin Shares Child Care Subsidy Policy Manual for more details.
Administration/Case Management
AFDC was managed by the Wisconsin Department of Health and Family Services. The state entered into contracts for the administration of AFDC with county/tribal agencies. Economic support and employment and training services were not integrated, resulting in the family having to go to different locations in order to complete the necessary appointments and meetings to maintain their eligibility. In addition to the economic support specialist, a family could have a number of caseworkers within the same agency, e.g., Learnfare case manager.	The W-2 program is administered by the Department of Children and Families (DCF). The State contracts out the administration of W-2 at the local level to 8 private contractors. The participant should be able to access all of the W-2 and supportive services they need at one location. If a family is eligible for W-2, they will work with one Financial and Employment Planner (FEP) who will assist them in all aspects of achieving self-sufficiency. Not only will the FEP determine eligibility for W-2 and related supportive services, but also define work options and provide intensive case management service for the family.
Administrative Reviews
AFDC applicants or participants could request an administrative review by the Department of Health and Social Services (DHSS) through the fair hearing process when a person was dissatisfied with a negative action taken by the county. This could be a reduction or, termination or denial of benefits. In cases of reduction or termination of	Participants or applicants may request the W-2 agency to review a denial, reduction or cancellation of benefits. This is called a Fact Finding Review. benefits, continuation of the benefits pending the hearing decision could be ordered by the State.	The Department of Administration, Division of Hearings and Appeals (DHA) may review the decision if either the participant or the W-2 Agency petitions DHA within 21 days of the W-2 agency decision. (See 12.3.1) If DHA reverses a W-2 agency decision, benefits can be restored to the date of the participant's initial loss of benefits.
Kinship Care
The AFDC-NLRR (Non-Legally Responsible Relative) program allowed caretakers of children for whom they were not legally responsible to care for, to receive an AFDC payment to provide care for the minor dependent relative. There was no assessment to determine why the child was not being cared for by their parent or legal guardian, or if the living arrangement was an appropriate placement for the child.	Under W-2, the Kinship Care program helps support a child who lives outside of his or her home with the relative. DCF also administers the Kinship Care Program. The kinship payment of $232.00 per month per child may be approved for a related caretaker if all eligibility criteria is met, and only if, through an established assessment procedure, the child's presence in the caretaker's home is determined to be an appropriate placement.
SSI Caretaker Supplement
Under AFDC, Supplemental Security Income (SSI) recipients were not themselves eligible for AFDC but they could receive AFDC for their eligible dependent children.	Under W-2, the SSI Caretaker Supplement program (CTS) was created to provide for eligible dependent children whose parent(s) receive SSI. The Department of Health Services administers the program. A monthly cash benefit of $250.00 is provided for the first eligible child living with his or her SSI parent, and $150.00 for each additional eligible child.
Child Support
Child support was assigned to the State of Wisconsin, including arrearages. If	Under W-2, as a condition of eligibility, all parents in the W-2 Group are

current child support was collected, $50.00 was passed through to the family and disregarded as income in the AFDC grant determination.	required by law to assign to the state all child support payments paid or accrued while the W-2 Group is in a W-2 T, CSJ; or CMC placement when the individual in a CMC placement previously received AFDC, W-2, or CTS payments. W-2 participants subject to assignment of child support receive 75% of current child support payments and receive either 75% or 100% of past-due (arrears) child support payments, depending on whether the payment is past-due from the period of W-2 participation or from a period when the W-2 participant was not receiving W-2.
Employment and Training
The AFDC Pay For Performance demonstration required non-exempt AFDC recipients to participate in pre-approved employment or training activities each month, in order to receive an AFDC payment the following month. The only exemptions were: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Under age 16 or 60 or older; • Adult caretaker on SSI; • NLRR not included in the AFDC assistance group; • Required to participate in Learnfare; • Case head minor; • A caretaker of a child under one; • Incapacitated for more than 30 days; • Needed in the home to care for a disabled family member; or • Full-time VISTA volunteer 	W-2 assumes that work is the best way for parents to support their families. Individuals who the agency determines are ready for work will be referred to unsubsidized employment, or assigned to a TEMP job to combine employment training with a job. CSJ activities (up to 30 hours of work and 10 hours of training) are available for individuals who need to practice the work habits and skills necessary to be hired by private business. W-2 T activities (up to 28 hours of work and 12 hours of training) are available for individuals unable to work in gainful employment due to extended incapacitation, the need to care for an ill W-2 group member, or other extenuating circumstances. Education and training as a CSJ or W-2 T activity may include a course of study for granting of high school equivalency, technical college, English-as-a-Second

	Language, and education courses that provide employment skills. An adult caring for a child under 8 weeks is exempt from participation requirements.
Medicaid
Families who were eligible for AFDC automatically received Medicaid coverage. Families receiving Medicaid were enrolled in HMOs according to the managed care expansion plan that has been in place. Families were not required to pay premiums in order to receive Medicaid, but some services required small co-payments.	Being enrolled in W-2 does not make a family automatically eligible for Medicaid. Some low income working families may be eligible for BadgerCare Plus or Medicaid. These programs determine financial eligibility by using the Federal Poverty Level, similar to W-2. Some services may require a small co-pay

Appendix - W-2 Agency Civil Rights Obligation

Title VI of the Civil Rights Acts of 1964 and 1991, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975 and Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 all have similar requirements for recipients and subrecipients of federal funding. Basically, these laws require taking affirmative actions to ensure equal opportunity in service delivery and overcome the discrimination against people of race, color, national origin, religion, age, gender, or disability. These characteristics are considered protected from discrimination and are considered to be members of protected groups under the above laws.

The United States (U.S.) Department of Justice (DOJ) is responsible for coordinating the development and publication of uniform requirements, procedures, and regulations which apply to recipients and subrecipients of federal funding. The United States (US) Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) and other federal departments which provide funding for services to clients have responsibility for issuing regulations and requirements to implement civil rights laws. The Regional Offices of Civil Rights, operated by the federal departments, provide technical assistance to state agencies such as the Wisconsin Department of Children and Families (DCF) and other recipients of federal funding to ensure uniform implementation of the civil rights regulations.

These regional offices develop agreements of mutual responsibilities and formally investigate any complaints received from clients of federally funded services.

The Wisconsin DCF has primary responsibility for overseeing civil rights compliance (CRC) of all subrecipients of federal funding, including county agencies, for profit and non-profit entities, departments or boards (hereafter referred to as "W-2 agencies") and other providers of health and human services. This oversight includes the provision of technical assistance, the establishment of civil rights assurance requirements and responsibilities for their implementation, requiring assurance of non-discrimination, formally investigating civil rights complaints from clients of federally funded services and monitoring provider agency compliance.

All W-2 agencies have responsibility to follow the uniform requirements established by DCF which includes, but is not limited to, providing training to agency employees and subcontractors, completing, and maintaining a Civil Rights Compliance (CRC) Plan, and having that plan on file in your agency. The CRC plan, which includes the requirements for affirmative action and equal opportunity for service delivery and assuring language access to services for all limited English proficient (LEP) groups residing in the service area, must be updated every four years.

It is critical that each agency staff person review the DCF CRC Requirements Policy, the CRC Plan or the 2006 CRC Webcast Training to ensure a basic understanding of the CRC requirements as well as staff roles and responsibilities related to service delivery and Title VI. Please note that CRC Plan Requirements allow you to select the training segments based on the size of your agency. The following is a link to all DCF Civil Rights Compliance requirements, including policies and procedures that W-2 agencies must follow: <http://dcf.wisconsin.gov/civilrights/>.

Questions related to these requirements can be directed to your local W-2 Agency Equal Opportunity Coordinator, Complaint/Grievance Coordinator, or DCF Equal Opportunity Officer, (608) 422-6889 (Voice) or at 711 (TTY Toll Free).

Appendix - Education and Training Resources for W-2 Participants

WTCS has developed useful online tools to aid prospective students in finding appropriate education and training programs as well as to place recent graduates in available employment. Specifically:

- Wisconsin Technical College System – Career and Program Explorer: This website provides a way to search for all WTCS programs by college, program type, delivery method, and subject matter area. Information on programs also includes program duration to completion and application requirements as well as post-completion employment outcomes and related occupations. The website also posts recent related government job postings and Wisconsin TechConnect job openings.
- Wisconsin Tech Connect: This website is an employment listing system where hiring employers can find WTCS students and graduates, and WTCS students and graduates can find hiring employers. In addition to linking job seekers to employers by characteristics including program type, job location, and job type, job seekers can set up e-mail alerts and allow employers ready access to their resumes.

The Job Center of Wisconsin (JCW) has also developed a Training and Education web page, which provides access to several useful resources for individuals seeking vocational training and education programs, including these websites:

- JCW – Wisconsin Colleges and Universities: This page provides a listing of links to various Wisconsin educational institutions and useful program-search websites.
- JCW – Financial Aid: This page provides a listing of links to various resources for securing financial aid for education and training programs.
- JCW – Training Programs: This page provides a listing of links to various resources for finding education and training programs including:

Wisconsin's Statewide List of Eligible Training Programs and Providers: This website provides a means to search for programs potentially eligible for WIOA enrollment subsidies by location, training program, and location. These training institutions and their programs on the Eligible Training Programs List must meet a minimum bar of qualification determined by self-reports of graduate completion rates, percent post-graduate employment, and wages attained. Programs must also provide evidence that a credential (e.g., certificate or diploma) is awarded upon program completion. In addition, program details are extensive and include program cost, duration, and contact information.¹

For further information on JCW services most relevant to the W-2 population, including WIOA funded Adult Programming, please see the WIOA Program Guidance for Adult, Dislocated Worker, and Youth Programs (2016).

The Wisconsin Fast Forward and Blueprint for Prosperity (WFF-BFP) initiatives seek to address the state's need for skilled workers by providing worker training grants and other investments to qualified employers and their training partners. By creating employer-led worker training opportunities, these initiatives help to educate and train workers to be competitive for high-demand jobs in Wisconsin.

Several resources can be used for locating employer-led worker training opportunities including:

- WFF-BFP Intent to Award Map: This web page provides a useful resource for locating recent and continuing grantees; listed as Business Partner Grant Rounds. This resource can be used along with the Intent to Award Summaries on the WFF-BFP Reports and Resources web page to locate employers and/or training providers who have upcoming and ongoing training opportunities.

FEPs can connect W-2 participants with these opportunities by directly contacting the employer and/or provider of interest or by requesting more information by contacting Wisconsin Fast Forward.

Lastly, Occupational Information Network (O*NET) Online provides resources to identify and match an individual's unique mix of knowledge, skills, and abilities to previously unconsidered occupations that may be present in their local labor market. Developed under sponsorship of the US Department of Labor/Employment and Training Administration, O*NET combines a searchable national-level database of standardized and occupation-specific descriptors with career assessment instruments to provide a wide range of occupational information for those seeking work. More information on O*NET can be found in their Online Resource Center.

¹While programs listed on this site must meet a minimum bar of qualification, inclusion does not necessarily ensure program information is up to date or that programs are linked to high demand employment positions. Accordingly, all programs should be further screened on a case-by-case level by the FEP.

Appendix - W-2 Forms and Publications

All forms and publications are located in separate electronic forms and publications repositories.

To access DCF forms and publications from the Internet, please visit <http://dcf.wisconsin.gov/forms/>.

There are numerous ways to search for forms or publications. Below are some tips when using the search function:

- It is best to search for a form or publication by using the form or publication number. When using the form or publication number, there is no need to use the alphabetic code preceding the form number. For example, you can search for the Good Cause Notice publication by entering "5600" in the search box rather than "DCF-P-5600."
- Regardless of the type of search you do, if you enter either a form number or a form name in the search boxes and you do not find the form and you decide to search again, make sure that you click the "RESET SEARCH" button prior to entering a new form number or form name. Even if you delete the number or name you originally entered, you still need to click on the "RESET SEARCH" button.

While the majority of our forms and publications are available on the Internet Forms Repository or the Publications Repository, the Division of Family and Economic Security also stores some of its forms and publications at the Wisconsin Department of Administration (DOA) Document Sales and Distribution Center in Madison, in addition to having forms and publications available in the repositories.

A number of the forms and publications that are required to be provided during the W-2 application process as well as other publications that are offered in a format other than 8.5 x 11 are stored at the center. Forms and publications stored at the center can be obtained free of charge. For a complete list of the W-2 forms and publications stored at the center, or to order W-2 forms and publications, please visit <http://docsales.wi.gov/>.
